For the Family Medicine Chest

Green Bay, Wis., Mrs. Wm. F. Bubolz says: "I always use Foley's Honey and Tar for our children as it quickly breaks up their colds with no bad after effects, and they like to take it."

In this season of coughs, colds and croup, every family medicine chest should be supplied with a good cough medicine that can be relied upon when needed.

Such a family cough syrup is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. This standard medicine has been on the market for years and in many sections was found in every home in the days when doctors were not so handy and when money was scarcer.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is an excellent medicine for coughs, colds, raw or inflamed throat, hoarseness, tightness and soreness of the chest, croup and whooping cough. It is an absolutely safe remedy, containing only healing ingredients, and free from any harmful drugs.

HANDICAPPED

A THOROUGH TEST

One to Convince the Most Skeptical Tecumseh Reader

The test of time is the test that counts.

Doan's Kidney Pills have made their reputation by effective action.

The following case is typical.

Tecumseh residents should be convinced.

The testimony is confirmed—the proof complete.

Testimony like this cannot be ignored.

Mrs. Alice Burroughs, West Pottawatamie St., Tecumseh, says: "I sometimes ached all over and had such tired feelings that my energy seemed all gone. My kidneys didn't act regularly and at times, my back ached. I knew of others who had been helped by using Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got some at Wright & Son's Drug Store. In a few weeks I felt much better and finally I was free from the aches and pains. I was benefited in every way." (Statement given in December, 1908.)

Again Praises Doan's

On July 27, 1916, Mrs. Burroughs said: "I am always glad to recommend Doan's Kidney Pills, for they are a good medicine. They cured me of kidney trouble."

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Bran as a Medicine.

Bread or muffins made from bran make a nutritious breakfast food. Because of its coarseness and bulk bran is highly laxative. Persons of sedentary habits and those who eat much meat invariably suffer from constipation. Uncooked bran makes a more active laxative for such cases. It should be eaten once a day—two or three tablespoonfuls of sterilized bran mixed in with the breakfast cereal or stewed fruit or taken with a pinch of salt and milk or cream over it. A warm preparation of uncooked bran can be had by stirring it into soup.

The aged enjoy the bran bread for breakfast, dinner and supper. It does away with the need for a cereal at breakfast for them. Digestive disturbances are apt to result from a too steady diet of cereals, and bran preparations prevent and correct disorders of digestion.

"Gets-It" Never Fails for Corns!

There's Nothing on Earth Like It For Corns and Calluses.

"Whenever you get corns and calluses, don't experiment — just use "GETS-IT" and nothing else. Easiest and simplest thing I know to use—just a few drops on in a few seconds—"GETS-IT" does the rest." The old way is to bundle up your toes in harnesses and bandages, use salves that make toes raw, cotton rings that make your corns pop-eyed, knives and "diggers" that tear your heart out and leave the corn in. No wonder they make you limp and wince. Forget all these—use "GETS-IT," the simplest corn remedy in the world, easiest to use, never fails or sticks, painless. Your corn loosens, then you lift it off. You can wear smaller shoes.

"GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price, by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

PREPAREDNESS

Along the lines of military training all over the country, preparedness seems to be in the air. The government is taking up the military training of its citizens, and military camps have been established all over the country. Recently in the city of Cleveland a fund of $[illegible],000 was raised to finance what is called the Lakeside Hospital Unit. This Unit is composed of some 25 hospital nurses who are to be mobilized in camp in the city of Philadelphia and while there will receive training which will fit them for actual military field work.

The following is an extract from a letter recently received by Mrs G W Jennings from a sister who has been connected with the Lakeside Hospital, and so goes to Philadelphia, as chief nurse of the Cleveland Unit.

October 16, [illegible]

A part of the Lakeside Unit has been ordered to Philadelphia for mobilization camp in the City Park, October 27 and 28. We will leave Cleveland by special train the evening of October 26 and proceed at once when arriving in Philadelphia to the encampment where canvas will all have been placed by the Government officials with full equipment. It will be very spectacular with the doctors and military officers in full uniform and the nursing personnel in white This is to be given for the Clinical Congress which is being held in Philadelphia and also that the Government might make a careful study of the organization of one of its units before proceeding further in the organization of one of its units before proceeding further in the organization of any more.

I am chief nurse of this Unit and will take twenty-five graduates with me.

McKINLEY CLUB BANQUET AND REPUBLICAN RALLY

From all indications the northern portion of Lenawee county will be well represented at the McKinley Club banquet for on Friday afternoon, October 27th, at 3 o'clock a huge turnout of Republicans will leave Clinton for Adrian to attend the banquet. The Clinton delegation will be headed by the Clinton band and will travel in 30 autos loaded with 175 Republican voters all shouting for Hughes and Fairbanks.

They are expected to arrive in Tecumseh about 3:20 when they will be joined by 40 or 50 more autos.

All Tecumseh Republicans and others interested in this banquet and those who will furnish autos are requested to leave their names with any of the following transportation committee: G. A. Rathbun, F. S. Anderson, H. S. Temple and G. E. Nemire Tickets for the banquet may be secured from any of the above committee or H W. Stevens, president of the Lenawee County McKinley Club.

IN JUSTICE COURT

Grand Rapids Hotel Man Dies.

Grand Rapids, Oct. 23.—James K. Johnston, eighty eight, veteran hotel proprietor, is dead. He was one of the first men in Michigan to vote a straight Prohibitionist ticket, and his hotel, the Eagle, was famous as one of the state's first dry hostelries.

D. A. R. Officers Retained.

Ann Arbor, Oct. 23.—Without opposition, all present officers of the Michigan State Daughters of the Revolution were retained in office for another term, at the session of the Sixteenth annual conference of the organization.

MRS. WILSON McCLURE

Elizabeth Ann Park was born in Antichar, County Antrim, Ireland, September 4th, 1849. Her girlhood days were spent in her Antichar home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs Robert Park, and her four sisters: Nancy Park, Es[illegible]garet Jane Gaston. Her education was obtained in the country schools of Antichar.

She lived but a mile from the home of Wilson McClure and it was in the vicinity of their Ireland homes among the hawthorns and heather where the courtship started that finally ended in the marriage of the two, 4000 miles away in Tecumseh, Michigan, on Oct. 8th, 1871

Her sister Jennie married Henry McClure, who conducted a successful grocery business in Tecumseh from 1872 to 1887. Their marriage took place in Ireland and the honeymoon was their trip to America. She died in Tecumseh in November, 1879.

Of her other sisters Esther Adams and Margaret Jane Gaston are still living in Ireland.

From the time of their marriage until the year 1910 Mr. and Mrs Wilson McClure lived at their home on the corner of Kilbuck and Democratic streets Tecumseh, Mich. It was in this home that their children were born and reared: Robert J. McClure (deceased); Mrs Jennie E Satterlee of Addison, Mich.; Samuel W. McClure of Erie, Pa; and Mrs. Nina A. Heath of Lansing, Mich

In 1910 Mr. and Mrs. Wilson McClure moved to Lansing where Mr McClure holds a responsible position with the Longstreet Lumber Co., and it was in the home of her daughter Nina that Mrs. McClure was stricken with diabetic coma on October 17 and died at 11:30 p. m on October 19.

Mrs. McClure was a member of the Presbyterian church and her life has been unselfishly devoted to the rearing of her family and doing what good the Lord has given her the power to do. She has now ceased from her labors to enjoy the rest which results from a faithful Christian life.

The remains were brought here from Lansing, Saturday and taken to the home of her niece, Mrs Edward Gillen, where the funeral was held Sunday, Rev. W. A. Rex officiating, with burial in Brookside cemetery. Her casket was borne to the grave by Henry McClure, Edward Gillen, Bert Lawrence, Thomas Elliott Sr, Martin Frayer, Ed Pangle.

Those from out of town who were present for the funeral were Wilson McClure, Mr and Mrs. A. R Heath and children Marguerite and Donald Reed of Lansing; Russell McClure, Harold McClure and Mrs Lucy Daley of Detroit; Mrs. Anna Sloan of Homer; Jas. Sloan and son of Adrian; Mrs. Rae Emery, Britton.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank the many friends for their kindness and expression of sympathy in our late bereavement.

Wilson McClure and family.

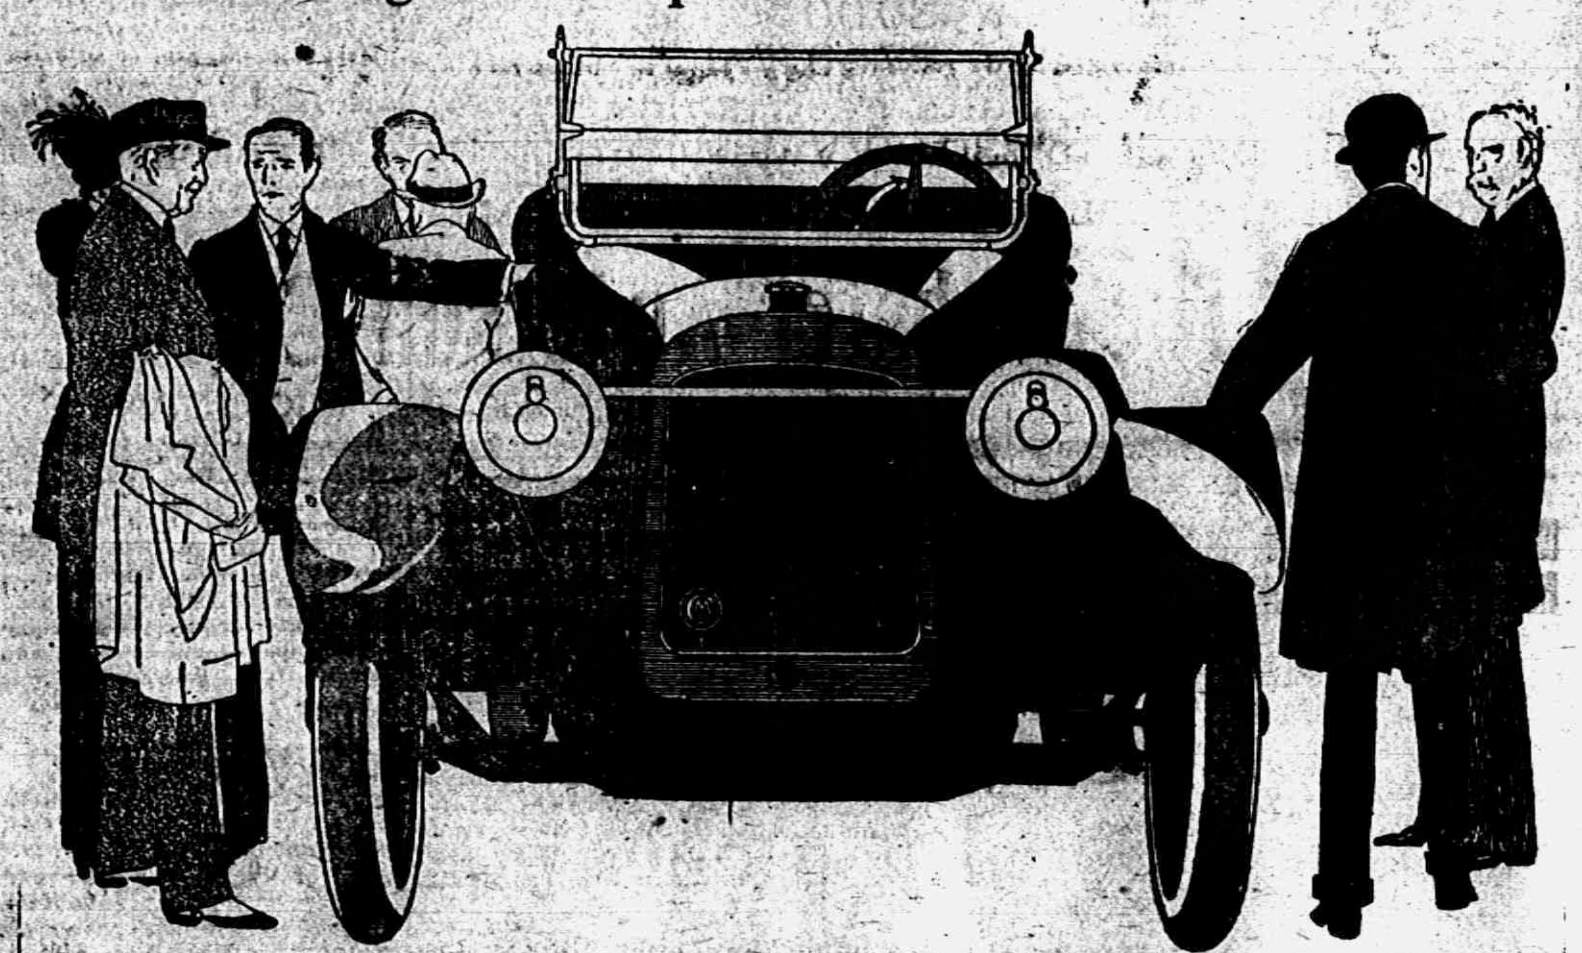
5 Passenger 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers—$1090 Detroit



QUALITY

That is the Real Secret of the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers Popularity

Quality First

Whenever you see the Chalmers trade mark you always see the phrase "Quality First." Whenever you think Chalmers you think "Quality." And if you have been reading my ads or have been in my salesroom, you are impressed with the fact that the 8400 r. p. m. is a Chalmers car of unusual quality.

I've often said that it is, in my opinion, the greatest car the Chalmers Company has built. And I have an excellent reason for saying this. It is a step ahead of any preceding Chalmers because it performs a shade better.

The Quality in the new Chalmers is the kind of quality that tells on the road and tells wonderfully.

Now it is just this exceptional quality, just this shade of improvement that has brought Chalmers sales and production ahead in leaps these 12 months past.

I don't think the men in charge of affairs at the Chalmers factory realized what they had in the 8400 r. p. m. Chalmers. At any rate they underestimated the demand. They built more than they had ever produced in any previous season, 'tis true, but still not enough.

The first making order was snapped up quickly. Then came a second lot. These went just as fast.

Now the factory is building the third lot and I understand that Chalmers has no intention of stopping even there. Quality it was that caused this unprecedented demand. Chalmers certainly have the right idea in building cars. "Quality First."

WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

Delivers Short Address in Tecumseh Sunday Evening.

A large crowd gathered on the four corners, Sunday evening, to hear the "Silver Tongued Orator," William Jennings Bryan. Mr. Bryan had a busy afternoon and evening as he delivered an address at Ann Arbor Sunday afternoon, leaving soon afterwards, by auto, for Adrian where he was scheduled for a speech in the evening. Enroute he spoke at Clinton and Tecumseh.

He was late in getting into Tecumseh and did not arrive until nearly 7 o'clock. In spite of the chilly weather, people stood on the street for over an hour before the party made its appearance. A. W. Mills, arrived with the party and introduced the speaker, who for 15 minutes gave a ringing appeal for the cause of temperance.

He did not like the term "Home Rule" as applied by the Wets and regretted that the sacredness of the home should be desecrated in such a cause. "Why use the holy name of home in such a cause for they care nothing for the home."

He stated that the State of Ohio is now operating under home rule and almost all of the counties containing large cities are wet. The rural districts are the ones to be depended upon in the fight for prohibition. "The way to test a man's sanity," he declared, is to set him to dipping water out of a tank with a faucet turned on and water flowing in, if he turned off the faucet he would be judged sane." "Such is the man who would vote to give us intemperance."

He could not refrain from touching on politics and stated that his party bosses, two years ago, warned him not to bring the dry question into his speeches. All is different this year for it had become a live issue with the Democratic Party. Out of the 17 Democratic States in the Union 10 were already in the dry column.

The Bryan party left for Adrian at 7:15 where he spoke later at Croswell's Opera House. The Opera House proved too small for the crowd who wished to hear him and an overflow meeting was held at the Baptist Church. Mr. Bryan left on a late train for Toledo.

MOOSERS WANT OFF TICKET

But State Law of Michigan Makes the Task Difficult.

Lansing, Oct. 23.—The Michigan Bull Moose party seems to be having just as hard a time to die as it did to come into existence.

County after county, according to telegraphic reports received at Lansing, is refusing to take the names of the Bull Moose candidates off the state ticket, despite the fact that State Chairman John S. Smith insists they ought to be taken off. Alpena county was the latest to refuse Mr. Smith's orders. He asked the secretary of state to order the names off, but Mr. Vaughan could not do so. He has no authority in the premises and merely cited the Alpena men to the law, which is susceptible of several constructions.

DRIVES AUTO INTO STORE

Arcadia Druggist's Machine Skids, Landing in Drug Shop.

Manistee, Oct. 23.—Skidding as he approached Sibben and Fifth streets. Dona Nartineau, a druggist, of Arcadia, drove his auto entirely through the front of the drug store operated by Mrs. Lena Heine.

Counters were overturned, shelves were knocked down and stock was left in a heap. The machine was badly damaged, but both Mr. and Mrs. Nartineau were uninjured.

Hillsdale Slayer Convicted.

Hillsdale, Oct. 23.—Joseph Canfora, Italian, who was tried for murder of Charles Payne of Jonesville, was found guilty of murder in the second degree in Judge Chester's court. The verdict was accompanied by a recommendation for leniency. Sentence has not yet been pronounced.

Bay City Girl Weds Professor's Son.

Bay City, Oct 23.—William Arthur Ewing, son of Professor and Mrs. Ewing, of Alma college, and Miss Marguerite O'Neil, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry O'Neil, of Sault Ste. Marie, were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Carl. They will reside in Alma.

Schools to Remain Closed.

Battle Creek, Oct. 21.—Public schools, closed because of the infantile paralysis epidemic, were not opened today as planned, and work will not be resumed until Monday, October 30, according to an announcement from Superintendent W. G. Coburn's office.

Two Muncie Couples Wed.

Muncie, Ind., Oct. 23.—Miss Effie Cochran, daughter of Mrs. Robert Frazier of Montpelier, and Ralph Dawson, were married in Dayton, O., by the Rev. F. Harmon Dutton. Miss Viola Schmid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schmid, and Curtis Sharp, son of Mr and Mrs. S. R. Sharp, were married at the home of the bride's parents by the Rev. Loren Rees.

THOMAS McCLURE

A telegram was received here Sunday announcing the death of Thomas McClure of Pittsburg, Pa., in Chicago where he had been ill in the hospital for a few days. His remains were brought here Monday night and taken to the home of his sister Mrs. R. T. Mead.

Mr. McClure was an old Tecumseh boy, son of the late Samuel McClure. He was connected with the Keystone Lumber Company of Pittsburg, Penn.

On hearing of his illness R. T. Mead went at once to Chicago and Harry McClure of New York was also with him [illegible]

He is survived [illegible] ly Miss Julia Wright) and three sons, his mother Mrs. Anna McClure, three brothers Harry, Samuel and Edward and two sisters Mrs. M. V. Bangs of Oil City, Pa., and Mrs. R. T. Mead from whose home the funeral was held this Tuesday afternoon at 2:30, with Rev. W. A. Rex officiating. Burial in Brookside cemetery.

MONDAY CLUB

Regular meeting of the Monday Club at the Presbyterian church parlors Monday afternoon with Mrs. G. W. Jennings leader.

Mrs. A. J. Bigelow read a very interesting paper on the "Development of the Postal Service" and was followed by Mrs O. B. Finch who had a fine paper on "Our Diplomatic Service." By special request Mrs. Jenny C. Law Hardy gave a short talk on Prohibition and the coming election. Her talk was listened to with close attention and was right to the point.

Mrs. Grace Moore gave a vocal selection, "The March of America," in her own delightful manner.

MRS. LORA N. HOYT

Mrs Lora N. Hoyt passed away at her home in the John Bennett house on Logan Street, at 12 o'clock to-day, of heart trouble after an illness of over a year. She had been confined to her bed for about three weeks.

She is survived by two sisters, Miss Mary Newcombe, who was caring for her and Mrs. Hannah Robison of Saline and also three half brothers.

No arrangements for the funeral have yet been made.

BARBARA SUTTON

Miss Barbara Sutton passed away at the home of her nephew Chas Sutton Saturday at 10 o'clock a. m. after an illness since last May. She was 79 years of age, and has been active until this illness.

Her funeral was held from the home Monday afternoon, Rev W. B. Hartzog officiating. Burial in the Benson cemetery near Saline.

EMINENT DRAMATIC STAR, JOHN MASON,

Makes First Appearance in Motion Pictures as "Jim the Penman."

John Mason, whose list of legitimate stage successes is too long to enumerate, makes his initial appearance before the motion picture public next Wednesday night at the Bradley opera house in the Famous Players Film Company's five part adaptation of Sir Charles L. Young phenomenally successful drama, "Jim the Penman." This [illegible] release on the Paramount Program is certain to add prestige to Bradley and every other theatre in which it may be presented.

Mr. Mason portrays with great force and dramatic discretion the title character, the man whose clever pen works so much harm even to his most dearly loved, and which finally writes his own punishment. With overpowering motives and situations, and a series of tense climaxes, "Jim the Penman" is one of the foremost stage successes of the present dramatic era. The unqualified triumph which it has scored throughout the entire world was a tribute to its dramatic power and thrilling realism. Its portrayal on the screen with the added interest provided by the wide latitude of the camera, will not only repeat, but surpass, the success of the original production.

The Famous Players have not only given the subject a superb production, as far as settings and construction are concerned, but have provided a company of stage and screen favorites so unusual as to virtually make it an all-star cast, including Harold Lockwood, and Russell Bassett, two prominent screen players; Frederick Perry and Marguerite Leslie, respectively leading man and woman of the current stage triumphs, "On Trial" and "Outcast."

The usual 10c admission price will prevail (5c for children) Two shows first starting at 7:00 p. m. the second at 8:30.

You need never be afraid to take the children to see Paramount Pictures. You and the children will enjoy the high quality of Paramount Pictures,—the excellent acting, the magnificent stage settings and scenic displays. You'll recognize the players as the leaders and the plays second to none.

Broadway can't show any better plays nor more noted stars than you can see here in Paramount Pictures every Wednesday and Saturday.

ROAD HOG FLOURISHES GUN

Farmer Refuses to Make Room for Candidate Adair to Pass.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 23.—John A. M. Adair experienced a new thrill in his campaign for Governor when he was threatened with a revolver in the hands of a farmer on a road near this city. The farmer, with a wagon, refused to make room for the automobile in which the Democratic nominee was riding and threatened the lives of the occupants of the car.

Adair was coming to this city from New Harmony, where he made a speech in the afternoon. With him were Mayor Benjamin Boose of Evansville and Howard Rossa, editor of a local newspaper. When the automobile drew up behind the wagon the farmer refused to draw aside. Bosse's appeal to the man brought forth the revolver and the motorists resigned themselves to a walking pace behind the wagon.

WOUNDED IN SALOON HOLDUP

One of Peoria Robbers Recognized as Escaped Prisoner.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 23.—Arthur Barney, thirty-five years old, was shot and probably mortally wounded by one of two men who entered a saloon near the business district and, after backing the patrons against the wall, looted the cash drawer.

According to victims, one of the bandits was recognized as Louis Moury, who, with Martin Brophy, awaiting trial on a charge of attempted murder, broke jail here Wednesday night. Both bandits were masked. Barney was shot when he tried to escape.

NORWAY PAYS U. S. BIG SUMS

Four Scandinavian Bankers Arrive to Establish Huge Credit.

New York, Oct. 23.—Four Norwegian bankers arrived here on the Norwegian liner Bergensfjord to make credit arrangements for the payment of huge sums for material purchased in the United States. One item alone is $200,000,000 for steamships constructed in American shipbuilding yards.

These gentlemen in their interviews on arrival very carefully insisted that they were not here as a commission, but as individuals. Other passengers, however, declared they did form a commission.

FORMER TECUMSEH MAN CHARGED WITH BIGAMY

R. A. Fowler Formerly D. T. & I. Agent in Tecumseh, Leaves Adrian Suddenly.

Railroad Officials Investigate and Find Shortage of Better than $2,000.

"Capt " R A. Fowler, so called, for a couple of years agent of the D T. & I. railroad in Tecumseh, was dismissed from service last Tuesday as agent in Adrian by D T. & I officials A bonding company carrying Mr Fowler's bonds, we learn had notified the railroad officials that they wished to be released from the bonds on the grounds that he had a wife and three children living in the South and had recently taken another wife without being released from the former, charging him with bigamy

Representatives of the railroad company paid a visit to Adrian and dismissed him from the company's service. Later, in checking up his accounts, they found a shortage of some $2200.00.

In the meantime Fowler had left Adrian and come to Tecumseh where he had dealings with the local D T & I. agent. On leaving the station he told the men that he was going up town and would leave for Detroit that after noon He has not been heard from since. Late Tuesday afternoon a telephone message was received from Adrian asking about his whereabouts, stating that they were very anxious to get in touch with him

Mr Fowler was married to Miss Ethel Gildart of Albion last fall while he was agent in Tecumseh and the couple lived here several months after their marriage. A child was born to them since their removal to Adrian. Mrs. Fowler and the baby have returned to her old home in Albion.

Mr. Fowler will be remembered by a great many Tecumseh people and his trouble will be a surprise to all who knew him.

HOME RULE AND PROHIBITION

A meeting in the interest of the "Wet Cause" was held at Bradley's opera house Friday evening. Mr Mulhern of Adrian introduced the speaker Dan E. Richter of Minneapolis, Minn. Owing to the extreme inclemency of the weather, there were not many present.

At the beginning of his talk he said he would be glad to answer any questions that might be asked and he would not state any figures or statistics that he could not prove. He criticised the leaders of the "Dry Cause" and said they were not sincere.

One of the reasons in his opinion that church services were not better attended was that preachers were inclined to talk politics too much and were preaching the Gospel of Jesus Christ too little.

He made a strong plea for the "Wet" system in Michigan, denounced Prohibition, and intimated that even if the state went dry, in Detroit and other large cities it would be almost impossible to enforce the law.

Charles Donnelly of Adrian was a business caller in town Monday.

At the morning service at the Presbyterian church Sunday an appeal was made by the pastor for help for the Syrian and Armenian people. These countries are neutral and have suffered so because of the war, their people are dying by thousands, unable to care for themselves. A contribution for their aid was taken and some $30.00 received. Any wishing to contribute can do so by leaving their money at the Herald office, the banks or the churches.

Neighbor Told Her Cure for Lumbago

Rheumatism and lumbago are awful things and cause great pain and misery, but Foley Kidney Pills can rout them.

Mrs. G. H. Eveland, Duncan Mills, Ill., writes the following letter: "I was stricken down with lumbago and was unable to turn myself in bed. A neighbor brought me a half bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, and said she had been similarly afflicted and that they had helped her. So I tried them and was completely relieved by the use of two or three bottles. I have had splendid success with them and have never known them to fail. I most heartily recommend Foley Kidney Pills."

Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, inactive, sluggish kidneys, rid the body of poisons, give appetite, energy and refreshing sleep after pain. Don't neglect kidney trouble. Remove the cause with Foley Kidney Pills.

Sold everywhere in Tecumseh.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health is Wroth Saving, and Some Tecumseh People Know How to Save It.

Many Tecumseh people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightets delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here [illegible] tion.

Wm. Martin, Logan street, Tecumseh, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had dull headaches and tired easily. I had soreness and lameness across my back and my kidneys acted irregularly The kidney secretions were unnatural, too. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and they strengthened my back and put my kidneys in good order."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Martin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

LAKE BOAT SUNK, TWENTY-ONE DIE

Steamer Colgate Goes Down In Storm on Erie.

CAPTAIN IS SOLE SURVIVOR

Two Companions Tied to Life Raft Are Washed Away as Rescue Ships Appear—Victim Is Another on List of Friday's Disasters—Few of Crew Known.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 23.—Another tragedy of Lake Erie's "black Friday" which cost the lives of twenty one men came to light, wave borne, when a life raft to which Captain Walter Grashaw, of the Whaleback steamer James B. Colgate, had clung since she floundered, thirty-four hours before, was picked up off Rondeau, Canada, and taken to Conneaut, Ohio. Nineteen men were sucked down to death when the steamer foundered at 10 o'clock Friday night off Long Point opposite Erie, and Captain Crashaw's two companions on the life raft were washed away just as the rescue ship, car ferry steamer Marquette and Bessemer No. 2 came plowing through the waves toward them, Grashaw is the sole survivor of the Colgate's crew of twenty-two.

Two Die With Relief In Sight.

Human strength and tenacity of life succumbed to the deadly cold of the waves and their continuous lashing. Second Engineer Harry Ossmann and a coal passer, whose name Captain Crashaw did not know, slipped from the raft just as the Marquette swung round to take them off. The circumstances of their death closely paralelled the end of Oscar Johnson Saturday morning when he slipped from the rigging of the D. L. Filer, sunken near Detroit, just as the steamer Western States was about to take him and Captain Mattison of the Filer off.

Now mounting the top of a wave, now engulfed, the life raft to which Captain Grashaw and his companions clung was sighted by the wheelsman of the Marquette Sunday afternoon. The three figures rope entangled, were prone on it and at every onslaught of the seas they washed back and forth, apparently lifeless. The captain was notified and the ferry steamer quickly directed her course toward the bit of jestsam. Just as she rounded to an unusually large wave, as if enraged at seeing its prey escape, swept over the raft. As it receded only one man remained and far off two grotesquely twisted figures sank slowly beneath the green waters.

Captain Saved Half Conscious.

Captain Grashaw was lifted from the raft and carried, semi-conscious to the Marquette's fire room. This was at 8:30 o'clock in the forenoon, thirty-four and one-half hours after the big whaleback had foundered.

Slowly Captain Grashaw's senses cleared and he asked:

"Where are the boys who were with me? Did they go?" and his voice dropped to a husky, awed whisper.

"Both," was the answer.

Then the captain lapsed into unconsciousness again and did not again speak during the six-hour run to Conneaut.

Captain Grashaw, whose home is at 2360 East 89th street, Cleveland, had been master of the Colgate only two weeks and neither he nor the owners, the Standard Transit company of this city, were able to give a list of the crew owing to the many changes made in it Friday morning at Buffalo just before she sailed for Fort William, Canada.

Few Names of Victims Known.

Among the twenty-one who lost their lives in the wreck, according to Captain Grashaw were:

Second Engineer Ossmann, of Cleveland; Chief Engineer Charles E. Sutliffe, of Colon Springs, Wis.; Second Mate George Coon, of Milwaukee; Steward Ralph Coon, first mate Larsen and the unnamed coal passer washed from the raft.

MURDOCK OUT FOR WILSON

Hearst's Chicago Examiner Also Comes Out for President.

Wichita, Kan., Oct. 23.—Victor Murdock, Progressive, who bolted the convention when his party decided to "make up" with the Republicans, is off the fence. In an editorial Mr. Murdock's Wichita Eagle Sunday morning came out for Woodrow Wilson. Since the conventions, both old parties have exerted efforts to get the former Kansas congressman to join with them, and, just before he sailed for China, several weeks ago, he announced he was "on the fence."

Chicago, Oct. 23.—The Chicago Examiner which has been opposing President Wilson almost since his administration began, has come out in support of the President on his domestic policies.

"I fear that Algernon does not really care for me."

"Why, you got a letter from him today, girlie."

PREMIER SLAIN OVER POLITICS

Re'usal to Call Austrian Parliament Led to Act.

DR. ADLER MAKES STATEMENT

Two Others Are Wounded When Socialist Editor Makes Fatal Attack on Count Stuergkh In Restaurant. Rome Report Says Disturbances Are Going on in Vienna Following the Tragedy.

London, Oct. 23.—A wireless dispatch from Rome reports there were grave riots in Vienna after the assassination of Count Stuergkh, which the police were powerless to quell.

Killed Over Politics.

Vienna, Oct. 23.—The assassination of the Austrian premier, Count Karl Stuergkh, was a purely political act, and was induced by his refusal to convene parliament, according to the admissions of Dr. Friedrich Adler, his assailant, made shortly after his arrest.

Dr. Adler is an eccentric and superradical Socialist, sometimes known as "the Liebknecht of Austria." He is editor of Der Kampf.

At first he declined to reveal his motives, but after being locked up he broke down and declared the premier's policies had led him to do the deed.

Two men who leaped at Dr. Adler after he had fired on Count Stuergkh were wounded. Dr. Adler discharged the two remaining chambers of his revolver at these men before Austrian and German officers, with drawn sabers, overpowered him.

Baron Aehrenthal Shot.

The wounded men, who were injured slightly, are Baron Aehrenthal, brother of the late foreign minister, and the head waiter of the Hotel Meissl and Schadn, in which the shooting occurred.

Count Stuergkh arrived at the hotel at 1:30 o'clock. With him at luncheon were Baron Aehrenthal, Count Toggenburg, governor of the Tyrol; Herr Jackson, a prominent Vienna musician, and an actor from the court theater.

At 2 o'clock a man unknown to the premier arrived and took a seat three tables away. He ate luncheon and paid for the meal, but lingered at the table

Shortly after 3 o'clock he arose, advanced quickly toward the premier and fired three shots. The first missed. The next two struck the premier in the head. Without a word Count Stuergkh fell back lifeless in his chair.

TEUTONS SEIZE BLACK SEA PORT

Mackensen Wins Great Victory in Balkans.

PERILS ROUMANIAN CAPITOL

German Field Marshal Advances 12 Miles on Front of Forty Miles in 48 Hours—Strikes to Put Roumania Out of the War—Seizes Big Stores.

LONDON, ENG — More than 1,000 yards of German trenches in the region of Gueudecourt and Lesboeufs were taken by the British in fighting north of the Somme river in France, according to the official communication. In the region of Grandecourt the British artillery stopped a German plan for an attack.

BERLIN — The city of Constanza on the Black Sea, Roumania's greatest port and principal point of entry for military supplies and Russian reinforcements, is in the hands of the armies of the central powers.

The city fell after a three-day drive by the Teuton-Bulgarian armies of Field Marshal von Mackensen. Despite torrential rains which converted the normally swampy ground into a vast morass, the Austro-Germans, Bulgarians and Turks comprising the army of invasion in Dobrudja, advanced twelve miles in forty-eight hours, driving the Russo-Roumanian defenders before them in disorganized retreat.

Cut Trunk Line Railway.

The advance was made in a front of forty miles from the Black sea to the Danube. Besides capturing Constanza, Mackensen's troops have cut the trunk line railway from that city to Vernavoda, on the Danube. They are firmly established astride the railway at Murfatlar, thirteen miles west of Constanza, while their left wing is rapidly approaching Cernaveda itself, preparatory, apparently, to an attempt to cross the river on a wide front and strike at Bucharest from the south.

Trajan's Wall Is in Ruins.

In their advance on Constanza Mackensen's artillery battered into ruins the three stone and earthwork ramparts which comprise the historic Trajan's wall, and which have stood as a dam to the tide of invasion for more than 1,500 years. The famous wall stood in a shallow arc from a point below Constanza to Cornavoda and was constructed by legionaries under Trajan, the general of the Roman Emperor Valens, in A. D. 377 to check incursions by the Visigoths.

At points it was as much as nineteen feet high, solidly built of earth and rock and as late as 1854 had served to hold in check an invasion of Roumania by the Russians.

Large Stores Captured.

Mackensen's stroke not only cuts off the main source of Roumanian military supplies but has resulted, according to advices, in the seizure of tremendous stores which had been piled up in Constanza and which the Roumanians, in their hurried retreat, were unable to carry off or destroy.

It also opens the road for an invasion of old Roumania from the Danube, and for a dual advance on Bucharest—from the north and south.

Mackensen Moved Swiftly.

Mackensen's campaign has been in progress little more than two months. Berlin hails his latest achievement as transcending in importance the utmost gains of the Franco-British allies in the west during the entire progress of their Somme offensive.

German military experts express the utmost confidence that the next few months will see a re-enactment in Roumania of the strokes by which Serbia last winter ceased to exist as a separate nation. The Serbian campaign, it is pointed out, was conducted by the same commander—Von Mackensen—and the initial moves were much the same.

U. S. PERILED BY TYPHUS

Extraordinary Measures Being Taken for Protection Against Mexico.

WASHINGTON — Extraordinary measures are being taken by the United States public health service to prevent typhus from crossing the Mexican border into this country. It is learned that David M. White, a civil engineer, driven out of Mexico, died of typhus in El Paso on Oct. 19 after an illness of two days.

To prevent such infectious diseases as White's from being imported, the service has erected disinfecting stations at Eagle Pass, El Paso, Brownsville and San Antonio. So many additional medical officials have been needed, it has been found necessary to draw on the 1917 appropriation for the prevention of the spread of infectious diseases.

FOUR MORE VESSELS SUNK

Two Are Norwegian Steamers, One Danish Ship and One Swedish.

LONDON, ENG.—Lloyd's announces that the Norwegian steamers Rabbi, of 878 tons gross, have been sunk.

The sinking of the Danish schooner Fritsemil and the Swedish bark Lenha is also announced by the shipping agency.

Authorities of Muskegon seeking Miss Rossie Logg, aged eighteen, and ordered committed to the state home for the feeble-minded at Lapeer, who disappeared shortly after the order was issued, are confident that the girl has gone with Max Bennett, a young man who took out a license to marry her just before the examination revealed she was not mentally competent.

TOLL OF STORMS ON LAKES FIFTY

Steamer Merida Added to List That Went Down.

IS THE FOURTH VESSEL LOST

Finding of Bodies of Crew and Wreckage Reveals Fate of Overdue Freighter—Captains Are Only Survivors of Two Crews—One Corpse Found in Life Boat.

CLEVELAND, OHIO — Local managers of the steamer Merida, owned by the Valley Camp Shipping company of Midland, Ont., admit that the ship was lost in the gale on Lake Erie Friday night. The admission came after seven bodies of the crew had been picked up in midlake by two other ships. So far as known not a man of the crew of twenty-three survives the tragedy.

The loss of the Merida makes four lake steamers that went to the bottom of Lake Erie in the storm. The total loss of life is fifty. The marshal of the Butters sank, but all thirteen of its crew were saved. The D. F. Filer went down with six of its crew, only the captain surviving. The James B. Colgate's crew of twenty-two, again with the single exception of the captain, perished, while every man on the Merida is believed to be lost.

Bodies from Merida Are Found.

Three bodies from the Merida were picked up by the steamer W. B. Mathews in midlake and taken to Toledo. Four bodies were found bearing Merida life belts by the steamer Charlotte Breitung and landed at Detroit. Reports from another ship sent out from a Canadian port to hunt for the Merida are that wreckage was sighted, but no survivors, and that no other bodies were found.

In the crew of the Merida were H. L. Jones, Buffalo, the master; Gideon Fleming, Ogdensburg, N. Y., mate; Joseph O'Connor, Chicago, engineer, and Thomas H. Moore, Chicago, a deck hand.

The Merida was due at Buffalo Saturday with a cargo of pyrites ore. It was commanded by Captain H. L. Jones of Buffalo. The ship was of 5,100 tons capacity and 360 feet long. It was built in 1892.

Pick Up Body from Whaleback.

DETROIT, MICH. — The body of one of the twenty-one men who went down with the whaleback steamer James B. Colgate in Lake Erie Friday was brought to Sandwich, Ont., across the Detroit river from this city by the steamer W. F. White.

Captain W. J. McLean of the White said he left Buffalo early in the morning, and when some distance off Long Point sighted a lifeboat tossing on the waves. A boat was lowered from the White and the body of a man was found in the lifeboat. There was nothing to indicate who he was. Captain McLean said the lifeboat was No. 1 of the Colgate's equipment.

The bodies of two men, believed to have been members of the crew of the barge D. L. Filer, which foundered in Lake Erie Friday night with a loss of six lives, were washed ashore below Amhertsburg, Ont., about twenty miles down the Detroit river. They have not been identified.

ASSASSIN CALLED CRAZY

Sister of Slayer of Austrian Premier Was Demented.

VIENNA — At his preliminary examination Friedrich Adler, assassin of Count Stuerghk, the Austrian premier, refused to explain the motive for his act. Adler said he killed the prime minister without outside advice or instigation. His jailers said he gave the impression of being weak mentally.

BERLIN — All accounts in the morning papers agree in calling the assassination of Premier Stuerghk of Austria the deed of an irresponsible political fanatic if not a neurasthenic whose mind has given way under the strain of the war. Dr. Friedrich Adler, the assassin, is described by acquaintances as a man of a naturally fanatical temperament, and one in whose family insanity runs—his sister has been in an insane asylum for years.

CHICAGO CHIEF IS INDICTED

True Bills Name Charles C. Healey and Two Others.

CHICAGO, ILL. — The October grand jury indicted Chief of Police Charles C. Healey on charges of malfeasance in office and conspiracy.

In a second indictment Chief Healey; Charles T. Essig, secretary and treasurer of the Sportsmen's Club of America, and William Luthardt, the chief's private secretary, are jointly indicted on charges of conspiracy.

Fire Loss Is $125,000.

BROWNSVILLE, PA. — The tipple, electric plant and five loaded coal barges, the property of the Diamond Coal and Coke company at West Brownsville, Pa., were destroyed by fire with $125,000 loss.

Federal Judge Near Death.

ST. LOUIS, MO.—Elbert B. Arams United States circuit judge, is in a critical condition as the result of a paralytic stroke.

Detroit girls, Elizabeth Bolobas, fourteen, and a younger sister, on their way to school, were struck by a passing train at a crossing there. The younger child was killed and Elizabeth is in Harper hospital with probably fatal injuries.

Fire in a poolroom gutted the business section of the Village of Emmett, causing heavy loss. Thirteen buildings and their contents were destroyed. Only six business places and two hotels remain standing in that district of the town.

Martin Kockling, fleeing from the Kalamazoo state hospital, went to Silver Lake, and made ardent and violent love to a school teacher at that place. Deputy Sheriff Pohl brought Martin back to the detention hospital. He was returned to Kalamazoo.

GRAY FOR U. S. PEACE PLAN

Neutrals Should Be Ready to Force Decision He Says.

LONDON, ENG. — In an important speech at a luncheon by the Foreign Press association Viscount Grey, British secretary for foreign affairs, expressed approval of American movements for a league after the war to maintain peace. He declared, however, that the nations which went into such a league must have a public sentiment prepared if necessary when a critical time came to uphold their decision by force.

The foreign secretary referred to German utterances regarding peace and the claim that Germany must have guaranties for her future protection and added:

"Precisely because this war was forced by Germany upon the world, it is the allies who must have guaranties."

Viscount Grey said neutrals should have something to say after the war regarding the methods by which the war had been conducted and whether all developments of science were to be utilized for destruction of the human race.

A GENERAL SURVEY OF THE WAR.

Tuesday, Oct. 17.—The French on the western front captured more fortified houses in Sailly-Saillisel. British advanced west of Serre on Bapaume road.

Wednesday, Oct. 18.—The Italians have won a new success against the Austrians, carrying, by a swift and powerful blow the last Teuton defense line between Coenagnon and Roite, in the Mount Pasubio sector.

Roumanian troops in the Predeal region, southwest of Kronstadt, have resumed the offensive and are driving back the Teutonic forces on the Transylvanian side of the border, says an official announcement.

Repulse of German and Austrian attacks in Galicia and the halting of the Carpathian offensive south of Dornawatra are reported by the Russian war office.

The Athens correspondent of the Daily Chronicle reports that the King's advisors have counselled him to abdicate and flee.

Thursday, Oct. 19.—The French advanced to within half a mile of Peronne, and took 350 prisoners.

Roumanians forced back the Teutons in the Transylvania Alps, and took 900 prisoners. Roumanians also were victors in the Trocus valley. The Serbs routed the Bulgars on the left bank of the Cerna and captured the fortified town of Brod.

The Austro-Germans renewed their offensive in Galicia and captured a mile and a half of Russ trenches on the Stokhod.

Friday, Oct. 20.—Disorder continues in Athens, the Greek capital. Reservists are said to have taken the law in their own hands. Hundreds have gone over to the Venizelists.

On the Somme Berlin claims the retaking of positions captured by the British Oct. 18. A terrific artillery duel rages on a 20-mile front.

The Teutons won an important victory in Galicia making over 2,000 Russ prisoners. Petrograd reports the Slavs stormed a height in this same region.

In the Balkans the battle rages on three fronts.

Gen. Von Mackensen has made an advance at Dobrudja, but in the Transylvania Alps the Roumanians have routed the Teutons at several points and retaken passes.

The Serbians have gained a new victory over the Bulgars in Macedonia.

Saturday, Oct. 21.—Field Marshal von Mackensen rolled back the Roumanians in Dobrudja. Bucharest claims victories in the Carpathians. Serbians advance on Monastir continues.

The Italians have captured an Austrian position in Dolmties by a bayonet charge in the snow.

The British and French troops on the Somme advanced several hundred yards on a 5,000 yard front.

Battles in Volhynia and Galicia are a see-saw, according to Berlin and Petrograd reports.

Sunday, Oct. 22.—The Germans were repulsed in attacks near Chaulnes, and the British advanced near Rancourt and Pye on the western front.

The Austrians won new ground in the Transylvanian Alps. Mackensen drove the Roumanians back in Dobrudja, capturing Toprai Sari, fourteen miles below Constanza, and Cbobadan on the Danube.

Berlin and Petrograd claim repulses of attacks in Galicia.

ADVANCE BY FRENCH ON BAPAUME PUSHED

Republic's Soldiers Take Hill 128 in New Gain.

PARIS — Rush attacks, each preceded by a levelling shower of shell that cleared the way for the attackers, are carrying the French slowly but surely onward in their drive on Bapaume.

With Sailly-Saillisel as their base, the French stormed and captured Hill 128, between Sailley and Transloy during the night. Bringing up their guns to this vantage point they made it possible the next morning to carry out further "minor operations" and notable progress was made to the northeast of Merval. The French official statement states that further captures of prisoners have been reported by the troops who Sunday advanced northeast of Sailly.

German attempts to retrieve lost ground south of the Somme and to shake loose the British hold north of the river failed, according to official reports from the allied commanders.

Charles Jakeway, 58, of Lowell, a produce and stock shipper, and his father-in-law, Charles Francisco, seventy-two, also an old resident of Lowell, were instantly killed by a Grand Trunk fast train when their automobile was struck as it was crossing the track.

TEUTON PLAN TO CUT RUSSIAN LINES FAILS

Effort to Drive Wedge Between Forces Is Defeated.

PETROGRAD — Austro-German forces made a new attack, striking north of Brody, near the Volhynian-Galician border. The war office reports that the assault was repulsed.

PETROGRAD, RUS.—The powerful Austro-German offensive launched a week ago in the region south of Dorna-Watra, with the intention of driving a wedge between the Russian and Roumanian forces, preventing further Russian assistance to her new ally and regaining Bukowina, apparently has broken down before the countermaneuvers of the Russians. The Russian command, anticipating the Teuton move, threw a large body of troops to this portion of the front, causing, according to official accounts, the Austro-German forces to fall back to their original positions.

OLD TIME HARVESTS.

A Reminder of the Days When You Were a Boy on the Farm.

If you were a boy on the farm you will recall vividly what harvest meant to you, for you had to carry water, and harvest hands were a thirsty set, nor did they seem to care how far it was to the spring or how badly chapped your feet.

When not carrying water you were busy gathering sheaves, which was about the hardest work in sight, or at least you thought it was.

When dinner came you would be so hungry that there did not seem to be enough on the table to satisfy you, to say nothing of the hungry bunch. In this you would be somewhat disappointed, for there was always enough for all.

Then for an hour's rest, during which the men would sprawl out in the shade of a tree or on the porch in the greatest comfort. And maybe you would have found a good place to rest your weary bones and about to settle into it when one of the cradlers would come along with a leaky bucket in one hand and a dull scythe in the other and order you to come along and turn the grindstone while you were resting.

Didn't it seem that they had a spite at a boy in harvest time on the farm?—Erasmus Wilson in Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

TWIN BORDER TOWNS.

They Sit Right on the Line That Separates Us From Mexico.

Along the lengthy frontier separating this country from Mexico, which extends from the Pacific ocean to the gulf, there are seven or eight towns which sit right upon the line.

Half of each of these towns is American, the other half Mexican. Sometimes the Rio Grande cuts them in the two halves, sometimes only a shallow arroyo and sometimes nothing at all but the imaginary mathematical line. These are what I call the twin towns.

El Paso has for its twin Juarez. Douglas has Agua Prieta. Presidio is sister to Ojinaga, Eagle Pass to Piedras Negras, Brownsville to Matamoros, and Laredo, Naco and Nogales, United States, are one with Nuevo Laredo, Naco and Nogales, Mexico.

Usually the American town is larger and of more importance than the Mexican town. It is bigger, more hustling, cleaner, ever so much more enterprising. But the little salamander sister across the way, indolent in the golden dust and the sun, achieves in some mysterious way and without effort a beauty, a color and a grace foreign perhaps for always, to the big hustler —James Hopper in Collier's Weekly.

He Met the Note.

Once upon a time a landlady in Washington called on President Andrew Jackson and told of a government clerk who owed her a big bill for board. In those days it was easy to have access to the White House. President Jackson listened to her story and advised her to get a promissory note from the clerk and put it in bank. She replied.

"I've done that twice, general, and he won't pay even then."

"Is that so?" said the president in surprise. "Now, you go and get his note and bring it to me. I simply want to see it, and I'm sure that the clerk will pay that note. Go and bring it to me."

The landlady did so and soon returned with the promissory note. The president turned it over and wrote across the back of it his own indorsement, "A. Jackson."

The note was paid at maturity.

Aptitude.

My observation in life leads me to believe that nearly every human being has an aptitude—that is, there is something that he or she can do better than all other things. One in a hundred, again, has a remarkable aptitude, and in one in a thousand this aptitude is developed into something extraordinary. It then amounts to natural insight and constitutes genius. Now, a perfect system of education, if it could be devised, would be one which, while developing to the fullest extent all the faculties, would allow free play to the special aptitude.—From "The Autobiography of Charles Francis Adams."

Music In Plants.

There is music in plants. The fern leaf of the varieties common here represents a bit of music. From the tip of the fern to the center there is a crescendo, from there to the root there is a diminuendo, and as we reach the last we should have to mark a retard. It is beautiful. Flowers grow rythmically.—Henry Turner Bailey.

SHIFTING OF THE WATERS.

What the Sea Gives to the Land and Gets Back Again Every Year.

According to Mr. Roscoe Nunn of the United States weather bureau, the waters of all the oceans have visited every part of the earth at some time in the history of the globe, so continually and upon such a vast scale are the winds and the forces of evaporation, condensation and precipitation at work.

A continuous circulation of water takes place between the hydrosphere (the water areas of the globe) and the atmosphere. The winds blow water vapor from over the seas to the land, and air currents carry it into the upper atmosphere. There it condenses and is precipitated, to begin the return journey to the sea through springs and rivers.

The amount of evaporation from the seas and the amount of precipitation on the land depend upon the temperature and the winds. It has been estimated that nearly 130 million millions of tons of water are transferred from sea to land and back again to the sea every year.

The average rainfall of the globe is about thirty-three inches. In the United States it varies from almost nothing to about 100 inches. Over the eastern half of the country it ranges from about thirty to about sixty inches and in the Pacific states from five to 100 inches.

Probably the greatest rainfall in the world occurs among the hills of Assam, in India, where over 500 inches fall in a year, and sometimes as much as forty inches in twenty-four hours.

REPUBLIC OF LIBERIA.

How the Colony Was Organized and Started on Its Career.

The first president of the American Colonization society, which founded the republic of Liberia, on the west coast of Africa, was Bushrod Washington, who was born in Virginia in 1759 and who was a nephew of George Washington. He served as a private soldier in the Revolution and afterward was elevated to the United States supreme court.

While himself an owner of many slaves, he was deeply interested in the movement for restoring the Africans in America to their native continent. He was one of the pioneers in the organization of the American Colonization society, which was launched in the latter part of 1816. Henry Clay, John Randolph and other men of prominence were also prominent in the movement.

In 1820 the society sent thirty-eight negroes back to Africa in a government vessel, and in that year a constitution for the colony, which was named Liberia, was adopted. The colony continued to be in charge of agents and governors appointed by the society until 1847, when its rights were voluntarily surrendered and the independence of Liberia was proclaimed and was recognized by the United States, Great Britain and France.—New York World.

Jefferson as an Inventor.

Not many people knew that Thomas Jefferson was a great inventor. His inventions were all of articles of everyday use. He devised a three legged folding camp stool that is the basis of all camp stools of that kind today. The stool he had made for his own use was his constant companion on occasions of outings. The revolving chair was his invention. He designed a light wagon. A copying press was devised by him and came into general use. He also invented an instrument for measuring the distance he walked. A plow and a hemp cultivator showed that his thoughts were often on agricultural matters. His plow received a gold medal in France in 1790. Jefferson never benefited financially by his inventions, but believed they should be for the use of every one without cost

Sir William Pepperell.

The first native American to be knighted by an English monarch was Sir William Pepperell, who was born in Kittery, Me., over two centuries ago. His father was a Welshman, who came to New England as an apprentice to a fisherman. The son became a merchant and amassed a large fortune. As a military leader he took part in several conflicts with the Indians and attained much distinction. For thirty-two years he was a member of the royal council of Massachusetts, and as chief justice of common pleas he won eminence as a jurist.

"What is the speed limit in this town?" asked the automobile driver, bringing his car to a stop just outside the boundary line.

"Never you mind what the limit is, mister," said the village constable. "You go right ahead and I'll tell you when you're going too fast."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Old Time Sermon Writers.

Why don't clergymen who are unequal to composing good sermons for themselves occasionally read one of the beautiful homilies provided for them by the church? Or why don't they frankly read some one else's sermon, giving credit to the author? One wonders whether the hack sermon writer exists nowadays—the man who in the eighteenth century and later "loaned" original sermons in manuscript for a trifling fee. It is on record that Coleridge when he was particularly hard up raised the wind in this way. How much would a sermon in Coleridge's handwriting fetch at Sotheby's today? —London Chronicle.

Long and Short Days.

At London, England, and Bremen, Prussia, the longest day has sixteen and a half hours. At Stockholm, Sweden, it is eighteen and a half hours in length. At Hamburg, in Germany, and Danzig, Prussia, the longest day has seventeen hours. At Petrograd, Russia, and Tobolsk, Siberia, the longest is nineteen hours, and the shortest five hours. At Tornea, Finland, June 21 brings a day nearly twenty-two hours long, and Christmas one less than three hours in length. At Wardbury, Norway, the longest day lasts from May 21 to July 22 without interruption, and in Spitzbergen the longest day is three and a half months.

Breaking a Looking Glass.

The breaking of a looking glass superstition is a very old one. Hundreds of years ago it used to be a common belief that those who wished to harm others could do so by getting pictures or making images of their enemies and destroying them. The destruction of the picture would be followed by the death of its original. Even the victim's reflection in a mirror was enough for the purpose, provided the mirror was promptly broken.

HOME RULE

In The Deceptive Sense In Which The Brewers Use It

IS SALOON RULE!

It has nothing whatever to do with the home! It is a trick to get home-loving workmen to lend their vote to something that they SUPPOSE will benefit their homes and the homes of their drink-addicted co-workers!

"Home Rule" is a wolf in sheep's clothing. It hides its fangs under the cloak of apparent respectibility, in the hope that it may lure the unthinking into voting for a measure that would help perpetuate the saloon!

Under "home rule" ONE WET TOWN could debauch fatherhood and young manhood and impoverish homes in EVERY DRY TOWN NEAR IT!

State Wide Prohibition

WILL KNOCK OUT EVERY SALOON IN THE STATE AND STOP THIS FOUL LIQUOR TRAFFIC.

Statewide Prohibition of the liquor traffic will prevent any possibility of ONE "WET" Town or county debauching the surrounding dry towns and counties!

Statewide Prohibition will cure this state of the saloon and liquor traffic with its trail of slow death, crime, insanity and poverty!

Statewide Prohibition will insure food, clothing, shelter and peaceful security to thousands of families who now lack these things because the saloon get the money that should be spent for them!

Statewide Prohibition will remove the corrupting influence of the saloon from politics!

Statewide Prohibition deserves your vote if for no other reason than that it will absolutely

Wipe Out The Saloon!

Vote "YES" on the amendment to Article 16, to be known as Section 11, providing for STATE-WIDE PROHIBITION.

Vote "NO" on the amendment to Article 8, to be known as Section 30, this being the saloon's deceptive "home rule" measure.

AT REST.

The funeral of the late Andrew Wilson was held at the Presbyterian church Thursday afternoon under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity. Rev. W. A. Rex spoke words of comfort to the bereaved family and W. S Dickinson gave as a solo, "Rock of Ages." The Masons attended in a body and conducted the closing services at the grave.

The casket was borne to the grave by his brothers in the lodge; Alva Spayde, Harry Tansley, John Pentecost, John Gillispi, T. C Harris and James Lowry Tolstoy's Wife.

Dr. Holmes once used a striking figure of speech, in which he compared a great man to a majestic ship moving impressively up the harbor, but guided and propelled by the modest little tug under its quarter. Some reminiscences by Tolstoy's son shows that the mother of his family was the tug that kept the great author on his course. "Leaning over the manuscripts and trying to decipher the scrawl with her shortsighted eyes, my mother sat up late at night after every one else had gone to bed. She often discovered gross grammatical errors and pointed them out to my father and corrected them."

It is practically assured that a large delegation will leave Tecumseh about 4 o'clock this afternoon for Adrian to attend the McKinley Club banquet which wil be held at Schoolcraft's rink, Delegations from Clintn, Macon, and Ridgeway will meet here in Tecumseh at 3:30 where they join the Tecumseh forces and swoop down on Adrian en masse. The Clinton and Tipton bands will go along to make things lively.

REPUBLICAN RALLY

Held at Bradley's Opera House, Tuesday Evening, Oct. 24th.

Not to be outdone by the loyal followers of Wilson and Marshall, the Republicans gathered at Bradley's opera house last Tuesday evening to listen to some of Lenawee's best talent. The Tipton band played several pieces in front of the opera house before the meeting and were on the program for the opening and closing numbers.

At 8 o'clock Chairman J. D. Shull called the meeting to order with a ringing appeal to the people for them to support the Republican cause at the coming election. He stated that at a recent Democratic Rally held in the Opera House the stage was decorated with a large picture of President Wilson occupying the central portion of the stage while at either side were smaller pictures of Washington and Lincoln. He was not quite sure to what this alluded. He complimented Frank Pratt for his excelent work in making the Rally a success.

Atty. G. A. Rathbun was called on to tell about the Republican McKinley banquet to be held at Adrian tonight. Mr. Rathbun stated that from all indications Northern Lenawee would sweep down on Adrian Friday afternoon en mass. Large delegations from Clinton, Britton, Ridgeway and Tipton would meet at Tecumseh about 3:30 p. m. and here joined by a large number of Republican supporters, proceed to Adrian by autos. The Clinton band will go along to make things lively for the delegation.

Mr. Rathbun had made a wager with Atty. Earl C. Michener that he would make more noise than Michener did and he called on his hearers to help him win his wager. He proposed three rousing cheers for Hughes which were given in the spirit that would have brought joy to the heart of Candidate Hughes had he heard them.

Prosecuting Atty. Leland F. Bean was the first speaker of the evening. Atty. Bean stated that the Democrats were seeking to return President Wilson for two reasons: First, that he had kept this country out of war and second, because this country had been so prosperous during his administration.

"Who wants war?" "The Republican party are not clamoring for war and stand ready to do everything possible to keep out of war, but would uphold the honor of this country in the eyes of the world. "We are in little danger of war as far as the great nations of Europe are concerned as they have all they can handle at the present time."

"The Republican party with its protective tariff is the history of prosperity." "The prosperity that the country is enjoying today is not a normal prosperity but due to the conditions caused by the unusual demands of the warring nations in Europe."

He stated that a Republican administration was needed to build up a strong tariff wall to protect this nation from the inroads that foreign commerce would make at the close of the war.

In closing Atty. Bean introduced the various district and county candidates who were seated on the stage and found it easy to say many good things about them and acknowledged in a very modest way that he would be willing to serve the county two years more in the capacity of prosecutig attorey.

Earl C. Michener of Adrian was the next speaker introduced by Chairman Shull Attorney Michener characterized the Wilson administration as weak, the foreign policy having been particularly weak. The eight hour law was classed as a ruse for votes and one of the rankest pieces of class legislation which had been put on the statute books in many years. He went into the tariff question at length, quoting facts and figures to drive home his arguments. The foreign policy of the present administration was also touched on.

The last speaker of the evening was Judge H L. Larwill who delighted his hearers by his pleasing voice and manner of speech. He stated that he had been judge of probate of Lenawee county for the past 16 years and that if the people were satisfied with the way he had conducted the affairs of his office they would return him. He named other Michigan judges who had held their office for longer periods than he had and through their efficiency had been returned term after term.

The judge spoke at length on the national issues and dealt with the questions which had been taken up by the former speakers. In connection with the Danbury Hatters case of which we have heard so much during the campaign, the judge stated that the case first came up and a decision was written by the supreme court in 1908. Justice Hughes was not elevated to the supreme bench until 1910 and that Justice Hughes in writing his decision later on this case only confirmed the opinion of the other members of the supreme court and his honest interpertation of the law to fit the case.

President Wilson's administration has been a kind of an "on again, off again" affair and what Mr. Wilson needed was more lime and less "St. Jacobs oil" on his spinal column.

He compared Ex-President Roosevelt's dealings with the coal strike which threatened our country during his administration with the policy carried out by Mr. Wilson in handling the threatened Railroad strike. It was the difference between a real president and a college professor.

One reason why the Democrats were supporting the income tax was that the burden of the tax was paid by the Northern and Eastern states which were Republican states. The Democratic states of the South during the year 1915 returned about $6,000,000 of inheritance tax against $93,000,000 paid by the Republican states of the north and east.

In closing the judge took up the attack which had been made against Fred Nutten, candidate for sheriff. Mr. Nutten's bill which was presented to the board of supervisors, he stated, had been checked up in the office of the prosecuting attorney and every item listed had been accounted for and proven except two or three which Mr. Nutten had vouched for and had given oath that the work had been performed. As an officer he had had frequent dealings with him and had always fuond him prompt and honest in the performance of his duties.

The opera house was well filled and from the frequent applause it ws quite evident that they were "standing pat."

The Heat Units of Coal

You can get from coal a certain percentage of the heat units which it contains.

Some coal contains far more of these heat units than others—owing to its different chemical composition.

A coal high in heat units radiates more heat during combustion than a coal containing fewer heat units.

We have seen it proven over and over again that gives more heat bulk or weight for weight than any other.

That's another way of saying that Economy Coal in actual every-day experience is the cheapest.

We sell it.

MARRIED IN BALTIMORE

The following announcement is being received by friends in Tecumseh today:

"Mrs. Elizabeth A. Biddison announces the marriage of her daughter, Bessie Shannon, to J. Alfred Rector Wednesday, October twenty-fifth, nineteen hundred and sixteen, Baltimore, Maryland. At home after November fifeenth, Tecumseh, Mich."

Mr. Rector is one of our prominent business men on the street The above announcement comes as a surprise to everyone as Fred kept his own counsel so closely that not even his partners in business knew of his plans. He simply left Saturday for a few days' trip and behold the result! We had always considered him immune from anything of this kind, but as he has arrived at the age of discretion, we feel sure that the move is well taken. The bride is well known here being a relative of the various Boyce families and having visited in Tecumseh several times.

The Herald extends congratulations and best wishes

NOTICE

There will be a meeting at the opera house on Thursday evening, Nov. 2d, to discuss the "Wet and Dry" situation. The best arguments on either side will be given.

SONS OF VETERANS

The boys of Beers Camp No 179 arranged a very good program for Thursday evening October 26 which was most successfully carried out. Rev W. A. Rex gave a fine talk on, "Military Affairs and 'the Duties of a Citizen to the Man who wears the Uniform today'"

George Sanford of Clinton kept the audience in a roar most of the time. George Keysor favored the company with his Irish Ditty.

This is the first of a series of entertainments that the Sons of Veterans propose to give through the winter which will be held in the G A. R. hall and will be free to the public.

Mr and Mrs Ernest Robison of Macon were guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. John Bennett Thursday coming for the funeral of his aunt Mrs Hoyt.

$1.00 ENTERTAINMENT COURSE

While Tecumseh has been very wide awake in every way and has outstripped most of our surrounding towns and cities in the matter of good clean entertainment, there is still room for more of it, especially during the winter months.

Several attempts have been made to interest organizations here to take this up, but the opportunity has been grasped by the men of the Presbyterian church who have closed arrangement with the International Lyceum Bureau for five high grade entertainments as follows:

Nov. 20—International Glee Club
Dec 20—Tehan, an Indian
Jan 22—Dearborn Company, musical
Feb. 2 Wassman, a Magnician
Feb 19—Georgia Jubilee Singers

In addition to the above we shall have with us on the night of January 11 1917 Mr. H. Diamond, of Ohio, the witty Scotchman, who was at the Men's Banquet last February, and who is conceded to be the equal of Harry Lauder with his Scotch sayings and songs.

On Dec. 28th Dr. Rice, of Detroit, will lecture on a subject to be selected later. Dr. Rice has become a famous orator, and is paid one of the largest salaries paid to ministers in this country today. It was only possible to secure him as a part of this course because he was formerly located at Tipton, and is known to many Tecumseh people.

By holding the entertainments in the Auditorium of the Presbyterian church It has been made possible to sell the course tickets at $1.00 each. This is less than 15c for each entertainment, while the single admission to any one will be 50c.

An opportunity will be given school children to earn their ticket by a liberal arrangement that will be announced in a few days.

THE WIT AND WISDOM

There were over forty present Monday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. D. Brown who with Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Slayton entertained the Wit and Wisdom club. It was an evening with James Whitcomb Riley and proved a most delightful one.

The house was beautifully decorated with oak boughs. Mrs. C. A. Slayton read a fine paper on the life of Riley and Miss Nannie Kyle read his poem "Back to Griggsby's Station." Mrs. Grace Moore in her own charming manner sang his song, "There is always a song somewhere" Master Ted Jennings gave a cute recitation, "The Raggedy man."

Mrs. W. A. Rex then followed with one of Rileys gems of poetry "An old Sweetheart of Mine." and J. O. Eaton recited "The Old Swimmin Hole" as though he knew all about it. Mrs. A. O. Howard gave "The Little Orphant Anna" in her own quaint style. Mrs Moore closed the program with a solo, "There little girl don't cry."

Roll call, brought out many quotations from Rileys writings. Later refreshments were served.

Y. W. C. A. WORK IN JACKSON

The Y. W. C. A. of Jackson, Mich., is adding a new department this year, that of Traveler's Aid. Any girl coming to Jackson from the outlying towns and country and desiring the services of the Travelers Aid has only to notify Miss Griffith at the Y. W. C. A, and she will meet her at the train and serve her in every way possible.

Miss Griffith also has charge of the Employment work of the Association and will be able to secure Employment for girls and women. A large number of positions in housework are always open.

The Association wishes to utter this warning to Girls: Under no condition answer advertisements for help without investigation being made by trustworthy persons for this is known to be a dangerous proceeding.

RESEARCH CIRCLE

The members of the Research Circle were entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ed Smalledge In the absence of the leader, Mrs. Chas. Orr, Mrs. J O. Eaton presided and had charge of the program. Mrs Mertie Macham was made an active member of the circle. Mrs. A. C. Bryan read an interesting paper on the "Civilization of the Aztics" Following this came a conversation on the subject, "Why am I a Club Woman?" which proved very entertaining Roll call. Each one gave their opinion on "Public Play Grounds." The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. G. B Garlinghouse.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY.

The Pythian Sisters want all K. of P's and their wives or sweethearts to come to their Hallowe'en party Monday evening. There will be cards for those that do not dance. So come and hove a good time.

Grateful Mothers Tell Experiences

Mrs. T. Neureuer, Eau Claire, Wis., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound cured my boy of a very severe attack of croup after other remedies had failed. Our milkman cured his children of whooping cough. I recommend it to every one, as we know from our own experience that it is a wonderful remedy for coughs, colds, croup, and whooping cough."

Mrs. D. Gilkeson, Youngstown, O., writes: "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. I tried lots of cough remedies, but she didn't get any better. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar Compound to me. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat, and after using one bottle the cough left her."

This sterling old remedy has been in use for years and is just as efficient for adults as for children. It gives relief for irritated and tickling throat, tight and sore chest, grippe and bronchial coughs.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health is Wroth Saving, and Some Tecumseh People Know How to Save It.

Many Tecumseh people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here [illegible]

Wm. Martin, Logan street, Tecumseh, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had dull headaches and tired easily. I had soreness and lameness across my back and my kidneys acted irregularly. The kidney secretions were unnatural, too. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and they strengthened my back and put my kidneys in good order."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Martin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

FRANK A. VANDERLIP

He Sees Roads Suffering "Hardening of Arteries."

Frank A. Vanderlip, president of the National City bank of New York, in an address before the convention of the Society of Railway Financial Officers on the general subject, "What is the Matter With the Railroads?" said he feared the industry was undergoing "hardening of the arteries." Although representing a grand total of 16,000,000,000 invested, the condition of the railroads of the United States, he said, was due to selfishness on the part of the public, the stockholders, the wage earners and the politicians.

"Only 'Gets-It' for Me After This!"

It "Gets" Every Corn Every Time. Painless, Nothing More Simple.

"I'll tell you what, I've quit using toe-eating salves for corns, I've quit making a package out of my toes with bandages and contraptions—quit digging with knives and scissors. Give me 'GETS-IT' every time!"

When You See These Pretty Girls in Your Druggist's Window It's a Good Time To End Your Corns.

That's what they all say the very first time they use "GETS-IT." It's because "GETS-IT" is so simple and easy to use—put it on in a few seconds—because there is no work or corn-fooling to do, no pain that shoots up to your heart. It gets your corns off your mind. All the time it's working—and then, that little old corn peels right off, leaves the clean, corn-free skin underneath—and your corn is gone! No wonder millions prefer "GETS-IT". Try it tonight.

"GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere, 25c. a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

CABRERA STORY IS REPUDIATED

Carranza Emissary [illegible] Talk Attributed to Him.

DIDN'T SCORE U. S. OFFICIALS

Alleged Attack Was Given Out by Mexican News Bureau—Three Are Arrested at Border for Alleged Violation of Neutrality—One Confesses.

Washington, Oct. 30.—Administration officials profess to believe that the highest officials of the Mexican government, including General Carranza, are making a concerted attempt to affect the political situation in the United States. This belief is based on an extraordinary number of statements criticising the administration and attacking American officials, that have come to the attention of the state department in the last forty-eight hours.

The statement given out here by the Mexican embassy's official news bureau, and credited to Luis Cabrera, which Cabrera disavowed, was in part substantiated by the Mexican embassy.

Almost simultaneously with these statements, the state department has received from its agent in Mexico City copies of interviews authorized by Carranza accusing President Wilson of failure to keep faith with Mexico, and a statement by General Pablo Gonzales, published in Carranza's official organ in Mexico City, accusing Mr. Wilson of lack of frankness and of an "unclean" policy.

New York, Oct. 30.—Luis Cabrera, chairman of the Mexican-American joint commission, said here that he did not authorize the statement issued by the Mexican news bureau in Washington on Saturday assailing American officials for alleged laxity in dealing with anti-Carranza propaganda in districts along the border.

A representative of the Mexican news bureau conferred with the Mexican members of the joint body in Atlantic City recently, Mr. Cabrera added, and probably carried back with him to Washington the impression that the Mexican commissioners were of the opinion that the United States should adopt a firmer attitude toward anti-Carranza propagandists.

Take Three on Neutrality Charge.

Nogales, Oct. 30.—Five men were arrested here charged with violating the United States neutrality law. They were Guillermo Barnett, Charles Kisselbach and Eduarto Ramierez, all of the Nogales Hardware company. Orders were issued for the arrest of Louis Loos, manager of the company, on the same charge, but the latter was out of town.

Louis Loos was later arrested. The arrest of Loos, following that of Kisselbach, a naturalized German, and Barnett, together with Edourdo Raufrez, a legalista agent and another Mexican, supposedly backs up the warning given out by Secretary of War Baker, that a plot existed to bring about another border raid by Mexicans before the presidential election, Nov. 7th.

Ramierez and Kisseibach gave bond. Barnett was reported to have been arrested on the Mexican side of the border and, according to reports received here, he was threatened with execution if he did not tell of the alleged conspiracy.

Trevino Moves to Strike Villa.

Juarez, Mex., Oct. 30.—Carranza agents here announce that General Jacinto Trevino and a large force had departed from Chihuahua City early in the day, supposedly headed for Santa Rosalia to engage the Villistas occupying the town. It was not denied that the move on Trevino was based on information that Villa had divided his force, leaving only a few men at Santa Rosalia and sending his main body on to attack Parral.

CONSTANTINE STILL YIELDING TO ALLIES

Greek King Removes Last Menace to Rear.

Athens, Oct. 30.—King Constantine, it is officially announced, has voluntarily offered to remove what the allies in Macedonia looked upon as a menace in their rear. He has ordered the transfer of the Third and Fourth army corps from Thessaly, and the Sixteenth from the Epirus to the Peloponesus, the southern Greek peninsula.

The transfer is to begin on Nov. 3. There will be left behind only enough men to maintain order.

This concession comes after the King had refused to grant it on the insistence—almost the order—of the French military attache. It followed a recent series of visits by allied ministers to the royal palace.

Its significance, it is believed here, is that King Constantine will soon be found co-operating with the allies.

Drys Watch Kazoo Registration.

Kalamazoo, Oct. 30.—Kalamazoo's complete city registration, which began Friday and continues until 8 o'clock tonight, is being closely watched by the dry forces here. Operatives for the dry forces had thirteen names which they said were "apparently fraudulent regulations" on their books.

Man Killed, Wife Injured.

Lawrenceburg, Ind., Oct. 30.—Gregory Mott of New Alsace was killed instantly when his auto plunged down a fifty foot embankment near Hogstead. His wife was injured in the head, but may recover.

STATE'S OLDEST MASON DIES

Dr. A. T. Metcalf Was Also Civic Leader at Battle Creek.

Battle Creek, Oct. 30.—The Masonic Grand Lodge of Michigan will conduct funeral services Wednesday afternoon at the Masonic temple for Dr. A. T. Metcalf, one of the city's pioneers, twice grand master of the Michigan Masonic order and the oldest Mason in Michigan, who died at Battle Creek, aged eighty-five.

Dr. Metcalf was a former mayor, a thirty-third degree Mason, a dentist, and a man who was not afraid to have opinions of his own.

OLD UNION BUILDING AT U. OF M. IS GONE

Work on New Structure at Ann Arbor Started.

Ann Arbor, Oct. 30.—Wilfred Shaw, editor of the Michigan Alumnus, pays a tribute to the old grey stone building that for years was the home of some of the University of Michigan's great men, and for years after that, was the home of the Michigan union. The article is the lead of the current number, called "The Passing of the Old Union."

The last stone of the old building is gone. The workers on the first excavation have started their contract, and about thirty bids have already been received for the second contract for the excavations, and the installation of the foundation, a work to cost between $50,000 and $100,000. The new Union home will cost $1,000,000.

Of the 7,214 students in the university last year, 58 per cent, or 4,188 students, were from Michigan. Twenty-eight per cent came from a radius of fifty miles. In other words, fifty-eight per cent of the students of the university came from without the 100-mile circle.

LORD BOUNTIFUL ARRESTED

Lad Had Been Vertiable Santa Claus With Stolen Loot.

Kalamazoo, Oct. 30.—A list of loot covering several written pages is charged against a thirteen year old boy who was taken into juvenile court to answer for thefts, and who had been a sort of Lord Bountiful to other children.

The thefts which the youngster confessed to having committed extend over a period of several weeks and the victims were proprietors of at least twenty stores. The boy appears as a veritable Santa Claus among his companions, for he distributed his ill-gotten gains with a free hand.

HEADS U. OF M. CADETS

Colorado Man Chosen Captain-Instructor at Ann Arbor.

Ann Arbor, Oct. 30.—J. D. Lowrey, of Denver, literary special student in the university, has been made captain-instructor in military training.

Other officers, all chosen because of previous experience, are: Captain, E. M. Lyons, sophomore, medic, from Kansas City, Mo.; first lieutenant, N. H. Schermer, Wyandotte; second lieutenant, E. W. Hudson, Monroe, La.; additional lieutenant, A. M. Shearer, Bay City; first sergeant, L. V. Pearson, Ann Arbor; right guide, W. C. Hansen, Pittsburgh, Pa.; bugler, F. W. Dennis, Jr., Detroit.

Starts Move for Game Farm.

Lansing, Oct. 30.—The first step toward the establishment of a game farm in Michigan was taken by the public domain commission, when it went on record as being in favor of the purchase of what is known as the Teel farm, in Ingham county, and starting at once the breeding of the ring-necked pheasants.

HUGHES BEGINS NEW MIDDLE WEST TRIP

Candidate Invading Ohio and Indiana Second Time.

Ogdensburg, N. Y., Oct. 30.—Charles E. Hughes started on the last week of his presidential campaign. Only five more days of active campaigning confront the Republican nominee. Of these, Tuesday and Wednesday will be spent in Ohio and Indiana and Thursday and Friday in New York state.

The program calls for addresses at East Liverpool, Steubenville, Zanesville and Columbus, Ohio, the last named at night. The first speech of the day will be at East Liverpool.

In Indiana Mr. Hughes will speak at Columbus, Bedford, Washington, Evansville, Sullivan, Linton, Bloomington, Brazil and Terre Haute.

His first speech Thursday will be at Batavia, N. Y.

SIMON WOLF IS 80 YEARS OLD

Leader of American Jews Has Known Every President Since Lincoln.

Washington, Oct. 30.—Simon Wolf, recognized as one of the leaders of the American Jewry, celebrated his eightieth birthday anniversary here. Mr. Wolf has known personally every president since Abraham Lincoln and was consul general to Egypt under President Grant.

A birthday book of three volumes containing the signatures of more than 300 men and women of national importance, compiled by Mr. Wolf's daughter, and presented to him, bears the autograph of President Wilson.

Recovers $17,000 from Oil Company.

Laporte, Ind., Oct. 30.—Christian Christiansen, owner of one thousand acres of land in Kankakee valley, was awarded a $17,000 verdict by a jury in the Laporte circuit court against Indiana Pipe Line company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company, because pipe lines across Christiansen's land burst and allowed crude petroleum to flood his land and ruin 250 acres.

John Disappoints 'Em Again.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—An audience that taxed the capacity of the Auditorium theater was disappointed in its expectation of hearing John McCormick, the famous tenor. Acute inflamation of the larynx prevented Mr. McCormick from appearing. More than $6,000 was refunded.

French Claim Loan a Success.

Paris, Oct. 30.—Subscriptions to the second French war loan have closed. The loan, it is said, is a great success, although no official statement has yet been made. It is expected that the figures will be announced by the government within a few days.

Explosion Kills Midland Man.

Midland, Oct. 30.—Charles Youngs was killed and three others were injured when the chloro-benzol plant of the Dow Chemical company exploded.

To Recall City "Dads."

Big Rapids, Oct. 30.—A movement for recall of the members of city commission has been started.

VOTE MICHIGAN DRY NOV. 7
"YES" FOR PROHIBITION
"NO" ON HOME RULE

Vote for a Square Deal and Defeat "Home Rule"

VOTE MICHIGAN DRY NOV. 7
"YES" FOR PROHIBITION
"NO" ON HOME RULE

On Nov. 7 every voter will receive ballots for four Constitutional Amendments. Two of these relate to the liquor traffic and two do not. Your special attention is called to the two amendments relating to the liquor traffic.

Every voter must vote twice on the liquor traffic. Every enemy of the saloon must vote "YES" on the Dry State-wide Amendment to Article XVI, Section 11, for prohibition. Every voter, wet or dry, who believes in the square deal, will vote "NO" on the "wet" or so-called "Home Rule" Amendment to Article VIII, Section 30.

What is the so-called "home rule" amendment? It is a plan to change the Michigan Local Option Law so that the voting unit will be the city, village or township instead of the county, as at present. It is distinctly a wet measure, advocated by the Michigan Home Rule League, which is the anti-prohibition organization of the Michigan saloons who are backed by the brewers and distillers in many other states than Michigan.

Who wants the so-called "home rule" amendment? The saloon crowd, brewers and distillers. Who are fighting the "home rule" amendment? The United Dry Federation of Michigan, including the Michigan Anti-Saloon League, Michigan Grange, Michigan Gleaners, Michigan State Sunday School Association, The Trade Union Dry League, W. C. T. U., and other great organizations, both Catholic and Protestant.

VOTE ON PROPOSED
AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Providing for prohibition in the state forever of the manufacture, sale, keeping for sale, giving away, bartering or furnishing of any vinous, malt, brewed, fermented, spirituous or intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal, mechanical, chemical, scientific or sacramental purposes.

Amendment to Article XVI of the Constitution, by adding thereto a section to be known as Section 11, providing for prohibition in the state forever of the manufacture, sale, keeping for sale, giving away, bartering or furnishing of any vinous, malt brewed, fermented, spirituous or intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal, mechanical, chemical, scientific or sacramental purposes.

Section 11. The manufacture, sale, keeping for sale, giving away, bartering or furnishing of any vinous, malt brewed, fermented, spirituous or intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal, chemical, scientific or sacramental purposes shall be after April 30th, 1918, prohibited in the state forever. The legislature shall by law provide regulations for the sale of such liquors for medicinal, mechanical, chemical, scientific and sacramental purposes.

What the "wets" want in Michigan is to defeat state-wide prohibition and nullify county local option—and to do this they hope to deceive enough dry voters so as to get a majority, November 7.

If the state-wide dry amendment is defeated and the wet "home rule" amendment is adopted, the county local option law of Michigan will be destroyed and the state will be as wet legally as it was before Van Buren County went dry in 1890.

COMMITTEE

Lansing - Michigan

(This is the dangerous "Home Rule" ballot the liquor trust wants so the lawless saloon can be kept in Michigan.)

VOTE ON PROPOSED
AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Providing that every incorporated city and village, and organized township shall have the right to determine whether or not there shall be prohibited therein the manufacture and sale of malt, brewed, fermented, vinous, distilled or intoxicating liquors.

Amendment to Article VIII of the Constitution by adding thereto a section to be known as Section 30, providing that every incorporated city and village, and organized township shall each have the right to determine whether or not there shall be prohibited therein the manufacture and sale of malt, brewed, fermented, vinous, distilled or intoxicating liquors.

Section 30. Every incorporated city, every incorporated village and every organized township (meaning thereby all that part of a township outside the limits of an incorporated city or village located partly or wholly therein) shall each have the right to determine by a majority vote of the electors thereof, whether or not there shall be prohibited therein the manufacture and sale of malt, brewed, fermented, vinous, distilled or intoxicating liquors.

Appropriate legislation shall be enacted to enforce and make effective the provisions of this section and, until such legislation is enacted, existing local option and regulatory laws on this subject shall continue in force; but no existing law inconsistent with the provisions of this section shall continue in force after January 1, 1919.

It has not been the policy of the Herald in recent years to discuss politics, nor do we intend to break away from this policy at this time. We would not, however, feel it our duty well performed if we did not use our influence against this so called "home rule" amendment and to warn the voters, who wish to vote dry, to be sure they understand just how to prepare their ballot.

There was a time in Michigan when a voter was rather ashamed to be seen at a dry meeting or to come out flatly and say that he stood for prohibition, but now this idea is being reversed and it is getting mighty unpopular for a voter to be seen at a wet meeting. Sunday, all over the county were held dry meetings and we see from a report in the Adrian Telegram that the mass meeting held under the auspices of the dry's at Croswell Opera House, Sunday evening, was attended by 1300 people, while at a wet meeting held Saturday evening at the same place the attendance was reported at 300.

Business men, a few years ago, were claiming, and we believe they honestly thought it was true, that a dry town hurt business and were giving their support to the wet cause. This sentiment is fast disappearing. Business men all over the State and County are now coming out strong for the cause of Prohibition. Thus as we see it the dry movement is gaining by leaps and bounds.

What Michigan will do with this question is in the hands of the voters and will be decided next Tuesday.

The so-called "Home Rule" this so-called "Home Rule" amendment is framed to confuse the voter and, unless he is careful, the purpose will be rewarded. We urge the voters of this community to kill this so-called "Hme Rule" bill.

Remember, Mr. Voter, that if you wish to vote for Stae Wide Prohibition, make your cross in the square before the word "yes" on Article XVI which provides for Prohibition and also make your cross in the square before the word "no" to Article VIII which is the so-called "Home Rule" amendment. In voting as above you support the Prohibition amendment and kill the "Home Rule" amendment. Reverse the order if you care to vote "wet."

The majority vote either "yes" or "no" will carry the amendments. Each of the four amendments submitted at this coming election are to be voted on separately.

Light as Chaff

Sound Sense.

A mysterious building had been erected on the outskirts of a small town. It was shrouded in mystery. All that was known about it was that it was a chemical laboratory. An old farmer, seeing a man standing in the doorway, asked:

LABORATORY

"What be ye doin' in this place?"

"We are searching for a universal solvent—something that will dissolve all things," explained the chemist.

"What good will that be?"

"It will dissolve all things. Just imagine, sir, if we want a solution of iron, glass, gold—anything—all we have to do is to drop it into this solution."

"Fine," remarked the old farmer, "fine! But what be ye goin' to keep it in?"—Country Gentleman.

Bait For the Keeper.

Although the notice plainly stated that fishing was prohibited there, the angler sat placidly dangling his line over the stream.

The irate keeper, who approached him, was surprised to see that the line was baited with a potato. In an amused voice he asked the intruder what he was doing.

"Fishing," was the reply. "You see, my health has been upset by financial worries, and I came down here to see if fresh air would help me."

Thinking that perhaps the poor chap was mentally afflicted, the keeper went away without denouncing him.

That evening the keeper was in the local tavern, telling his friends about the potato baited line, when in walked the angler.

"Any luck?" said the innkeeper kindly.

"Oh, fair!" was the reply, as the fisherman opened his basket and displayed a fine catch.

"Look here," stormed the infuriated keeper, "you didn't catch that lot with a potato!"

"Oh, no!" said the angler coolly. "That was what I caught you with."

A Surplus.

"I tell you," said the real estate agent, "there isn't a finer residence development on earth than this. Just look at the wonderful scenery."

"The scenery is all right," replied the man who was looking for a home. "The only trouble is there's too much of it between here and the city."—Milwaukee News.

REPUBLICAN NOMINEE

For Congress

☐ MARK R. BACON

His opponent claims to be "ON THE JOB" and asks "WHY CHANGE?" We will let others answer, LISTEN:

THE JACKSON PATRIOT of Aug. 23, 1916, (a Democrat daily paper) says: "DURING THE TWO TERMS OF MR. BEAKES WE HAVE HAD A DEMOCRATIC PRESIDENT, A DEMOCRATIC SENATE AND HOUSE. WHO CAN POINT TO ANYTHING THAT MR. BEAKES HAS DONE AS REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS OTHER THAN TO APPOINT POSTMASTERS, VOTE AND DRAW HIS PAY."

Here is what an Adrian paper says:

All Aboard for Bob-lo or Windsor

Mr. Beakes as congressman voted for a bill that would have put a one dollar war tax on each and every thirty five cent ticket from Detroit or Wyandotte to Bob-lo or Amherstburg; and on each and every 5 cent ticket from Detroit to Windsor but fortunately Senator Townsend knocked it out of the bill when it reached the Senate in October, 1914.

If the bill had passed as voted for by Mr. Beakes, you would have been paying $1.35 for each ticket every time you went on an excursion to Bob-lo or Amherstburg; and $1.05 for every ticket from Detroit to Windsor, for the last two years.

If Mr. Beakes KNEW that provision was in the bill and voted for it in order to stick you to the tune of one dollar on each and every ticket to Bob Lo or Windsor, can you really believe he is faithfully representing your interests in congress? Are you satisfied with him?

If Mr. Beakes DID NOT KNOW that he was voting for a bill that would stick you a dollar extra on each and every ticket to Bob-Lo or Windsor, is he qualified to represent you in congress? Are you satisfied?

Answer either question you please then ask yourself whether he is the man you want to look after your interests in Washington.

How many excursions to Bob-Lo would have gone out of Wyandotte, Trenton, Ecorse or any place in the Second District, during the last three summers if each and every thirty-five cent ticket had been saddled with a one dollar WAR TAX? How many trips would YOU have taken to Bob-Lo if you had to pay one dollar and thirty-five cents on each and every ticket? How many times would you have gone to Windsor if you had to pay one dollar and five cents for each and every ticket, during the last three years?

These are simple questions easily answered; and you can easily satisfy yourself as to how your congressman voted, and it should not take much time for you to decide how you will vote in November.

Tripping the Philosopher.

"I don't think your philosophy logical."

"Why not?"

"You say that every man is sent into the world for a purpose—that he has certain work to do."

"Yes; that I believe."

"And then you go right on and say that there is no man here that the world can't get along without."—Detroit Free Press.

Preparedness.

"When my husband proposed to me the poor fellow's voice stuck in his throat."

"Then how did you know he was proposing?"

"Well, you see, I was afraid that might happen, so I had taken lessons in lip reading."—Boston Transcript.

Music In Italy.

Italy maintains five government conservatories of music, situated at Florence, Milan, Naples, Palermo and Parma. The oldest and most famous of the Italian conservatories, that of Santa Cecilia at Rome, is an appanage of the crown and subsidized by the king.

Ready to Eat.

Visitor (nervously)—Will that dog eat out of your hand? Owner (proudly)—Yes, and out of your leg, too, if he gets the chance.—London Answers.

India is fourteen times the size of the British islands.

Esparto Shoes.

Esparto shoes, or shoes made of the toughest and strongest of the coarse fibers, are still worn in Iberia and in some parts of Spain and Portugal, according to the Popular Science Monthly.

High School Notes

Here's Ho! for the life in the chemistry lab,
A glorious life and free,
You reek with the odors of H 2 S
And the fumes of N H 3,
You just choke up with chlorine
You strangle with phosphor dust
You wade on thru with experiment 9,
Till your head is fit to bust.
Oh! Life in the chemistry lab is jolly
With its acids and gases and salts,
With our heads in the fume, we work in the gloom,
But we love it with all its faults,
Take a flask half full of H C 2
Add to this a few grains of zinc,
Your neighbor comes near, with a lighted match,
Your match hit the ceiling blink! blink!
Take a few grains of phosphorus yellow
Add to it K N O 3
With the help of a jolt from a neighbor-bolt,
Your Heavenly Father you see.
You take a pinch of sodium
Weigh your beakers and bottles and then
Let N a drop in a moistened spot,
And do it all over again.
Here's to the life in the chemistry lab;
Sad words, "It might have been,"
You take a drink of H 2 O,
And discover, 'tis H C N.
Don't worry, though we be promoted,
Or flunk in the course as given,
We'll carry our beakers right on through,
And finish the course in Heaven.

A football team was hastily organized by Mr. Goodrich, Tuesday, and expects to play Britton, at Britton Friday night. The game was so scheduled that Mr. Goodrich is to play for Tecumseh and the Britton principal for their team. The remainder of both teams will be high school players. As Mr Goodrich and the principal of Britton are both from the Normal, there will be quite a tussle for the honors

In geometry class, Mr. Babcock, "what is a secant?" Mr. Babcock" "Well, I can't see"

Is That All?

Mr. Goodrich: "All I'll expect you to know about this chapter is—well about all of it."

Some Solution!

When you mix coffee and milk, what do you have?" (meaning of solution.) Brilliant pupil "slop."

We were fully aware that T. H. S. owned some poets but new ones seem to be springing up every day Miss Rice found that to be one of her talents after she had placed on original German sentence on a space of board that was quite narrow.

Wir mussen schwer

wollen x bekommen
aber wir sollen e bekommen

The Frost has come. Mr. Lowry thought the rats were after him, but we think it was the squirrels.

If a weeping willow weeps, will a yellow pine?

Wake up Miss Miller!

"Please rise when you stand."

The German II class are now reading "Germelshausen," which they translated as "Berghouse."

At the Assembly Monday, Mr. Goodrich read nine excellent reasons why boys should swear. As the boys have given proof that they are quite proficient in this already and coming from such an authority it must have been intended for the girls.

Miss Rood posted the Junior book reviews Tuesday, much to the delight of the class. (a-hem!) At least there is one less than last year and they will not require so much written work.

English Literature class started studing Macbeth Tuesday.

The Seniors entertained the High school Friday afternoon with a short program.

Fell by the Wayside.

In 1817 the dissatisfied weavers of Lancashire, England, got together and resolved to march up to London and lay their grievances before the prince regent. As it was quite a way to London, each took a blanket along to wrap about him at night. About 5,000 made the start. One eyewitness described the marchers as "a most deplorable lot, without food and without organization." Scarcely had they begun to move when they were attacked by the military and partially dispersed. Some kept on, but the desertions became more and more frequent. By the time the marching column reached the outskirts of London it had dwindled to six persons. Not one saw the prince.

Bearded Women.

The bearded woman is not a fiction. A bearded woman was taken by the Russians at the battle of Poltava and presented to the czar. Her beard measured over a yard. The great Margaret, governess of the Netherlands, had a very long, stiff beard. Mlle. Boes de Chene, born at Geneva in 1834, was exhibited in London in 1853 in her eighteenth year. She had a profuse head of hair, a large mustache and a strong black beard. There are other instances of bearded women about the authenticity of whom there is no room for doubt.

Also for the purpose of voting upon the following propositions, viz.:

To Amend Article XVI of the Constitution, by adding thereto a section to be known as Section 11, providing for prohibition in the state forever of the manufacture, sale keeping for sale, giving way, bartering or furnishing of any vinous, malt, brewed, fermented, spiritous or intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal, mechanical, chemical, scientific or sacremental purposes.

To Amend Article VIII of the Constitution by adding thereto a section to be known as Section 30, providing that every incorporater city and village and organized township shall each have the right to determine whether or not there shall be prohibited therein the manufacture and sale of malt, brewed, fermented, vinous, distilled or intoxicating liquors.

To Amend section 30 of Article V of the Constitution, relative to right of repeal of local or special acts by the legislature.

To Amend Article XII of the Constitution by adding thereto a section to be known as Section 10, requiring the legislature to provide by law for the incorporation, regulation and supervision of fraternal benefit societies.

Women Electors

Should there be any proposition or propositions to vote upon at said election involving the direct expenditure of public money or the issue of bonds, every woman who possesses the qualification of male electors and owns property assessed for taxes or owns property subject to taxation jointly with her husband or with any other person, or who owns property on contract and pays taxes thereon, all such property being located somewhere within the district or territory to be affected by the result of said election, will be entitled to vote upon such proposition or propositions, provided her name is duly registered in the voting precinct above designated.

THE POLLS of said Election will open at 7 o'clock a. m. and will remain open until 5 p. m. of said day of election unless the Board of Election Inspectors shall, in their discretion, adjourn the polls at 12 o'clock noon for one hour.

Dated, October 17th 1916.

H. H. Hanna, Jr.
Township Clerk.

DRY RALLY

The last temperance rally in Tecumseh will be held at Bradley's opera house Thursday evening, Nov. 2d, at 7:30 o'clock. Russell Bready, the author of the Be-Ready Chautauqua lecture will be the speaker.

Mr. Bready is said to be a fair lecturer and will discuss both sides of the question. He is also well known on the Chautauqua circuits.

Friday evening, Nov. 3d, there will be a meeting at the Onsted opera house at which Mr. Bready will take up the subject "One Man Wet and Dry Debate."

THAT HALLOWE'EN PARTY

There was a good attendance at the Hallowe'en dancing party given by the Pythian Sisters Monday night. The hall was decorated with corn stalks and pumpkins with ghosts and goblins in evidence.

The dancers were in costume and prizes were awarded to the best and worst dressed. Mrs. Dale Hodges and Ralph Cuthbert secured those of the best dressed and J. Lester Coller and Camilla Hayden of the worst.

Music was furnished by Will Coller and wife. Refreshments suitable for the occasion were served during the evening.

THE POST OFFICE IN ITS NEW QUARTERS

Uncle Sam with his post office is now located on North Evans street in the room lately occupied by the Barrett Brothers as a lunch room and the room back of the store used as a sample room, making the post office "L" shaped. There is quite a rearrangement in the new quarters.

The post masters private office is located in front, and the three windows are located as in the old office, the greatest change being in the location of the boxes, the lock boxes coming first from the delivery window the others following in order. The change was practically effected Saturday night, when all hands worked until nearly morning.

MONDAY CLUB

The Monday Club had a delightful afternoon with James Whitcomb Riley Monday afternoon. Mrs. F. B Wood was leader and the following program was given:

Mrs. Duaine Service gave a very interesting sketch of the Life of James Whitcomb Riley, and the songs of the afternoon were from his writings.

Song—Mrs. R. S. Moore
Song—Mrs. Maynard Mulvaney
Piano duet—Mesdames Dickinson and Stuckey.
Song—Miss Edna Taylor
Song, "Don't Cry, Little Girl"—Mrs Moore, with little Catherine Wood and her broken doll, Margaret Turner with broken slate and Miss Edna Taylor with her broken heart, in tableau which was very effective.

Mrs. Stuckey and Mrs. Dickinson then gave another piano duet, closing the program

Confused.

A flustered woman was seen running wildly about in the corridors of a large railway station.

"What are you looking for, madam?" questioned an officer.

"I—I am looking for the entrance to the outside!" responded the woman nervously.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Catarrh Cannot Be Cured

With local applications, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrh is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally and acts directly upon the blood and mucous surface. Hall's Catarrh Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrh. Send for testimonials, Free.

Do Away With Blue Monday.

There is no lady living who does not dread BLUE MONDAY on account of the heavy washing. Now that Christmas is but a short ways off, what more useful article could be thought of than an Up-To-Date Washing Machine? Of course if you are not on an electric line you want one with a motor; if none you could use your present gasoline. If you have none a small engine is very desirable for many purposes.

We have different kinds of Washers and Engines and would be pleased to let you have the use of an outfit for two washings in order to convince you of the merits of the same.

McKINLEY CLUB BANQUET

The Largest Ever Held.

Over 1,000 Republicans attend Banquet in Adrian

Northern Lenawee or at least the Republican end of it, as predicted swooped down upon Adrian for the McKinley Club Banquet which was held at Schoolcrafts Rink Friday evening. A large delegation from Clinton, Ridgeway, Britton and Tipton arrived in Tecumseh in autos about 3:30 p. m. The Clinton delegation brought along the Clinton band and the Tipton band came along with the Tipton boosters. It was given out by Toastmaster Michener that there were 150 automobiles arrived in Adrian from the North. When the delegation left Tecumseh there were about fifty in line which number was swelled by autos joining them on the way, many others to avoid the crowd went different routes.

A committee from Adrian drove out and met the delegation about a mile north of Adrian and after a short delay they proceeded into the city where an automobile parade was given on several of the Adrian streets, after which the men left the autos and headed by the two bands, marched to Gregg Hotel.

Called to order by H. W. Stevens, a business meeting of the McKinley Club was held here, and officers elected for the ensuing year.

Pres.—Edwin L. Parker
Sec.—Worthy G. Smith
Treas.—C. D. Hardy

Vice Presidents from each of the townships and wards of the city were also elected

The doors of the Banquet hall were thrown open at 6:30 and the committee had all they could do to serve the crowd that pushed and surged to get admission. The hall proved too small for the crowd and about 200 were served at the various hotels, all coming back later for the speeches and the following program.

Benediction

It was after midnight when the program closed then L. Whitney Watkins of Manchester, former candidate for governor on the progressive ticket, was introduced and made a few remarks.

It was early in the morning when the Tecumseh delegation reached home tired but happy.

Earl Allen of Tipton was in town Mnoday.

Where did you go for your mail Monday morning?

Mrs. Clarence Reinhart of Onsted was a Tecumseh visitor Monday.

Miss Marion Johnson of Onsted was a Tecumseh visitor Monday.

Miss Portia Meyers of Clinton was in Tecumseh Monday on business.

Mrs. Roy Blesing of Clinton was visiting friends in town Saturday.

THE FOOD VALUE OF BACON

All authorities agree that the food of Bacon is very high.

It's the safest meat for breakfast.

It's the ONLY meat that most people should eat at their morning meal

But it is very important that Bacon should be mild

If it contains an excess of sald (as many Bacons do) its food value is destroyed.

Interested readers can get here a Bacon that meets every requirement imposed by the most particular people.

27c a pound, and it's the cheapest meat you can eat at the price

The Presbyterian church was well filled for the Sunday evening union meeting. Rev. W. A. Rex was the speaker of the evening and illustrated his talk on "Prohibition and the State Wide Question" by pictures. Many were shown demonsrtating the effect of liquor on the stomach, and many arguments were brought out to prove the necessity of thorough work along this line.

One of the most attractive windows in town for the past few days was that of Albert Clark at his market. It was a genuine Hallowe'en window full of black cats and witches Jack-o-Lanterns and all the creepy crawley things that make Hallowe'en such an uncanny occasion. When the lights are on in the evening it certainly a success. Glenn Tansley is the artist.

There has been quite a little fun on the street this week as so many did not realize that the postoffice was located in its new quarters as had been mentioned several times in the late papers. A blank look, a stealthy look to see if anyone noticed and then a walk down Evasn street. Even today a man was heard to say "I will hitch the horse in front of the postoffice," which he did, in the old place.

For Congressman

Never was there a time when a man of character, a man of convictions, a man mentally equipped and a man of experience was more necessary in Congress than now. In these times it is poor policy to swap horses. Mr. Beakes is known as one of the hardest working men in Congress. He has learned how. A new man would have to devote the next two years to learning how. He would be merely an apprentice.

For the Family Medicine Chest

Green Bay, Wis., Mrs. Wm. F. Bubolz says: "I always use Foley's Honey and Tar for our children as it quickly breaks up their colds with no bad after effects, and they like to take it."

In this season of coughs, colds and croup, every family medicine chest should be supplied with a good cough medicine that can be relied upon when needed.

Such a family cough syrup is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. This standard medicine has been on the market for years and in many sections was found in every home in the days when doctors were not so handy and when money was scarcer.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is an excellent medicine for coughs, colds, raw or inflamed throat, hoarseness, tightness and soreness of the chest, croup and whooping cough. It is an absolutely safe remedy, containing only healing ingredients, and free from any harmful drugs.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health is Worth Saving, and Some Tecumseh People Know How to Save It.

Many Tecumseh people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is a Tecumseh citizen's recommendation

Wm. Martin, Logan street, Tecumseh, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had dull headaches and tired easily. I had soreness and lameness across my back and my kidneys acted irregularly. The kidney secretions were unnatural, too. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and they strengthened my back and put my kidneys in good order."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Martin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

KING AND COURT FLEE ROUMANIA

Berlin Report Says Ferdinand Is on Frontier.

TEUTONS LOSE IN JIUL VALLEY

On Western Front Roumanians Put Up Stiff Fight—Repulse All Attacks and Capture Guns and Prisoners. Berlin Reports Falkanhayn Pressing South.

London, Oct. 30.—The Roumanians, tenaciously defending their northern frontier, have inflicted three severe repulses on Von Falkenhayn's Austro-German armies. They have recaptured the village of Livechi, north of Campolung and on the direct road to Bucharest, taking 300 prisoners and five machine guns.

By a strong blow in the Alt valley, further to the west, they have driven the invaders back six and a half miles, while in the valley of the Jiul the Austro-Germans who had reached Tirgujiulij were defeated. The Roumanians at this point took 900 prisoners, two mountain Howitzers and eleven machine guns.

Berlin, Oct. 30.—King Ferdinand of Roumania, with the Queen and his court, is now in Jassy, in the extreme northeast of Roumania, ready to flee to Russia. The King is visibly affected by events of recent days, and has aged perceptibly.

Roumanians Gain In Jiul Valley.

Bucharest, Oct. 30.—A Roumanian advance in the Jiul valley is announced by the war office. The Roumanians on the greater part of the front have repulsed strong Teuton attacks and have made progress on the right. The official statement says:

"At Tulghes and Bicaz there have been artillery exchanges. In the Trotus and Uzul valleys there has been no change.

"In the Prahova valley our barrage fire stopped an enemy attack from Baiului. We occupied Mount Ughlmare. In the region of Dragoslavel we repulsed attacks. Our right wing is progressing.

"On our left wing, east of the Alt, the enemy attacked in numbers. The battle is continuing.

"In the Jiul valley we are continuing our offensive, pursuing the enemy, who is withdrawing to the mountains. Three officers and 250 men have been taken prisoners. Lieutenant Paprescero's command captured two batteries of four-inch guns from the Bavarian artillery, immediately turning them against the enemy. We captured four machine guns and a quantity of munitions.

"In the region of Orsova, after a violent bombardment, the enemy attacked toward Varful and Cocasului, but was repulsed."

Falkenhayn Drives South.

Berlin, Oct. 30.—Continued progress by General von Falkenhayn in the direction of Bucharest is announced in the war office statement.

No news concerning the pursuit of the Russo-Roumanian army in the Dobrudja is given out. Reports reaching here indicate that the retreating Russians and Roumanians are being pressed against the Danube swamps. The war office statement says:

"South of Tomoeser Pass an attack enabled us to reach Azuga. Despite the tenacious hostile resistance in the direction of Campolung, as well as further to the west, we made progress.

"Balkan Front (army group of Field Marshal von Mackensen)—The situation is unchanged.

"Prince Leopold's Front—The Russians held almost the entire line of the Stokhod under a lively fire, which attained its greatest violence west of Lutsk. A Russian attack launched from a forest east of Szelzow broke down under our curtain of fire."

French and Serbs Gain.

Paris, Oct. 30.—Advances by the Serbians and French north of the Cerna river on the western Macedonian front are reported by General Sarrail, commander-in-chief of the allied armies.

The French captured the village of Gardilovo after a battle and, further west, a system of branches between Kenali and the Cerna.

The Bulgarian war office states that Serbian attacks were beaten off.

TWO SKELETONS UNCOVERED

Workmen Exhume Cadavers of Man About 20 and Boy About 6.

Waukesha, Wis., Oct. 30.—The authorities of Waukesha are investigating what may be a murder mystery. Workmen, while making an excavation for an addition to the Stillrock sanitarium, unearthered two skeletons which, medical experts say, were buried less than ten years ago.

One is that of a boy about six years old and the other of a young man about twenty.

Dutch Leonard, Boston Red Sox.

Hubert B. (Dutch) Leonard, star southpaw of the Boston Americans, is conceded to be one of the best left handers in the league. His work this season has been up to the high mark of previous years and has done much to keep his team in the pennant fight.

HUBERT B. LEONARD.

He is a native of California, twenty-five years old, and received his early baseball training at St. Mary's college, San Francisco, where he was classed as the best pitcher who ever played for the school. He went direct to the Red Sox from the college ranks in 1911, but was sent to Denver for seasoning. He returned to the Red Sox in the middle of the 1913 season and in 1914 led the American league pitchers for efficiency. Last year he was just as good.

McLoughlin May Try Again.

If it is possible for him to do so, Maurice E. McLoughlin, former national tennis champion, will come back next year for the national tennis championship, whether or not he is at his best. It all depends upon the condition of his business affairs. "I'll come back just for the love of coming back—just for tennis," says McLoughlin: "It's too good a game to forsake."

Pitcher Ralph Comstock of the Milwaukee American association team has been sold to the New York Giants. Comstock, who has been one of the most effective hurlers in the American association, was with the Detroit Tigers last year.

TWO KILLED IN ACCIDENTS

Indiana Man and Former Hoosier Now in Texas Are Victims.

Valparaiso, Ind., Oct. 30.—Lucien Viteaux, nineteen, was cut to pieces, his horse killed and the buggy reduced to kindling when he tried to cross a track in front of a New York, Chicago & St. Louis passenger train west of here.

William Sturgeon, formerly in business here, was instantly killed in an automobile collision at El Paso, Tex.

Will Boost Dairy Business.

Marion, Ind., Oct. 30.—The Jonesboro Citizens bank and the First State Bank of Gas City are enlisting the interest of Grant County farmers with the co-operation of County Agent Otis Crane in the enterprise of purchasing fine dairy cattle. The banks propose to purchase a large herd of fine cattle and sell them to the farmers at cost in small numbers, accommodating them financially in the enterprise as well.

Betrothals In Germany.

In Germany an elaborate method of announcing the betrothal practically puts an end to all breach of promise cases. As soon as a couple become engaged the pair visit the town hall and declare their willingness to marry and sign, with witnesses, a series of documents which render a change of mind on the man's part practically out of the question. When either party wishes to withdraw from this agreement the pair again visit the town hall, and additional documents are formally signed, witnessed and sealed. The authorities then determine the question of compensation for injured feelings, etc.

U. S. Probes Car Shortage.

Washington, Oct. 30.—The interstate commerce commission instituted a nation-wide investigation into the car shortage situation, issuing a call to all carriers to furnish complete information as to the condition upon their lines.

Man Hurt by Falling Tree.

Madison, Ind., Oct. 30.—Scott Thorn, a farmer cutting timber near his home, eight miles north of here, suffered a crushed leg when a falling tree struck him.

NORWAY MAY ENTER WAR WITH GERMANY

Denmark Paper Skeptical Regarding Aid of Britain.

Copenhagen, Oct. 30.—The Scandinavian press discusses editorially the utterances of the London press which foreshadows a break in the relations between German and Norway.

The London Daily Chronicle assures Norway that in this eventuality Norway "may reckon with the most effective aid of England."

Replying to this, the Copenhagen Extrabladet comments as follows:

"Most naturally England will take Norway under her protecting wing, but we must remember that England is already protecting seven other small nations, of which the central powers to date have crushed four and are about to add a fifth to the list. Here are the names of these nations: Belgium, Serbia, Montenegro, Albania, Portugal, Greece and Roumania. These make seven. Does Norway wish to be the eighth?"

Princeton's Football Schedule.

Lake Minnewaska, N. Y., has been chosen by the Princeton football management for the early practice of the eleven. The candidates are under the personal direction of Coach John H. Rush. The men will return to Princeton Oct. 6 for their first home game—against North Carolina—on the following day. The schedule is as follows: Princeton versus Holy Cross, Sept. 30; North Carolina at Princeton, Oct. 7; Tufts at Princeton, Oct. 14; Lafayette at Princeton, Oct. 21; Dartmouth at Princeton, Oct. 28; Bucknell at Princeton, Nov. 4; Harvard at Cambridge, Nov. 11, and Yale at Princeton, Nov. 18.

Mathewson Chewed Gum.

Friends of the renowned baseball player, Christy Mathewson, assert that at least some measure of his uncanny imperturability in the pitcher's box was due to his steady use of chewing gum while playing, says the Chicago Herald. His poise and calmness under all conditions have attracted the attention of all observers who have beheld him at work. Throughout his fifteen years of service he has been hailed times without number as the greatest of pitchers and as the man who had more control of the ball than any other hurler before him or during his reign.

High Priced Race Horse.

Solly Joel of London has refused $250,000 which has been offered for his famous race horse Pommern by a prominent foreign buyer. Pommern earned great fame last year when he carried all before him, joining the select few which have won the triple crown of English racing by winning the Two Thousand Guineas, the Derby and St. Leger. The stewards of the Doncaster race course have announced that the famous St. Leger stakes for 1918 will be worth $32,500.

McGraw May Quit Baseball.

John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Giants since 1902, is seriously contemplating retiring from baseball with the close of the 1918 season, when his present contract expires. Manager McGraw said recently that while he had not made up his mind definitely he was giving the subject a great deal of thought. His future course is uncertain and will probably be determined by what happens between now and October, 1918.

National Tennis Champion.

Richard Morris Williams 2d of Philadelphia, who won the national lawn tennis singles championship from William M. Johnston of San Francisco, was the winner in 1914, when he defeated Maurice E. McLoughlin. Last year he lost the crown to Johnston, who in turn he has defeated.

Stonewall Jackson Is Killed.

Richmond, Ind., Oct. 30.—Stonewall Jackson, twenty-eight years old, a negro, died at Boston, six miles south of here, from the effects of a blow on his head with an iron poker wielded by Sam Massin, twenty-three years old, a negro, in an altercation in the roundhouse of the C. & O. railroad at that place.

ENGINE TROUBLE.

Engine trouble can be traced to one or more of the following reasons:

Poor compression, caused by a leaky spark plug, leaky valve cap, leaky valve, leaks past the piston, tappet arms adjusted too closely, sticky valve stem and broken valve spring or valve.

Poor ignition, caused by a broken spark plug, points on spark plug too close or far apart, poor batteries, poor insulation, poor contact points and weak magnets on magneto.

Poor carburetion, caused by water in the gasoline, carburetor out of adjustment, leaky manifold, clogging of gasoline pipe and carburetor too cold.

Overheated motor, caused by poor compression, carbon, too late ignition and poor water circulation.

Things Worth Knowing

When any basket chairs require cleaning scrub them well with a coarse brush and water that is strongly saturated with salt. Then dry with soft cloth. Salt not only cleans wicker work, but prevents it from turning yellow. Straw matting may be most successfully cleaned in the same way.

Never allow combs to lie in hot water when washing them. Apply the soap and water with a small nailbrush. It is a good plan, too, to draw a piece of thread in and out between the teeth of the comb.

To keep an open pail of paint fresh stir it well to dissolve all the oil, then fill up the pail with water. When the paint is again needed for use pour off the water.

Before using table oilcloth paste at each corner of the wrong side a square of cotton material. This will prevent the unsightly cracking of the corners which so often comes long before the body of the cloth shows any signs of wear.

Cornstarch added to gasoline will produce an effective cleaner for white kid shoes.

A tablespoonful of epsom salts added to each gallon of water in which colored materials are washed and rinsed will keep the most delicate shades from losing their tone and freshness.

How Many Postmasters Can Be Appointed For One P. O.

It is a current report, pretty well circulated, but easy to deny if not true—that Congressman Beakes promised the Postmastership, to three four, five, or more zealous Democrats in practically every city or village of importance in this district, in every case as a reward for hard work, atended usually with considerable expense to the applicant.

This paper has on file the names of quite a number of loyal Democrats who toiled and planned day and night to elect Mr. Beakes and say that he promised them certain postoffices, but none on this list were appointed.

This isn't exactly our funeral, but we believe in playing the political game fair and square, and we are impelled to wonder did Mr. Beakes hnestly intend to make those appointments, when he promised those good Democrats to do so.

Did he or did he not know that he could not make those men postmasters? In either case is he qualified to hold the important office of Congressman? If he knew at the time of making such promises that he could not and did not intend to name any one of those loyal workers as postmaster, do you, Mr. Voter, want such a man to represent you in Congress? Isn't it an evidence of duplicity that should be severely censured and reprimanded.

We respectfully request Congressman Beakes to explain what he did promise to certain prominent applicants for the Postoffices in several of the prominent cities of this District, and answer whether those men are telling the whole truth when they say he did promise them.

—From the Adrian Partisan, Oct. 21.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Arthur Brown very pleasantly entertained his teacher and class with a Hallowe'en party last Tuesday evening. The house was most appropriately decorated for the occassion, black cats, and witches being every where present.

The guests were met at the door by a ghost and later a ghost at the piano played a march and led by another ghost the guests marched through the house out of doors and in again crawling through a frame work. A fortune teller was present who made predictions for the future of those who crossed her palm with silver. Several games were played and later refreshments were served. The evening was a very pleasant one to all who participated.

VOTE MICHIGAN DRY NOV. 7
"YES" FOR PROHIBITION

Vote for a Square Deal and Defeat "Home Rule"

VOTE MICHIGAN DRY NOV. 7
"YES" FOR PROHIBITION
"NO" ON HOME RULE

On Nov. 7 every voter will receive ballots for four Constitutional Amendments. Two of these relafe to the liquor traffic and two do not. Your special attention is called to the two amendments relating to the liquor traffic.

Every voter must vote twice on the liquor traffic. Every enemy of the saloon must vote "YES" on the Dry State-wide Amendment to Article XVI, Section 11, for prohibition. Every voter, wet or dry, who believes in the square deal, will vote "NO" on the "wet" or so-called "Home Rule" Amendment to Article VIII, Section 30.

What is the so-called "home rule" amendment? It is a plan to change the Michigan Local Option Law so that the voting unit will be the city, village or township instead of the county, as at present. It is distinctly a wet measure, advocated by the Michigan Home Rule League, which is the anti-prohibition organization of the Michigan saloons who are backed by the brewers and distillers in many other states than Michigan.

Who wants the so-called "home rule" amendment? The saloon crowd, brewers and distillers. Who are fighting the "home rule" amendment? The United Dry Federation of Michigan, including the Michigan Anti-Saloon League, Michigan Grange, Michigan Gleaners, Michigan State Sunday School Association, The Trade Union Dry League, W. C. T. U., and other great organizations, both Catholic and Protestant.

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Providing for prohibition in the state forever of the manufacture, sale, keeping for sale, giving away, bartering or furnishing of any vinous, malt, brewed, fermented, spirituous or intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal, mechanical, chemical, scientific or sacramental purposes.

Amendment to Article XVI of the Constitution, by adding thereto a section to be known as Section 11, providing for prohibition in the state forever of the manufasture, sale, keeping for sale, giving away, bartering or furnishing of any vinous, malt brewed, fermented, spirituous or intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal, mechanical, chemical, scientific or sacramental purposes.

Section 11. The manufacture, sale, keeping for sale, giving away, bartering or furnishing of any vinous, malt brewed, fermented, spirituous or intoxicating liquors, except for medicinal, chemical, scientific or sacramental purposes shall be after April 30th, 1918, prohibited in the state forever. The legislature shall by law provide regulations for the sale of such liquors for medicinal, mechanical, chemical, scientific and sacramental purposes.

What the "wets" want in Michigan is to defeat state-wide prohibition and nullify county local option—and to do this they hope to deceive enough dry voters so as to get a majority, November 7.

If the state-wide dry amendment is defeated and the wet "home rule" amendment is adopted, the county local option law of Michigan will be destroyed and the state will be as wet legally as it was before Van Buren County went dry in 1890.

VOTE ON PROPOSED

AMENDMENT TO THE CONSTITUTION

Providing that every incorporated city and village, and organized township shall have the right to determine whether or not there shall be prohibited therein the manufacture and sale of malt, brewed, fermented, vinous, distilled or intoxicating liquors.

Amendment to Article VIII of the Constitution by adding thereto a section to be known as Section 30, providing that every incorporated city and village, and organized township shall each have the right to determine whether or not there shall be prohibited therein the manufacture and sale of malt, brewed, fermented, vinous, distilled or intoxicating liquors.

Section 30. Every incorporated city, every incorporated village and every organized township (meaning thereby all that part of a township outside the limits of an incorporated city or village located partly or wholly therein) shall each have the right to determine by a majority vote of the electors thereof, whether or not there shall be prohibited therein the manufacture and sale of malt, brewed, fermented, vinous, distilled or intoxicating liquors.

Appropriate legislation shall be enacted to enforce and make effective the provisions of this section and, until such legislation is enacted, existing local option and regulatory laws on this subject shall continue in force; but no existing law inconsistent with the provisions of this section shall continue in force after January 1, 1919.

All who like a good grade entertainments should embrace the opportunity offered by the men of the Presbyterian church. They have arranged a course commencing Nov. 20th, and lasting through the winter months, which includes five entertainments by the International Lyceum Bureau and two additional numbers, Mr. H. Diamond of Ohio, the Scotchman who was heard here last winter, and Dr. M. S. Rice of Detroit, pastor of the Woodward Ave M. E. church.

The price for the whole course has been placed at the very low price of $1.00 which is less than 15c for each number. The capacity of the church ought to be sold at this price and it will be a good investment at 15c per number.

On the eve of election we find both great parties claiming success. The National speakers have about finished their mud slinging and have gone home to do their duty and save their country.

DRY :MEETING

Opera House Thursday evening. One Man Wet and Dry Debate.

A. W Mills introduced the speaker Russell Bready who gave an enthusiastic speech in support of the 'Dry' cause Mr Bready was confident that the result of the election would make Michigan dry, and cautioned the voters to be sure that they understand how to mark their ballots, so that their votes would count for State Wide Prohibition. The meeting was attended by a large and enthusiastic audience.

LEGISLATURE MUST DECIDE WET OR DRY

The Legislature must carry it into Effect

The seems to be a good deal of doubt in the minds of the people as to what would become of two constitutional amendments known as the State Wide Prohibition amendmtnt and the so-called home rule amendment if both are carried at the polls next Tuesday.

We print the following which appeared in the Flint Journal in its issue of October 31st and which may be of interest to our readers at this time.

Lansing, Mich., Oct. 31.—While it has been generally supposed that the adoption of the state wide prohibition amendment and the adoption of the so-called home rule amendment, would result in endless legal tangles and would throw the question into the courts for adjudication, the success of prohibition will rest entirely with the next legislature and there will be nothing for the courts to interpret until the question has been formally passed upon by the lawmmaking body of Michigan.

This, in substance, is the opinion of one of the best constitutional lawyers in the state, who for obvious reasons, does not want to be quoted in the matter.

Legislature Must Act First

Owing to the confusion in the minds of the voters there seems to be a prevailing opinion that both amendments will carry. However, neither can become effective unti the necessary legal machinery is provided by the legislature. The amendments delcared that the legislature must provide the necessary effect if they are aodpted.

However, there is no power on earth except public opinion that can compell a legislaure to do anything against its will. The lawmaking body is supreme and a law unto itself. If the drys control the House and can hold a majority in the Senate there is nothing to prevent them from passing legislation to put prohibition into effect and disregarding the township unit amendment entirely, in case both propositions receive a majority vote at the election next week.

Courts May Not Be Appealed To.

According to one of the best constitutional authorities in the state the legislature will be the determining factor in case both amendments are adopted and if the drys control both houses of the legislature they will be in a position to just as they please. The aid of the courts cannot be invoked. While the constitutionality of the act of the legislature might be attacked, the courts cannot be asked to determine which amendment should govern until some legislative action has been taken.

In case the legtslature is deadlocked and fails to take action on either amendment, conditions will remain as they are at present.

HAYES.

John C. Howell of Adrian will address the Men's Class of the Presbyterian church next Sunday.

Do Away With Blue Monday.

There is no lady living who does not dread BLUE MONDAY on account of the heavy washing. Now that Christmas is but a short ways off, what more useful article could be thought of than an Up-To-Date Washing Machine? Of course if you are not on an electric line you want one with a motor; if none you could use your present gasoline. If you have none a small engine is very desirable for many purposes

We have different kinds of Washers and Engines and would be pleased to let you have the use of an outfit for two washings in order to convince you of the merits of the same

COMMUNICATION

THAT NUTTEN CASE, ETC.

Editor The Herald:

It now appears definitely settled that the board of supervisors have decided to avoid a thorough investigation of the Nutten overcharge case and have made up their mind to relegate the whole disagreeable matter to oblivion.

Well, Mr. Editor, that way to dispose of such a "white elephant" may after all be the best! If he were the only official ever having charged the county for services not performed, it would be different. Mr. Nutten just happened to be squealed on. Possible previous offenders had the good fortune to have no unfriendly persons know about such overcharges. Mr. Nutten, on this account, should not, as some of the supervisors evidently thought, be made to suffer too severely for his bared indiscretion.

In that respect the supervisors were plainly in the right. However from every other point of view, it is certainly clear that such conduct is unbecoming a man and deserves needful public condemnation. What the people will do with Mr. Nutten at the coming election remains to be seen.

In connection with Mr. Nutten's case, a case now before the people so to speak, due to its having had to come before the board of supervisors for allowance—it may be stated that he is not the only county official to go wrong; indeed, compared with Prosecutor Bean, his offense may well be considered trivial. Mr. Bean's official misconduct is of a graver nature. Strenous efforts on his part has, however, succeeded as yet in preventing the public from getting hold of but little if any of it. Apparently nothing has been left undone to keep the management of Mr. Bean's office from the ear of the people.

If Mr. Nutten, for overcharging the county, deserves the disapproval of the public, how much more does Mr. Bean deserve to be taken to task for many of his official attitudes or rather misdemeanors. When refusing, in connection with a gambling case in Adrian, to divulge the names of the gamblers or the proceedings connected with the case, by declaring that those not liking his way could mandamus him, he certainly knowing as he must that the cost of that legal process is away beyond the financial ability of the great majority of people, demonstrated himself to be unworthy of the trust reposed in him when elected prosecutor of this county two years ago. When besought to start legal proceedings—as was his statutory duty- to get possession for one of the school districts of the county of the record which an ex-officer had illegally retained possession of for over two years, his answer was, "If you want to get the record, I would advise you to go to get it." Why such an answer? Was he afraid to hurt the feelings of a political henchman, or did he wish to spite the school officer then in office? When an obscure farmer, who accidentally hit a girl in the eye with the cracker of his whip—she was over it in a day or so—it did not take long, nor require any preliminaries, to haul him before an accommodating justice of the peace and fine him about $24. Here was an offense that should have been overlooked. It was not; the man had little money, no professional title and no political influence so he had to take all that was coming to him.

When Mr. Bean had a warrant sworn out by a man feloniously assaulted, presented to him, did he pay any attention to it? No. The criminal must have happened to be a protege of his. Or, as he had some money, a professional title, and was a county official, this may have had weight with the prosecutor, especially so since the assaulted could show no broken nose, blackened eyes, battered chin or broken limbs which was undoubtedly due to the timely arrival of his family, whose testimony, by way of explanation, was considered by our worthy prosecutor to be insufficient to convict; due probably to the fact that Mr Bean might justly be said to be indirectly responsible for the assault himself.

When a woman was killed in an automobile accident, was anything done about it? No. Despite the fact that the driver was in all likelyhood drunk, the speed nearer fifty than twenty-five miles an hour and the automobile full of beer, perhaps got within the county, no formal investigation was held, though the prosecutor was notified. Why was this?

Considering recent activity to prevent speeding, is it permissible to suggest that those caught and fined were out-state violators, having no right to vote here, and that the whole proceeding was gotten up for political effect?

Then, if it is not unfair at the coming election to vote against Mr. Nutten, it certainly should not be to do so in Mr. Bean's case. The two officers are the most important that we have in the county, and to put men into them who are above reproach, should be the duty of every voter irrespective of party affiliation.

MUTT & JEFF'S WEDDING

Next Big Attraction Coming to the Bradley.

At the Bradley Opera house Wednesday November 15, Gus Hill will present the 6th edition of Bud Fisher's cartoon Mutt & Jeff, entitled "Mutt & Jeff's Wedding." This seasons offering will show an entirely new scenic and electrical production, consisting of several mechanical effects never before attempted with a musical show. Everything is new this year, scenery, musical numbers and effects. The company numbers about 40 people which includes a big singing and dancing chorus.

No expense has been spared in making the new edition more elaborate and attractive than any of the former offerings. Gus Hill's wonderful success with the different Mutt & Jeff shows is the talk of the entire theatrical world and he is playing to capacity houses everywhere this year, same as usual.

Mutt and Jeff's Wedding" is considered the best of any of the Mutt and Jeff shows. It is a great comedy and will delight everyone, the grown-ups as well as the children. Make your plans so that you will be able to see this great attraction at the Bradley Wednesday November 15.

A musical program will be given consisting of songs and music by the Tipton band

Short addresses will also be given by various county officers. A cordial invitation is given to all regardless of party affiliation to attend. Ladies are invited Everyone help to make this a rousing Republican Rally.

MERRY GO ROUND

Dr and Mrs E E Hendershott and Mr. and Mrs. B. J Pulver very pleasantly entertained the Merry-Go-Round Club, at the home of the former on Monday evening The first on the program was a two course dinner which was served at 7 o'clock. The home was gay with Hallowe'en decorations.

After the dinner, the evening was spent with cards, "500" being the chosen game. Prizes were given Mrs. Paul Cowen, Mrs G A Rathbun, J. H. Smith, H. E. McClure and Mr. and Thomas McCann.

FIRE!

A fire alarm was sent in about ten o'clock Thursday morning from the Northeast part of town, at the house occupied by Raymond Tucker and family The fire department were soon on the spot, but the fire was extinguished before they arrived owing to the lively work of the women of the neighborhood. The fire had its start from a bon fire of leaves set by some children, which ran under the porch of the house. It was a narrow escape from a big fire, as the wind was quite high.

Neighbor Told Her Cure for Lumbago

Rheumatism and lumbago are awful things and cause great pain and misery, but Foley Kidney Pills can rout them.

Mrs. G. H. Freeland, Duncan Mills, Ill., writes the following letter: "I was stricken down with lumbago and was unable to turn myself in bed. A neighbor brought me a half bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, and said she had been similarly afflicted and that they had helped her. So I tried them and was completely relieved by the use of two or three bottles. I have had splendid success with them and have never known them to fail. I most heartily recommend Foley Kidney Pills."

Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, inactive, sluggish kidneys, rid the body of poisons, give appetite, energy and refreshing sleep after pain. Don't neglect kidney trouble. Remove the cause with Foley Kidney Pills.

Sold everywhere in Tecumseh.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health is Wroth Saving, and Some Tecumseh People Know How to Save It.

Many Tecumseh people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightets delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is a Tecumseh citizen's recommendation.

Wm. Martin, Logan street, Tecumseh, says: "My kidneys were out of order and I had dull headaches and tired easily. I had soreness and lameness across my back and my kidneys acted irregularly. The kidney secretions were unnatural, too. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and they strengthened my back and put my kidneys in good order."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Martin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

"A SHINE IN EVERY DROP"

Black Silk Stove Polish is different. It does not dry out; can be used to the last drop; liquid and paste one quality; absolutely no waste; no dust or dirt. You get your money's worth.

Black Silk Stove Polish

is not only most economical, but it gives a brilliant, silky lustre that cannot be obtained with any other polish. Black Silk Stove Polish does not rub off—it lasts four times as long as ordinary polish—so it saves you time, work and money.

Don't forget—when you want stove polish, be sure to ask for Black Silk. If it isn't the best stove polish you ever used—your dealer will refund your money.

Black Silk Stove Polish Works, Sterling, Illinois.

Use Black Silk Air Drying Iron Enamel on grates, registers, stove-pipes, and automobile tire rims. Prevents rusting. Try it.

Use Black Silk Metal Polish for silverware, nickel, tinware or brass. It works quickly, easily and leaves a brilliant surface. It has no equal for use on automobiles.

CORRESPONDENCE

NORTH ADRIAN

Mrs. Wm. Jay and Mrs. Frits Gygi entertained the Ladies Aid Society at their home last week Thursday. It was an all day meeting. A fine chicken dinner was served to twenty-five to which all did justice. After dinner the meeting was called to order by the Vice Pres., Mrs E H. Brown as the President Mrs Miller was absent. Opened with singing followed with Bible reading and prayer, after which a little business was attended to, then closed with singing. The rest of the time was spent visiting, all enjoying the social very much.

Last Friday evening a fine Temperance program was given at the Grange hall followed with a "Prohibition" speech from Rev. Dr Perry of Adrian which was listened to by a full house. The program was given by the North Adrian Dramatic club.

Mr. and Mrs. John Granstrom entertained Mr. and Mrs. Harley Cole of Palmyra and Mr. and Mrs George Har[illegible] for dinner last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller were guests of Elmer Harris and family last Sunday for dinner.

Mrs. Geo. Lanning entertained her sister Mrs. Jennie Colvin of Tecumseh Saturday and Sunday.

Nearly all those who bought sheep at Manchester for the winter feeding are having bad luck in losing them. Some have lost twenty or more.

The North Adrian Dramatic club gave their Temperance play at Tipton grange hall last Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs Homer Palmer of Madison were callers at John Granstrom Sunday p. m.

Celebration of a Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Gamble Kuder very pleasantly celebrated their golden wedding, Oct. 25, 1916. The house was prettily decorated for the occasion with white and yellow chrysanthemums and house plants. About 100 guests were present coming from Detroit, Clinton, Portland and Saline. Rev. Chas. Wood the pastor of the host's church, read a selection of Scripture and offered prayer. Mrs. Frank Morgan of Detroit gave several fine recitations, which were much enjoyed by all. Some music also added to the pleasure of the guests. Mr. and Mrs. Kuder were presented with ten dollars in gold, besides some money in silver. Other presents consisted of linen, books and gifts of a personal nature. We join in wishing our esteemed and genial friends many more years of life and happiness.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Earl and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Earl and daughter all of Hudson were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Harring Tuesday of this week.

Mrs. C. B. Mickle and son, Ralph were Detroit visitors from Saturday until Monday of this week.

Mrs. Brokan who has been staying with her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Odell for the past three weeks returned Friday to her home in Ohio.

John Pennington was home over Sunday.

Mrs. Milton Williams spent this week in Detroit with relatives and friends.

There will be a republican rally and pole raising in Macon village next Monday, Nov. 6th at 2 o'clock p. m. Judge Larwill and others will be present to address the voters who may be interested.

Dr. Beardsley moved his family and house hold goods to Tecumseh Thursday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Abel of Cars Mich were guests of Mrs. Carrie McCollum and other relatives last week.

FRANKLIN

Much clover seed was threshed here last week. The yield is fine and the quality good.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Brighton have named there baby Ruth Maxine.

Mr. Hall has hired to S. N. Wisner for a year and has moved his family into his tenant house. The little girl now attends the Stone School.

S. N. Wisner is putting in a new furnace. Mr. Mitchell of Tecumseh is doing the mason work.

It is noteworthy that of the seven men who went together in Hoyt Whelans car to the Milk Producers convention in Lansing, namely Dr. Waldron, Seth Simmons, C. L. Wisner, Alton Whelan, George Taylor, Hoyt Whelan and Uzell Whelan. Not one of them uses tobacco in any form.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Allen of Tipton, Mr. and Mrs. Will Hooten and Mrs. Harriet Hooten were guests at C. L. Wisners Sunday. This is the first time Mr. Allen has been out since he was sick.

S. N. Wisner had a load of feed to grind at the Clinton Mill, Monday, when the new feed grinding apparatus exploded and a large piece of a casting whized passed him uncomfortably near. It seems next to a miracle that nobody was hurt in the explosion.

The Telegram has put its foot down on the reporting of visiting trips to town, automobile rides and the like. Great Snakes! what is the poor country reporter to do who is supposed to fill a certain space weekly in the local paper? Want somebody elope or start something? Well how is this for a change? Its true too. A fellow townsman lost his watch, a small party started on a hunt for it. "Now said the brother, we ought to have a watch dog."

Bonnyclabber.

New drinks have sometimes a glorious and brief popularity. Lord Strafford, writing to Lord Cottington in 1635, extols "bonnyclabber," which he says "is the bravest, freshest drink you ever tasted. Your Spanish don would, on the heats of Madrid, hang his nose and shake his beard an hour over every sop he took of it and take it to be the drink of the gods all the while."

No one, however, seems to know the exact composition of the seductive "bonnyclabber," although from an allusion to it by Ben Jonson it would seem to have been a mixture of beer and buttermilk.—London Chronicle.

The Periscope.

The periscope, the "eye" of the submarine, is simply a tube so fitted with mirrors that from a position under the water an observer can see what is going on on the surface, provided, of course, the "eye" of the periscope is above water. The distance at which objects are visible through a periscope depends on the size of the object, the nature of the weather and the height above the water of the "eye." On a clear day a battleship is visible for from six to eight miles.

Honeysuckle Once a Medicine.

Honeysuckle, so far from being poisonous, was at one time prized as a conserve and considered good for numerous ailments, including the falling sickness and dysentery. It was also much valued for external application, a wash made of its leaves or flowers in distilled water being regarded as a sovereign specific for freckles and sunburn and also as an excellent tooth cleanser. In the Highlands the berries of the dwarf honeysuckle were believed to stimulate the appetite.—London Telegraph.

Realistic Cake.

"Do you call this sponge cake?" asked the lady of the house. "Why, it's as hard as a rock."

"Yes, ma'am," replied the cook. "That's the way a sponge is before it is wet. Soak it in your tea."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

"Father, is it very far across the ocean?"

"Yes; it's a long way."

"About how many blocks?"—Browning's Magazine.

AN AGED WOMAN

Tells How Vinol Made Her Strong

In her eighty-second year Mrs. John Wickersham, of Russellville, Pa., says: "I was in a run-down, feeble condition and had lost flesh. A neighbor asked me to try Vinol, and after taking two bottles my strength returned; I am gaining in flesh, it has built up my health and I am feeling fine for a woman of my age, so I get around and do my housework."

The reason Vinol was so successful in Mrs. Wickersham's case was because it contains the very elements needed to build her up.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

SIXTY-SEVENTH YEAR NO. 10 TECUMSEH MICHIGAN, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1916 WHOLE NUMBER 4566

We Knew There Were Other Reasons Are These Yours?

There isn't a person in Tecumseh who wouldn't profit by a bank account. There is hardly a person who could not HAVE ONE—if they chose.

We do not believe there is a man, woman or child in Tecumseh who is not familiar with the slogan "You can start a bank account with a Dollar."

BUT—there is some reason why more people do not have a bank account—and that reason is what the officers of the Tecumseh State Savings Bank have been endeavoring to find out.

By asking many of our new depositors why they had not storted before we found—

That it was NOT because they did not have the dollar with which to start—

That it was NOT because they could not save a certain amount each week, each month—

But was for entirely different reasons. Some told us they thought they would be asked a lot of questions about their personal affairs--others felt backward about coming to the bank and asking us to give time to small account.

If you have any of these mistaken ideas we want to correct them. We want you to walk into the Tecumseh State Savings Bank just as freely as you do into any store. Go right up to the first desk or window and you will be directed to the proper person in the bank who will look after your wants.

You are made to feel "at home" at the Tecumseh State Savings Bank—always.

NO ORDER FOR NEW MEXICAN ACTIVITIES

Gen. Scott Denies Report of Postelection Move.

Washington, Nov. 6.—General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of army, denies there is any truth in a report from San Antonio that an order had been issued for General Pershing's expedition to prepare for activities in Mexico after election. Other high officials of the war department declared the report was rediculous. In both state department and Mexican embassy circles the belief was expressed, however, that the joint American-Mexican commission would be dissolved within two weeks after the election unless the United States agreed to the demands submitted by General Carranza's commissioners. These demands are, it was stated on excellent authority:

First—Admission of the trespass by this government upon the sovereignty of Mexico and immediate withdrawal of the American military forces from Mexican soil.

Second—Establishment of the responsibility for Villa's raid on Columbur, N. M., and for other depredations upon American territory committed by Mexican bandits. The Carranza government charges that money, arms and ammunition were supplied from the United States.

Third—Agreement upon a protocol prescribing the rights of the two nations reciprocally to enter the territory of the other in pursuit of lawless bands, but forbidding the forces of either country to occupy the soil of the other, or to remain upon it after the bandits have been captured or the chase abandoned.

LIQUOR IN AUTO, TWO DEAD

Car Going 40 Miles an Hour Hits Interurban—Occupants Killed.

Bluffton, Ind., Nov. 6.—Two men were killed in an accident here when an auto in which they were riding crashed into an interurban car of the Indiana Union Traction company one mile south of Poneto, near here.

The dead men are James Snyder, fifty-two years old, a barber, and Charles Marsh, forty-two, a farmer. The men's skulls were fractured. The accident happened at a grade crossing and apparently the men did not see the approaching car, which, it is said, was running at a normal rate of speed. The auto was going thirty miles an hour. The machine struck the car at an angle and the car was thrown several feet into the air. Liquor was found in the auto.

NEW U-BOAT CRISIS LOOMS

Germany May Treat All Armed Merchantmen as Warships.

Washington, Nov. 6.—The administration is interested in reports from Germany intimating that the German admiralty may order its submarines to treat as war vessels all enemy merchant ships carrying armament.

The state department has decided upon a policy of considering each case separately. If American lives and interests were involved in the destruction of an armed liner, this government would determine for itself whether the armament carried could properly be adjudged to be for offensive purposes.

LIMITED AUTONOMY IS GRANTED POLAND

Proclamation by Teutons Read at Warsaw and Lublin.

Berlin, Nov. 6.—Poland, rich in romance, of storied interest almost unparalleled in fascination, has been recreated.

Proclamations re-establishing the right of the Polish nation to control its own destinies were read at Warsaw and at Lublin. General von Beseler officiated at Warsaw and General Kuk at Lublin.

The event, marking one of the greatest moments in the history of Europe, was the consummation of joint action of the German Emperor and the Emperor of Austria.

The form of government established by the proclamation is described as an autonomous hereditary monarchy. In effect, it extends to the Polish provinces ocupied by the central powers, with respect to city administration, rights of self government similar to those enjoyed by the City of Warsaw since early in the war. A Polish army may be created.

General von Beseler, who, while military governor of Belgium, earned warm commendation from the American relief administrators by his practical sagacity, will for the present exercise chief authority.

PRICE BOOSTING PROBE BY U. S.

Coal Especially Concerns Department of Justice.

EVIDENCES OF CONSPIRACY

Department Has Three Inquiries Going—Car Shortage Stories Are Discredited—No Reason for Such Can Be Seen—Country Clamors for Actions.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Attorney General Gregory authorized the following formal announcement:

"The department of justice is investigating the recent abnormal and suspicious increases in the prices of various necessaries of life, especially coal.

"Whenever any such increase is found to be due to conspiracy or other unlawful action, the department will invoke against the offenders the severest penalties which the law prescribes."

Three Probes in Progress.

Three separate investigations into the abnormally high price of commodities, it was said at the department, are in progress, with a view of criminal prosecution of persons or corporations responsible for the increases in the pices of milk, bread and coal. The interstate commerce commission also is conducting an inquiry into the alleged shortage of coal cars, which middlemen claim is responsible for the price of coal.

It was said in a high administration quarter that facts have been uncovered which indicate a conspiracy on the part of coal operators and the coal carrying railroads to force up artitrarily the prices of coal.

Car Shortage Stories Discredited.

In substantiation of this belief, it is pointed out, the weather conditions are excellent, so there can be no shortage of coal cars owing to congestion or blockades. The railroads claim they cannot handle the coal output of the mines on account of the car shortage, but at both the department of justice and the interstate commerce commission it was declared no condition exists which would cause a natural shortage of cars. It was added that coal cars are built especially for the purpose of transporting coal, and that they cannot be well used for any other purpose except by structural changes. It was said the number of coal cars on the various roads was large enough to take the needs of the country.

Evidence of Conspiracy Strong.

In further support of the charge that a conspiracy exists, it was said that all sections of the country are suffering equally, although there would be no cause for distant points to be affected seriously because long hauls are favored. If the allegation of a real car shortage were true, it was declared, only these places immediately affected, which would be the shorter hauls, would suffer, and then for only a short time.

It is expected that the interstate commerce commission's inquiry will develop evidence concerning the car situation which will warrant action by the department of justice. It is understood the department will have representatives at the hearings to be conducted by the commission.

Entire Country Complains.

From all parts of the country complaints have been received by the department of justice and considerable data has been gathered bearing on the situation, both from private persons and from the offices of district attorneys. All sections of the country have demanded federal action, and during the past month the department has become convinced that the coal situation is acute. It was hinted that unless relief is obtained immediately congress may be called upon to pass extraordinary legislation for the welfare of the country.

Middleman Accused.

The coal operators are understood to maintain that they cannot afford to mine more coal than the railroads can handle, and that the facilities of transportation now are such that it would be financially disastrous for them to increase their output; there is a charge against the middleman also that because of the scarcity of coal they, for speculative motives, are withholding from the market the supplies piled up in their yards, selling it only at exorbitant prices.

WILL STANDARDIZE PASTRY

No Fat Pies at Some Places and Lean Ones at Others.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 6.—Pies will all be of standrd size hereafter in Lafayette restaurants. At a meeting of restaurant proprietors it was decided to adopt a standard size pie tin, in order that every restaurant may have pies no larger or smaller than the rest.

City Babies Beat Country Babies.

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 6.—A comparison of the score cards in a baby contest showed that babies entered in the city contest were more nearly normal than those entered in the county contest, and that the winning city baby scored higher than the winning country baby.

Where Bluebeard Lived.

Most of our readers have heard of Bluebeard, the enterprising gentleman who made a hobby of marriage and had a way of his own for getting rid of superfluous wives. Probably very few people, however, know that the story has any sort of basis in fact. Yet on the banks of the world famous Bosporus, near Constantinople, there is situated a picturesque old medieval fortress known as "Bluebeard's castle," which is said to have been the abode of a terrible old pasha whose playful little ways gave rise to the story.—Wide World Magazine.

At the present rate of increase in the consumption of native lumber in New Zealand it is estimated that the supply of standing timber will last not more than thirty years.

MRS. MYERS FREED; LIFE TERM TO MYERS

Newayo Murder Case Results in Usual Verdict.

WHITE CLOUD, Nov. 6.

Mrs. Emma Travis was acquitted of having murdered her husband, William Travis, of Grant, and Clarence Myers, her youthful affinity, was sentenced to life imprisonment at Marquette in circuit court at White Cloud.

The woman wept for joy, and Myers, who had expected to receive not more than twenty years because of his confession and the aid he gave the state in prosecuting the woman, almost wept from disappointment.

The judge's instructions to the jury eliminated the first degree murder charge which the state lodged against the woman. The jury was out only two hours.

Myers and Mrs. Travis were arrested at Conklin, a month ago after the body of Travis had been dug from the farm he formerly owned. Travis was murdered by Myers a year ago. Myers charged that Mrs. Travis urged him to commit the crime and that he was so strongly under her influence he could not resist her plea.

Mrs. Travis will go to Lockport to live with her aged parents.

WHEAT YIELD IN MICHIGAN

12,404,710 Bushels Were Grown in State in 1916.

LANSING, Nov. 6.

The final estimated yield of wheat in Michigan is 16.19 bushels an acre, according to the crop report issued by Secretary of State Vaughan.

The estimated total yield is 12,404,710 and the condition of growing wheat as compared with an average per cent. is 86 in the state.

The total number of bushels of wheat marketed by farmers in October at fifty-eight flouring mills was 123,413 and at sixty-one elevators and two grain dealers 128,922, or a total of 252,335 bushels. Of this amount, 191,369 bushels were marketed in the southern four tiers of counties, 40,939 in the central counties and 19,987 in the northern counties and upper peninsula.

DRYS WILL KEEP UP FIGHT

No Matter How Election Goes Battle Continues Against Bars.

LANSING, Nov. 6.

No matter what happens in the election Tuesday as regards the liquor amendments, the Michigan Anti-Saloon league will continue its fight in this state for the destruction of the liquor traffic in Michigan, according to a statement issued by Richard H. Scott, the president of the league.

Mr. Scott claims the state for the statewide amendment, but gives no figures. He reviews the campaign, gives great credit to the newspapers for their fairness, and says that the saloonmen themselves have proved that the state is better off without their saloons.

Put Men and Women on Equality.

EAST LANSING, Nov. 6.

The first step toward putting the co-eds at the Michigan Agricultural college on an equal footing with male students was made when Walt Wright, president of the men's student council, outlined the workings of a student council to the co-eds, and helped organize a governing body.

50,000 Trees Shipped by M. A. C.

EAST LANSING, Nov. 6.

About 50,000 trees were shipped to various parts of the state by the forestry department of the Michigan Agricultural college during the planting season just closed. Sugar maple, black walnut and hardwood varieties were the most popular this fall.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.

Under the new law the war department has set November 30 as the last day on which national guardsmen shall take the so-called dual oath and has notified units that those which fail to comply cannot share in federal funds.

Nearly All Fruit Sold Off.

EAST LANSING, Nov. 4.

The market department of the Michigan Agricultural college reports that, out of twenty-one fruit associations heard from, five are entirely sold out of apples, while the others have nearly disposed of their 1916 crop.

To Send More Y. M. C. A. Men Abroad.

EAST LANSING, Nov. 6.

The state county Y. M. C. A. secretaries in session at East Lansing, voted to start a state-wide campaign to raise funds to send additional Y. M. C. A. secretaries to Europe to work among the war prisoners.

Furniture to Buenos Aires.

GRAND RAPIDS, Nov. 6.

One hundred and twenty-five dollars' worth of furniture will be shipped from Grand Rapids, December 1, to Buenos Ayres. The furniture is the product of eight local factories.

First Woman Hunter Licensed.

GRAND RAPIDS, Nov. 6.

Mrs. David Salyer, Harvard, Oakland township, is the first woman in Kent county to take out a license for deer hunting this season. This is her sixth season.

Three Kinds of Feet.

A meeting of foot doctors brought forth the information that all feet are divided into three classes—namely, unflared, outflared and straight—the first two classes being scientific divisions for the afflictions known as pigeon toes and bowlegs. One doctor said, "Shoes are proverbially made to fit the eye and the pocketbook, but not the feet." —Popular Science Monthly.

AMERICA VOTES FOR PRESIDENT

Over 16,000,000 Will Cast Ballots at National Election.

MANY STATES ARE DOUBTFUL

Electoral Votes of Which No Party Seem to Have Cinch Equal Those Conceded Either Way—Many Will Vote on Prohibition and Suffrage.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Sixteen million Americans will cast their votes for electors of a president and vice president of the United States.

The total popular vote of all candidates four years ago was 15,036,542. With the growth of the nation, the naturalization of aliens resident here in 1912, the spread of woman suffrage and the more intense interest this year, the number of ballots cast is quite certain to reach 16,000,000 and may go much higher.

The citizens will chose 531 members of the electoral college, these ornamental officials who will solemnly meet some time hence and enact into law a result everyone will know by midnight. The number of electoral votes necessary for a choice is 266.

Result to Be Close.

The nation is on tiptoe awaiting the result—not only because the issues have stirred the blood of the people, but also because an unbiased observer concludes from the numerous straw ballots, the concensus of forecasts by leading partisans, the course of the betting odds, and various other indications that the result will be a very close one.

It is easy to find these on either side who will tell you to a dot just how each state will go. But as the detailed predictions of Republicans and Democrats are distressingly out of harmony, the best one who would rid himself of party feeling can say is that the following states are in doubt and should be watched for an indication of how the final result is going:

Doubtful States.

Indiana, fifteen electoral votes; Illinois, twenty-nine; New York, forty-five; Ohio, twenty-four; California, thirteen; Nebraska, eight; Wyoming, three; New Jersey, fourteen; West Virginia, eight; Connecticut, seven; Delaware, three; Maryland, eight; Kentucky, thirteen; Missouri, eighteen; Wisconsin, thirteen; Michigan, fifteen; Colorado, six; New Mexico, three; Arizona, three; Washington, seven. Total of electoral votes in doubtful states—255.

In this table are put all the states called doubtful by either side. Some of those listed are very doubtful, others only moderately so and a few scarcely at all. It will be noticed that the total of doubtful electoral votes, 255, is more than half of the whole number to be chosen.

35 U. S. Senators to Be Elected.

Thirty-five United States senators will be elected by popular vote, as follows:

Arizona, Arkansas, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Indiana (2), Maine (2), Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Dakota, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Virginia, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

The following states will elect governors; Arizona, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Idaho, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montant, Nebraska, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Rhode Island, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin.

Suffrage and Prohibition Up.

South Dakota, West Virginia and Iowa will hold referendums on woman suffrage. California, Missouri, Montant, Utah, Nebraska, Michigan and South Dakota will vote on proposals to introduce prohibition.

Women are running for congress in Montana and California and for a host of minor offices in suffrage states.

It is roughly estimated that 75,000 offices will be filled by this fall's elections, while the total number of candidates is over 200,000.

PARTNER OF ARMOUR DEAD

George Huntington Webster, Pioneer Packer, Passes Away.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—George Huntington Webster, one of the pioneers in Chicago's packing industry, died of heart disease at his home, 2821 Prairie avenue, at the age of seventy-eight.

Starting life as a clerk in a wholesale grocery and provision house in Baltimore, Md., his advance was rapid. In 1877 he became a member of the firm of Armour, Plankinton & Co., and in 1881 came to Chicago as a member of Armour & Co.

Chicago Labor Body Endorses Wilson.

Chicago, Nov. 6.—The Chicago Federation of Labor unanimously endorsed President Wilson and Governor Dunne for re-election.

Germans Smile at Koenig's Talk.

Washington, Nov. 6.—Statements made by Captain Paul Koenig of the Deutschland concerning a convoy and the number of under-sea merchantmen built in Germany were received with smiles in German quarters here. It was declared Captain Koenig will do much "talking through his hat" before he sails, and that chief of all he will attempt to conceal the time of his departure.

D'Annuncio Is Honored.

Rome, Nov. 6.—Gabrielle D'Annunzio, the poet and novelist, has been promoted to the grade of captain for gallantry in action. General Cadorna, in conferring the honor, says in an order that D'Annunzio on Oct. 10 and 11 by word and deed set a notable example for the troops attacking two Austrian positions.

Mill Girls and Shawls

The working women and girls of Lancashire [illegible] regard the shawl as a necessity, and especially is this the case in the industry of [illegible]. A writer in an English monthly says. "Domestic duties performed in varying temperatures, on washing days and cleaning days, in the house or about the yard, are rendered safe under the protection of a shawl. The mill girl could scarcely get on without it. It shields her between the mill and home winter and summer in snow or rain. It is easily donned and doffed. It is the handiest of all articles of wearing apparel and, as made in England today, is moderate in cost. A warm soft shawl would save many a racking cough and stave off incipient pulmonary troubles. It is a tried and proved sanatarian."

The Last Gladiators.

It was in A. D. 430 that the edict was passed which forever abolished the gladiatorial combats. In the deserts of Lybia there lived a monk named Telemachus, who, touched by the cruel stories of the combats, went to Rome, leaped over the barrier of the arena of the Coliseum, threw himself between the groups of fighters and implored them in the name of Christ to desist. Telemachus fell, slain by the swords of the gladiators, but there never was another fight in the Coliseum.

The spirit of the monk had its effect, and the above mentioned edict was soon passed.

When a Peanut Sprouts.

"Few persons are perhaps aware that a thing of beauty is a common peanut plant growing singly in a six or eight inch pot and grown indoors during the colder weather," said a florist. "Kept in a warm room or by the kitchen stove, a peanut kernel planted in a pot of loose, mellow loam and only moderately moistened will soon germinate and grow up into a beautiful plant, extending its branches over the pot. The leaves close together like the leaves of a book on the approach of night or when a shower begins to fall upon them. The plant bears tiny yellow flowers. There is nothing else just like it."

Hadrian's Hymn.

The hymn beginning "Vital spark of heavenly flame" was composed by the Roman emperor Hadrian, a pagan and a persecutor of Christians. Centuries later it was paraphrased by Alexander Pope.

Starting a Scrap.

"I'll bet my dad can lick yours."

"I'll bet he can't."

"How you're going to prove it?"

"I'll tell you. I'll hit you in the eye and you hit me in the nose; then we'll both run home and tell our dads about it, and then they'll both get mad and start a scrap, and you and I will stand by and see which of them wins."—Detroit Free Press.

How the Days Go By.

Frank looked up thoughtfully from his engine and cars game of railroading, played on the primitive plan of a five-year-old boy.

"Mamma, isn't it funny how the days go by, one after the other, just like a train of cars, with Sunday for the engine."—Harper's.

Gained Her Object.

There's method in some people's seeming miserliness, although the reason for so much privation does not strike ordinary folk as sufficient. A Swiss village owes its fine peal of bells to this sort of self sacrifice.

About ten years ago a widow who had lived in great misery for no less than fifty years went to the commune and presented it with over $4,000 for a peal of bells for the old church. She had saved the amount penny by penny, dressing like a beggar and starving herself. She said she had gained the object of her life.

English as a World Language.

English is well adapted to use as a world language because of its rich vocabulary and its grammatical simplicity. It is the literature of liberty and social equality. The fundamental hindrance to the spread of the English language as a world language is its irrational spelling. It is difficult because of the superfluity of letters and the confusion of representations. If these objections were removed and the proportional rate of increase of the nineteenth century continues English will be the language of the world."—De Witt Croissant at Chautauqua.

Horsepower.

Horsepower, which is a term adopted as a unit in estimating force, is strictly theoretical and is much greater than most horses have the strength to perform. It is the force required to raise 33,000 pounds one foot high in one minute. A rough way to estimate the power of a steam engine is to multiply together the area of the piston in inches, the mean steam pressure in pounds per square inch, the length of stroke in feet and the number of strokes per minute and divide the product by 33,000.

COURAGE.

Keep up your courage, no matter what manner of troubles confront you. The shores of fortune are covered with the stranded wrecks of men of brilliant ability, but who have wanted courage, faith and decision and have therefore perished in the sight of more resolute but less capable adventurers who succeeded in making port.—John Foster.

MANY MAY HAVE LOST LIVES

Americans Also Shelled in Life Boats by Submarine After Rowanmore Was Sunk Oct. 26, Affidavits Assert. Washington Awaits Full Report of Sinkings.

LONDON, ENG. — The American embassy received a report from Wesley Frost, American consul at Queenstown, that the British steamship Marina, from Glasgow, had been sunk by [illegible] submarine without warning.

Pick Up Thirty-four of Crew.

Only thirty-four of the crew of 104 are known to have been picked up. They have been landed at Crookhaven, Ireland.

Lloyd's however, reports that a steamer anchored off Crookhaven signals that it has picked up the shipwrecked crew of the Marina.

Mr. Frost is now procuring affidavits from survivors.

The Marina, which has been engaged in transatlantic service, was a vessel of 5,204 tons gross, built in 1900. It was last reported as arriving at Glasgow Oct. 10, after sailing from Newport News Sept. 21.

Americans Shelled in Lifeboats.

A report on the sinking Oct. 26 of the British steamship Rowanmore also was made to the American embassy by Mr. Frost, who states that the vessel was torpedoed. Seven Americans, including five Filipinos, were on board the Rowanmore.

Several of them have given Mr. Frost affidavits stating that a submarine shelled lifeboats while they were being lowered and after they were clear of the ship, without causing loss of life.

Marina Not British Transport.

NEWPORT NEWS, VA.—At the offices of the United States Shipping company, local agents for the Donaldson line, owners of the Marina, it was stated that the Marina was not a transport in the service of the British government.

"She was one of the regular steamers plying between here and Glasgow," it was said, "and was owned and operated as a merchantman by the Donaldson line. She carried general cargo and sometimes horses for the British government, but she had not been commandeered, and still retained her character as a merchantman."

List of Those on Board.

Following are the names and addresses of the Americans, all white, on board the Marina:

F. H. Smith, Philadelphia, foreman; J. H. Clarke and J. H. Robbins, Richmond, Va., and William Cullen, Philadelphia, assistant foremen.

Horsemen: S. A. Devlin and George Rogers, Norfolk, Va.; Andrew Kraig, Springfield, O.; T. H. Hamlin, Edgar Miller and Charles Porky, Baltimore, Md.; T. T. Wence, Sheridan, Wyo.; H. B. Sinclair, J. FORD VISITS ROBBER CHIEF

Man Who Held Up Pay Car for $32,000 Pleads Guilty in Detroit.

DETROIT, MICH. — James Walton, leader of the bandit gang that robbed a pay car of the Burroughs Adding Machine company of $32,000 here on Aug. 4, pleaded guilty upon arraignment in justice court. He was bound over to the recorder's court.

Before going to court Walton received a visit from Henry Ford, the automobile manufacturer. Neither Walton nor Mr. Ford would discuss their conference. Walton was married a few months ago and it is believed that Ford offered employment to Mrs. Walton.

Try to Mob John F. Smulski.

TOLEDO, O. — John F. Smulski, Chicago banker, was saved from a mob of angered Polish citizens by police with drawn revolvers. The trouble started when Smulski attempted to make a radical political speech. Several in the audience rushed toward Smulski. Then the officers drew their guns.

IS FOUND DEAD AND ERECT

Gas From Auto Kills Farmer at Garage at Trivoli.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 23.—H. H. Moon, thirty-five, a prominent farmer living near Trivoli, Ill, near here, was found dead in his garage.

When found by relatives Moon was standing nearly erect with his back to the wall. The automobile engine was running and the garage filled with gas.

Volcanic Ash.

The destructive Philippine volcanoes have value for one thing at least. They are directly responsible for the finest hemp producing area in the world. Hemp thrives in a soil heavily impregnated with volcanic ash.

P. C. SNELL

P. C. Snell passed away at his home on North Evans St., Monday at 12:15 a. m. after an illness of over a year, during which time he has been a great sufferer, but by his indomitable will he kept up and looked after the details of his business until within a few weeks when he was forced to give up and keep his bed.

Philip C. Snell was born Jan. 30, 1849, in the town of Jay, Essex Co, N. Y., and was left fatherless when a lad of [illegible] early in life he [illegible] depend upon his own resources, but the rugged life of the mountaineer was born and bred in him. In 1865 he came to Michigan locating in Petersburg, going from there to Monroe. In 1874 he was united in marriage to Miss Ida Perry of Olivet, and will be laid to rest on the 42d anniversary of their marriage Wednesday, Nov 8, 1916. The funeral will be held under the auspices of the I. O. O. F.

He is the last of his family, father, mother and [illegible] children have preceeded him to the better country. Since his marriage he and his wife have lived in Monroe, Ida and Clinton and Tecumseh. For many years he worked on the railroad, but about twelve years ago he retired from the work owing to poor health. He was on the road for awhile, but about ten years ago opened up his store on North Evans St., where he has since been actively engaged in business. He is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Franc Gillespie of Tecumseh, Mrs. Lula Davis of Detroit, and three granddaughters Arline, Geraldine and Francis Gillespie of Tecumseh.

Mr. Snell was one of the oldest members of the Odd Fellows Lodge, and has been a life long member of the Methodist church, serving on the official board for a number of years being always an active and conscientious worker. He was the first president of the Young People's Society of the M. E. church. The funeral will be held Wednesday at 2 o'clock at the M. E. church, Rev. G. H. Whitney of Chelsea, assisted by Rev. W. A. Rex officiating. Burial in Brookside cemetery.

"So may he rest, in quiet goodly sleep,
We loved him once;
We love him still and weep
Not because our sorrow is Uncomforted,
But by shedding tears,
Oft times our fears
And the burdened heart
Gains courage for the morrow"

DEMOCRATIC BANQUET AT ADRIAN A BIG SUCCESS

Estimated that 1000 Democrats were in Attendance.

Flock to Adrian from all over the County.

Not to be outdone by the Republican's, the Democrat's of Lenawee County flocked to Adrian Saturday for the grand final rally and banquet which was held at Schoolcraft's Rink.

Tecumseh again was the gathering point for those living in the northern part of the county and in the early afternoon autos began to pull into town. A little before 5 o'clock the Clinton devision arrived bringing with them the Clinton band who stopped here long enough to play several selections. At 5 o'clock they pulled out for Adrian some 30 or 40 autos including those going from Tecumseh gaily decorated with bunting American flags and some display of banners for Wilson.

Arriving at Adrian they joined a monster procession. In line were several bands and about [illegible] automobiles, the autos being decorated with flags, mottos and bunting. As the parade winded its way back on Maumee Street it was met with a burst of fireworks which were fired from the down town buildings.

After the pageant a grand rush was made for the banquet hall and the doors were again stormed by a great crowd seaking admission. Every seat in the large hall was occupied and the overfloy, some 3000 people, were fed at the local hotels.

An excellent menu was served by the M. E. church and afterwards a fine program was given.

Rev. A. E. Scoville pronounced the invocation and Att'y James H. Baker acted as toastmaster. The speaker's of the evening were Judge Frederick Wood of New York, Congressman Sam'l Beakes of Ann Arbor, Albert E. Stevenson of Detroit, John Howell candidate for Probate Judge and Judge Albert D. Nortoni of St. Louis.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Several of our townspeople went to Jackson Monday night, to hear Billy Sunday, who gave a fine talk there.

Mr. Baker of Detroit, is new general foreman at the H. Brewer & Co. works. He will move his family here in the near future.

Chas. Courtad's bid for the buildings on the old George Chapman lot has been accepted by the school board, it being the highest bid received.

All Odd Fellows are requested to meet at I. O. O. F. Hall at 1 o'clock sharp, Wednesday Nov 8, to attend the funeral of brother P. C. Snell.

The Pictorial Winter Style Books are now on sale at Miss Gillespie's Millinery Shop. Come in and get a December fashion sheet, free.

adv.

Miss Mary Newcomb left Wednesday morning for the home of her nephew in Saline to care for his wife, who has just returned from Ann Arbor, where she underwent an operation.

As we go to press there has been a total of 563 votes cast in the two precincts of this township. A steady stream of voters have passed to the booths from the opening hour of 7 o'clock up to 1:30. The voting has been slow because of the necessily of voting five separate ballots. If the weather indicates anything, it would be a Republican day, and being a bright sunshiney day, we judge that it is Dry.

PROHIBITION TRIP

The tourists who were out Monday touring the county in the interest of State wide Prohibition, arrived in Tecumseh about three o'clock and made a short stop on the four corners. Dr Hartzog made a few remarks and then we had music. A fife and drums that thrilled the hearts of everyone. Four old soldiers, one of them over 90 years of age played with the vigor of many a younger man.

A short talk by Rev. Heininger of Adrian, more music, and then they moved on to Adrian. The County was divided into three sections, and 15 autos were allotted to each section. The feeling for State wide Prohibition was evident wherever they made a stop.

THE ADRIAN DAILY TELEGRAM

What They Said of "Mutt & Jeff" Last Year.

"These two funny boys from Bud Fisher's Cartoon's seem to have the world by the ears as grippingly as has Charlie Chaplin. The mere announcement of their coming seems to be the signal for going crazy, and everywhere people are falling over each other to see them. This was true in Adrian last night when Mutt & Jeff under the Gus [illegible] appeared at the Croswell opera house. The house was crowded to the doors and the gallery was not large enough to accomodate the people who wanted to get into that part of the house."

"The Gus Hill company this year is better than the average. Shorty DeWitt is playing Jeff and he is easily the star of the cast, although Ed. West helps materially as Mutt. There is a large company, some good music, well sung, and plenty of action every minute of the three hour run of the play."—Adrian Daily Telegram, Tues. Dec. 14

This season Mr. Hill has an equally good company playing an entirely new Mutt & Jeff piece called "Mutt & Jeff's Wedding." Their wedding forms a background for Bud Fisher's inimitable characters, which easily assume the greatest success of the cartoon world.

The new production embodies the thrill of the melodrama, the side splitting situations of the farce comedy, the extravaganza and tinseled brilliancy of musical comedy, including some starting mechanical effects that are said to overshadow all previous attempts at realism. Contrary to the common ideas of producing managers to frame up offerings for the second or third years cheaply. Mr. Hill has spent more money and greater energy in this seasons musical comedy success than any of his previous productions, so great is his faith in the lasting qualities of the cartoon Mutt and Jeff play. In this season's entertainment there isn't an old thing left but Mutt and Jeff.

The story, music, lyrics, scenery and electrical effects are all new. Mr. Hill has selected a cast superior in every respect to any he has yet been able to offer, and all in all, it is said, "Mutt and Jeff's Wedding" will live up to its claim of being one of the big hits of the show world.

"Mutt & Jeff's Wedding" will undoubtedly be the big hit of the season in Tecumseh and will be the attraction at the Bradley Opera house next week Wednesday, November 15th. Make your plans accordingly.

CLOSING REPUBLICAN RALLY

Bradley's Opera House Packed Monday Evening.

W. W. Potter and Thorton Dixon Principal Speakers.

Monday evening wound up the local republican fight in Tecumseh with a rousing meeting at Bradley's Opera house. The hall was packed and many stood up throughout the evening.

The Tipton band furnished music before the meeting and during the evening. The hall was very tastily decorated by a committee headed by Lester Heesen. Pictures of Hughes and Fairbanks were in evidence about the hall while "Old Glory" formed the back ground behind the speakers and on either side of the stage.

A large banner, Hughes and Fairbanks" stretched acrossed the arch above the stage and numerous smaller flags were hung from the balcony around the hall.

F. J. Temple called the meeting to order and acted as chairman, reading during the meeting an original poem, "The Old Flag Never Touched the Ground Boys!" Chairman Temple thought it fitting to invite his fellow townsman Dr. E. E. Hendershot to the stage to help him represent the reunited party but the Dr. was a little modest and failed to respond.

The Tipton band opened with a selection which was followed by campaign songs by the Morenci quartette who have furnished such splendid music during the campaign.

The first speaker of the evening was former School Commissioner Hensel. Mr. Hensel plead for a straight republican vote at the poles and for the whole ticket straight down. Criticised Editor Perry for his editorial on Bacon and the Herald got its bumps for printing a communication in which there was an attack upon various country officials. Mr. Hensel's remarks were well received.

Chas. Evans who was named after (Chas. Evans Hughes) was the next speaker. Canidate Evans opened with a few good stories that brought down the house. He made a good speech in behalf of the party and was willing that the voters should elect him as Represenative to the State Legislature from the district.

Thorton Dixon followed and as Thorton is always welcome before a Tecumseh audience got his usual ovation and it was well earned for he gave a fine speech in the interest of the grand old party.

The chairman introduced him as a man who would some day occupy a seat in the halls of congress.

Mrs Grace Heck Moore then sang "The old flag never touched the ground" the song that has been so enthusiastically received during the campaign. She responded very graciously to an encore.

The speech of the evening then followed and was delivered by W. W. Potter of Hastings. Mr. Potter spoke at length on President Wilson's Mexican policies and stated that he was familiar with the Mexican problem because he had spent some time in Mexico. He covered the issues of the campaign and urged for the support of the Republican party and a return of the protective tariff.

These were all Clintonites.

DRY MEETING AT M. E. CHURCH SUNDAY EVENING

Mrs. Jenny C. Law Hardy Gives a Fine Address in the Interest of State Wide Prohibition.

The M. E. church was crowded to the doors Sunday evening and many were turned away because there was no room inside In the absence of Rev. G. W. Jennings, who was confined to his home because of illness, F. J. Temple took charge of the meeting. Mr. Temple called on Dr. L G North for Scripture reading and a prayer. Music was furnished by a united choir from the various churches Many dry songs were sung during the service.

Jenny C. Law Hardy, the speaker of the evening was introduced, and although she claimed this to be a first "dry" speech, we feel well assured it will not be her last one Frequent applause interrupted the speaker as she proceeded with her address Mrs. Hardy stated that one of the principle reasons for her support to the dry cause was her suffrage work and the persistent opposition to the cause of Women's Suffrage by the liquor element. Had it not been for the liquor element and the saloon, Woman would have the ballot in Michigan today.

Mrs Hardy took up the various arguments dealing with the temperance question, especially some of the arguments the wets are making in their advertising campaign and answered them in a very effective manner. She quoted from the best medical men in the medical world, reading their statements in regard to the effect of alcohol on the human body In closing she warned the voters to do their duty at the polls and advised them to be sure they understood how to vote.

REV. JENNINGS STRICKEN

Rev. G. W. Jennings was taken suddenly ill Sunday noon after the Sunday School hour, while conversing with Dr. Hartzog and Richard Wilson in front of the Church. He was taken to his home at once and a physician called, who rendered the necessary aid and made him as comfortable as possible. He had a slight attack of dizziness while dressing for church, but paid no attention to it, going to church and conducting services as usual and later leading the men's class.

Since then he has had several attacks, the last one occuring late Monday evening, but from last reports received this noon, he is resting comfortably and the danger peroid seems to be passed. It is hoped that a week or two of rest and quiet will restore him to health.

HORATIO KEYSOR CASTS HIS 18th PRESIDENTIAL VOTE

Horatio Keysor is 92 years and seven months old and cast his vote today at his 18th presidential elections

His first vote was cast for Louis Cass He stated Monday that if he lived until today, he would vote for Wilson to offset Henry Conklins vote for Hughes

Mr. Conklin is two months older than Mr Keysor, and we consider them as two grand old men of Tecumseh. Mr Keysor came to Tecumseh 79 years ago when the business portion of Tecumseh was located in what is now known as Brownville At that time he remembers of there being three general stores a furniture store, a mill and a hotel with houses scarce in what is now known as Tecumseh.

Mrs. Rose Elkington of Adrian was shaking hands with friends in town Monday afternoon.

THE HIGHER PRICED TEAS

They are really not so expensive as they seem.

Less of a 50c or 60c Tea is required to produce the necessary flavor than of the cheaper lines.

If people would remember this, and use say a third less of a high grade Tea they might enjoy its superior flavor without it costing them much if any more

Of the better Teas (at 50c a lb. and up) we have a larger than ordinary supply

At these higher prices you get Tea here that gives you unsurpassed flavor, and a "bouquet" that is indescribably pleasant.

If you are a lover of Tea, get one of these better Teas of ours, use less of it, and enjoy the best cup of Tea there is.

Later Mr Stevens enlisted in the 18 Mich, Infantry and served until the close of the war, and has been a member of the G. A. R. since its organization Their daughter Mrs Geo Chapman of Detroit was home for the week end and helped them celebrate the day.

RIDGEWAY CHURCH FAIR

The annual church fair and supper at Ridgeway has become one of the events to be looked forward to, from year to year, by the people of the nearby towns and Tecumseh is never in the back ground.

This year there were between 40 and 50 Tecumseh people at the supper Friday night and each and everyone reports a fine time and a bountiful supper. It is estimated that nearly 500 were served during the evening. Many from town went in the afternoon and took in the Fair which also was a decided success.

Ridgeway is to be congratulated on these annual social events that draw their friends from far and near.

ENTERTAINED

The members of the Epworth League very pleasantly entertained the members of the Official Board and their wives in the lecture room of the Methodist church Friday evening. There were about fifty-five present. A very interesting program was given as follows:

Playette—"The Laborers"
Music—Orchestra.
Short Talk—Rev. G. W. Jennings.
Music—Orchestra.
Recitation—Ted Jennings.
Solo—Ernest Church.
Music—Orchestra.

At the close of the program light refreshments were served and the orchestra gave a number of fine selections.

The event was a very pleasing one and highly appreciated by the guests of the evening.

Neighbor Told Her Cure for Lumbago

Rheumatism and lumbago are awful things and cause great pain and misery, but Foley Kidney Pills can rout them.

Mrs. O. H. Eveland, Duncan Mills, Ill., writes the following letter: "I was stricken down with lumbago and was unable to turn myself in bed. A neighbor brought me a half bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, and said she had been similarly afflicted and that they had helped her. So I tried them and was completely relieved by the use of two or three bottles. I have had splendid success with them and have never known them to fail. I most heartily recommend Foley Kidney Pills."

Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, inactive, sluggish kidneys, rid the body of poisons, give appetite, energy and refreshing sleep after pain. Don't neglect kidney trouble. Remove the cause with Foley Kidney Pills.

CRYING FOR HELP

Lots of It in Tecumseh But Daily Growing Less

The kidneys often cry for help

Not another organ in the whole body more delicately constructed;

Not one more important to health.

The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous.

There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

Backache is one of the frequent indications of kidney trouble.

It is often the kidneys' cry for help. Heed it.

ROUMANIAN QUEEN'S LIFE IN JEOPARDY

Von Hindenburg Reveals Attempt at Slaying.

BERLIN — An interview given out by the Overseas News Agency says:

"Replying to a question regarding the reported attempt against the life of the queen of Roumania, Field Marshal von Hindenburg shook his head and said: 'Attempts of this kind must always be condemned.'"

[This is the first report to reach the United States of an attempt against the life of Queen Marie of Roumania.]

LONDON, ENG. — A wireless press dispatch from Bukarest says an official decree has been issued there committing for trial on a charge of conspiracy two men named Babosh and Thot, who are charged with having attempted last year to assassinate Premier Bratiano of Roumania, M. Costinesco, Roumanian finance minister, and the late M. Filipesco, former war minister. The Wireless Press says the decree states that the conspiracy was organized by Austro-Hungarian authorities and that the assassins received instructions from the chief of police of Budapest and two captains serving on the Austrian general staff.

CHIEFS FAVOR CARRANZA

Obregon, Gonzales and Others Favor His Nomination.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Evidently anxious to impress the idea that order can be restored in their chaotic republic, and also that everything is harmonious in the federal army, General Alarvo Obregon, Pablo Gonzales, Benjamin Hill and Eduardo Hay announced themselces as favoring Carranza for the Constitutional presidency of Mexico. The document, cabled from Mexico City and issued through the Mexican news bureau, is really a sort of nominating speech, made almost on the eve of the Queretaro convention. It is believed that Carranza inspired the statement, thus hoping to influence the United States in general and the American-Mexican commission in particular.

Search by authorities is being made in New York for the nineteen year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hattenberg, of Zeeland, who disappeared as her boat neared this country, with her mother and brothers and sisters.

Large engineering buildings are being erected on the site of old structures, which housed the engineering department at the Michigan Agricultural college prior to the fire, last April, which destroyed the buildings, with a loss of $246,000.

The city attorney of Kalamazoo Marvin Schaberg started suit against the Michigan Light company, officials of which concern were summoned to appear in municipal court October 31, to answer charges of violating Kalamazoo's 75-cent gas ordinance.

The plan being pushed by the capitol employes to get a boost in salary from the next legislature received a boost when Auditor General O. B. Fuller appeared before a mass meeting of the employes and said he would support their proposed bill.

Henry Ford, auto manufacturer, announced after a conference with President Wilson that as the result of an "inspiring talk" he had with the president two weeks ago he had established the women workers in his plants upon the same pay basis as the men.

Mrs. Fred Jasnowski was awarded by the state board compensation based on 200 weeks, from the University of Michigan because of the accidental death of her husband January 19, 1913, while employed on one of the university buildings. The compensation amounts to $1,217.50.

The Saginaw fight to make the office of county road commissioner elective, reached the courts when John Baird, supervisor from Zilwaukee, started mandamus proceedings to compel the election commissioners to leave a place vacant on the official ballot for voters to write in the name of their candidate.

In 1914 Ralph E. Parsons, son of W. L. Parsons, of Dimondale, and Marlan Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Cox, of the same place, ran away and were married and as the bride was under nineteen, her parents had the marriage annulled. They were separated and were able to see each other only on rare occasions, but their love increased with the passing months and it has just been learned that they eloped a second time and were married in Charlotte by Rev. A W. Hutchins.

If They Told the Truth.

Problem of the Electric Eel.

Invention during the next two or three centuries will probably be in the direction of imitating the wonderful economy and the simple, direct methods of nature. Take the electric eel. Its electric organ is in no sense a storage battery, but a contrivance by which electric energy is liberated at the moment when it is required. At rest the organ shows so small an electromotive force that a good galvanometer is required to detect it, but a sudden nervous impulse from the eel's spinal cord raises a potential of many volts with very little heat and so small an expenditure of matter as to defy the most expert chemist to weigh it.

The natives of New Guinea are the shortest lived people in the world, and this result is attributed to their diet of the larvae of certain beetles and their practice of drinking sea water.—London Telegraph.

NATION-WIDE PROBE INTO FOOD PRICES

Circular by Wholesale Grocers at Bottom of Inquiry.

CHICAGO — Ten of the largest wholesale grocers in Chicago were summoned to appear before United States District Attorney Charles F. Clyne, to tell him of the part which they have taken, if any, in the recent phenomenal increase in the prices of foodstuffs. The grocers were summoned after a conference between District Attorney Clyne, has first assistant, Joseph B. Fleming, and Hinton G. Clabaugh, head of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice.

The subject of this conference, primarily, was the consideration of letters and circulars which the large wholesale grocers are said to have dispatched to the retailers telling them to increase the prices of their food stuffs and "enjoy the wave of prosperity which is now affecting the food industry."

It became known in the federal building that for months past a food investigation affecting every state in the union under the direct supervision of Hinton G. Clabaugh, has gone unnoticed. Wholesale grocers in fourteen southern states, in Iowa and Nebraska and in Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and New York have been investigated recently, some as recently as two weeks ago, and reports made to the headquarters at Washington. There the decision as to action which will reduce the price of eatables for the consumer will be made.

AN AGED WOMAN

Tells How Vinol Made Her Strong

In her eighty-second year Mrs. John Wickersham, of Russellville, Pa., says: "I was in a run-down, feeble condition and had lost flesh. A neighbor asked me to try Vinol, and after taking two bottles my strength returned; I am gaining in flesh, it has built up my health and I am feeling fine for a woman of my age, so I get around and do my housework."

The reason Vinol was so successful in Mrs. Wickersham's case was, because it contains the very elements needed to build her up.

THE TECUMSEH HERALD

SIXTY-SEVENTH YEAR NO. 11 TECUMSEH MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 10, 1916 WHOLE NUMBER 4667

We Knew There Were Other Reasons Are These Yours?

There isn't a person in Tecumseh who wouldn't profit by a bank account. There is hardly a person who could not HAVE ONE—if they chose.

We do not believe there is a man, woman or child in Tecumseh who is not familiar with the slogan "You can start a bank account with a Dollar."

BUT—there is some reason why more people do not have a bank account—and that reason is what the officers of the Tecumseh State Savings Bank have been endeavoring to find out.

By asking many of our new depositors why they had not storted before we found—

That it was NOT because they did not have the dollar with which to start—

That it was NOT because they could not save a certain amount each week, each month—

But was for entirely different reasons. Some told us they thought they would be asked a lot of questions about their personal affairs—others felt backward about coming to the bank and asking us to give time to small account.

If you have any of these mistaken ideas we want to correct them. We want you to walk into the Tecumseh State Savings Bank just as freely as you do into any store. Go right up to the first desk or window and you will be directed to the proper person in the bank who will look after your wants.

You are made to feel "at home" at the Tecumseh State Savings Bank—always.

STATE GOES DRY

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 8.—As returns [illegible] in, Prohibition kept up an almost uninterrupted march of majorities, and it is absolutely certain that final results will send Michigan "Dry," probably by 50,000 majority.

HOME RULE DEFEATED

The Home Rule amendment was defeated by even a more overwhelming majority, showing that the voters understood the ballots, confusing as they were.

While many foresaw State-Wide Prohibition, it came as a shock to thousands. The new law will not take effect, however, until January 1, 1918, which allows plenty of time for the disappointed to adjust themselves to the change.

DRYS CLAIM FOUR STATES.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Prohibition made notable gains in yesterdays election. Michigan, Montana, South Dakota and Nebraska have gone dry, which puts 7,687 saloons and 116 breweries out of business.

MARX DEFEATS CONNOLLY FOR MAYOR OF DETROIT

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 8.—The race for Mayor was hotly contested from the very start, but as the returns came in, Marx took a small lead. which slowly but steadily increased. He has now been re-elected for his third term of office.

It is not known what the final result will show, on account of the muddle in the city election. Ten thousand voters were disfranchised through irregularities in registration and reluctance to stand in long lines waiting to cast their ballot.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 8.—Incomplete bulletin from here points to Wilson victory by a small but comfortable plurality.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 8.—A whirlwind of votes has swept Nebraska into the dry column and the corn husker commonwealth, judging from scattered returns from all sections of the state, has declared for prohibition by a margin of 20,000 to 30,000.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 8.—Indications were that Hughes was leading in Oregon by a small majority. Both Republican and Democratic state chairmen have claimed the state.

Manchester, N. H., Nov. 8.—It appears that the Hughes plurality in New Hampshire had been reduced to 2,500 votes. Democratic headquarters refused to concede that Hughes had carried the state.

SOLID SOUTH WEAKENS.

Louisiana, mollified by President Wilson's restoration of a protective duty on sugar, returned an old-time Democrat plurality. However, in the states on the border of the solid south, the Democrats met a decided setback.

REPUBLICAN LANDSLIDE IN ILLINOIS.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 8.—Frank O. Lowden has been elected Governor by a tremendous majority. Governor Dunne conceded his defeat early last evening on the face of the strong Republican indications.

Although the state was claimed by the Democrats before election, it will probably give Hughes 100,000 majority.

Natives of Algeria bury with their dead all the medicines used in their last illness.

WILSON AHEAD!

Early indications [illegible] being elected [illegible]ality, but the [illegible] turned and is still turning and it looks as though Wilson was to spend four years more in the White House. California appears to hold the balance of power in the national election. The states of Idaho, Kansas, North Dakota and Wyoming apparently have all gone for Wilson. This raised the president's total in the electoral college to 259 votes, or within seven of the necessary number to elect him. In no case were the returns complete. Hughes was left with 238 votes, while 34 remained in doubt. The doubtful states are California, Minnesota, New Hampshire and Oregon. Of this quartette, California holds thirteen votes in the electoral college.

WOODROW WILSON
THOMAS R. MARSHALL
COPYRIGHT BY PACH BROS
COPYRIGHT BY PACH BROS

New York, Nov. 8.—At 4 o'clock this morning the election of Charles E. Hughes and Charles W. Fairbanks, which practically had been conceded at midnight, became involved in doubt. A swing toward President Wilson in the states of California, Washington, Delaware, South Dakota and New Hampshire threatened totally to wipe out the indicated Hughes plurality in the electoral college.

The situation is unparalleled in the recent history of the country, save in 1884, when the contest between Grover Cleveland and James G. Blaine required the counting of the last ballot to decide it.

At an early hour this morning Chairman McCormick, of the Democratic national committee, was claiming at least 268 votes in the electoral college, two more than needed to elect Wilson. Chairman Wilcox, of the Republican committee, stood pat on his claim of better than 300 votes.

Ohio One of States Showing Shift.

The lagging receipt of returns from western states prevented any certain forecast of the result. In many cases pluralities indicated by earlier returns failed to materialize. This was the case in Ohio, whose 24 electoral votes at first seemed to have gone to Hughes, but later appeared certain for Wilson.

Massachusetts with 18 votes swung first to Hughes, then to Wilson, then back to Hughes. At 4 o'clock the Democratic newspapers of Boston conceded that Hughes had carried the state.

So close and exciting did the contest become that the political headquarters in New York city were kept open all night and rival claims were issued from both every half hour.

Wilson Up Late to Hear News.

President Wilson, who announced at midnight that he was going to bed, had not retired at 2 o'clock. He then was in telephonic communication with Chairman McCormick, who assured him that his election would be made certain by returns from the western states.

The case of California, which has 13 electoral votes, was especially interesting. Here Hiram W. Johnson, who is running for senator on the Republican ticket, was leading his Democratic opponent two to one. But the Hughes vote was far behind that of Johnson and there is every indication that Johnson, who was formerly the Progressive candidate for vice-president, was the beneficiary of a trade with the Wilson managers for votes. It is quite possible that California may finally decide the issue of the presidency of 1916.

Certainly not until at least three-quarters of the returns are in will the result of this surprising election be made definite and certain.

See Possible Need of Official Count.

In many cases an official count may be necessary to decide, but there is a probability that the final result will be known before an official count.

The gain of United States senators on the Republican ticket in Indiana was offset by the election of Gerry, in Rhode Island, and Wolcott, in Delaware, Democrats. New and Watson won in Indiana.

Aside from this the Republican gain in the senate and house is not affected by the narrowing of the race between Wilson and Hughes.

Sioux Falls, S. D., Nov. 8.—South Dakota adopted state-wide prohibition, gave women the franchise, elected two and possibly three Republican congressmen and a full Republican state ticket.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 8.—Democratic leaders claim Nebraska for Wilson by a majority of 15,000. Republican leaders have not conceded the state to Wilson.

Shepherd of the 1st, Bacon of the 2nd, Kelly of the 6th and Nichols of the 13th Districts all have been elected by fair pluralities.

New York for Hughes by 125,000.

Hughes carried New York by a plurality estimated at 125,000. Wilson carried New York city by about 40,000 but was snowed under by the avalanche of Hughes votes upstate. The returns outside of New York are incomplete, but they indicate an upstate plurality of 165,000 for Hughes.

Wisconsin, one of the states upon which the Democratic managers relied for victory in the event of losing New York, appears to have been carried by Hughes, according to incomplete returns. Senator Lafollette and Governor Phillip, both Republicans, have been re-elected.

Indiana, the pivotal state of many a presidential election, gives its 15 electorial votes to Hughes by a safe margin.

Rhode Island Elects Democratic Senator.

Providence, Nov. 8.—Peter Goelet Gerry, a Democrat, was elected to the United States senate, defeating Henry F. Lippitt, Rhode Island's present senior senator, by nearly 4,000 and giving this state a Democrat representative in the upper branch of congress for the first time in over 40 years. The election of Gerry is generally attributed to the efforts of the labor interests.

Hughes Has 30,000 Over Wilson in New Jersey.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 8.—Returns indicated that New Jersey had gone Republican by a substantial figure.

Republican state headquarters claimed the state for Hughes and made the assertion that in addition to Walter E. Edge for governor, and Joseph S. Frelinghuysen for United States senator, the Republicans had elected 10 of the 12 congressmen and also had obtained majorities in both houses of the assembly.

Reports from the state at large indicated that Hughes had a plurality of about 30,000.

Columbus, O., Nov. 8.—President Wilson is leading in Ohio with 176,192 votes to 167,594 for Hughes, according to figures from the Republican headquarters early this morning. Pomerene, with 138,631, is leading Herrick with 136,917. The governorship race also is close, Cox leading with 137,745 to 135,883 for Willis.

San Francisco, Nov. 8.—Returns from 880 precincts of 5,917 in California give Hughes 29,601, Wilson 31,425.

Providence R. I., Nov. 8.—The Republicans carried the entire state ticket by a plurality of about 11,000, re-elected Walter R. Stines, Republican, by about 3,000, and Ambros E Kennedy, Republican, by about 1,000 to congress, but lost the United States senatorship, Peter G. Gerry, Democrat, winning over Senator Henry F. Lippitt, Republican, by about 5,000. Hughes carried Rhode Island by about 4,500, and Governor Beeckman had a plurality of about 12,000 over Addison P. Munroe, Democrat.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 8.—Later figures from Delaware give the state to Hughes by from 600 to 1,000 plurality.

OHIO FOR WILSON.

Incomplete returns indicate that Wilson has carried Ohio by 50,000, although the Republicans expect the complete count from Cincinnati to bring these figures down.

An Unlucky Ballot.

It looks as though Hughes would lose out. If he does, you can blame it on the fact that he voted with ballot No. 13, and he was born on Friday.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 8.—President Wilson has a lead over Charles E. Hughes in one of the closest election races the state of Kansas has ever known.

Incomplete returns show the following states for Hughes:

Connecticut	7
Delaware	3
Illinois	29
Iowa	13
Maine	6

POLLS OLD PARTY FIGURES.

The Hughes' pluralities approximated the figures of the combined Taft and Roosevelt vote of four years ago. As far as could be gathered the efforts of one wing of the Progressives to drive the members of their party into the Wilson camp failed utterly.

Returns in New York showed plainly that the record of Governor Charles S. Whitman has been satisfactory to the electorate. President Wilson ran far ahead of his ticket, as also did William M. Calder, Republican candidate for United States senator. William F. McCombs, one of the leaders of the movement to put Mr. Wilson in the white house four years ago, was beaten for United States senator by nearly 200,000.

In Indiana, where the political battle was bitter, the Democratic candidates for the United States senate, John W. Kern and Thomas Taggart, present incumbents, have been defeated by Harry S. New and James Watson, organization Republicans and towers of strength in the Republican anti-Progressive old guard.

PENNSYLVANIA.

For Hughes by 200,000.

Wilson Makes Late Spurt.

Wilson's spurt came after Republican campaign managers had claimed the election by an overwhelming majority, congratulations having been forwarded to Mr. Hughes from Republicans all over the country.

The farmers' vote in the western and middle western states turned the tide after Hughes had swept New York, Pennsylvania and Illinois by enormous majorities.

Milwaukee, Nov. 8.—Victor L. Berger, former Socialist congressman, was elected over Congressman W. H. Stafford, Republican. W. R. Gaylord, Socialist, probably is also elected.

The result of the election gave many a decided jolt as the Republicans were all confident of electing their candidate Chas Evans Hughes Although the result is a little hazy still it is assured that President Wilson is returned to the Presidency by a very close margin. Here in Michigan the Republican voters elected their entire State ticket and it was a big Republican victory in every section.

On the Prohibition question, it was a great victory, and places Michigan among the dry States The people stamped their disapproval on the open saloon in a most emphatic way.

In Lenawee county the people have elected to office a clean lot of men Some have served the county and have demonstrated their ability to fill their various offices of trust. They have been tried and have made good Judge Larwill has served this county for a number of terms and is considered one of the best Probate Judges in the State Prosecutor Bean's return to office shows the people's confidence in him We believe his record to be a clean one, and his past term has shown him to be an able prosecutor.

Fred Nutten's election is a just reward to an officer who has tried to do his duty, and we beleive he will enforce the law without fear of any person or clique. The other officers are all well known and will give the county a clean administration.

Now that election is over, we can all take a deep breath of relief and take the word of the "I told you so's", for as usual, their post-mortems are always better than their anti mortems.

MUTT & JEFF'S WEDDING

"Mutt and Jeff's Wedding" was the attraction at the Croswell, in Adrian last Monday night and played to a packed house, hundreds were standing in the gallery and the writer personally saw crowds turned away. unable to even gain admission to the theatre. The following was taken from the Adrian Telegram the next day:

"Almost as many people who fought to hear William Jennings Bryan three weeks ago clamored for admission to the Croswell again last night The attraction this time was the annual Gus Hill offering of "Mutt & Jeff." The big crowd that filled the house appeared to admire very much the slap-stick antics of the two cartoon characters.

—Adrian Daily Telegram, Tuesday Nov 6,

Think of it almost as many people fought to see "Mutt & Jeff's Wedding" as to hear William Jennings Bryan, but Adrian is no exception. this big musical comedy "Mutt & Jeff's Weddings" is packing houses everywhere—they always do. They are the wonder of the entire show world. It is a common thing in many of the cities they play in to have every reserved seat in the theatre sold by the time the company arrives in town.

"Mutt & Jeff's Wedding" comes to the Bradley Opera house next Wednesday, November 15, with plenty of comedy, good music, a big chorus and a 60 foot car load of special scenery, everything is new this season. The entire Adrian orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music, just as they played it in Adrian last Monday, everything is being done to give you the big comedy exactly as seen in the larger cities. The advance sale opens at Hay's Bakery (phone 99) next Tuesday morning, best seats only $1.00 others at 75c and 50c with a special price of 25c for the little folks Take our advice and order your seats early, don't be one of the ones who "couldn't get in."

AUTO STOLEN

Charles Williamson loses car in Toledo.

Charles Williamson drove to Toledo Tuesday night taking with him a carload of Tecumseh men to listen to the election returns from headquarters

Arriving in the city they found the streets filled with cars and it was with difficulty that they found a place to park. They parked the car about a block and a half from the Secor Hotel

About 11 o'clock they went to where they left the auto and found it missing.

Mr. Williamson at once notified the police, and at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon he received a message from the police quarters that the car had been found in one of the suburban towns. There were six or seven cars stolen in Toledo that night. Mr. Williamson left Thursday morning for Toledo to get his auto.

PRESIDENT WILSON RE-ELECTED

MICHIGAN GOES DRY BY OVER WHELMING MAJORITY AND ELECTS A STRAIGHT REPUBLICAN TICKET

Lenawee County Shows Strong Republican Strength. Tecumseh Polls Biggest Vote In Years.

The latest returns conceed the re- [illegible] the poles were closed, Tuesday night, until this morning the Nation has been keyed up to fever heat with all eyes turned towards the west where a few states were still in doubt and whoes electorial votes were needed by both Candidates. With this morning's news that California had swung into the Wilson column assured the re-election of the President.

So close, however, is the vote in California, New Hampshire, New Mexico, Minnesota and North Dakota that a recount will probably be ordered and it will be several weeks before the final result will be announced

Michigan in one of the most exciting election held in years gives a majority from the last returns of upwards to 60,000 for Hughes and elects the entire Republican State ticket.

Dry leaders are claiming the State by upwards to 60,000. It was a landslide in the cause of Prohibition, Wayne County the center of the fight could only give the wets a majority of about 7,000.

The Home Rule Amendment went down to defeat to the tune of 85,000.

Senator Chas. E. Townsend is sent back to the Senate and Michigan will be represented in Congress by the following Representatives.

1st district—Frank E. Doremes, Detroit.
2nd. district (probably)—Mark R. Bacon, Wyandotte
3rd. district—John C. Smith, Charlotte.
4th. district—Edward N. Hamilton, Niles.
5th district—Chas. E. Mapes, Grand Rapids.
6th. district—Patrick H. Kelley,
7th. district—Louis C. Crampton, Lapeer.
8th. district—Jos. W. Fordney, Saginaw.
9th. district—Jas. C. McLaughlin, Muskegon.
10th. district—Gilbert A. Currie, Midland.
11th. district—Frank D. Scott, Alpena.
12th. district—W. F. James, Hancock.
[illegible]—Chas. A. Nichols, [illegible]

In the second district the race for representative to Congress was a close one and the finel result is still in doubt but the election is conceded to Bacon by a small majority.

The County ticket elected showed strong Republican strength with the exception of the race for the office of Sheriff and Clerk. Nutten wone on the Republican ticket by a majority of 62 votes, while Knowles, Democrat, wins by less than 30 majority.

In Tecumseh the voting was heavy, their being 326 votes cast in the east precinct and 452 in the west, in all a total of 778. There was a steady string of voters until way along in the afternoon. The Republicans were easy winners on every candidate, National, State, and County except on the office of County Treasurer, where John T. Boyce the Democratic candidate got a majority of 33 votes over Aaron W. Brown.

The Township gave Hughes a majority of 105 over Wilson. The Dry Amendment carried by 209 vote while the Wet Amendment lost by a vote of 175.

Tuesday's election was one of the most hotly contested in years. The early returns seem to indicate that Hughes had carried the Nation with a safe majority in fact the Eastern newspapers including the New York World, a Democrat paper were claiming Hughes election, but as more complete returns came in the tables were turned and Wilson was given the majority and within 10 votes of the 266 needed in the electorial congress. Both great parties claimed the election.

ANDREW WILSON

Anderew Wilson, whose death occured at the farm home near Holloway on Tuesday, October 24th was the fourth child born to Andrew and Frances Merritt Wilson in Franklin township, July 15, 1852. His boyhood days were spent on his father's farm attending the district school and later the Raisin Valley Seminary.

He was married April 20th 1876 to Miss Harriett A. Kimball of Tipton and they resided at the home of his parents conducting the farm work until 1889, when he purchased an interest in the celery business later known as Wilson Bros., celery, Co. and moved to the Samuel Kimball farm west of Tipton, working this farm in connection with the celery farm until he moved to Tecumseh, where he continued in the celery business on a larger scale. He disposed of his interest in this business two years ago, purchasing a farm in Holloway moving there April 3, 1916.

Eight children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Wilson the eldest, Thurman Andrew dying at the age of 26 years leaving a daughter Clara, Irene, then a babe of 10 months and who has since been cared for by the grandparents.

Those who survive beside the widow are the children, Mrs. Winnifred Bates of Missoula, Montana, Mrs. Anna Camburn, Saline, Mich., Mrs. Helen Hill of Cleveland, Sidney Wilson of Tecumseh, Orton Wilson of Norvell, Vesta and Howard of Holloway, one sister, Mrs. Fannie Waterman of Dayton, Fla., an aunt, Mrs. Helen Clark of Tecumseh and several grand children, another sister Mrs. John Freeman having passed away just four weeks before his death.

Mr. Wilson had a very happy disposition and although his illness extended over 10 months, he made no complaint. There were times when he seemed depressed but a cheerful word from his faithful wife, who was his constant companion and nurse, tided him through those weary hours He loved his home and during the past summer his children have all been with him from time to time and whose companionship he greatly enjoyed.

His death was very peaceful coming without a struggle. He retired for the night about 9:30, remarking as he did so, "I am so comfortable," and fell alseep to awaken on the other shore among his loved ones who have passed on.

Following a prayer by Rev. Rex at the house at 10:30 on Thursday morning, the body accompanied by several brother Masons was borne to the Presbyterian church in Tecumseh, where from 12:30 until 2:00 friends were allowed to view the remains Rev. Rex preached the sermon and Mr. Dickinson sang, "Rock of Ages".

The burial service of the Masonic lodge, an order the deceased loved so well was given and the body was placed in the family lot at Brookside.

Neighbor Told Her Cure for Lumbago

Rheumatism and lumbago are awful things and cause great pain and misery, but Foley Kidney Pills can rout them.

Mrs. G. H. Eveland, Duncan Mills, Ill., writes the following letter: "I was stricken down with lumbago and was unable to turn myself in bed. A neighbor brought me a half bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, and said she had been similarly afflicted and that they had helped her. So I tried them and was completely relieved by the use of two or three bottles. I have had splendid success with them and have never known them to fail. I most heartily recommend Foley Kidney Pills."

Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, inactive, sluggish kidneys, rid the body of poisons, give appetite, energy and refreshing sleep after pain. Don't neglect kidney trouble. Remove the cause with Foley Kidney Pills.

Lots of It in Tecumseh But Daily Growing Less

The kidneys often cry for help.

Not another organ in the whole body more delicately constructed;

Not one more important to health.

The kidneys are the filters of the blood.

When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous.

There can be no health where there is poisoned blood.

Backache is one of the frequent indications of kidney trouble.

It is often the kidneys' cry for help. Heed it.

ALBERT E. SLEEPER

Republican From Bad Axe to Be Our Next Governor.

MAJORITY OF HOUSE WON BY REPUBLICANS.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—The Republican party has swept back into control of the United States house of representatives.

Returns from the congressional districts throughout the country indicate that the Republicans will have a majority of at least 25 in the next house.

The returns on the senate are incomplete at this time. They indicate that the present Democratic majority of 16 has been reduced to two, and may be overcome in the final returns from the far west, where there are close contests in Nebraska, Nevada, Montana and Arizona, all of which are now represented in the senate by Democrats.

As a result of their victory in the campaign for the house, the Republicans will elect Representative James R. Mann, of Chicago, speaker to succeed Champ Clark of Missouri. Representative Nicholas Longworth of Ohio will in all likelihood be chosen majority leader to succeed Claude Kitchin of North Carolina.

Ferris "Not Surprised" Hughes Got New York.

Big Rapids, Mich., Nov. 8.—Commenting on New York Governor Ferris said: "I am not surprised that New York rolled up a large vote for Hughes and elected Whitman."

TOWNSEND IS RE-ELECTED

Charles E. Townsend has been returned to the Senate by the voters of

CHARLES E. TOWNSEND

Michigan for another six years. His majority will probably exceed 75,000.

The Calhoun Gas company at Battle Creek announced that unless some way can be found of obtaining coal it will be impossible to supply the demand for gas, with the existing rate, and it will be necessary to cut off some of the larger consumers altogether.

Justice of Peace Alvin Botsford, of Perry, filed a divorce action, alleging that his bride of ten days, formerly Mrs. Lovina Newman, an Owosso widow, nagged him and threatened to kill herself because of her belief that he loved another woman and that her new neighbors did not like her.

Three armed men attempted to hold up Andrew Sanford, of Springport, who, with his wife, was driving his touring car on a country road three miles east of Eaton Rapids. One of the bandits jumped on the running board of the car and ordered Sanford to stop, but the latter put on more power and the jerk threw the bandit off.

A large crowd assembled Monday in our village to listen to the last speeches for the Republican party. The several candidates gave talks of interest to the voters, and also to those who are not voters. "Old Glory" floats proudly at the top of a 60 foot pole while just below the banner for (Hughes), waves in the breeze.

About 19 auto loads of people in the "Dry" cause were here and several short talks were given. Chief among the attractions of the hour was the 'old boys band' veterans of the Civil war. Needless to say the restrains of martial music were enjoyed by every one These men belonged to the National Drum corps during the war. A remarkable thing about them is their vigor and no one would think that the oldest drummer is 90 years of age.

May they live to see the next presidential campaign.

FRANKLIN

Mrs. Ezra Simmons

Mrs. Ezra Simmons was born Nov. 24, 1837 and died Nov. 1, 1901 aged 79 years, 11 months, 23 days.

Florence Knight was born in Franklin Michigan the eldest of three daughters born to Ely and Pamelia Knight, early pioneers, who came to Michigan from York State in 1833.

March 17, 1850 Florence Knight was united in marriage to Ezra Simmons, two children were born to this union, Lottie and Seth. Mr. and Mrs. Simmons with their children and grandchildren spent the winter of 1888 in Tenessee hoping to restore their daughter, Lottie to health and a few years later journeyed to Florida on a similar unavailing errand, she died in 1894.

March 17, 1910 Mr. and Mrs. Simmons celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding at the home of their son with a large gathering of friends and relatives.

In 1913 Mr. and Mrs. Simmons with their son Seth and his family spent several weeks in New Mexico, California and the west and in the fall of 1914 they were in Virginia, where Ezra Simmons died Dec. 17, 1914. Since her husbands death Mrs. Simmons has resided with her son Seth at Tipton.

Mr. and Mrs. Simmons engaged in farming, stock raising and feeding. From small beginnings they became at one time the possessors of more than a thousand acres of well stocked lands.

Besides her son, Seth, Mrs. Simmons is survived by six grandchildren Floyd Billington of Tecumseh, Mrs Jessie Fraser of Gary, Ill., Mrs. Bonnie Ingraham of Wamplers Lake, Mrs Leo Poucher of Brooklyn, children of Lottie and Herbert Billington, Mrs. Clifford Hardy and Lamont Simmons of Tipton and Seven great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at the home of Seth Simmons, Tipton Nov. 3, Rev. Brewer of the M. E. church Tipton officiating burial at Tipton.

Relatives attending from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Will Gibbs and Mrs. George Knight, Adrian and Mr. Charles Simmons of Coldwater.

S. N. Wisner and family attended the funeral of Mrs. Daniels at Pentecost Sunday.

We notice that the witch hazel now in blossom and very unusually full.

A few mushrooms have appeared during the last few weeks. There were none during the summer and there has been none of the toothsome variety called puffball. There are no hickory nuts, butternuts and very few black walnuts or hazel nuts The touch of color given to our lanes and roadsides by the bright berries of the bittersweet and by thorn apples is also wanting, there are practically none.

SLEEPER WINS GOVERNORSHIP

HUGHES CARRIES MICHIGAN

REPUBLICAN STATE CANDIDATES ELECTED BY LARGE MAJORITIES.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 8.—Albert E. Sleeper of Bad Axe received as handsome a majority for Governor as he anticipated, which will probably reach 75,000.

It was evident that the Wet and Dry question had no effect one way or the other on the race for the governorship.

The entire Republican state ticket was elected by comfortable majorities, which began to loom up on the early returns.

As a result of the sweep, the following are enjoying the large Republican plurality:

Dickinson as Lieutenant-Governor.
Vaughan as Secretary of State.
Odell as State Treasurer.
Fuller as Auditor-General.
Groesbeck as Attorney-General.
Fellows as Supreme Court Justice.

As many of the northern counties are yet to be heard from, it is difficult to determine Hughes' majority in the state, but it is believed that it will be easily over 70,000. Early last evening the Democrats conceded the state to Hughes. The result helped show that the Roosevelt followers in 1912 have practically all returned to the fold.

FOR CONGRESS.

Kelly in the Sixth and Bacon in the Second Districts have been elected to Congress without appreciable opposition.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee, ss.

"See How That Corn Comes Clear Off!"

"GETS-IT" Loosens Your Corns Right Off, It's the Modern Corn Wonder—Never Fails.

"It's hard to believe anything could act like that in getting a corn off. Why, I just lifted that corn right off with my finger nail. 'GETS-IT' is certainly wonderful!" Yes, "GETS-IT" is the most wonderful corn-cure ever known because you don't have to fool and putter around with your corns, harness them up with bandages or try to dig them out. "GETS-IT" is a liquid. You put on a few drops in a few seconds. It dries. It's painless. Put your stocking on right over it. Put on your regular shoes. You won't limp or have a corn "twist" in your face. The corn, callus or wart, will loosen from your toe—off it comes. Glory hallelujah! "GETS-IT" is the biggest selling corn remedy in the world. When you try it, you know why.

"It's Just Wonderful, the Way 'GETS-IT' Makes All Corns Go Quick."

"GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

HIGH POST FOR GALLINGER.

In case the Republicans win the senate, Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire, will be made president pro tem, succeeding the late Senator Clarke of Arkansas. Senator O'Gorman of New York will be chosen for the three months remaining in the present congress. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, in the event of Republican success in the senate, will become chairman of the foreign relations committee, succeeding Senator Stone of Missouri.

The election of a Republican majority in the house ends a six-years' period of Democratic control, which began in the congressional elections of 1910. At that time, the Democrats won the house on the issue of Cannonism.

The Democratic control of the senate is in doubt as a result of the Republican successes in the east. If the Republicans hold their own in the states where they now have senators in the far west, and win two of the seats held by Democrats, they will capture the senate. If they win one, they will tie it and thus control it by reason of the election of a Republican vice-president, who will cast the deciding vote on all tied issues.

The Republicans have won the Democratic senate seats of New York, New Jersey, West Virginia and Ohio, and the two seats held by Democrats in Indiana.

GERMANS BLOW UP OWN BOAT

Submarine Goes Aground on Jutland Coast and Is Destroyed.

BERLIN — The destruction of the German submarine U-20, by its own crew after the submersible had gone aground on the west coast of Jutland, is reported by the German admiralty.

The official announcement reads: "On the evening of Nov. 4 the submarine U-20 in consequence of a fog ran aground at Bobjerg, on the west coast of Jutland. All attempts to float the vessel being futile, it called for assistance, but efforts made by torpedo boats to drag it away were without success. The submarine at noon on Nov. 5 was blown up after its crew was rescued by a torpedo boat."

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative power that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Our Idea in Banking Is Just Plain Old Fashioned Helpfulness

The Tecumseh State Savings Bank is just as open to you as the Post Office. The people in it, from the President down, want to see you come in and talk things over.

If you do not know any one here, come in and get acquainted. Remember, we bankers are professional advisers in business matters, just as the doctor is in matters of health and the sick man who refuses to see a doctor, and sticks to it, is likely to have the undertaker call pretty soon.

And the man who never gets acquainted at a bank is likely to have a pretty extensive acquaintance among Bill Collectors.

There are many suggestions we can offer to the man who receives the salary check or the pay envelope, which may be as valuable to him as any raise he is apt to get.

However, we can't advise you 'til we know you. Let's get acquainted.

G. O. P. SEEMS TO HAVE HOUSE

At Best Democrats Are Short Two of Majority.

LITTLE NAVY MEN ARE OUT

Tavenner and Bailey Are Defeated for Re-election—"Cylone" Davis Beaten at Primaries—Others Didn't Run. Big Navy Man to Head Naval Committee.

Washington, Nov. 13.—From nowhere has there come any information that would give the Democrats hope of controlling the next house of representatives. The canvass of the vote in the Tenth North Carolina district, where Britt, Republican, was elected by a majority of 13 on the official count, has been postponed until Tuesday. Should the Democrats obtain both the doubtful districts in Pennsylvania, their vote would be only 216 or two less than enough to control. This seems to be the extreme limit of Democratic possibilities.

Pacificists Defeated.

One significant fact the election for members of the house discloses is the defeat of a number of the prominent pacificists. Clyde Tavenner, of Illinois, said to have been financed by Henry Ford, and Warren Worth Bailey, of Pennsylvania, the two most active anti-preparedness advocates in the house, were defeated decisively. All the "small navy" Democrats on the naval committee were retired. Oscar Callaway, of Texas, was defeated for renomination in the primaries. Finley H. Gray, of Indiana, and Frank Buchanan, of Illinois, were defeated at polls.

Both men bitterly opposed any increase in the navy and fought the administration plans at every opportunity. The two Democratic members of this committee, who favored a moderate naval program, were not candidates for re-election. They were Archibald C. Hart of New Jersey and Michael Liebel, of Pennsylvania. Another pacificist Democrat who will not be in the house is "Cyclone" Davis, who was defeated by his Texas constituents in the primaries.

Big Navy Man to Head Committee.

Under Republican control of the house, Thomas S. Butler, of Pennsylvania, a man of Quaker extraction, but who believes in a big navy, will be chairman of the committee. Julius Kahn, of California, will head the military committee from which James Hay retires to go on the bench. Had the Democrats maintained control of the house, Dent of Alabama would have been chairman. Mr. Dent was more in sympathy with the administration than Chairman Hay.

TWO AUTOS COLLIDE; MERCHANT IS KILLED

Head-on Accident Near Paris, Ill., Fatal to W. A. Link.

Paris, Ill., Nov. 13.—Death curve on Clinton road claimed another victim when W. A. Link, well known Paris merchant, was almost instantly killed, his brother, Dr. Frank Link, seriously injured and a few others badly hurt in a head-on collision of two automobiles one mile east. Driving at thirty miles an hour the machines crashed at a sharp curve, telescoped each other and rolled over into a culvert burying the occupants under the wreckage.

The sudden glaring of each other's headlights is thought to have hindered the drivers. Link died an hour after being taken to Paris hospital. He had been married to one of the nurses just three weeks ago. Miss Amy Bell received a fractured skull but will live. Chester Dalrymple of Chrisman, Ill., another occupant, lies in the hospital with a broken collar bone. Both machines are scrap iron.

TURKEY RUN IS INDIANA'S

Nature's Fairyland of Parke County Is Acquired by State.

Indianapolis, Nov. 13.—Turkey Run, nature's fairyland of glens and rock-bound gulches in Parke county, belongs to the people of Indiana.

The deed transferring it to the state passed from Harry E. Daugherty, president of the Hoosier Veneer company of Indianapolis, to a committee representing the Indiana Historical commission. The Meyer-Kiser bank of Indianapolis will hold the property as trustee until the coming legislature can provide for a state park commission to take formal possession of it in the name of the state.

Third Transfusion for Mrs Boissevain.

Los Angeles, Nov. 13.—For the third time Mrs. Inez Milholland Boissevain, noted suffragist, has been strengthened by a transfusion of blood. This operation was necessitated by a slight change for the worse in Mrs. Boissevain's condition. The blood was taken, as on a former occasion, from her sister. Miss Vida Milholland.

HILLSDALE GIRL DIES; TELEGRAPHER IS HELD

Parents of Miss Caroline Knight Have Lover Arrested.

HILLSDALE, Nov. 13.

Caroline Knight, twenty years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Knight, is dead, and Roy Benedict, of Jonesville, telegraph operator, about the same age, was arrested and held until an investigation is made as to his connection with the young woman's death.

The complaint against him was made by the father. The girl's death was caused by peritonitis. It is the supposition of the officers either that the girl herself brought about peritonitis by an unlawful operation through ignorance or received assistance from the young man. When her condition finally became alarming a doctor was called.

The girl left home a week ago and told her parents that she was going to Jonesville to work. Late last week the girl and the young man came to Hillsdale and rented a room of Mrs. Bone. The young man told Mrs. Bone that they were husband and wife. Sunday Dr. Bion Whelan was called to see the young woman, who was in great pain and he cared for her.

HESTON IS POLICE JUSTICE

"Big Bill," Michigan's Greatest Football Star, Assumes New Duties.

DETROIT, Nov. 13.

"Big Bill" Heston, whose judgment brought victory to the Maize and Blue in many of Michigan's hard-fought football battles over a decade ago, became officially Police Justice William Martin Heston when he started dispensing justice at his first session in the municipal court at Detroit.

Roy Wilson, charged with assault and battery appeared first before the justice. The complainant wanted the case put over for a week so that witnesses who worked in his restaurant might get off. "The business of this court is as important as the business of the restaurant. The defendant has been in jail a week. I will release him on his personal recognizance to appear for trial later," said Judge Heston.

ORDERS ARE MISUNDERSTOOD

And Two Persons Are Seriously Hurt When Interurbans Collide.

DEARBORN, Nov. 13.

Two persons were seriously hurt and several others were bruised when a limited and a local interurban car on the Detroit, Jackson & Chicago division of the Detroit United railway collided head-on at Duffield's curve half a mile east of Dearborn. The motorman of the local and one woman passenger were the ones seriously injured.

The accident is blamed on a misunderstanding of orders.

Moore to Get Minimum Penalty.

KALAMAZOO, Nov. 13.

Andrew Moore, convicted several weeks ago in circuit court at Kalamazoo of manslaughter, was sentenced to serve two to fifteen years in Jackson prison in circuit court. Recommendation is made that Moore be released at the expiration of the minimum period of sentence. Moore was found guilty at his trial of causing the death of Isadore Pelonx, a farmhand in Alamo township.

Is Pig-Growing Champion.

EAST LANSING, Nov. 13.

Russel Libnecht, of Saginaw, has been awarded the title of pig-growing champion of Saginaw county by Professor E. C. Lindeman, state leader of the boys' and girls' clubs. Libnecht won his title on quality, cost report and profits. He increased the weight of his pig at a cost of three and one-half cents a pound.

Said to Have Confessed Assault.

MT. CLEMENS, Nov. 13.

Claude Bernier of Amy, Oakland county, was taken before Prosecuting Attorney Kent and is alleged to have confessed to the charge of assault on Marshall Platt at Mt. Clemens, who was found unconscious on a road near Utica, and said he was robbed of $95 after being struck over the head with a shotgun.

BERNSTORFF IS NAMED IN NOTES

Dr. Graves Denies Letters Were Blackmailing.

SENSATIONS WILL BE BARED

Spy Declares That No Plot Existed to Extort Money from German Ambassador's Wife—Says Count Is Compromised in Stock Deals Illegally Entered Into.

New York, Nov. 13.—Dr. Karl Armgaard Graves, arrested at Washington on a charge of attempted blackmail, makes counter-charges against his accusers.

"My rooms were entered through a window," declared Dr. Graves at his home, 65 West Sixty-ninth street. "The place was ransacked and papers taken. Among them were two half sheets of decoded letters. Fortunately, I had not left the originals in my apartments, so my only loss is time. It will take me two days to duplicate the work. A copy of the cipher code also was taken, but that did not matter.

"The letters in my possession have been delivered to the department of justice. When they are made public, I assure you, they will create a sensation. They will reveal illegal stock transactions both here and in Europe. I cannot talk of the diplomatic aspects now, I have given my word to the department of justice."

Denies Blackmail Basis.

Dr. Graves denied emphatically that there is any legal basis for a charge of blackmail. He declared positively that the letters contain nothing reflecting in any way upon the Countess von Bernstorff, wife of the German ambassador. Those addressed to her, he said, were from a woman well known in court circles in Berlin. They were not in code, but, according to Dr. Graves, so worded as to convey secret information of a political nature to the ambassador.

Mr. Graves, at once indignant and cheerful, paced restlessly back and forth, the length of his little parlor, as he talked.

At times he laughed. Once in a while he frowned. His manner, however, was one of prevailing good humor.

"Yes," he said, "those letters will make a terrific sensation when they come out.

"Somebody must have been very much interested in what might be in my rooms. Soon after my arrest in Washington, two men representing themselves to be police detectives, appeared here. Mrs. McGarrick, the housekeeper, told them I was away. They flashed badges of some sort and insisted on searching my apartments. Mrs. McGarrick demanded that they show a search warrant, and they went away. Some time later the entrance was made by my window

"I expected something of the sort and asked for federal protection. A young man from the department of justice was waiting at my door as I returned from Washington at 8:10 o'clock in the morning. I showed him what had been done."

While Dr. Graves was speaking, the department of justice agent returned. Dr. Graves gave him one of the letters in the case, to be forwarded to Washington, and a receipt was signed for it.

Letters to Countess Not Anoymous.

"The so-called love letters," Dr. Graves resumed, "are not love letters at all. They are only cleverly constructed and inconspicuous means of conveyance of information. They are in a woman's handwriting. The writer is well known to me.

"The statement of Prince von Hetzfeldt that he had shown me $3,000 is false, and is not borne out by the government witnesses. The Countess von Bernstorff was at no time mentioned by the prince or myself in the transaction. The letters don't contain anything which could compromise a lady or lend themselves to the blackmailing of a woman. They are simply and solely of diplomatic interest, and partly compromising to the Count von Bernstorff alone. For they divulge stock gambling transactions on both sides of the water. This is something the count may be able to explain, but I cannot."

Nothing on Countess.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Count von Bernstorff notified the German government that a sealed package delivered by the Berlin foreign office to a messenger on Oct. 2 and addressed to the German embassy here had been broken open and part of the contents stolen.

It is learned that department of justice agents entered the safe of a local hotel Saturday and secured documents which had been deposited there by Armgaard Karl Graves, self-styled international spy, who was arrested here Saturday on the charge of attempting to blackmail the Countess von Bernstorff.

Whether among the papers he possessed were documents of value to the allied governments is not known here. All documents taken by the department of justice authorities here, including those addressed to the Countess von Bernstorff, are said to be of the most innocent character.

Four students in the Normal college at Ypsilanti are quarantined for smallpox. They are Miss Nina Cunningham of Ypsilanti, Miss Ruth Porter of Perry, Miss Eva Hooper of Lima, O., and Miss Vera Lamphere of Reading.

A list of loot stolen at Kalamazoo covering several written pages is charged against a thirteen year old boy who was taken into juvenile court to answer for thefts, and who had been a sort of Lord Bountiful to other children.

Of 7,214 students in state university last year, 58 per cent, or 4,188 students, were from Michigan. Twenty-eight per cent came from a radius of fifty miles. In other words, fifty-eight per cent of the students of the university came from without the 100-mile circle.

RANGE OF 1,090 IN CALIFORNIA'S VOTE

Difference in High and Low Man on Democratic Ticket.

Los Angeles, Nov. 13.—Registrar McAller's check of the vote for individual candidates for presidential electors on the Democratic and Republican tickets, completed, shows that the highest of the Democratic list is 690 votes ahead of the lowest. As the unofficial returns for the county were compiled from the first name on each ticket, this will reduce the lead of the candidates "cut" most on the Democratic ticket.

In San Francisco this difference in the vote of Democratic electors has found to be about 400 votes. The ratio carried out throughout the state will make a decided difference, but probably not enough to elect the highest of the Republican list and split the California electoral vote.

PLEASANT FOR MISS RANKIN

Members of House Plan to Extend Congresswoman Unusual Courtesy.

Washington, Nov. 13.—The election of Miss Jeanette Rankin, of Montana, to membership in the house of representatives, will not cause any revolution in that body, leaders here said. The personal comfort of the new congresswoman will be provided for no matter which party controls the house, everything will be done to show her the courtesy to which her sex entitles her and to make her feel "at home" among the politicians.

No plans have been considered, of course, but one of the Democratic leaders in the present house said that in all probability she would be assigned to a room on the main capitol building. Members of the house other than chairmen of committees, are not thus favored as a rule.

FEW RECOGNIZE PRESIDENT

He and Party Pass Through New York City Almost Unnoticed.

New York, Nov. 13.—President Wilson passed through the city on his way to Washington from Williamstown, Mass., where he attended the christening of his youngest grand child, Eleanor Paxon Sayre. The President, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson, Miss Margaret Wilson, his daughter, and Miss Helen Woodrow Wilson, left the naval yacht Mayflower at West 79th street and mortored to the Pennsylvania terminal where he boarded the 3:34 train for Washington.

Few persons recognized the President as he rode through the streets.

TAKES ACID OVER HUGHES

Indiana Woman Attempts Suicide Because Husband's Party Wins.

Columbus, Ind., Nov. 13.—Mrs. Amanda J. Morgan, aged thirty-five, wife of Lee Morgan, a moulder, is in a critical condition at her home here from carbolic acid poisoning

She took the drug with suicidal intent and the cause was the defeat of Hughes, according to a statement made by her husband, who is a Democrat.

On the Banks of the Chippewa.

Bruce, Wis. Nov. 13.—On the bank of the Chippewa river in a grotto of pines and birch trees, Alta Felton, daughter of a wealthy Bruce family, and Fred Unbreit of Caley Lake, were married near here. The epitome of their romance took place where it was started and where it grew.

8 PERSONS BELIEVED LOST AT DRAWBRIDGE

Jitney Bus Goes Into River at Vancouver, B. C.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 13.—Eight persons are believed to have lost their lives when a Vancouver-Ladner jitney bus, bound cityward, crashed through a partly open drawbridge spanning the north arm of the Frazer river.

John Smith, driver of the automobile, and R. Wilcox and Ken Ritchie of Ladner are known to be dead. A woman, thought to be a Mrs. Brown, a music teacher of North Vancouver, and her two children, were in the car. The mother and one of the girls are known to have been drowned.

Donald Stewart, manager of the Colony Farm, and Duneen Forsyth, manager of the McRae Farm at Woodward's Landing, are believed dead. Details of the accident are lacking, as is the name of the eighth person said to have met death. Three other persons were said to have had narrow escapes.

RANGE IN ELECTORS LARGE

More Than 200 Difference in Some South Dakota Counties.

Pierre, S. D., Nov. 13.—While there is no probability that the counties yet to make returns on presidential electors will change the finals, the indications are that there will be less than three thousand difference between the highest Wilson elector and the lowest Hughes elector. In some counties there is more than two hundred difference in the range of votes in the different party electors.

The later returns indicate that the popular vote on president on the Republican and Democratic candidates will be over one hundred thousand with small votes for Socialist and Prohibition candidates. The footings with fifteen counties out of sixty-two to report are Hughes 48,944; Wilson, 45,696.

Rolly Wagner, 17, was arrested in Chicago as the second member of the boy bandits of which thirteen year old Joe Vitzer, now held by local officials, was the leader. The gang staged a series of robberies at New Buffalo.

Woodrow Wilson, by the vote of the majority of the American people, has been returned to the White House for another term of four years.

The people have spoken and though the vote in the deciding states was close it is never-the-less final. Should the Republican National Committee order a recount in these various states it is not probable that Mr. Hughes could gain enough electorial votes to elect him. Had the result hinged on one state alone the only fair way to both parties would have been to recount the votes. A recount, in our opinion, will not alter the case, Woodrow Wilson is the choice of the people and will be our President for another term.

Though we may differ in party principles and may see many things in his administration to criticise let us remember that from Washington down there never was a president who was not criticised, so let us stand by the people's choice He is the president of the Uuited States.

With a majority of Republicans in the House it looks as if some of President Wilson's measures may meet with opposition, but with a Democratic Senate and his veto power he still holds the big stick.

Now we have Mr. Beakes claiming the election in the 2nd district for Congressman. It has been an "off again, on again" affair. It looks like a recount in this district.

ADMITS PALMERO SLAYING

Chicagoan Tells Janesville Authorities He Killed Black Hand Foe.

JANESVILLE, WIS. — Vincent Cornevaioe, a recent resident of Chicago, confessed to the authorities that he shot and killed Ralph Palmero, an Italian section foreman, at the instigation of Palmero's mother-in-law, Mrs. William Boschi who offered him twenty dollars for doing the job.

Palmero was killed October 26 in front of his home. The Boschi woman was arrested but denies the story. Palmero had aided the authorities in running down several Black Hand crimes.

CUTS OFF VILLAREAL'S EARS

Villa Leader Mutilates Mexican Major and Other Prisoners.

LAREDO, TEXAS.— Major Villareal of the Seventh cavalry of the de facto army, after being left for dead by Villa troops in the vicinity of Chihuahua City, arrived at Monterey, five days later, according to messages received here. His ears had been amputated and the skin had been cut in strips from his feet, the report said.

Villareal said he and several others were taken prisoner Oct. 22 at Santa Isabel and later all were badly mutilated upon orders of a Villa leader, reported to be second in command to Villa.

ALLIES FIRE ON DUTCH SHIP

Submarine and Its Escort Had No Warning, The Hague Says.

THE HAGUE — The Dutch submarine K-1 and its escort ship, the Witte Zes, while on a voyage to India, were fired on off the west coast of France by French patrol boats and again at Gibraltar by British warships. In both instances the attack was made without warning or visit, notwithstanding the fact that both vessels displayed the Dutch colors.

The shots fell short and the attackers, though realizing they had made a mistake, neither apologized nor made any effort to ascertain the effect of their fire.

Reports say that more than 70,000,000 whitefish eggs will be received at the Canadian government fish hatchery, at Point Edward, during the next few weeks, to be hatched during the winter and spring. This is 4,000,000 more eggs than was placed last season.

The first step in a project toward the establishment of a game farm in Michigan was taken by the public domain commission, when it went on record as being in favor of the purchase of what is known as the Teel farm, in Ingham county, and starting at once the breeding of the ring-necked pheasants.

A report that the government plans selling the site of old Fort Wilkins with buildings and stockade of pointed cedar posts has brought a storm of harsh criticism from Clover Land with the result that an effort is being made by the Keweenaw Historical society to raise funds and buy the place for preservation as an historical wonder spot.

The last stone of the old building of Michigan Union at Ann Arbor is gone. The workers on the first excavation have started their contract, and about thirty bids have already been received for the second contract for the excavations, and the installation of the foundation, a work to cost between $50,000 and $100,000. The new Union home will cost $1,000,000.

The famous "Klu Klux" in the "Birth of a Nation" at the Bradley Opera House, Tuesday, November 21. Matinee and Night.

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION."

D. W Griffith's, "The Birth of a Nation", has been booked for a special engagement at the Bradley Opera house November 21 matinee and night. In every respect this presentation will be the same as before including the same big symphony orchestra.

David W. Griffith chose for the theme of his great spectacle the turmoil and travail of over fifty years ago, out of which a new and united nation was born. A southerner himself, the son of General "Thunder Jake" Griffith of the Confederate army, Griffith knows the heart of the south. Through his pictorial story of what the south suffered he had brought out the brotherhood of the north and has done much to cement the friendship of the two sections.

In order to do his work conscientiously. Griffith employed a whole corps of history experts to ransack thousands of printed volumes, pamphlets, bound files of old newspapers and manuscripts. From their researches he built up his scenario.

Those who have seen, "The Birth of a Nation" no more wonder that it costs $500,000 to produce. They only marvel that it did not cost more. Take the battle of Petersburg, for instance, The reproduction of that alone cost a small fortune. Then the burning of Atlanta and reproduction in replica of Ford's theater, Washington and of the legislative hall in South Carolina all cost large sums. Sale of seats Saturday.

MUTT & JEFF'S WEDDING

With a wealth of pretty girls, new scenery, electric effects, costumes, music, etc., together with a brand new play, our old friends Mutt and Jeff, Bud Fisher's inimitable cartoon creations, will be seen in Gus Hill's latest edition entitled "Mutt and Jeff's Wedding, which comes to the Bradley Opera House next Wednesday, November 15.

Without question this offering excels all former productions of these quaint characters and no expense has been spared in making this the acme of all popular priced musical comedies.

Mr. Hill in his 25 years experience in catering to the public taste is a firm believer in the old adage, "Laugh and the world laughs with you," and he is rightly credited as being the greatest laugh producer extant.

"Mutt and Jeff's Wedding" is built for laughing purposes only. It is a laugh, a shout, a scream from beginning to end and is surrounded by a capable cast and the prettiest "Girly Chorus" attainable who can both sing and dance.

There are 25 musical numbers including the latest song hits, interspersed throughout the play which allow the audience ample breathing spells between the paroxysms of laughter.

The stage settings are elaborate and the entire production is staged under Mr Hill's personal supervision assuring a perfect up-to-date offering.

A word to the wise......Get your seats early. The advance sale opened at Hay's bakery this morning and from all indications a capacity house will greet Mutt and Jeff the same as usual. Willet's orchestra of Adrian has been engaged to play the show.

A special 60-foot baggage car of scenery is carried for the production.

Took It to Herself.

There was a short, rotund woman standing in one of the ample doorways of the capitol, and there were other women about her. The short, rotund woman, however, was conspicuously present. A courteous senator came along with a couple of friends and remarked:

"I guess that we can get around this crowd."

"Don't you call me a crowd!" indignantly shouted the rotund woman, and the senator went on, smiling, but saying nothing.—Detroit Free Press.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative power that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Pulver, the local Rexal dealer, conducted the vote for this locality.

WHEN YOU BUY GROCERIES

You are simply purchasing the necessaries to keep you and your family strong and well.

It's largely a question of nourishment—and of energy derived from food.

If you study the eatables question you will find almost invaribly, that high-grade goods and digestibility and healthfulness go together.

We discovered that long ago Also we discovered that the ONLY low-priced groceries are those that are so good that there are none any better.

You can, if you like, keep your table supplied with unquestioned grocery goodness all the year round—just by shopping here.

PRESBYTERIAN ENTERTAINMENT COURSE

The $1.00 entertainment course opens at the Presbyterian church Monday night Nov. 20 at 8 p. m. This hour enables our business people to attend the five numbers falling on Monday night. The two others are on Thursday night when places of business are closed.

The course consists of seven numbers five being furnished by the International Lyceum Bureau, of Chicago. The sixth and seventh numbers, Dr. Rice of Detroit and Hugh Diamond of Ohio are in addition to the regular course but without additional cost.

It was an exceptional good fortune we secured Dr. Rice as he is in constant demand with but two dates open, in several months when he was booked for the course.

Mr Diamond was on the program at the banquet given by Presbyterian men we honor of Washington's birthday this year. Several who attended had heard Harry Lauder, but said they preferred Diamond any time.

The five numbers furnished by the International Lyceum Burreau:

The International Glee Club
Tahan, An Indian
The Dearborn Concert Company
Wassman, The Magician
Georgia Jubilee Quartette

The course ticket costing but $1 00 admits you to seven entertainments for less than 15 cents each while single admissions to each entertainment are 50c.

Neighbor Told Her Cure for Lumbago

Rheumatism and lumbago are awful things and cause great pain and misery, but Foley Kidney Pills can rout them.

Mrs. G. H. Eveland, Duncan Mills, Ill., writes the following letter: "I was stricken down with lumbago and was unable to turn myself in bed. A neighbor brought me a half bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, and said she had been similarly afflicted and that they had helped her. So I tried them and was completely relieved by the use of two or three bottles. I have had splendid success with them and have never known them to fail. I most heartily recommend Foley Kidney Pills."

Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, inactive, sluggish kidneys, rid the body of poisons, give appetite, energy and refreshing sleep after pain. Don't neglect kidney trouble. Remove the cause with Foley Kidney Pills.

DON'T LEAVE TECUMSEH

No Need To Seek Afar The Evidence Is at Your Door.

No need to leave Tecumseh to hunt up proof, because you have it here at home. The straightforward statement of a Tecumseh residence like that given below, bears an interest for every man woman or child here in Tecumseh.

Mrs S E. Austin, S Pearl St., Tecumseh, says: "I was bothered with my kidneys and had dropsical symptoms. I had distressing pains in my hips, accompanied by rheumatic pains. At night, I was restless. I passed gravel at times and though I had consulted different physicians, I received only temporary relief. All my people had been afflicted with kidney complaint and when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, I used some. The swellings went away and I was no longer bothered by the pains."

LATER TESTIMONY

On December 11, 1906, Mrs. Austin gave the above statement and in July, 1916, she added: "I still think well of Doan's Kidney Pills and am always glad to recommend them."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doans Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. S. E. Austin has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

SEVENTH MAN DEAD AFTER I. W. W. RIOT

Former Sheriff Is Victim; Two Others May Die.

EVERETT, WASH. — Jefferson M. Beard, former sheriff of Snohomish county and a deputy sheriff in the posse which battled with Industrial Workers of the World at the Everett city wharf Sunday afternoon, is dead. He is the seventh man to lose his life because of the Industrial Workers' effort to enforce in Everett what they term "the right of free speech." Beard was shot in the chest.

E. P. Buehrer, engineer at the Everett High school, who was shot in the chest, may die, physicians say. He was a member of the citizens' posse into which members of the Industrial Workers fired from the steamer Verona, which had brought them from Seattle.

Athol Gerrill of Spokane, a student at the University of Washington, who was visiting in Everett and was on the wharf, was shot through the leg and chest, and is in a critical condition, as is Harry Blackburn, who was shot in the chest.

UNEASY OVER AMERICANS

U. S. Is Alarmed Concerning Fate of Those at Parral.

WASHINGTON — The state department is alarmed over the fate of the nine or ten Americans said to be in Parral, and in possible peril at the hands of Villistas. The report, as yet unconfirmed, that Dr. H. C. Fisher, an American citizen, was murdered some days ago at Santa Rosalia has caused much uneasiness.

The department is making inquiries through the Mexican government and British and French consuls in Mexico. Even this move is hindered because the wires between Chihuahua and Parral are cut. The British consul at Chihuahua cannot get full information. An official report has it that the Americans at Parral had warning and are hurrying for the border in order to escape the anti-American Villistas.

David Cran, Wexford county's oldest resident, is dead at the age of ninety-nine.

William Smith, a farmer, and his son were badly injured when a street car struck the wagon in which they were driving.

William Eddy, thirty-four years old, was killed by his uncle, John Strong, a victim of a halloween prank at Grand Ledge.

U. S. FOOD QUIZ BEGINS AT ONCE

Election Out of Way, Clabaugh Gets Busy.

NATIONWIDE MOVEMENT IS ON

Railroads and Coal Dealers to Be Questioned—Camplaints of Shippers to Be Acted on—Chicago Alderman Says U. S. Flour Is as Cheap in London as in Chicago.

CHICAGO, ILL.—The long awaited federal investigation of the cause of abnormal price increases in every branch of life's necessities, including milk, meat, flour and coal, is to begin officially Nov. 8. Hinton G. Clabaugh, chief of the Chicago bureau of investigation, received telegraphic orders from his superior, A. Bruce Bielasal, head of the bureau of investigation at Washington, to assign virtually his entire staff of investigators to the battle against the high cost of living. The order is nationwide Clabaugh said.

Clabaugh held a conference with United States District Attorney Clyne for the purpose of outlining a systematic probe. It was the first local action taken following the receipt of an announcement authorized by Attorney General Gregory.

To Query Business Men.

It was intimated by Clabaugh that the operations of Chicago coal firms will be the subject of scrutiny and that well business men interested in the product will be interrogated.

"When the problems of election day, with its many possibilities of vote fraud evidence are off our hands, we will undertake a genuine and searching investigation of the prices of many commodities," said Clabaugh. "The coal situation requires urgent attention, with the winter season close at hand."

Hearing Against Roads Opens.

One of the first actual steps to avert the threatening coal famine was taken when a hearing on a bill to compel 146 railroad companies to return coal cars to the tracks of the Chicago & Eastern Illinois railroad and the Chicago, Terre Haute & Southern railway was begun before Judge Landis.

The bill, which was brought against the different railroad companies by twenty-six coal companies, the owners of more than a half hundred bituminous coal mines in southern Indiana and Illinois, charges that the defendants in violation of the rules of the American Railway association, are using coal cars for other purposes and not returning them to the tracks of the owners.

Housewives Camplain.

That dangerous adulteration of bread with alum is being committed by bakers is the subject of complaints received from housewives by Alderman Willis O. Nance, chairman of the Chicago council health committee.

"I have been informed by a man in close touch with conditions in the wheat market that Minneapolis flour in London is now selling retail at about the same price as in Chicago," said Alderman Nance. "If it is true that Londoners are buying bread from American flour at rates no higher than ours, despite the transportation and shipping costs, a serious condition is revealed."

The retail grocers' side of the high cost of living problem will be presented by dealers at a meeting of the Chicago Retail Grocers and Butchers' association Wednesday evening in the Masonic Temple.

Boycott In Eggs.

A boycott on eggs, if the price keeps on advancing, is planned by leaders of the Housewives' league of Chicago, of which Mrs. H. H. Harrison is organizer.

NOMINEES VOTE AND REST FROM LABORS

President Votes at Princeton and Opponent in New York.

NEW YORK — President Woodrow Wilson and Charles E. Hughes, candidate of the dominant parties for president, remained quietly at their homes prior to the election, recuperating from the labors of the long campaign. The last word sent forward by them to the people was an expression that each felt confident of victory.

President Wilson's only activity was a trip to Princeton to cast his ballot.

Mr. Hughes remained at his hotel early in the forenoon, but later visited the Republican national headquarters, chiefly, it was said, to thank the workers there for their efforts in his behalf. He voted in his home district here and got the returns in his hotel rooms. Like Mr. Wilson, he has only the members of his family with him as the returns come.

WASHINGTON — Machine draftsmen in the Norfolk navy yard have rejected a navy department proposal for overtime work in order to dispose of a temporary accumulation of repair business and threaten to strike.

GERMANS BLOW UP OWN BOAT

Submarine Goes Aground on Jutland Coast and Is Destroyed.

BERLIN — The destruction of the German submarine U-20, by its own crew after the submersible had gone aground on the west coast of Jutland, is reported by the German admiralty.

The official announcement reads: "On the evening of Nov. 4 the submarine U-20 in consequence of a fog ran aground at Bobjerg, on the west coast of Jutland. All attempts to float the vessel being futile, it called for assistance, but efforts made by torpedo boats to drag it away were without success. The submarine at noon on Nov. 5 was blown up after its crew was rescued by a torpedo boat."

TERRIFIC FIGHT ON WEST FRONT

Allies Making Tremendous Effort to Break Foe's Line.

12 1-2 MILE ATTACK FAILS

Berlin Admits French Gained in St. Pierre Vaast Woods—Bombardment Reported Unprecedented — Paris Claims Gains Are Going On—Admits Germans Also Gained.

BERLIN — Another tremendous effort of the British and French to "break through" on the Somme has failed.

The attempt was made Sunday on a front of twelve and a half miles from LeSars to Bouchavesnes and brought to the allies only the heaviest losses. Their only gain of ground was in a small sector south of Sallisel, where, at the cost of sanguinary losses, they gained a few trench lines in St. Pierre-Vaast wood.

They were later driven from most of the captured ground by a German counter-attack. The German troops also wrested from the French some houses in Sallisel.

Unprecedented Artillery Fire.

The attack was preceded by artillery fire which transcended anything yet witnessed in the western theater of war. The French and British artillery combined in hurling a storm of shells upon the German positions for more than twenty-four hours before the attack was launched.

Troops from all parts of Germany, led by three noted commanders, Generals Baron Marschall, Von Deimling and Von Garnier, withstood this fearful pounding and when the attacking waves advanced they were met by a terrific machine gun and shrapnel fire which tore great gaps in their ranks and sent them staggering back to their trenches.

Throughout the day the assaults were repeated with no better effect. More than 300 prisoners and a number of machine guns were taken.

Driving Germans from Positions.

PARIS — The French troops of General Foch continue their successful advance which is slowly driving the Germans from St. Pierre Vast Wood, the important and powerfully fortified salient position south of Sallisel.

The night's official statement reports further progress for the French troops in the northern part of the wood. The number of prisoners taken in the last two days has been increased to more than 600.

The French late Sunday were forced to cede small sections in the wood and some ground in Sallisel before a powerful counter attack, the war office states.

The British consolidated their gains of Sunday. They, too, were forced to give up some ground in the region of Butte de Warlencourt but Sunday's attacks have straightened out and considerably improved the allied front.

Our Idea in Banking Is Just Plain Old Fashioned Helpfulness

The Tecumseh State Savings Bank is just as open to you as the Post Office. The people in it, from the President down, want to see you come in and talk things over.

If you do not know any one here, come in and get acquainted. Remember, we bankers are professional advisers in business matters, just as the doctor is in matters of health and the sick man who refuses to see a doctor, and sticks to it is likely to have the undertaker call pretty soon.

And the man who never gets acquainted at a bank is likely to have a pretty extensive acquaintance among Bill Collectors.

There are many suggestions we can offer to the man who receives the salary check or the pay envelope, which may be as valuable to him as any raise he is apt to get.

However, we can't advise you 'til we know you. Let's get acquainted.

JOHNSON ATTACK LIE, ROOSEVELT

Colonel Denounces Story That He Criticized Governor.

PRAISES LATTER'S LOYALTY

Bull Moose Leader and George W. Perkins Take Hand in Bitter Dispute Over California—Newspaper Story That They Blamed Governor Johnson for Hughes Failure Is Denounced.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.—Theodore Roosevelt and George W. Perkins have taken a hand in the bitter dispute between the Progressives and the old guard factions of the Republican party within the state, as a result of the plurality given Wilson over Hughes deciding the national election's outcome.

Roosevelt and Perkins wired to Chester Rowell, Progressive leader, Johnson's right hand man, Republican national committeeman and chairman of the Republican state central committee, denials of a published report that Roosevelt was incensed at Johnson's failure to win California for Hughes while he himself won two to one for the U. S. senate.

Roosevelt Extols Johnson's Loyalty.

Roosevelt's wire said: "Mr. Perkins has shown me your message. The report is a preposterous falsehool and I yesterday wrote the editor of the New York paper which I think is probably responsible for the story, that it is a mischievous and sensational untruth without the smallest particle of foundation. I suppose efforts will now be made by scoundrels or fools or mere sensation mongers to spread abroad such falsehoods and other similar falsehoods. I have just heard from Peter Clark MacFarlane of the governor's continual eloquent appeal for Hughes and his kindly references to myself in his speeches during the great campaign he waged. The effort to make trouble between the governor and myself is doomed to ridiculous failure."

Fabrication, Says Perkins.

Perkins message read:

"Message received. The story is a fabrication in toto from beginning to end. As I wired Johnson yesterday, I gave out an interview here Saturday assauling the people who were attacking Johnson and saying you and he were the only men in the state that tried consistently and intelligently to bring about Hughes' election. None of our papers here has any such story as that you refer to. I cannot imagine from what source it started. Please telegraph me exactly what the Times said so that I may at once wire that paper and demand that they publish my denial. I also wired Johnson yesterday that the papers here published in full his admirable statement of Saturday."

DR. GRAVES DEFIES GERMAN EMBASSY

Grave International Complications to Follow Exposure.

NEW YORK, N. Y. — "Grave international complications will follow as soon as the text of the two Countess von Bernstorff letters are made public. I happen to know on unquestioned authority that Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador to Washington, is only retained at his post through pull of the strongest kind at Berlin. The United States government will soon awake to his status, and I have sufficient confidence in the wisdom of the United States government to act accordingly."

Dr. Armgaard Karl Graves, now under bail on charges of attempted blackmail following an attempt to collect $3,000 upon the delivery of three letters to Prince von Hatzfeldt, of the German embassy at Washington has expressed himself.

"I haven't the slightest fear of prosecution at the hands of the embassy," Dr Graves continued. "They wouldn't dare appear against me. Any charges pending will be heard by an all-wise government, and I haven't the least fear of the outcome. I have committed no wrong, let alone a crime. I merely sought to remunerate myself for the conveyance to this country of three letters that are gravely important.

"I may have done things that were unethical in my time, but I never was so foolish as to try to blackmail a woman. Tampering with women is like playing with a stick of dynamite. I, for one, see the danger."

A GENERAL SURVEY OF THE WAR.

Thursday, Nov. 9.—Smashing into the Teutonic advance in Dobrudja and on the Transylvania front, the Russians re-enforcements seem to have saved Roumania. In the eastern Roumanian province the defenders have pressed back the German-Bulgar-Turkish army commanded by Field Marshal von Mackensen, forty-two miles from Babadagh to Topla, twelve miles beyond Hirsova on the Danube, which has been reoccupied.

Friday, Nov. 10.—Teutonic forces in Volhynia drove the Russians from strong positions and captured 3,000 prisoners and many guns.

In Transylvania the Teutons were successful in further driving to the southward the Roumanians.

In Dobrudja the Russo Roumanian forces continue their spectacular offensive. Von Mackenson has been driven from the Bucharest railroad at several points.

Saturday, Nov. 11.—The Russian and Roumanian advance in Debrudja, toward the Tchernavoda-Constanza railway line, continues. Petrograd reports the occupation of two more towns alon gthe Danube, between Pirsova and Tchernavoda. Russian troops advancing southward on the right bank of the Danube river occupied the village of Ghisdarechti and Topal. Topal is twelve miles south of Hirsova.

On the western front the British in an attack i nthe Thiepval-Courcelette area, have taken the eastern part of the Ragin artench on a front of 1,000 yards.

The other portion of this trench was taken on October 21. Berlin admits a British gain northeast of Courcelette, but says only a small portion of an advanced trench was entered.

Sunday, Nov. 12.—The Russian army, which is invading Transylvania to assist the Roumanians in the defense of their western frontier, has gained further success the war offices announces, and has penetrated Transylvania a distance of more than fifty-five miles below the Bukowina border. In Dobrudja the advance against Field Marshal von Mackenson's army continues.

After an all-day battle in Galicia, southeast of Lemberg, Austro-German troops captured a section of the Russian trenches, the Berlin war office reports.

FRANZ JOSEPH AGAIN IS ILL

Berlin Is Authority That Emperor's Condition Has Been Grave.

BERLIN — Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria-Hungary has been ailing for some days from a slight attack of catarrh. The Emperor is able to continue his daily work as usual and receives the regular daily reports.

Latest advices from Vienna state that the aged monarch's condition already is improved, and his physicians are quoted as saying that his health is re-established.

Mrs. Boissevain Slightly Improved.

LOS ANGELES, CAL.—Slight improvement was reported in the condition of Mrs. Inez Milholland Boissevain, New York suffrage leader who is gravely ill from anemia at a hospital here She passed a fairly good night, her nurses said, and showed a little more strength following the third transfusion of blood into her veins.

Germany Plans Compulsory Labor Law

AMSTERDAM — Berlin newspapers announce that there will shortly be brought forward a bill for compulsory labor on th epart of civilians of Germany. The report has not been confirmed officially.

RAILWAY MEN TALK STRIKE

Order Voted Last Summer Still in Effect, Says Lee.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Failure of the railroads of the country to live up to the spirit and intent of the Adamson eight-hour law will result in the strike vote of the four big railroad brotherhoods being put into effect, it was announced here by William G. Lee, head of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, after a three-hour conference between brotherhood and railway representatives.

The conference was called to discuss and if possible reach some agreement or conclusion as to working out the provisions of the law which goes into effect Jan. 1. The strike vote referred to by Mr. Lee is that taken prior to the conference between the railroad and brotherhood heads and President Wilson which was followed by the passage of the Adamson law after the brotherhoods had threatened to put the vote into effect at that time.

DEMOCRATIC DEBT $300,000

National Committee Will Try to Make Up Deficit by Pupular Subscription.

NEW YORK, N. Y. — The Democratic national committee is $300,000 in debt after conducting the campaign for President Wilson's re-election, according to an announcement from Henry Morgenthau, treasurer.

Morgenthau plans to raise $200,000 of this deficit through popular subscriptions in 2,000 American towns, the announcement said, and will raise the rest through appeal to various Democratic organizations.

Chilton Plans Contest.

CHARLESTON, W. VA. — United States Senator William B. Chilton, Democrat, will contest the election of Howard E Sutherland Republican, at last week's balloting it was made known here.

Horse Breaks Man's Skull.

BURLINGTON, IOWA — J. W. Cox went t osleep with his head in a stall, A horse laid down and crushed the man's skull.

The fate of two of the constitutional amendment voted on Nov. 7, the one on fraternal societies, and the one on the repeal of local laws, is anxiously awaited by some state officials. Aside from general rumors that the proposed fraternal amendment has been snowed under, no person seems to know anything about the result.

BRITISH SMASH LINES IN WEST

Germans Defeated In Surprise Blow on Ancre.

4,000 PRISONERS ARE TAKEN

On Front of Five Miles Britons Advance at Places to Depth of Mile. Positions Taken Were Believed Impregnable—Battle Is Still Raging at Several Points.

LONDON, ENG. — What may become known as the battle of the Ancre opened when the British forces struck a fresh blow against the German front in the region of the Ancre river. There had been no serious fighting in this sector since the opening of the British push July 1, when the British line of attack extended five miles north of the Ancre to Gemmecourt. But after a few days, no progress being made in this region, efforts were concentrated further to the south.

Apparently the Germans were taken by surprise, and they offered no serious resistance, except before Serre. The attack was carried out over a front extending five miles on both sides of the Ancre against positions which the Germans had held for two years, and which they considered impregnable.

Over 3,000 Prisoners.

The sudden rush resulted in the capture of Beaumont-Hamel and Saint Pierre Divion, with a gain of new ground of a maximum depth of one mile and a large number of prisoners, between 3,000 and 4,000 having already been reported.

The positions north of the river are described as of extraordinary strength, Beaumont-Hamel equaling Thiepval in the extent and security of its dugouts.

The fighting continues north of Serre. This latest British advance, in conjunction with that on the Schwabenle-Cars line threatens the envelopment of Miraumont, on the Albert-Arras railway.

In all the positions of the Germans north of the Ancre there was a profusion of connected machine gun redoubts, elaborate telephone and electric light systems and great caverns capable of sheltering companies of infantry. Prisoners say it was believed Beaumont-Hamel could not be taken by the British.

Mackensen Caught in Rear?

LONDON — A severe reverse, which may turn out to be an overwhelming defeat, dooming his army, is reported for Field Marshal von Mackensen in Dobrudja from Petrograd.

The exact meaning of the communication, which was relayed by wireless from Rome, is not clear, but its import bespeaks emphatic success for Russo-Roumanian arms.

That the Russians have crossed the Danube at two points south of Tchernavoda is the gist of the message. Of this there are two interpretations, if the announcement be correct.

Either the Teutonic-Bulgar-Turkish invaders of the Roumanian province have been hurled back to the south of the Constanta-Tchernavoda railroad, the capture of which was the first objective of the incursion into Dobrudja, or the Mackensen army has been caught in the rear.

Brilliant Victory for Serbs.

A brilliant victory has been gained by the Serbs and French on the western Macedonian front, according to a Saloniki dispatch. Continuing their pursuit of the retreating Bulgars and Germans in the Cerna bend, the entente forces drove the enemy back nearly two miles, capturing 1,000 prisoners.

The village of Iven, five miles north of occupied Polog and ten miles within the Serbian border, was seized The foe lost sixteen field guns, twenty-one caissons and fourteen limbers.

Paris declares that since Sept 1 the German-Bulgar army has been diminished 6,000 prisoners, seventy-two cannon and fifty-three machine guns.

G. O. P. CLAIMS THE HOUSE

Democrats Must Have Three More Districts to Control.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Democratic leaders admit that it looked as if there must be a shift in at least three districts before they could hope to control the house of representatives in the next congress.

Republicans still stick to their claims of 218 with two Pennsylvania districts in doubt upon which the two parties may divide evenly. The result there will be determined when the soldier vote is convassed. If the Democrats secure both these districts, in one of which a Republican was elected on the face of present returns, they will still be short of votes enough to control the house.

Teutons Shell Russ Naval Base.

BERLIN — German torpedo-boat forces on Friday night entered the Gulf of Finland and effectively shelled the Russian naval base of Baltic port at short range, according to an official statement issued by the German admiralty. Baltic port is near the entrance to the Gulf of Finland, thirty-eight miles west of the Russian naval station of Reval. The port is the terminus of the Baltic railroad.

Elder Wolcott L. Littlejohn, eighty-two years old, is dead at his home in Level Park, following a short illness of heart disease.

Dr. Walter C. Dunham, an Albion dentist, died at the city hospital following an operation for appendicitis. He was ill less than a day.

The final estimated yield of wheat in Michigan is 16.19 bushels an acre, according to the crop report issued by Secretary of State Vaughan.

The estimated wheat yield is 12,404,710 and the condition of growing wheat as compared with an average per cent is 86 in the state of Michigan.

Cecil, the two years old son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Smith, toddled into the yard to see the ducks swim and fell head first in a tub, drowning at Holland.

HIGH POINTS IN CAREER OF WOODROW WILSON

Thomas Woodrow Wilson was born at Staunton, Va., Dec. 28, 1856, the son of Rev Joseph R. and Jessie Woodrow Wilson. His ancestry was Scotch-Irish on both sides. At two years of age his parents took him to Augusta, Ga., where he spent his early boyhood and entered school.

In 1870 the Wilsons moved to Columbia where his father became minister of the Presbyterian church. "Tommy" continued his schooling here until 1873, when he entered Davidson (S. C.) college In 1874 the family moved again, to Wilmington, N C, the future President with them The next year he entered Princeton university, being graduated in 1879 after taking honors as a debater and a writer on political economy. It was while in Princeton that Wilson laid the foundations for his broad knowledge of economics and international law that later landed him in the Presidency.

After taking a year's law course at the University of Virginia, Wilson started practicing law at Atlanta, in 1881 In 1883 he entered Johns Hopkins university for a two years' course in history and political economy.

In 1885 at Savannah Woodrow Wilson (he now dropped the Thomas) married Miss Ellen Louise Axton, whose father, like his own, was a Presbyterian clergyman. For three years he taught political economy and history at Bryn Mawr then for two years at Wesleyan university Middletown, Conn.

Then he became professor of jurisprudence and politics at Princeton, and in his thirteenth year as professor there was elected president of the university in 1902.

In his eight years' service as this university's head, during which he democratized the institution (it had been known as a "club for rich men's sons") Wilson attracted the attention of Col George Harvey, noted New York editor, who fathered the Wilson Presidential boom.

In 1910 Wilson resigned at Princeton's president, after being over-ruled in a dispute with the trustees. The same year he was elected governor of New Jersey and immediately started a fight which ended in the demolition of the bipartisan machine that had ruled the state, and restored popular government.

His governmental exploits in New Jersey led to Wilson's nomination for the Presidency by the Democrats in 1912, after a hard fight, and his subsequent election.

Mrs Wilson's death in 1814, when the country was facing a grave international crisis, cast a pall of sorrow over the entire nation.

On December 18, 1915, the President married Mrs Edith Bolling Galt, widow of a well known business man.

His re-nomination was questioned, and the record made in his first years in the White House brought about his re election at the polls.

AMERICAN CAPTAIN IS PRISONER ON U-BOAT

Commander of Columbian Tells of His Experience.

CORUNNA, SPAIN — Captain Frederick Curtis of the American steamer Columbian, who arrived here with the rescued crew of this steamship, declares that he was a prisoner on board the German submarine U-49 for six days after the destruction of his vessel.

All of the 109 members of the Columbian's crew were saved, Captain Curtis stated. Captain Curtis said the Columbian was warned before she was torpedoed and sunk by the U-49. The crew was left in lifeboats and the captain was taken on board the submarine.

Captain Arthur Patterson of the British steamer Seatonia says that he also was a prisoner on board the U-49 for eight days, during which time he heard the guns of the submarine in action and also heard distinctly the explosion of the torpedo which he learned later blew up the Norwegian ship Balto, soon after which Captain Yelussen of the Norwegian ship Fordalen joined him in the narrow prison on board the submarine, where they were joined the following day by Captain Curtis.

RETIRES AT THIRTY-SIX.

Pederson Gets Double Credit For Fourteen Years' Service.

San Juan, Porto Rico.—A record for early retirement from the United States army except for disability seems to have been made by Peder Pederson, who served as a soldier in Porto Rico, Cuba and the Philippines for fourteen out of his total sixteen years' service. He has been retired at the age of thirty-six, with a soldier's pension of $67 a month, being credited with thirty years' service—twenty-eight for foreign duty, two for home duty.

Pederson benefited by the army regulations providing for double credit for foreign service. He retired as a sergeant of ordnance and will live in Washington. He is not married, and he says that after he enjoys a little hunting and fishing he will try for some government position open to an ex-soldier.

BOY SUES CITY FOR $10,000.

Lowell Won't Let Munitions Worker Back to School.

Lowell, Mass.—Fred H. Desmond, eighteen years old, has brought suit for $10,000 against this city because the school board has refused to let him reenter high school after working in a munition factory. Young Desmond left school to work in a cartridge factory, but now wants to go back to his studies. In its refusal to let him do so the school board said:

"It is for the best interests of both the school and the boy that he should not be allowed to re-enter."

A rumor was reported upon the street that one of our factory employers caused to be posted throughout his shop a notice advising all employees to vote the "republican ticket" and intimating that if they did not, they would forfeit their jobs. Where this report came from, we have been unable to ferret out, but it appears to be one of the dangerous forms of gossip that infect a Community.

That there is no truth in the statement, we are very sure, for the head of this industry denied it in our presence and, as his word has always been unquestioned, we have put it down as idle twaddle. Why it is that people persist is spreading a dangerous rumor of this kind is beyond us The moral support, and good wishes of every citizen living in Tecumseh should be exerted in behalf of the manufacturing industries, that are doing business here They are the outgrowth of the brains and energy of our own citizens who are all men of good standing in this community and above the petty little charge that has been referred to above

It would be a keen blow to Tecumseh to lose any one of our factories as they are giving employment to considerable over 100 men and women more than 500 people are depending upon the wages paid by those factories. Just such treatment has influenced manufactories to leave a community. We know of one of our factories that have considered a removal of their plant to another locality. We cannot afford to lose one single industry from our midst, We want more.

If you have any knocks in your system get rid of them and boost.

MISS FRANC ATEN

Frances Elizabeth Aten was born August 27, 1833, and departed this life Tuesday Nov. 14, 1916. She was born at the farm home in Tecumseh township and has always lived in this vicinity making her home with her brother James, and later they moved into the village. She was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church and the Order of Eastern Star

Hers was a pleasing personality that endeared her to her family and a host of friends All that care and love and an anxious household could do for her comfort was done during the long weeks of her illness. But, despite all, the call came and she answered it gladly for she was longing for rest in the Home Above.

One brother John Aten of Deerfield and a number of nephews and nieces are left to mourn their loss together with her sister in-law Mrs. James Aten who has given her a daughter's loving care for many years.

The funeral will be held from the home this (Friday) afternoon at 1:30, Rev. W. A Rex officiating. Burial on the family lot in Brookside The members of the O. E. S. will attend in a body.

MICHIGAN NEWS BRIEFS

Additional Farmers' Institute dates are announced by Professor L. R. Taft, state superintendent, as follows: Iosco county, Hale, December 5; Sherman, December 6; Grant, December 7, and Alabaster, December 8.

The state county Y. M. C. A. secretaries in session at East Lansing, voted to start a state-wide campaign to raise funds to send additional Y. M. C. A. secretaries to Europe to work among the war prisoners.

Congressman P. H. Kelley, Rep., has been re-elected from the Sixth district by a plurality of more than 6,000, according to practically complete returns. Congressman Kelley carried every county in the district.

Henry Frobel, aged twenty-one, a clerk in a grocery store at St. Joseph confessed to taking indecent liberties with a four year old child, whom he enticed into the rear of his store room. He signed a written confession.

Mrs. Emma Travis was acquitted of having murdered her husband, William Travis, of Grant, and Clarence Myers, her youthful affinity, was sentenced to life imprisonment at Marquette in circuit court at White Cloud.

Under the new law the war department has set November 30 as the last day on which national guardsmen shall take the so-called dual oath and has notified units that those which fail to comply cannot share in federal funds.

At a meeting of the building committee of the Michigan union of the University of Michigan, the contract for second excavations and foundations to grade was let to the Hauser-Owen-Ames company, of Grand Rapids, for $29,980.

About 50,000 trees were shipped to various parts of the state by the forestry department of the Michigan Agricultural college during the planting season just closed. Sugar maple, black walnut and hardwood varieties were the most popular this fall.

Milk Puts Out Fire.

Altoona, Pa.—Milk has proved just as efficacious as water in extinguishing a fire, even if it is a bit more expensive. The dairy barn of A. M. Wasson, near Tyrone, was struck by lightning. Mrs. Wasson and her two sons, Alton and Robert, were in the building milking., Flames followed the bolt, and a delay would have doomed the structure. A dozen gallons of milk, the result of the day's milking, was at hand. The milk saved the barn and stock.

Hearing Is Believing

That is the final supreme test of the Columbia Grafonola—as of any other musical instrument. Tone is the ultimate demand.

And it is tone that has given Columbia Grafonolas the place they hold. It is their tone—unmatchable in its natural purity and absolute fidelity—that justifies their description as incomparable instruments of music.

We do not want you to be content with reading this advertisement—or even with looking at the instrument. Hear it. It is the best selling upright type of

AUTO ACCIDENT

A Maxwell touring car coming from the north collided with the Gratz truck at the corner of Evans and Logan streets this morning about 10 o'clock The truck was driven by Tracy Gratz who claims he could not see the touring car as a car on the railroad track obscured his view.

In trying to avoid the collision the Maxwell car ran into an ornamental light post standing on the corner. The car came out of the mix-up with but little damage but the truck was not so fortunate The front axle and radius rod were bent, the front fender damaged, also one of the front lights. Nobody hurt.

ALBERT WARING

Albert Waring, whose death occurred at his home in Tecumseh Saturday, Nov. 11th, after a prolonged illnesss of heart trouble, was the youngest of seven children born to Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Waring Of this family his brothers John and William and twin sister Abigail have gone before. One sister Mrs. Sarah Eaton and two brothers Joseph and Alva survive him.

His parents were among the pioneer settlers of Lenawee county. Albert was born on the old Waring farm two miles east of Tecumseh Feb. 10, 1851, and resided there continuously until six years ago when he moved to the village, but at the time of his death he still owned a part of the farm

In 1879 he was married to Miss Julia Sisson Her death occurred in 1895. In 1900 he was united in marriage to Miss Jennie Gallatin and she who has so faithfully and tenderly cared for him during his long months of suffering is left to mourn his loss

Several years ago he united with the Methodist Episcopal church of Tecumseh and has since been a faithful and consistent member.

In agricultural circles Mr. Waring was widely known throughout the county. He was a man of good judgment and sterling qualities, of a kind and benevolent disposition, modest and quiet, ever ready to give aid and sympathy to those in distress, a good and kind neighbor He was charitable in his judgments, never unjustly criticising but always looking for some good quality to commend He was a friend to the old and young alike and will be missed and mourned by many for he was a friend ot many.

> "It is a good thing to be rich, and a good thing to be strong, but it is a better thing to be loved by many friends."

The largely attended funeral services were held at the home Tuesday afternoon when words of comfort and appreciation were spoken by the Rev. G. H. Whitney of Chelsea Burial was on the family lot in Brookside.

THEY WERE A JOLLY CROWD

It was a happy bunch of ladies who enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Willis Smith at her farm home Wednesday. They were Miss Kyle's class of the Presbyterian Sunday-school, some 35 attending.

Many of the ladies were dressed in old fashioned garb, but certainly "Little Lord Fauntleroy" Weir and "Minnehaha" Waring have missed their calling. They were assisted in the fun making by Sally Butrick, Betsey Bobbin Benedict, Susan Cutting, Jane Nobles and any number of lesser lights.

A great potluck dinner where each seemed to vie with the rest in furnishing of their best, was followed by a short business session. The ladies voted $100.00 towards one of the new rooms of the church to be used as their study room.

A program of readings followed, the participants being Mesdames Weir, Butrick, Montgomery and Kent also little Elizabeth Snow.

As the sun went down behind the hill the party broke up, each declaring it had been the jolliest meeting the class had ever enjoyed.

SEVEN THOUSAND DOLLARS FOR CHRISTMAS

If money helps make a Christmas merry, then surely this Christmas should be a merry one, for next month we will mail checks for more than $7000.00 to the members of our Christmas Savings Club.

Many have already finished the payments on their cards. Those who have not should plan to be entirely paid up by December 4, as we cannot accept payments after that date. Look at your cards and plan accordingly.

THE NEXT CLUB.

The next club will start in December. This year we have a newer and better system. A bank book instead of a card for every member.

There will be further announcements later and you can then determine which class or classes you wish to join. In the meantime just make up your mind that you will be a member next year.

This is a plan by which we have helped the people of this community to save nearly $20,000 in three years.

BUSINESS CHANGE

Clifford Brandow formerly of Elgin, Ill., has moved to Tecumseh and will be associated with his brother-in-law Homer Marsh in the garage business.

Mr. Brandow is an expert machinest. The firm will handle the Overland car and will conduct a general repair business and service station. John McIntyre formerly associated with Mr. Marsh retired from the business October 1.

IMPROVEMENTS AT SAND LAKE

It is certainly reported that a gentleman from Detroit will erect a Club House and lay out Golf Links next spring at Sand Lake for the especial use of the cottages, many of whom come from Detroit and vicinity yearly. As a summer resort Sand Lake is growing in favor every year.

Henry C. Conkling Stricken on Train.

Rev. W. A. Rex received a letter from Rochester, N. Y. telling of the serious illness of Henry C. Conkling, who left Tecumseh Nov. 7, for his usual winter sojourn in Washington, D. C. He spent a week with friends in Cleveland, a few days in Buffalo, and then started for Rochesetr. He was taken very ill on the train and when he reached Rochester was taken at once to the hospital. His son-in-law, Lyster Dewey is with him. It is thought that his death may not be far away.

LIBRARY CONTEST

What is known as a "library contest" is being put on here in Tecumseh and has already attracted quite a little attention. In this issue we are printing a display ad which explains the plan and gives you a list of the merchants who will give the votes.

The library is now on display in McCann & Bowen's window and consists of one hundred volumes which have been selected for reference books and valuable for school, church, lodge or society work.

The library will go to the school, church, lodge or society securing the largest number of votes. The contest will start Nov. 17 and close May 1st.

You will be interested in this contest. Watch for further announcements. The standing of contestants will be published in this paper from time to time.

The Herald will give votes on each new subscription, on past due subscriptions and single copy sales. A coupon will also appear in the Herald which will be good for 25 votes.

MUTT & JEFF'S WEDDING

The big musical comedy, "Mutt & Jeff's' Wedding" a productioin by Gus Hill was played at the Bradley Opera House, Wednesday evening to a packed house. There was no doubt of the fact that the people enjoyed it for the evening was a scream from beginning to end.

The characters were unusually well taken by John Gorman as Mutt and our small friend Jeff was taken by Harty Healy.

Healy was not only small but a real actor and was not only make believe funny but delivered the real goods

The songs were good and the chorus work unusually good. Some fine costumes were seen with frequent changes. The singing of Oliver DeGrant who took the part of "Pasquale Salami" and Callie VanVliet as "Sadie Castile" were much enjoyed. An orchestra from Adrian furnished the music and added much to the enjoyment of the evening.

From the crowd that attended this attraction it would seem to indicate that our friends Mutt and Jeff would live long in the hearts of the people.

CANNED "FIRSTS"

That's the grade we stick to when we stock up with Canned Goods.

It makes no difference what we are buying, we stick to our rule of—"Firsts" or nothing.

Of course we know that "seconds" are cheaper, but that's no argument in their favor.

We believe that when it's a choice between pure, healthful Canned Goods and some other sort, price shouldn't be considered at all.

If you like to be safe and sure, buy the brands we handle.

This applies to Canned Fruits, and Vegetables, Fish, Fowl and Meats

THE THIRD QUARTERLY MEETING OF CO-OPERATIVE ASS'N

The third quarterly meeting of the Tecumseh Co-Operative Association was held in Co-Operative Hall Wednesday evening.

Routine business was transacted and reports covering the first ten months of the current year were read.

The Co-Operative Association in less than two years that they have been organized have shown a remarkable growth. In the past ten months they show a total business transacted of $233,717.63. Of this amount $159,788.02 have been returned to to farmers from the sale of grain, produce, live stock, etc.

The last ten months of last year ending Dec. 31 showed a total business outside of shipment of live stock produce, etc. of $60,200, while the first ten months of the current year show a total of $105641.42,, a gain of $45,441.42 or 75 per cent. The average monthly sales have amounted $10,564.14.

The report was very gratifying to the stockholders and the outlook for the coming year is unusually bright.

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION"

The ads all say that this is your last and only chance to see G. W. Griffith's mightiest spectacle, the greatest motion picture production the world ever has or will see "The Birth of a Nation" and the saving is so as this is absolutely the only time that this wonderful production will be seen in Tecumseh. There will be no return date so arrange to see either the matinee or evening performance next Tuesday, November 21st when the, "Birth of a Nation" will be at the Bradley Opera house for both matinee and night shows. So much has already been said of this wonderful picture that it need not be repeated here but we will say that it is worth $5.00 a seat. See, "The Birth of a Nation" because of the wonder of the pictures themselves and because it will make a better American of you.

The following clipping "The Adrian Telegram" gives you some idea of what the people think of this picture in other towns and the business it draws. The seats will be on sale at Hay's Bakery (phone 90) Saturday morning for both matinee and night. Already the management has received many orders for tickets for both performance so get your tickets as early as possiple. Matinee at 2:30 Doors open at 1:30. Evening performance at 8:15 Doors open at 7:30

Adrian Telegram Tues. Nov. 14

Evidently the first appearance here some time ago of, "The Birth of a Nation," the famous Griffith moving picture of the civil war and reconstruction periods, served as an advertisement. On its second presentation at the Croswell opera house last night, the theater was crowded to the limit, standing room only being sold during the last fifteen minutes before the rise of the curtain. It was one of the largest audiences ever assembled at Croswell opera house.

The picture of course has not changed in the least. The same southern scenes slave market, plantation, halls of congress, war in all its horrors, reconstruction errors, misplaced confidences, the Klu-Klux-Klan, murders, fights, love scenes, floggings and the mixture of politics, assasination of Lincoln, all were given just as before. The same fine orchestra was present, and rendered appropriate music. The audience was more demonstrative than would naturally be thought of an Adrian crowd. They applauded, cheered, laughed and cried with the emotions played upon, and all stood uncovered at the rendition of the national air at the finish. "The Birth of a Nation" seems worthy of repetition. It is apparently unexcelled in the moving picture line, judging from its popularity.

Neighbor Told Her Cure for Lumbago

Rheumatism and lumbago are awful things and cause great pain and misery, but Foley Kidney Pills can rout them.

Mrs. G. H. Eveland, Duncan Mills, Ill., writes the following letter: "I was stricken down with lumbago and was unable to turn myself in bed. A neighbor brought me a half bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, and said she had been similarly afflicted and that they had helped her. So I tried them and was completely relieved by the use of two or three bottles. I have had splendid success with them and have never known them to fail. I most heartily recommend Foley Kidney Pills."

Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, inactive, sluggish kidneys, rid the body of poisons, give appetite, energy and refreshing sleep after pain. Don't neglect kidney trouble. Remove the cause with Foley Kidney Pills.

Mrs S. E. Austin, 8 Pearl St., Tecumseh says "I was bothered with my kidneys and had dropsical symptoms. I had distressing pains in my hips accompanied by rheumatic pains. At night, I was restless I passed gravel at times and though I had consulted different physicians, I received only temporary relief All my people had been afflicted with kidney complaint and when I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills, I used some The swellings went away and I was no longer bothered by the pains "

LATER TESTIMONY

On December 11, 1906, Mrs. Austin gave the above statement and in July, 1916, she added: "I still think well of Doan's Kidney Pills and am always glad to recommend them "

Corns Loosen, Lift Right Off

Nothing But "GETS-IT" Will Do This to Corns and Calluses.

If you've ever had corns, you've tried lots of things to get rid of them—salves that eat your toe and leave the corn remaining, cotton rings that make your corns bulge out like pop-eyes, scissors and knives that make corns bleed and sore, harnesses and bandages that fill up your shoe, press on the corn and make your foot feel like a paving block. What's the use? Why not do what millions are doing, take 3 seconds off and apply "GETS-IT." It dries, you put your stocking on right away, and wear your regular shoes. Your corn loosens from the toe, it lifts right off. It's painless. It's the common-sense way, the simplest, easiest, most effective way in the world. It's the national corn-cure. Never fails.

You Can't Hide Corn Misery. Stop Fooling Around! Use "GETS-IT" Tonight and See the Corns Vanish.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative power that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Sold by Druggists, Price 75c.

SERBIANS BACK IN OWN CAPITAL

Monastir Is Captured by the Entente Allies.

BERLIN ADMITS EVACUATION

Serbians, French and Russians Enter City on Anniversary of Its Occupation in Balkan War—Teutons and Roumanians Both Report Gain in Transylvania.

London, Nov. 20.—Monastir has fallen to the allies.

To the strains of the Serbian national hymn, the remnant of King Peter's army at 8 o'clock Sunday morning marched through the shell-riddled gates of the Macedonian city whence a year ago they fled in panic and hunger before the great Teuton-Bulgarian steam roller. At the head of the victorious troops rode Crown Prince Alexander, rejuvenator of the Little Balkan kingdom's soldiers, and side by side with them marched French regiments with whose aid the great step toward the reconquest of Serbia was accomplished. Here and there in the long line of the triumphal march, a row of Muscovite "Tchakos" towered above the helmets of steel. Their owners were members of the Russian contingent which also co-operated in the encirclement of the great Bulgarian stronghold. A few minutes after the first battalions had entered, the Serbian colors—red, blue and white—once more fluttered from the mast top on Monastir's governmental and municipal buildings.

Recaptured on National Holiday.

The entry was peculiarly timely, for Sunday was the anniversary of the capture of the city by the Serbs, four years ago.

The French war office was the first to tell the news of the great success. It was flashed broadcast by telegraph and radio and a few hours later messages from all entente capitals told of unbounded jubilation.

"Troops of the army of the orient," said the French official announcement, "entered Monastir at 8 o'clock Sunday morning, the anniversary of the taking of the town by the Serbians in 1912."

Early in the afternoon word came from Berlin that the German war office had conceded the loss of the Macedonian base.

"German and Bulgarian troops," the official statement said, "have taken up a position north of Monastir. Monastir is thus abandoned."

The city lies eighty-five miles northwest of Saloniki. Its occupation came as the climax of a bitterly tenacious battle in which attackers and defen*ders rivalled in gallantry and stub*bornness. The defense became untenable after the Franco-Servian forces had wrested the naturally powerful positions on the Cerna river from the Bulgars and Germans, at the same time smashing the southern approaches.

Decisive Battle on Friday.

Screening the gradual evacuation of the city, the defenders battled stubbornly for every inch of ground in the Cerna bend. Even now fighting there is in full swing. The French war office reports the repulse of new Bulgarian counter attacks against Hill 1212. It was the possession of this height, taken Friday, that gave the Franco-Serbian artillery the most important vantage points to send its destructive hail into Monastir proper. Berlin war office in the afternoon admitted further progress by the French and Serbians on the hill. The Serbians captured the summit of another important height, 1378. To the east of the river they completely enveloped the village of Grunishte.

"The enemy," says the Paris war office, "is falling back in disorder toward the north, pursued by the Serbians."

Roumanians Capture Heights.

Petrograd, Nov. 20.—Capture of a series of heights by the Roumanian troops in the Tirgu valley on the Transylvanian front is reported in the official war office statement. The Roumanians are continuing a successful offensive in this region.

Roumanians Advance.

Bucharest, Nov. 20.—A further Roumanian advance in the region of Dragoslavele is reported by the war office. Heavy fighting is going on in the Jiul and Gilort valleys.

HUGHES GETS MINNESOTA

Plurality Is 396—Runs 86,299 Behind His Ticket in State.

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 20.—Charles E. Hughes carried Minnesota by 396. This was based upon official returns from Minnesota giving Hughes 179,553, Wilson 179,157.

Hughes ran just 86,299 behind his ticket in Minnesota, according to these officially canvassed figures. J. A. A. Burnquist, Republican governor, was re-elected with just 245,852 votes. Hughes' total was 179,553.

Christine Diemer a Suicide.

Pontiac, Ill., Nov. 20.—Christine Diemer was drowned. She was not murdered and her body thrown after*ward into the Vermillion river.* This is the substance of Dr. Ludwig Hektoen's findings in the second post-mortem.

SLAYER GETS 2 TO 21 YEARS

Arthur Kirk, Newcastle, Ind., Pleads Guilty to Murdering Tulla Zornes.

Newcastle, Ind., Nov. 20.—Arthur Kirk, eighteen years old, self-confessed slayer of Tulla Zornes, who was shot to death here on the night of May 6, pleaded guilty to manslaughter in circuit court and was sentenced to the Jeffersonville prison for from two to twenty-one years by Judge Fred Gause.

Kirk disappeared after the killing, but was later found by Sheriff Presnalt near Chicago. After being returned here he declared that he had acted in self-defense, but his attorneys advised him to accept the offer of the state that he plead guilty to manslaughter.

RUTH LAW SETS NEW AIR RECORD FLIGHT

Aviatrix Drives Biplane 680 Miles in 6:07.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—In a decrepit Curtiss biplane, of a type long considered obsolete, Miss Ruth Law captured the long distance sustained airplane flight record of America.

In the presence of only a few casual spectators, Miss Law took to the air in Grant Park at 7:25 a. m. and landed at Hornell, N. Y., at 1:32 p. m., a distance of approximately 680 miles, which she traversed at an average speed of 113 miles an hour. The total sustained flight time was six hours and seven minutes. The plucky aviatrix was compelled to land to get a new fuel supply.

Arising again at 3:24 p. m., she continued on her way until again compelled to descend at Binghampton, N. Y., because of darkness. The total distance for the day was 750 miles. Had it not been for the long delay at Hornell, caused by difficulty in getting gasoline and by defective spark plugs, she would have succeeded in reaching New York City, her objective.

RECOUNT ORDERED IN VIGO

Australian System Ballots Are Ordered Reviewed.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 20.—After sustaining the demurrer of Sheriff G. W. Krietenstein to the plea in abatement filed by the attorneys of Joseph Kreher in the recount case, Judge Pulliam in the circuit court ordered a recount of votes by the Australian ballot system. The recount was ordered begun at 9 o'clock Wednesday.

Honor Pocahontas Officer.

Columbus, O., Nov. 20.—The local tribe of Pocohontas held a reception and banquet in honor of Miss Jennie Hertel of this city, who was recently elected great keeper of wampun for the order of Pocahontas. Archie B. Hobbs of Indianapolis, great keeper of records for the Red Men, and Miss Leona Hatfield of Indianapolis, great Winona for the Pocahontas, made addresses.

Named Receiver of Stone Company.

Bedford, Ind., Nov. 20.—Fred I. Norton has been appointed receiver for the Stone City Cut Stone company. The concern was recently reopened for business and had several large contracts, but became financially embarrassed. The plant will continue operations under the receivership.

Traction Car Kills Man.

Gary, Ind., Nov. 20.—S. F. Wargo, 6145 University avenue, Chicago, was instantly killed at Clarke road crossing, when a South Shore interurban car struck a delivery automobile in which he was riding. Wargo was decapitated. He was employed by the In*diana Tea company of Chicago.*

Magnet Used on Eye.

Anderson, Ind., Nov. 20.—A powerful magnet, capable of lifting 400 pounds, was used in drawing a particle of steel from the eye of Joseph Clein, an employe of the Ames Shovel plant. The steel was imbedded in the eye one-half inch. The sight will be saved.

Creation lives, grows and multiplies. Man is but a witness.—Victor Hugo.

HIGH COST OF DYING SUBJECT OF PROTEST

Casket Makers Oppose Increased Freight Rates.

GRAND RAPIDS, Nov. 20.

The high cost of dying came in for a hearing in the federal building when the Casket Manufacturers' Association of America and twenty-six railroad companies was up before representatives of the interstate commerce commission.

Casket makers declare rates on fu*neral cases are exorbitant and in*crease the ultimate cost of caskets. They petition the commission to form a new classification under which shrouds, garments, casket pillows and cases and name plates may be shipped inside the caskets, without an in*creased rate for the shipment of the* cases themselves.

Coffins weigh from ten to fifteen per cent more than they used to, testified Alexander K. Gage, of the Detroit and Toledo casket companies.

RECOUNT MAY GO TO COURT

Republican Wins by Eight Votes—Entire Township Thrown Out.

ROSCOMMON, Nov. 20.

The recount of votes in Roscommon county for sheriff resulted in the election of Alex H. Johnston, Republican, by eight votes. On the face of the returns he was elected by three, but because of irregularities in a couple of townships Charles Duncan, Democrat, asked a recount. After eight of the nine precincts had been counted, Duncun lead by two votes. The last township, Nester, put Johnson in the lead.

The entire vote of one township was thrown out because no ballot showed the inspector's initials and the ballot box was neither locked or sealed. Ballot boxes from other townships are said to have not been properly sealed and on this ground the fight may be carried into the courts.

DETROIT TO TRAIN FLYERS

Aerial Reserve to Be Perfected Next Spring—Aeroplane to Be Repaired.

DETROIT, Nov. 20.

Organization of an aerial reserve for Detroit will be perfected next spring by the Aero Club of Michigan, which donated to the Michigan national guard the aeroplane used at Camp Ferris for instruction of an aviation corps.

This announcement was made by S. D. Waldon, one of the directors of the club. General John P. Kirk has advised officials of the club that the *aeroplane will be returned to the do*naters, as the federal government refused to pay for repairs. New wings, rudder, elevator and other parts would be necessary, at a cost estimated at $5,000.

Thomas Kelly Sentenced.

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 20.—Thomas Kelly, wealthy Winnipeg contractor, denied a new trial by the supreme court at Ottawa, was sentenced to serve two and one-half years in the penitentiary by Justice Prendergast.

New Demurrage Dec. 1.

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 20.—Local shippers were informed by the Pennsylvania and C. & O. railroads that a new car demurrage tariff will go into effect on Dec. 1.

GOETHALS' REPORT HITS CRITICS HARD

Denies Panama Canal Is Failure; Raps Prof. B. L. Miller.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Denial that the Panama canal is a failure, that the earth slides present an unsurmountable obstacle or that the great waterway will have to be abandoned is [illegible] by General George W. Goethals, governor of the canal zone, in his annual report to Secretary of War Baker.

General Goethals' report is a stinging answer to critics of the canal project, many of whom, he says, are those "whose little knowledge make them dangerous." He declares that the slides will be overcome finally and for all time, notwithstanding the calamity howlers and in spite of the disastrous predictions of the 'know-it-alls.'" He pays particular respect to Professor Benjamin LeRoy Miller, who occupies the chair of geology at Lehigh university, and whom he charges with having done the greatest injury to the canal by statements made after what was claimed to be a "thorough examination of the slides," but which examination covered a three or four hours' stay at the canal zone while awaiting a steamer to New York.

BASEBALL PITCHER ROBBED

Mike Prendergast Surrenders Watch to Motorcycle Bandits.

Aurora, Ill., Nov. 20.—The police of Ladd, Ill., are hunting for two motorcycle bandits who entered the home of Edward Higgins there and held up Mike Prendergast, Cub pitcher, and Higgins. Prendergast is wintering at Arlington.

The bandits relieved the major league twirler of his watch and what money he had, and escaped on motor cycles.

Falling Stone Hurts Man.

Tipton, Ind., Nov. 20.—F. T. McKeown, proprietor of the Tipton Monument Works, was injured badly when a pulley broke, a 1,500-pound stone falling. His legs were caught under the stone and both were badly crushed.

Chicago Salesman, Suicides.

Des Moines, Ia., Nov. 20.—R. J. Felton, salesman for a Chicago firm, was found dead in bed here with a bullet in his heart A revolver alongside the body indicated the man had committed suicide.

Well Known Pastor Is Dead.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 20.—Rev. William A. Hennegar, seventy-one years old, for forty years a minister in the Christian church, is dead at Lafayette. He had charge of many churches in Indiana.

Sues Bonding Company for Son's Death

HOUGHTON, Nov. 20.

Alleging that her son was so badly beaten by Selen Lancour that he died from the effects, and that the assailant was thrown into a murderous state of mind by liquor sold to him by Fred Nelson, a saloonkeeper in Keweenaw county, Mrs. Catherine O'Brien has begun suit against the Michigan Bonding & Surety company, at Houghton, charging that the firm which furnished bonds for Nelson contributed to the death of her son.

COAL SHORTAGE

The coal situation in Tecumseh is getting quite serious. Our local dealers find themselves with short supplies and with no definite assurance from shippers as to when cars will arrive. Prices are very unsettled and sharp advances have been made. Soft coal, pocohontas is selling on the local market at $7.00 per ton, while hard coal is $9.00 per ton, with no assurance to the trade that prices will remain where they are.

It seems to be not only the question of what the price will be but whether they can get the coal in that is ordered shipped.

There has been a good deal of speculating as to the cause of the high prices and shortage and investigations are in progress, but one thing seems sure that if relief does not come soon Tecumseh people may be forced to take to the wood pile.

BONHEUR'S MASTERPIECE.

Story of the Famous French Artist's Painting, "The Horse Fair."

In her story of Rosa Bonheur in "Tales From the Old World and the New," Sophie M. Collmann, the author, writing of the artist's masterpiece, "The Horse Fair," says:

"Never, surely, had there been so many sketches of horses, they covered the walls, the tables, the chairs, the easels and even the floor, for the world just then held nothing for Rosa but horses. She painted away at them until she could have done it with her eyes shut. Every horse in the great picture had been sketched countless times, and still Rosa felt that she must try just one more pose.

"All things, however, must come to an end, even sketches, and so in the course of time the 'Horse Fair' was finished. The world has pronounced it Rosa Bonheur's masterpiece, for although she was to paint many splendid pictures in the years still to come, none would ever quite equal this.

"'My Parthenon frieze,' she called it in jest, but that is just what it is—a frieze of horses; there is not much landscape, and the men hardly count, and they have usurped the entire canvas, these ponderous Norman horses, gray, brown and sorrel, ready to stampede out of the picture and taxing all the strength of the blue bloused hostlers to hold them in. Rosa had wished to portray vigorous life and motion, and she knew that she had succeeded.

"Many of her pictures went to foreign lands, and she hoped that this one might remain in France but it, too, went on its travels, and as though the restless horses could not endure quiet, never stopped until it had crossed the ocean, and after many adventures was finally tethered in the Metropolitan museum in New York city, far, far away from Rosa's studio."

PRAYER FLAGS OF TIBET.

Every Flutter Sends a Plea to Heaven, the Natives Believe.

Encircling the buildings of Thasa, Tibet, is the sacred road, merely to walk along which absolves the mortal from all earthly sins, and many pilgrims prostrate themselves for its entire length, thus securing everlasting happiness in their future life.

The most interesting portion of the sacred road is where it runs through some sharp limestone rocks, carved deeply with figures of Buddha painted in many colors.

From the rocks prayer flags are suspended on lines running to an island in the river. These prayers are universal in Tibet, and so long as they are moving they are recording prayers for the benefit of those who put them up.

All devotees, men and women, walk, always turning a small hand prayer wheel filled with minute prayers printed on thin paper, and larger prayer wheels, filled in some cases with tons of paper prayers, are set revolving by the devout or are sometimes worked by water power. Smaller ones are turned by the hot air rising from butter lamps.

Single prayers printed on thin cloth are strung vertically on poles or stretched across open spaces to flutter in the wind and thus send millions of prayers vibrating toward the omnipotent for the benefit of some one's soul. They are most picturesque. An old lama I once questioned on the subject told me "that if the person turning the wheel truly believed that by doing so he was accumulating merit it would certainly count as a meritorious action."—National Geographic Magazine.

Table Etiquette.

Don't rattle your knife and fork. The napkin rings are more musical.

Don't rest on your arms on the table. Stack your weapons in a corner before dinner.

Never leave the table until the others are through. If in a hurry, take it with you.

Never eat pie with a knife. It's proper to eat cheese with pie, but knives should be eaten alone.

Cigarette smoking is permissible at the table—if you are dining alone and have a grudge against yourself.—Indianapolis Star.

An Ancient Aqueduct.

The ancient Roman aqueduct at Nimes is generally considered the most perfect of Roman relics. It consists of three great tiers of arches, the lowest having been used as a bridge and the uppermost as an aqueduct. It rises about 120 feet above the level of the river. The Pont du Gard, as it is called, is believed to have been built under the supervision of Agrippa, the Roman general, about fifty years before Christ.

AUTO ACCIDENTS

What might have proven a very serious accident occurred Sunday afternoon when the car of Charles Mattis turned turtle and threw the occupants out. He had been dodging some cars and a horse and buggy and ran into the ditch, overturning the car.

The occupants were Mr. and Mrs. Mattis, Mr. and Mrs Orville Brisbin and Ed Sisson. Mr. Mattis was quite seriously hurt about the head and shoulders. Mr. Sisson sustained a broken collar bone and, it is feared, internal injuries. The others were badly bruised and shaken up. The only wonder is that all escaped with their lives.

The car was quite badly wrecked, the damage being mostly to the top of the car which was torn from the body. The windshield and steering wheel were completely demolished, one front axle the mud guard and the fender badly bent. The car is a large one and practically new.

As DeWitt Martin of Ridgeway was passing through town Sunday, he collided with a car driven by Clare Watson on the corner near the Electric Light office. Martin was going east and the other car was on the cross street going north fortunately no one was hurt but both cars were more or less demoralized.

M. E. CHURCH FAIR

The Annual supper and fair was held Thursday and was a very pleasant occasion.

For months the ladies have been busy making ready for the fair and the result fully paid for the trouble. A fancy work booth was presided over by Mrs. Mina Smallidge and Mrs. Ella Davis.

Mrs. Mary Henne and Mrs. Hanford had charge of the Japanese booth with two Japanese assistants the Misses Edna Taylor and Mary Frances Waring encostume.

Mrs. Claude Gray and Mrs. Homer Whaley sold aprons, large, small, medium, fancy and plain to suit the taste of their customers.

Mrs. Buler and Marjorie Rosacrans had charge of the candy etc, while Mesdames Wm. Waldron and Lyman Howe dispersed bake goods and vegetables.

A chicken supper was served at 5 o'clock. Much credit is due Mrs. Edna Belding for the success of the fair and Mrs. Earl Updike and her assistants for the supper. The total receipts, clear of all expenses, was $140.00.

RED CROSS SEALS

November 15, the official day for starting the Red Cross Seal sale this year, finds a large part of Michigan covered with the Christmas stickers. 41 counties, and 8 cities in as many other counties, have signified their intention of selling seals this year. Most of these have been officially appointed by the State Anti-Tuberculosis Association as seal agents for 1916, and in a number of places the seals are now on sale.

5,600 000 seals have already been sent out from the State Office, and there is still a reserve supply of 4,400,000 seals, - 10,000,000 having been estimated as the number necessary for the work in Michigan this year.

Attractive prizes have been offered by the State Association again this year, including four months' services of the visiting nurse to the four successful counties, pennants to cities and counties with the best per capita sale of seals in certain groups, and button and medal prizes for children helping in this work.

It is estimated that at least 3,500,000 seals will be sold in Michigan this year, and probably the sale will be much larger than this.

COUSIN PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Nemire and Miss Mildred Boyce entertained "The cousins" honoring Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rector at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nemire, Friday evening. There were fifteen present and a hearty welcome was accorded the new cousin Mrs. Rector. The evening was spent in social gossip, games and stunts and later a two course luncheon was served. As the hour of parting drew near each one voiced their enjoyment of the occasion and thought these cousinly meetings were quite the proper thing.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Miss Leo Drake of Adrian is visiting at the home of Wm. Ousterhout.

Thos. Moffatt of Lansing is shaking hands with friends in town today.

A. W. Splettstoesser and family were called to Adrian Saturday by the death of his stepfather.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hines and son Glen were guests of friends in Brooklyn over Sunday.

Mrs. Jas. Snyder and little son went to Jackson today for a visit with Mrs. Ben Snyder.

Herbert and Katherine Henderson and a company of young friends from Adrian attended the M. E. church fair Thursday.

Col. and Mrs. A. S. Cummins leave Wednesday for New York where they will spend the holidays with his daughter Mrs. Jardine and husband.

Monday Mrs. Ben Dove's house was broken into and a box used for keeping valuables was taken from the bureau drawer. Tuesday, while Dept. Smith was at the home, Mrs. Dove's daughter came in with the box which she had found at the end of the porch where it had been thrown. The only thing stolen was the money. The identity of the thief is known.

BURTON HOLMES TRAVELOGS

Through the co-operation of the teachers and superintendent of the Tecumseh schools the management of the Bradley Opera house is able to show the famous Burton Holmes Travelogs at the Bradley each Wednesday. These are the same travelogs which Mr. Holmes has used in his lectures on all parts of the world, in all of the larger cities and should prove very interesting as well as educational to both young and old.

The travelog this week is a subject from California entitled "Felling Big Trees in Giant Forests of California" which will be shown in addition to the regular Paramount feature charming little Mary Pickford in "Little Pal."

Through a fortunate arrangement children will be admitted each Wednesday that these travelogs are run, by tickets issued at the schools. To see the Burton Holmes travelogs is to travel by way of an easy theatre seat. After you have seen a few of these new pictures we know that you will not want to miss a single one. Bring the children Wednesday and see the first of the famous travel pictures. The admission remains just the same, no extra charge, and the children will be admitted according to the cards given through the schools.

Y. M. C. A. FATHER AND SON BANQUET AT RIDGEWAY.

Last Friday evening the fathers and sons gathered at the Gleaners hall for an oyster supper. The banquet was put on by the Y. M. C. A. boys. Elmer Skinner, the leader of the group of boys and principal of the schools, introduced the toastmaster, Rev. J. E. Somers. He very cleverly presented the speakers E. J. Arnot, secretary of County Y. M. C. A. David Underwood, for the past two years, the leader of the boys club and Rev. E. W. Gray of Hudson who gave the main address of the evening. The new orchestra from the school pleased the guests with many selections of music. Two boys rendered a splendid darkey dialogue.

Rev Gray in his address emphasized the importance of boys as a class and of work with them. It was a very impressive and convincing argument David Underwood spoke of the work during the past two years and the need of keeping it going. Mr. Arnot referred to the work in the state and world.

HURT WHILE PLAYING IN PARK

What proved a pretty close call for the boy befell Bert Ousterhout Friday With some other boys of his grade he was playing in monument Square, walking on top of the fence surrounding the monument. He fell and one of the spikes which ornament the fence ran into his bowels several inches

His playmates were terribly frightened but the plucky little fellow walked the several blocks to Dr Hendershott's office. The Dr. dressed the wound and took the boy home.

The mother Mrs. Wm. Ousterhout reports him as getting along finely and, considering the serious nature of the injury, it is wonderful that he is no worse.

HEAD CRUSHED

James Roy Preston aged 27 years met with a fatal accident last Friday. He had been assisting his brother on a hay baler and was driving one of the teams when in some unknown manner he met his death by being run over by the wagon. It is not known whether he fell off the wagon or was on foot and driving but his body was found, with life exinct. His funeral was held Sunday from the home of his parents Mr and Mrs. Robert Preston in Macon.

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION"

"The Birth of a Nation", bringing forward David W. Griffith's wonderful new art of pictorialized spectacle with music, will play the Bradley Opera house, tonight. This is the great offering that opened a new era in the theatres of New York, Boston, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles, where it ran simultaneously in as many productions for many, many months. Despite great opposition the play has never been suppressed, but has met the approval of censor boards, judges, municipal authorities, publicists, editors and clergymen everywhere. It is pleasing to be able to note the fact that a metropolitan production of the finest quality and elaboration will be shown here.

The first half of the spectacle, which was suggested by Thomas Dixon's "The Clansman" exhibits the salient events of the War between the States. The formation of the Confederacy, Lincoln's call for troops, Sherman's march to the sea, the Battle of Petersburg, Lee's surrender to Grant, and the awful tragedy of Lincoln's assassination at Ford's Theatre April 14, 1865, live before the spectator of the Griffith drama. In the second half the South's "second uprising" this time againt the carpetbagger regime is shown in a thrilling story of Reconstruction days. The romance of the "little confederate colonel" Ben Cameron, with the northern, Elsie Stoneman, and that of the Unionist Captain. Phil Stoneman, with Margaret Cameron, the southern Carolina lassie, maintain two threads of continuous love-interest throughout the story.

But the great Out-Of Doors is Mr. Griffith's special field. Tremendous battle scenes and the wild rides of the Ku Klux Klan are staged with thousands of participants. Eighteen thousand human actors and 3,000 horses were employed in the making of the picture which cost half a million dollars and took eight months to produce. Some idea of its immensity is gained from the fact that there are no less than 5,000 distinct and individual scenes

On the musical side Mr. Griffith attempted what was previously unheard of in connection with motion pictures. This was the synchronizing of a complete symphonic score with the appearances of the important characters and the enactment of the principal scenes. This magnificent instrumental music is played by a large orchestra of experts who are carried on tour in the travelling company of 50.

THE WIT AND WISDOM

The Wit and Wisdom Club was entertained Monday evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H R Conklin. It was an open night and a picnic dinner was served at 6 o'clock. There was no program, a social hour being enjoyed. Later most of the members took in the entertainment at the Presbyterian church.

IMPROVEMENTS AT THE GRATZ ELEVATOR

D Gratz & Son are building an addition to the top of their elevator. The new addition is 24x32x18 and when completed will house the cleaner and elevator heads and will provide more room for the storage of grain which was badly needed. Mill wrights have been busy with the work for some week or ten days past.

THE INTERNATIONAL GLEE CLUB

The International Glee Club gave a splendid entertainment last evening at the Presbyterian church, the first of the series being put on by the Men's Class—and if all are as good as this the men will certainly have reason to be proud.

Beside their glee club work which, by the way, was full of vim and dash, they were each artists on some musical instrument and that their efforts were appreciated was evident by the applause.

Roy Harcourt was also an excellent reader, completing the program with several fine stories. We see why they call themselves the International for several of the European countries were represented, Johnson, the basso, is a Swede and Bergstrom, tenor, and Schaffer, the baritone are German while Harcourt is the lone American. They are bright, clean young fellows and we hope to welcome them again next year.

The attendance was good; the church being comfortably filled.

Rev. Rex stated that 35 more season tickets would clear them and urged each one to tell their friends if they were satisfied that they had received their 14 2-7 cents worth.

The remainder of the course is a bargain at the price of a season ticket, $1.00. Lovers of good entertainment should avail themselves of an opportunity of hearing the balance of the course.

The next number on the course is Dec. 11, when Tahan, the Indian, will tell stories and experiences of Indian life.

THOMAS HARRIS

Thomas Harris of North Adrian passed away Monday at 2:30 a. m. after a lingering illness of many months. He was 77 years of age, and was well known in Tecumseh. He was born in Homer Calhoun County and had lived in his late home for over 50 years. A widow and five sons survive him, Eugene, Elmer, George, Frank and Louis. Funeral services will be conducted at the home Wednesday afternoon at 1:30.

Your 1917 Silo A Saginaw

You paid for a Silo last year, But--did you get it?

If you had your present corn crop in a silo to feed this winter, would it pay? Your answer will be "Yes," because you are a man of good judgment. You really believe farm products will be higher next year? If so, will it pay to own a silo? Again your good judgment answers this question.

You ask what kind of a silo to buy? Just visit the Bidwell Stock Farm right near Tecumseh. See the fine registered Short Horn cattle; see one of the best equipped cattle feeding plants in this state. See the fine big barn with two big Saginaw Redwood Silos,—then you will know what kind of a silo to buy.

Saginaw Silos and registered stock are "partners." Saginaw Silos are the choice of MEN WHO KNOW. It was the Saginaw Silo that captured the highest honors at the Panama-Pacific International Exposition. And Henry Ford uses eight of them on his fine farm at Dearborn, Michigan.

IMPORTANT—You can save from $10 to $50 on a silo by placing your order now. Is this worth saving? Then see

L. E. TEMPLE & CO.

Every Saginaw Silo carries "Temple Service Insurance" As long as there is a Saginaw Silo on your farm we are interested in its success. The McClure Company of Saginaw, Michigan backs up this statement.

SEVEN THOUSAND DOLLARS FOR CHRISTMAS

If money helps make a Christmas merry, then surely this Christmas should be a merry one, for next month we will mail checks for more than $7000.00 to the members of our Christmas Savings Club.

Many have already finished the payments on their cards. Those who have not should plan to be entirely paid up by December 4, as we cannot accept payments after that date. Look at your cards and plan accordingly.

THE NEXT CLUB.

The next club will start in December. This year we have a newer and better system. A bank book instead of a card for every member.

There will be further announcements later and you can then determine which class or classes you wish to join. In the meantime just make up your mind that you will be a member next year.

This is a plan by which we have helped the people of this community to save nearly $20,000 in three years.

Join and get you friends to join.

Grateful Mothers Tell Experiences

Mrs. T. Neureuer, Eau Claire, Wis., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound cured my boy of a very severe attack of croup after other remedies had failed. Our milkman cured his children of whooping cough. I recommend it to every one, as we know from our own experience that it is a wonderful remedy for coughs, colds, croup, and whooping cough."

Mrs. D. Gilkeson, Youngstown, O., writes: "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. I tried lots of cough remedies but she didn't get any better. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar Compound to me. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat, and after using one bottle the cough left her."

This sterling old remedy has been in use for years and is just as efficient for adults as for children. It gives relief for irritated and tickling throat, tight and sore chest, grippe and bronchial coughs.

Andrew Williams of Byron Steps In Front of Interurban.

PONTIAC, Nov. 20.

Andrew Williams of Byron, eighty-four years old, was struck by a limited car on the Detroit United railway at Troy Corners and instantly killed.

The man was waiting to take a local car for Detroit after a visit at the farm home of William Robinson, and stepped out of a grocery store when he heard the crossing bell ring. He was struck by the cars as he crossed the tracks.

NAMES FOR WARSHIPS.

National Peculiarities Displayed In Choice of Vessels' Titles.

One of the ways nationalities have of displaying their peculiarities is in the naming of their battleships. The United States, systematic and businesslike, goes to work and uses up all the names of its states to paint on the sides of its greyhounds of the sea.

Great Britain, self appointed mistress of the waves, does not propose to have that majesty challenged. So she goes ahead and defies the world with such hair raising names as Revenge, Indomitable, Inflexible, Invincible, Implacable, Indefatigable, Victorious, Glory, Vengeance, Valiant, Conqueror, Monarch, Thunderer, Colossus, Hercules, Jupiter, Mars, Caesar, Hannibal, Lion, Tiger, and so on.

Germany adheres to names of places—places in the fatherland, of course—thus proclaiming the characteristic national love of the home country.

France, full of love for freedom and the things which make for human happiness, finds her most characteristic warship names in words which translated would be Truth, Justice, Democracy, Republic.

Italy, adorer of her great men in statesmanship, war, science and the arts, names war boats after Columbus, Julius Caesar, Andrea Doria, Conte di Cavour, Leonardo da Vinci and Dante Alighieri.

To be convinced that these customs of christening are peculiarly national one needs only to shuffle some of these names. Imagine us in America standing for a battleship named Indefatigable! Or imagine the name of "Sweetest Shakespeare" emblazoned on the prow of one of England's glowering fortresses of the sea!—St. Paul Pioneer Press.

Government Whitewash.

Government whitewash is made by slacking half a bushel of lime in boiling water, keeping it covered during the process; then strain and add a peck of salt dissolved in warm water, three pounds of ground rice put in boiling water and boiled to a thin paste, one-half pound of Spanish whiting and a pound of clear glue dissolved in warm water. Mix these well together and let the mixture stand for several days. Keep the wash thus prepared in a kettle or portable furnace and when using have it as hot as possible.—Philadelphia Press.

The Tyrolese.

You may find the artistic temperament among the peasants in the villages of Bavarian Tyrol. They talk still of the King Ludwig, who lavished money on palaces and died an insane suicide and murderer. You remind them that they are still paying off the debts of the mad king. They reply cheerfully that they are glad of it, for Ludwig loved music and gave us Wagner.—London Chronicle.

Rail Brotherhoods Would Compromise with Managers.

OPPOSED TO PRESIDENT'S PLAN

Head of Unions Now Favors Employers and Employes Settling Own Dispute—Will Ask Adamson Law Repeal if Roads Will Grant Eight-Hour Day.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 20.—W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, denies that he had threatened a strike January 1 if the Adamson law were not put into effect.

"Nothing I said could have been so construed," said Lee. "The story was made out of whole cloth."

Lee and Warren S. Stone of the engineers left for Washington to confer with President Wilson. W. S. Carter of the firemen and W. L. Sheperd, acting president of the conductors, also participated in the conference.

Ready to Compromise.

President Lee, when told of reports in Chicago that the brotherhoods and railroad officials both were in a mood to compromise the whole controversy, replied:

"That is true, at least so far as the brotherhoods are concerned. As spokesman for the brotherhoods I made that offer last week in New York to the general managers' conference committee. If the railroads will agree to accept the basic eight-hour day for men in the train and yard service all other matters can be amicably adjusted.

"The overtime question is out of it. The railroad official were not ready to give us an answer and we told them we would not seek another conference, but if they wanted to meet us again they could so inform us this week while we are in Washington.

Would Repeal Law.

"If we can reach an agreement we are willing to ask for the repeal of the Adamson law, as it would be of no further moment. We would fight any attempt to enact a compulsory investigation law like that in force in Canada. An agreement would take the whole controversy out of the courts and congress.

"We are ready to compromise on all questions, except the basic eight-hour day. And no change can be made in that, as we are under instructions and would have to call a meeting of the 640 chairmen and obtain their consent. I understand the railroads are willing to increase wages in lieu of the basic work day. But that plan does not work out satisfactorily with the brakemen. They should receive a higher percentage of increase than those receiving much higher wages.

Want Suits Dropped.

"We objected to the injunction suits and asked they be withdrawn to clear the way for an understanding. We offered to ask the government that no railroad be penalized for at least thirty days after the law goes into effect, so we would have time to work out the necessary schedules.

"What we will do will depend on our conference with President Wilson. His wishes will be respected."

The four brotherhood chiefs conferred in Washington with officials of the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor. They discussed an offensive and defensive alliance.

GRADES IN PRISON.

Sorting the Convicts In the Kansas State Penitentiary.

Every prisoner who enters the Kansas state penitentiary at Lansing, Kan., is started as a first grade prisoner, but some become second graders within a few minutes after their arrival. When they are put in the second grade class they are deprived of all privileges and have to remain in their cells and work all the time. If a prisoner stays a second grader until the expiration of his sentence he probably loses all the good time allowed him.

There are three common methods of punishment at Lansing. One is the "deprive" form, in which the prisoner isn't allowed any real Sunday dinner. It is imposed for slight insubordination, such as impudence and swearing. The second is "lock and deprive," whereby the inmate is locked up in his cell except at meal times. It is imposed upon men who refuse to do the work assigned them.

The third is the "jail." The "jail" is a large, ventilated room, but the only thing that can be seen from it is the sky. Prisoners who steal from other inmates, lie, fight or commit other serious offenses are sent there. The prison physician calls on the prisoners in "jail" daily, and the guards bring them food. The offenders have to stay in the room all the time.

When the prisoners repent and redeem themselves they are restored as "first graders" and allowed all the privileges again.—Kansas City Star.

Parasols were used by the ancient Egyptians. They became fashionable in the United States in 1820.

DOES NOT BITE THE TONGUE

Prince Albert gives smokers such delight, because —its flavor is so different and so delightfully good;

—it can't bite your tongue;
—it can't parch your throat;
—you can smoke it as long and as hard as you like without any comeback but real tobacco happiness!

On the reverse side of every Prince Albert package you will read:
"PROCESS PATENTED JULY 30TH, 1907"

That means to you a lot of tobacco enjoyment. Prince Albert has always been sold without coupons or premiums. We prefer to give quality!

PRINCE ALBERT
the national joy smoke

Copyright 1916 by R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co.

YOU'LL find a cheery howdy-do on tap no matter how much of a stranger you are in the neck of the woods you drop into. For, Prince Albert is right there—at the first place you pass that sells tobacco! The toppy red bag sells for a nickel and the tidy red tin for a dime; then there's the handsome pound and half-pound tin humidors and the pound crystal-glass humidor with sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco in such bang-up trim all-the-time!

In goodness and in pipe satisfaction is all we or its enthusiastic friends ever claimed for it!

It answers every smoke desire you or any other man ever had! It is so cool and fragrant and appealing to your smokeappetite that you will get chummy with it in a mighty short time!

Will you invest 5c or 10c to prove out our say-so on the national joy smoke?

THE SPENDTHRIFT
Versus
THE THRIFTY SAVER

Says the spendthrift, "the future will make me;" thinks the thrifty man, "I will make the future."

The spendthrift looks upon the earning power of money as no greater than its face value; the saving man sees in it a growing principal from accumulating interest—safe from impulse—in the bank.

The free spender sees present gratification; the saver sees a business, a home, a future.

Spendthrifts might make savers but savers never make spendthrifts.

Get into the saving class some way and you'll never go back.

The "friendly bank" has a way. It wants to help you make that vital turn. Will you put that first dollar in today.

DIEMER FAMILY IS FREED

Prosecutor and Coroner Admit Mistake Was Made at Pontiac.

PONTIAC, ILL. — F. A. Orman, state's attorney, has ordered the release of Jacob Diemer, his wife and Magdelene Diemer, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of their daughter, Miss Christine Diemer. Her body was found floating in the Vermilion river Nov. 8.

Both Orman and W. O. Meyers, coroner, accepted the suicide finding of Dr. Ludvig Hektoen, pathologist of the University of Chicago, as final. Myers sent the Diemer family his regret over the apparent error in the first autopsy, in which supposed indications of murder were taken as grounds for holding the relatives of Miss Diemer.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

State of Michigan 1916.

"NO MAN LIVETH TO HIMSELF ALONE." This declaration is so simple that a child can understand it. The whole world frequently contributes to the ingredients of a simple morning meal. The every-day comforts of life are the contribution of many minds and many hands. Literature, science, art, schools, colleges, universities and churches are the gift of the people. Our own United States, the greatest and noblest nation on the earth, is of the people as proclaimed in that matchless document, the Declaration of Independence. This charter of human rights recognizes the divine in the human. If it were adopted by the nations of the earth, it would bring abiding world-peace, prosperity, and happiness. God has given man the earth and its manifold riches.

This year, of all the years of this great Republic, is a fitting time for thanksgiving. No nation liveth to itself alone. May we on Thanksgiving Day remember in our prayers and acts, the millions of widows and orphans, the millions of maimed and dying, the millions of prisoners of war in other lands. They are our kindred. May America become a beacon light of liberty to all the world.

Therefore, I, Woodbridge N. Ferris, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby join the President of the United States in designating Thursday, the thirtieth of November as a day for all of the people of this Commonwealth to celebrate in thanksgiving and prayer.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State this twenty-fourth day of November, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and sixteen and of the Commonwealth the eightieth.

WOODBRIDGE N. FERRIS,
Governor.
COLEMAN C. VAUGHAN,
Secretary of State

Entente Also Takes Over All Greek War Supplies.

LONDON, ENG. — An Athens dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company says the German, Austria-Hungarian, Bulgarian and Turkish ministers to Greece have been informed by Vice Admiral du Fournet, commander of the allied fleet, that they must depart from Greece by Wednesday.

Admiral Fournet presented to the Greek government a note demanding the surrender to the entente allies of all arms, munitions and artillery of the Greek army, with the exception of some 50,000 rifles now in actual use by the forces remaining after the last step of demobilization.

CARRANZA WILL GET ULTIMATUM

He Must Clean up Along Border or U. S. Will.

LANE CARRIES WILSON'S WORD

Mexican Emissaries Are Notified That Conference Will End Unless They Accept President's Plan—Protection of Americans in Carranza Territory Is Demanded — May Withdraw Recognition.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 22.—The ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — The American delegates of the Mexican peace commission decided to force Carranza to terms. They determined, it is said, upon two alternative plans. Either the first chief must protect the border or the United States will clean up Mexico. At the meeting of the American envoys, Secretary of the Interior Lane told of his conference Saturday with President Wilson. Mr. Lane has just arrived from Washington. He said the President completely approved of the stand taken by the United States commissioners and urged that the American demands be presented to the Mexicans in the form of an ultimatum.

Provisions for a neutral zone and the co-operation of the armies of both countries were the chief features of the Mexican proposal.

Carranza Envoys Must Retreat.

Unless the Carranza envoys retreat from their original position the conference is expected to collapse. Should the Mexicans ask whether President Wilson intends to intervene in Mexico following the disruption of the peace the American delegates it is authoritatively stated are prepared to make this reply:

"The United States will not intervene but it will take immediate steps to insure absolutely the protection of life and property in Mexico. Should there be another bandit raid into the United States or the murder of Americans in American territory where Carranza claims control the United States army will act immediately."

May Withdraw Recognition.

The Mexicans will also be told if Carranza refuses the good auspices of the United States the United States will call a conference of the Latin-American powers who joined with this country in recognizing Carranza. Steps will then be taken to withdraw recognition.

Some Mexicans in close touch with Senors Cabrera, Pani and Bonillas believe they will surrender at the last moment. They say Carranza's counter plan was only a last diplomatic stroke to test President Wilson. Because of some of the President's Mexican utterances, the Carranza delegates believed he would yield.

Evidence that Senor Cabrera believes he has made great advancement in his negotiation with American financial interests was furnished by Cabrera himself. He said:

"As a result of a conference with the representatives of fifty of largest American mining companies operating in Mexico, I can say a satisfactory modification of taxes has been reached. They will permit the re-opening the mines at an early date. The cuts in the old taxes will be announced in a new decree."

FALKENHAYN IN SWEEPING GAIN

Teutons Approach Capital of Western Wallachia.

ONE OF MAIN OBJECTIVES

Heavy Reinforcements Given German Commander in Effort to Push Junction With Mackensen on Eastern Front—Russians Report Local Successes.

BERLIN — General von Falkenhayn's "steam roller," sweeping down into Northwestern Roumania, made further important headway during the last twenty-four hours, according to the statement by the Berlin war office, which in the essential point is corroborated officially by Petrograd.

"In the valley of the river Jiul," said the Czar's war office, "the Roumanians, under the pressure of superior forces, still continue to retire to the southward."

Teutons Approach Craiova.

"Our troops," Berlin reported, "are approaching Craiova, capital of the western Wallachia."

It is in this city for the possession of which all the furious battles of the last few weeks have been fought in the Jiul valley and for the drive against which the Teuton commander has asked and received reinforcements which were denied the Crown Prince at Verdun. Vraioca, situated a little to the east of the Jiul river, is the most important strategic railway intersection in western Roumania. It lies less than 115 miles west of Bucharest. It is the converging point of four railroads. Only forty miles to the south from Graiova lies Rahova, on the Danube. Pushing his advance southward as far as the river, Falkenhayn would establish a straight line through western Roumania from Vulkan pass to Rahova. With the north bank of the river cleared of defenders, the Teutons could effect a crossing and thus a junction between Falkenhayn's and Mackensen's army would be an accomplished fact.

Such is the outlook of the Roumanian situation as revealed by the official reports from both sides—an outlook which London military critics admitted to be even more ominous than had been looked for by pessimists.

On other parts of the Transylvanian front and in the wooded Carpathians stubborn fighting continues without a decisive result for either side, though Berlin stated that in the area northwest of Campulung, second in importance from a strategical standpoint, "the Roumanians are exhausting their units, which are of mixed and haphazard formation, in fruitless attacks."

Russians Report Successes.

The Russian war office reported local successes for the Roumanians in the region of Aldesht, where 100 Teutons were made prisoners, and in the Alt district, where Austro-German attacks were beaten off.

Artillery activity on the banks of the Danube and in the Dobrudja is constantly increasing in intensity. A new flare-up of infantry fighting in the latter theater of operations is expected momentarily. Both Petrograd and Berlin report comparative calm on the Eastern front.

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION"

Crowded Houses Greeted David W. Griffith's Wonderful Pictures.

Bradley Opera House, Tuesday Afternoon and Evening.

"The Birth of a Nation," taken from Thomas Dixon's story, "The Clansman" brought out in moving pictures by D W Griffith was seen at the opera house both afternoon and evening Tuesday. All of the neighboring towns contributed their share to make up the audiences, the opera house being filled to its capacity. A Clinton lady was heard to remark "I guess nearly all of Clinton is here."

This show carries a car and a half of equipment and about 50 people. A large orchestra furnished music, playing continually during the time the pictures were being shown.

It is very difficult to describe this wonderful production From the first bugle call, to the final playing of "America," the audience was kept on a wave of excitement. Feelings of horror and sadness mingled with joy coursed through their beings They were living through the sixties, which brought before them scenes of conflict that were waged on the battlefields of the South

The first half of the picture took up the slave traffic in the south, the homes of the southern planters, the negro quarters, the events leading up to the Civil war, the rallying of the Sons of the South to support the Confederacy, Lincoln s call for troops, then through the terrific struggle, Lee's surrender to Grant and Lincoln s assassination at Ford theatre and many other thrilling events during the Civil War.

In the second part was shown the period of restoration and the rebellion of the south against the invasion of the carpet baggers regime which was shown in a very realistic manner. The formation of the Klu Klux Klan and their night rides and the final over throw of many abuses of that period were pictured Intermingled with the history. was woven a romance which gave additional interest to the pictures.

Perhaps the greatest impression left upon those who saw these pictures was the magnitude of it all for thousands of human actors and horses played before the camera producing the great battle scenes and the night rides of the Ku Klux Klan We feel very much as one party expressed it, "It was horrible, but I am glad that I saw it."

This is one of the most wonderful moving picture productions that has yet been produced and Tecumseh was certainly highly favored in having it shown here.

MICHIGAN NEWS BRIEFS

Kalamazoo county has elected a newspaper man, Elton R. Eaton, for sheriff.

An inch of snow, accompanied by thunder and lightning, fell at Sault Ste. Marie. It disappeared in an hour.

George H. Little, proprietor of a Dowagiac department store, and Mrs. Irma Ray, his head cashier, eloped to Cassopolis and were married.

John E. Longacre, a milk man of Marquette, was burned to death when the hunting camp he owns near Forestville, ten miles from the city, was destroyed by fire.

Mrs. John Allen, wife of a laborer in Durand, is not expected to live as a result of burns received when she rescued her two small children from the Allen home.

Forty dry leaders from the state met at Sault Ste. Marie to make plans for a big celebration to be held in Lansing soon to celebrate the adoption of the prohibition amendment.

Peter Larsen, a recluse, seventy-three years old, was found dead in his shack near Kalava. For more than a quarter of a century he had dwelt alone and little was known of him.

FISKE O'HARA COMING!

Tecumseh theartregoers will recall with pleasure the first appearance of the famous Irish-Tenor in Tecumseh last season when with his excellent company he presented the Irish comedy "Kilkenny" for your approval, and which was claimed by all who saw it as one of the best attractions ever seen here.

It is our pleasure now to announce to the local theatregoers a coming event of more than passing interest. It is Mr. O'Hara's second engagement in this city in his latest and best Irish play "His Heart's Desire" which is booked for the Bradley Opera House for next week Friday, December 1st. One of the chief charms of this actors plays is the clean and wholesome dialogue, coupled with his charming tenor voice and magnetic personality. It is a treat well worthy of our support and Mr. Pitou's name as the producer is a guarantee that the production which is under his name is perfect in coloring and detail. Mr. O'Hara's rich tenor voice will be heard in several new songs, including, "Be sure and Kiss the Blarney Stone" "Mollie Mine", "Hearts Desire", "That's how the Fairies came to Ireland."

The scenic investiture is in keeping with all the Pitou productions, a 60 foot baggage car is required to transport the production which includes all furniture, stage settings and electrical effects. The scenes of the play are laid in the latter part of the 18th century in the Land of Smiles and Tears (Ireland) and the costumes worn by the talented company supporting the star are perfect replica of the period. It will be a wholesome treat to the lovers of clean wholesome comedy and good music as Mr. O'Hara is carrying his own special orchestra this season.

The company comes here direct from the Valentine theatre, Toledo, where they play matinee and night. Thanksgiving day and go from here to Lansing This being the only city in this vicinity to get this excellent attraction this season.

Marian Grabowsky, aged eight, entered the smoke filled house of Jo Grzeskowitz, and rescued two babes nearly overcome from smoke at Grand Rapids.

Edward M. Goodrich, of [illegible]born, brother of Patrolman Fred Goodrich, of Detroit, killed himself in his room at the Wagner house by shooting himself with a revolver.

Andrew Moore, convicted several weeks ago in circuit court at Kalamazoo of manslaughter, was sentenced to serve two to fifteen years in Jackson prison in circuit court. Recommendation is made that Moore be released at the expiration of the minimum period of sentence. Moore was found guilty at his trial of causing the death of Isadore Belonx, a farmhand in Alamo township.

The Cheboygan State bank, in cooperation with the Northeastern Michigan Development bureau and Agricultural Agent Byers, of the New York Central lines, is to organize a calf club among the boys, and girls of Cheboygan county The bank will bring in a carload of pure bred heifer calves, place those among the boys and girls, taking notes for the exact cost of the animals. At some future date all the animals are to be rounded up and sold to the highest bidder. the proceeds, less the original cost of the calf and interest on the amount to date, to go to the boy or girl raising the animal.

Arthur D. Cunningham of Tilton, N. H., was found dead in the woods at Clear Lake, eight miles north of Atlanta. He had been hunting with J. E. Thomas and Arthur Thomas, his nephews. Heart disease is believed the cause.

A large buck, wounded, was pulled from the power canal near the plant of the Michigan Northern Power company at Sault Ste. Marie and killed. It had been caught in the swift waters at the head of the canal, two miles away.

"You'll find my body in the river near the C. K. & S. bridge." This brief note was discovered by the family of Jacob Cramer, forty years old, of Kalamazoo township. Search of the river in the vicinity of the bridge was without result.

Michigan had a Republican for governor of the state Nov 10. Governor Ferris and Lieutenant-Governor Dickinson went to Vicksburg, Miss., for the unveiling of the Michigan monument, and Secretary of State Coleman M. Vaughn was acting governor for one day.

"Big Bill" Heston, whose judgment brought victory to the Maize and Blue in many of Michigan's hard-fought football battles over a decade ago, became officially Police Justice William Martin Heston when he started dispensing justice at his first session in the municipal court at Detroit.

SONS OF VETERANS

In spite of the unpleasant weather, a good crowd gathered at G. A. R hall, last evening for the S O. V. meeting.

After the opening song speeches were given by Rev. W B. Hartzog and Messrs Henry Sweet, J. J. Furse and J. D. Shull. The principal speaker of the evening was Mr. George M. Baker, who gave a most interesting address A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by those present.

Phillip L. Graham, business man and banker of Croswell, is dead of apoplexy. He was driving his family to Brown City when at Peck he sank under the steering wheel, unconscious, and died six hours later at the home of James Foster of Peck.

Following the finding of a man's foot and portions of his clothing near Silver City, four miles from Alpena, by a section crew of the D. & M. railway, search revealed scattered along the railroad track for a mile and a half other portions of a human body.

J. N. McBride, state director of markets and credits, has just completed an investigation of the workings of the newly passed rural credits act. He reports that the act is a real boon to the farmers and that it contains no jokers which will make it impracticable as is contended by some.

The board of canvassers of Bay county discovered errors which reversed the result of the election for register of deeds. The new figures show W. J. Lambert, Republican, elected by nine over Volney M. Curry, Democrat, who won by eighty-five on the face of the returns. Curry will ask a recount.

Three robberies took place in Grand Rapids hotels. Chris Jensen of Grandville, left $80 under his pillow in his room and went out on the street. The money disappeared. Joe Lewis, an Indian, of Petoskey, hid $14 in his bed. The money was stolen. William Johnson, of Rockford, told the police he was enticed into a hotel by a stranger, beaten with a beer bottle and robbed of his watch and $9.

JAMES ROY PRESTON

James Roy Preston was born in Franklin Township and departed this life Nov. 17, 1916, aged 27 years, 11 months and two days.

Whereas our heavenly Father has taken our loved one from our family and while we deeply mourn his loss we bow to Gods will, therefore be it.

He leaves a loving father, mother, a sister, Ellen and three brothers, Glenn, John and Lelan and many relatives and friends.

May his kindness and loving devotion be an example to all, and while we mourn his loss we pray that time may soften our sorrow.

"A precious one from us gone,
A voice we love is stilled
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled."

Card of Thanks.

To all who were so kind during the death and burial of our beloved son and brother we would express our deepest gratitude, we wish also to thank the pastor the Rev. Chas. Wood for his comforting words, the singers and those who sent the floral tributes.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Preston and family.

Thomas Cavanaugh, alias Saunders, sixty-five years old, was found dead on a pile of hay in a barn loft near Byron Center. Cavanaugh had been for thirty-five years a salesman for the Green Brothers Nursery company, of Monroe.

Neighbors in the vicinity of the Yerkes school, twelve miles west of Flint, saved pretty Miss Hazel Gordon, teacher at the school, from cremation when, discovering the building in flames, they rushed to the place and rescued her.

Within a stone's throw of her own home, Lurena Tufts, eleven year old daughter of Fred Tufts, of Grand Rapids, was seized on the street, dragged into a nearby churchyard, and assaulted by an unidentified lad, about eighteen years old.

What Did She Mean?

A bishop had occasion to preach in one of the smaller southern cities, and as soon as the service was over many people went to him to express their appreciation of his sermon. One woman in particular was most outspoken in its praise. "Why, bishop," she said, "you can never know what your sermon meant to me. It was just like water to a drowning man!"

Your 1917 Silo A Saginaw

You paid for a Silo last year, But--did you get it?

If you had your present corn crop in a silo to feed this winter, would it pay? Your answer will be "Yes," because you are a man of good judgment You really believe farm products will be higher next year? If so, will it pay to own a silo? Again your good judgment answers this question.

You ask what kind of a silo to buy? Just visit the Bidwell Stock Farm right near Tecumseh. See the fine registered Short Horn cattle; see one of the best equipped cattle feeding plants in this state, See the fine big barn with two big Saginaw Redwood Silos,—then you will know what kind of a silo to buy.

Saginaw Silo s and registered stock are "partners." Saginaw Silos are the choice of MEN WHO KNOW. It was the Saginaw Silo that captured the highest honors at the Panama Pacific International Exposition. And Henry Ford uses eight of them on his fine farm at Dearborn, Michigan.

IMPORTANT—You can save from $10 to $50 on a silo by placing your order now. Is this worth saving? Then see

L. E. TEMPLE & CO.

Every Saginaw Silo carries "Temple Service Insurance." As long as there is a Saginaw Silo on your farm we are interested in its success. The McClure Company of Saginaw, Michigan backs up this statement.

FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT

Willard Whelan with His Wife and His Two Sisters Plunged into a Gravel Pit Near Jackson Wednesday Evening

ONE LADY DEAD—ANOTHER VERY LOW

Ozro Whelan of Tipton received a telegram Wednesday night from his son Fred of Jackson, telling him of the fatal auto accident which happened that afternoon to another son Willard and wife of Prospect Hill, his daughters Mrs Glen Houck of Cement City and Mrs Ed Moore of Brooklyn. Mr. Whelan left on the morning train Thursday for Jackson.

The party had been to Jackson to visit their brother Fred Whelan and wife and had started for home following a wagon road from Wall street, thinking it a short cut to the main road. Instead, they brought up on the brink of a gravel pit, too late to avert the disaster.

The car plunged into the pit carrying death and destruction with it Mrs. Houck was instantly killed Mrs. Moore received injuries which may result in her death She was taken to the hospital Mrs. Whelan sustained fractured ribs and other injuries while Mr Whelan and the little children of Mrs. Houck escaped with slight bruises and a general shaking up.

LAST TO LEAVE "BACHELOR CLUB" GIVES DINNER.

That was a very jolly group of young married people who met at the home of Mr and Mrs. J F. Rector last evening in response to their invitation to the members of the now extinct Bachelor Club organized 18 years ago Fred was the last lone lorn "bach" left of the boys until a few weeks ago and now it became his duty to entertain and pay for his having taken to the benedict class.

In the party were Mr. and Mrs. Chas McIntyre of Monroe, Mr. and Mrs. Robt Boyd of Clinton, Mr and Mrs. Fred Sheldon, Mr and Mrs John E. Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bowen and Mrs. G R Gillespie.

At 6:30 the guests were invited to the dining room where the table was beautiful with pink candles and an enormous Thanksgiving basket of fruit and vegetables the center piece That the appetite of these former bachelors has not diminished one whit was evident by the rapidity with which they made way with the excellent three course dinner served by Mrs. F. D Rector assisted by her niece, Miss Edith Rector.

After supper the hours passed too swiftly with the "Don't you remembers" and telling of jokes on each other and especially did the host come in for his share.

Letters of regret had been received from Mr and Mrs Grant Toms of Lansing and Mr and Mrs Delmar Finch of Parkersburg, W. Va., who joined in the congratulations being extended the newly weds and regretted their inability to join in last night's festivities.

FIFTH ANNIVERSARY

The members of the erstwhile "Bachelor Club" of Tecumseh went to Clinton Wednesday night to help one of the number Robert A. Boyd and wife celebrate the fifth anniversary of his emancipation from the club

Those who attended were Fred Rector, Paul Bowen, Fred Sheldon and John E Murphy and their wives, completing the circle of five.

A bountiful five course dinner was served at 6 o'clock, everything possible being served in relays of fives A beautiful cake was decorated with five candles.

A most delightful evening was passed in social visiting and reminiscences.

TECUMSEH TALENT GIVE ENTERTAINMENT

At Holloway Tuesday Evening

Last Tuesday evening the number on the lecture course at Holloway was filled by Rev. W. A. Rex, reader and impersonator, and the Temple Quartet of Tecumseh. There was a full house and the audience was most appreciative and greeted each number with most enthusiastic encores.

By way of diversion, while Rev. Rex was giving the "Chariot Race" by Lew Wallace and had reached the most thrilling part, the lights went out and he had to finish in the dark while the lights were being generated. And, as fate would have it, the next number by the quartet was a sacred selection, "Lead, Kindly Light." The audience were assured that this was not premeditated but was on the program.

Many of the audience were loud in their praise of the quartet and assured them that they were far ahead of the International Glee Club who were with them a few weeks ago and sang at the local Presbyterian church Monday night.

A TREAT FOR MUSIC LOVERS BY FISKE O'HARA'S SPECIAL ORCHESTRA WITH "HIS HEART'S DESIRE"

An important feature of Fiske O'Hara's performance, "His Heart's Desire," in which this noted Irish tenor will be seen here next week Friday, December 1st, and which contributes in a large measure to the enjoyment of music lovers generally, is the musical program rendered before the performance and between acts, by Mr. O'Hara's own orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Cass Freeborn. The program is as follows:

1. Overture—"His Hearts Desire", Freeborn.
2. La Lisonjere—Chaminade.
3. Violin solo by Mr. Albert Pearl—Selected.
4. Habanera from "Natom"—Herbert.
5. Cello solo by Herman Steisel—Selected.
6. Trio by Mr. Freeborn, Mr. Pearl and Mr. Steisl, Matinatta—Leoncavallo.

Mr. Freeborn is popularly recognized as one of the leading musical directors of the day, while Messrs. Pearl and Steisel rank as artists of the very highest class. The acquisition of this trio has done much to further raise Mr. O'Hara's performance far above the average Irish play. The musical part of Mr. O'Hara's entertainment is well worth the price of admission alone.

Grateful Mothers Tell Experiences

Mrs. T. Neureuer, Eau Claire, Wis., writes: "Foley's Honey and Tar Compound cured my boy of a very severe attack of croup after other remedies had failed. Our milkman cured his children of whooping cough. I recommend it to every one, as we know from our own experience that it is a wonderful remedy for coughs, colds, croup, and whooping cough." Mrs. D. Gilkeson, Youngstown, O., writes: "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. I tried lots of cough remedies, but she didn't get any better. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar Compound to me. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat, and after using one bottle the cough left her." This sterling old remedy has been in use for years and is just as efficient for adults as for children. It gives relief for irritated and tickling throat, tight and sore chest, grippe and bronchial coughs.

WILSON GETS ALL 13, REPORT

Chairman McCormick Says All California Electors Won.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—"All thirteen California Democratic electors are surely elected on the all but complete count," said Chairman McCormick of the Democratic national committee.

Mr. McCormick had just received a telegram from Democratic National Campaign Manager McNabe reading: "San Francisco count completed. All California electors absolutely safe."

LINER LA TOURAINE ESCAPES SUBMARINE

False Call for Help Nearly Traps Steamer.

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The French liner La Touraine narrowly escaped being torpedoed the day she left Bordeaux, and when about twenty miles off the French coast. On her arrival Captain Caussin said he had been at sea only a few hours in an extremely rough sea when he was signalled by what he thought was a French steamer about a mile away, saying she needed immediate assistance as she was without propellers.

The La Touraine was stopped and a small boat launched with several men who put off to the distressed vessel. They were on the sea for an hour trying to reach her when a wireless was received from the steamer Columbian stating she was being torpedoed and warning all steamers to look out for a steamer with broken propellers. Captain Caussin recalled the boat and made all haste to depart.

GIVES WILSON'S RAIL PLAN

Interstate Commerce Body to Be Increased.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Representative W. C. Adamson, father of the eight-hour law, after a conference with President Wilson, announced that congress would be asked to increase the interstate commerce commission from seven to nine members. The purpose would be, he said, to bring wage disputes within the scope of the commission.

The chiefs of the four big brotherhoods, Warren S. Stone, W. G. Lee, L. E. Shepard and W. S. Carter, were leaving the White House as Mr. Adamson arrived. The leaders told President Wilson they had come to offer congratulations on his re-election and personally to assure him they felt safe with their case in his hands.

Johnny Bogglo, a four year old child, was drowned in an old cistern at Three Rivers.

Eli P. Green, twenty-two years old, of Muskegon, was accidentally killed while deer hunting near Big Bay.

W. G. Williams, fifty-four years old, resident of Misery Bay, accidentally shot himself while hunting. His body was found by companions.

After a quarrel with his sweetheart at Grand Rapids Isaac Dehollander, nineteen years old, went to his home, wrote a farewell note, drank acid and died.

School Notes

The 3rd monthly review is being handed out this week in nearly all subjects.

The Campfire girls cleared seven dollars at their oyster social given Friday night.

Some educational exhibits have been received and have proved very interesting. The 10th grade spent one class period learning how to make flower pamphlets and illustrations from the Washburn Croby Co. furnished the source of material. Other equally interesting exhibits are expected soon.

The boys of the Y. M. C. A. are quite satisfied with the out come of the banquet, Friday evening. They report more than even break between expenses and are convinced that the men of the other community are back of them in their Y. M. C. A. work. The programme consisted of music speeches and a coon dialogue, Rev. Gray of Hudson being the principal speaker.

MRS. VINCENT ASTOR

Reopens Family Mansion, but to Serious Purpose.

The reopening of the Astor mansion in New York city by a dinner party by young Mrs. Vincent Astor was less of a society than a serious and patriotic event. The one hundred or more guests included prominent sociological workers, and the after dinner discussion was on the best way of Americanizing aliens.

A GENERAL SURVEY OF THE WAR.

Thursday, Nov. 16.—The Russian war office announces that Field Marshall von Mackensen's army is in retreat in Dobrudja, burning villages as it falls back. On the Transylvanian front in the region of Campulung, Roumanians, the statement declares, have been successful in retaining their position.

Roumanians are reported as falling back in the Alt and Jiul valleys.

The French and Russian forces in Macedonia have advanced within four miles of Monastir.

Friday, Nov. .—British troops on the extreme east wing of the allied Macedonia army made a further advance on the Struma river region. The British advanced in places four miles since crossing the stream.

Sweeping into Wallachia, the southern province of Roumania, by way of the Predeal, Rotherturm and Vulkan passes, Austro-German troops, commanded by General von Falkenhayn, have occupied Tirgu Jiu Lui, twenty miles within the Jiul valley.

In the Rotherturm pass region the capture of more than 1,500 men and elsewhere the taking of 600 prisoners and twelve machine guns from the Roumanians is reported by Berlin.

Petrograd reports the taking of heights to the west of Kimpolung in Bukowina, in the region of Jacokem. The capture of many prisoners indicates that an effort to break Falkenayn's left wing to bits is going on, despite other operations.

Saturday, Nov. 18.—Russians claim to have driven back Austro-German attacks in the Carpathians.

Serbians captured enemy trenches east of Cerna. Berlin claims ally attacks south of Monastir have been repulsed with heavy losses. Roumanians announce violent fighting continues in the Alt and Jiul valleys.

British forces launched another attempt to break through the Teuton lines on both sides of the Ancre. Berlin declares it met with failure. French failed in assaults near Sailly-Saillisel, says a Teuton report. A Teuton assault on enemy trenches at Biaches was repulsed.

Sunday, Nov. 19.—Monastir, in southern Serbia, has fallen, the German and Bulgarian forces evacuating the town after the French and Serbians had captured the crest of the hills directly surrounding. After the allies' success, Berlin says, the Teutonic forces found the town untenable. Serbians plan to establish their capital on native soil by moving to the fallen city.

On the Transylvania front the Austro-Germans continue to make progress against the Russians and Roumanians, late reports saying the Teutonic allies have forced the narrow mountain pass leading to Wallachian plain of Roumania.

AUTO DRIVER HITS "MAUD"

His Skull Is Fractured and He Has Little Chance to Recover.

QUINCY, ILL.—While driving his automobile through a bunch of mules on a country road near here, one of the animals kicked Henry Middendorf in the head and fractured his skull. An immediate operation was performed. He has little chance of recovery. Ten other persons were injured by automobile accidents here in one day.

Leo Cathright, thirty-three years old, a prominent resident, died from blood poisoning which was caused by a gun shot wound and Cathright refused to tell his assailant's name. He was shot during a quarrel while he is said to have been intoxicated.

MISSING TEACHER RETURNS

Resigns Her School and Again Leaves Without Explanation.

BENTON HARBOR, MICH.—Bernice Lehman, twenty years old, teach in the Hardscrabble school, near Dowagiac, missing since Nov. 6, has returned to her home at Berrien Center, twenty miles east of here.

The young woman visited her parent and friends and resigned her school which has been filled by a substitute since her illness, which it is thought unbalanced her mind which accounts for her strange actions, and left without further explanation. According to the parents of the girl she has been working in South Bend.

Labor Hits Injunction.

BALTIMORE, MD.—The American Federation of Labor adopted a resolution declaring organized labor should disobey any injunction "founded on the dictum that labor is property." The resolution asserted any judge issuing such an injunction should be impeached.

Democratic strength in the next legislature will be slightly increased, according to reports on results in the senatorial and representative contests throughout the state. In the senate the alignment will remain unchanged, but in the house the Democrats have gained four seats and two contests are still in doubt.

"Goodnight Corns! We Use 'Gets-It!'"

3 Drops in 2 Seconds. 'That's All. "GETS-IT" Does the Rest. Never Fails.

"Really, I never could see how some few people use the most difficult and painful way they can to get rid of corns. They'll wrap their toes up with bandages into a pack that fills their shoes full of feet and makes corns so painful they've got to walk sideways and wrinkle up their faces. Or they use salves that eat right into the toe and make it raw and sore, or they'll use plasters that make the corns bulge, or pick and gouge at their corns and make the toes bleed. Funny, isn't it? "GETS-IT" is the simple, modern wonder for corns. Just put 3 drops on. It dries instantly. No pain, fuss or trouble. The corn, callus or wart loosens and comesoff. Millions use nothing else."

"GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price, by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Tecumseh and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by B. J. Pulver.

ALLIES ADVANCE TO NORTH OF MONASTIR

Kaiser Rushes Reinforcements to Stem Tide.

LONDON, ENG.—Fresh German troops have been rushed to the Macedonian front to aid the Bulgarians in stemming the Franco-Russian-Serbian tide which is steadily sweeping northward, reaping the fruits of Sunday's capture of the chief Bulgarian stronghold, Monastir. Official announcement was made in Berlin to this effect: "New German forces have arrived in the fighting zone."

The official German claim that Monastir was evacuated in time to avert a disaster to the defending Bulgars and Teutons is borne out by the fact that, according to the French war office, only 622 prisoners were taken in the last twenty-four hours, though, it is added that a considerable quantity of war material was found in the abandoned city.

The taking of Monastir is described by the Paris war office in a summary as "a vast enveloping maneuver," ending in "complete victory for the Allies." Unofficial wireless dispatches from Rome state that the retreat of the Bulgar-German forces has been turned into a "rout," and that a series of villages north of the city has been taken by the pursuers.

Gust Linford, aged forty-five, Neganooc, became despondent over the arrest of himself and two brothers on a charge of illegally shooting deer, and took his own life.

Eli F. Green, twenty-three, Muskegon, is dead as a result of the accidental discharge of the gun of Victor Bergh of Marquette, with whom was trailing deer tracks.

The farmers of Bay county had their first big pay of the regular 1916 campaign of the sugar and chicory factories of Bay City. More than $1,000,000 was distributed among the farmers.

James Carr, seventy-six years old, pioneer resident of Bay City, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Frank Foggarty. He was well known as a farrier and operated a blacksmith shop for many years.

John McDonald, an old man living in a shanty near Rose City, burned to death when the dwelling caught fire. He had been living with an old soldier named John Masterson, who died a few days before.

Sylvester Nichols, fifty years old, a farmer of Cass county, his wife and son, Leslie, may die as the result of their auto being struck by a fast freight train on the Grand Trunk railroad near Marcellus.

A jury in circuit court convicted Harry F. Irvine, former clerk of the municipal court, of embezzlement at Kalamazoo. Irvine faced trial for appropriating $500 given him by Bert Belcher as a trust fund.

Charles Sutter, of Dorr, who shot his daughter in the back several weeks ago, while intoxicated, was sentenced by Judge Cross to serve, from six to fifteen years at Jackson, with a recommendation of six years.

A year from the date of the killing of his own son by an automobile, Municipal Justice John Crowley, of Lansing, Mich., figured in another automobile accident which cost the life of a little Baltimore, Md., boy.

A CONSUL'S DUTIES

They Are Highly Important From a Commercial Viewpoint.

HIS WORK IS ALL FOR TRADE.

He Must Guard Zealously the Interests of Our Land In Shipping Matters and In All Lines of Business, and Must Be Ever Alert and Tactful.

If the United States were so great that it could be entirely independent of the rest of the world it would need no diplomatic or consular service, but no country in the world is so great as that.

The diplomatic representative must concern himself very largely with political matters, must be in constant communication with the leading statesmen and with the court—if there is one—in the country to which he is accredited; he must give dinners and parties and mingle in what is called "society," but he is useless if only ornamental.

The consul is expected to occupy himself with all commercial matters, to guard jealously the shipping interests of his country and to report exhaustively to his government on conditions of trade as far as they affect the interests of his country. He does not have to spend so much money for social entertainments as his colleagues in the diplomatic service or worry so much about the irksome details of precedence and etiquette. Except on very rare occasions he does not go to court.

The consular service of the United States is growing in importance and efficiency every year. Commercial questions between nations are the causes very often of difficulties that the diplomatic representative must try to settle, but the foundation of the practical side of our diplomacy rests on the consuls. On their experience and alertness depend our trade opportunities.

The consul deals in a business way with business people, and he must learn their methods of managing affairs. There are young men who look on experience in American consulates as the best possible preparation for active business at home. But, as a rule, those who enter the public service in foreign countries ought to make it their life work, especially as our government has taken the wise course of making it a career and not a reward for political loyalty.

A consul may live as quietly as he pleases; he is not expected to entertain either visiting Americans or the people of the country in which his post is. The reports that he must make often interest him greatly; his advancement now depends on his efficiency. He must have tact, and he must be able to adapt himself to new conditions. He should not overlook any chance to further the interests of his country, but our government does not expect its representatives to be utterly selfish, and usually the consul finds that he does best when he helps toward the progress of both countries.

The examinations for consulships are held at certain intervals in the state department at Washington. A candidate can obtain examples of examination questions which will show him very plainly the subjects that he must master. If, while at school or college, he determines to enter the consular service he can acquire the necessary information from the state department and mold his studies in accordance with the object in view.

The state department is always in need of serious minded men for service abroad, and, in spite of the seeming necessity of political influence, a man of merit and perseverance is sure to get his opportunity to enter the service. He may have to begin, to be sure, in some desolate place in Arabia or in some unwholesome spot in China, but when he has proved his efficiency the department of state will give him the proper promotion.

A man who enters the foreign service must reconcile himself to leaving his American surroundings. He is entitled to a leave of absence, with permission to visit the United States, probably every second year. But of course the trip home means expense. He must adapt himself to the ways of a new country and show himself sympathetic, firm, alert and tolerant, and he must often learn a new language. The salaries in the consular service begin at $2,000 and end at $12,000.

The usual objection that the positions of neither secretaries of legation nor consuls are permanent does not hold under the law as it is now. Since the reorganization of 1906 no man has been dropped from either service for political reasons.

The foreign service of the United States offers great opportunities to the right man and also many chances for patriotic self sacrifice. As in all other vocations of life, a man ought to have a special inclination for it and a devouring desire to make himself as fit as possible for the work. There is no doubt that it will become, as the years go by, more and more worthy of the consideration of earnest, energetic and well educated Americans.—Hon. Maurice F. Egan in Youth's Companion.

He Knew the Symptoms.

"Steward, how long will it be before we reach port?"

"About two hours, ma'am."

"Oh, dear, I shall die before then!"

"Very likely, ma'am. But you'll be all right again when you've been ashore a little while."—Boston Transcript.

Common sense is in spite of, not the result of education.—Victor Hugo.

No Celestial Explorer.

"Did you ever take any interest in astrology?"

"No," replied the matter of fact man. "I can account for all the hard luck and temperamental peculiarities I care to by conditions right here on this earth."—Washington Star.

Piling It On.

It probably is best never to give in in the first place. Occy Wattles proudly stated his record that in three years of married life he has never neglected to mail a letter. Now Mrs. Wattles says he can write them too.—Kansas City Star.

As We All Think.

"People are queer."

"Isn't that so? Sometimes I think you and I are the only really folks on earth."—Detroit Free Press.

SIMILAR TO JAPANESE PACT

Permission for U. S. Troops to Enter Mexico Is Not Accompanied by Reciprocal Arrangement Regarding Mexicans—Carranza May Not Be Considerate as Nippon Was.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The administration is not over-confident that Carranza will ratify the protocol signed by the American-Mexican joint commission of Atlantic City. There also is some pessimism in Mexican circles here.

The difficulty is expected to arise from the addendum to the protocol which would permit American troops to cross into Mexican territory in pursuit of bandits.

The original proposition made by General Carranza on this subject provided for a reciprocal crossing of the border by the military forces of both countries on a hot trail, but this was never carried to a treaty conclusion. The reciprocal idea is understood to be absent from the addendum or supplementary memorandum attached to the Atlantic City protocol.

Addendum Similar to Japan's

The addendum was prepared by the American commissioners after it was realized that the Mexican members under no circumstances would consent to its being included in the protocol. Provision for it in an addendum followed the example set in the negotiations of the American-Japanese treaty. The Japanese government would not consent to inclusion in the treaty of the so-called "gentlemen's agreement" which provided for the restriction of Japanese immigration to the United States.

It was held to be inconsistent with Japanese pride and dignity for this arrangement to be made a part of the treaty, but the agreement has had the force of a treaty.

Whether Carranza will be as considerate of this country's desire not to wound Mexico's sensibilities by not insisting upon the border-crossing feature as a part of the formal agreement, is causing concern. The addendum, however, refers to "co-operation" between the military forces of the two governments, and in view of the fact that there is not likely to be any occasion for Mexicans to enter American territory in pursuit of outlaws, it is hoped Carranza will ratify the protocol.

It is considered certain that there will be no withdrawal of the militia from the border until the state department has assurances that the protocol will be signed. If Villa's strength continues to grow in Chihuahua, the guardsmen will not be withdrawn even after the protocol is signed.

Think Villa Not Yet Beaten.

The state department was advised that Villa has fought three distinct engagements at Chihuahua, each of which has been repulsed, but the reports indicate that Villa is not yet beaten and that he will continue his attack.

The Mexican embassy is informed that General Murguia, at the head of a force of several thousand men and with considerable artillery left Santa Roselia and is returning to Chihuahua City about fifty miles distant, to the relief of that city. General Travino's force at Chihuahua was said to number 5,000 men, all well equipped.

TAX AMENDMENT IS BEATEN

Gets 377,907 to 168,158, but Fails on Total Ballots.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 27.—Totals compiled by the secretary of state's office show the tax amendment submitted at the November election was lost by an estimated vote of 25,000.

With four counties—Gallatin, Kankakee, Montgomery and Cook, missing—the totals showed: Yeas, 377,907; nays, 168,158. The secretary of state believes the tax amendment decision must be reached on the basis of the total votes cast at the election and not the number cast for the proposition.

COST DEMOCRATS $2,000,000

Eastern Headquarters Spent Most of National Campaign Funds.

New York, Nov. 27.—President Wilson's re-election will have cost the Democratic national committee approximately $2,00,000 when all bills are liquidated.

The final statement filed by Treasurer Wilbur W. Marsh with New York's secretary shows the total amount contributed was $1,584,548.5. Disbursements through New York headquarters aggregate $1,493,312.81. Those of Chicago western headquarters are not reported.

Fire Marshal Longley Pays Fine.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 27.—W. E. Longley of Noblesville, Indiana state fire marshal, was arrested here on a charge of speeding. In a justice of the peace court he gave his name as John Doe, but, in giving his testimony he said he was the state fire marshal. He was fined $1 and costs, which he paid.

Lowest Elector in California Gets 1,227 More Than Highest G. O. P.

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 27.—Figures tabulated at the office of the secretary of state when the canvass of San Francisco county's returns for presidential electors had been completed, showed that the highest Democratic elector had a margin of 3,806 votes over the highest Republican in the vote of the entire state.

The lowest Democratic elector, Mrs. Carrie L. Tyler, was found to have 463,621 votes, or a margin of 1,227 over the highest Republican.

3 KILLED, 2 MAY DIE, IN DETROIT ACCIDENT

Auto and Interurban Car Collide at Crossing.

Detroit, Nov. 27.—Three persons were killed and three others injured two probably fatally, when an interurban trolley car crashed into their automobile near the northern city limits.

The dead are: Mrs. Laura Wilkemeyer, twenty-four years old; Joseph Wilkemeyer, eight years old; Roy Hayes, twenty-four years old.

Probably fatally injured are: Russell Winterstein, fractured skull; Elizabeth R. Marchese, fractured skull.

An unidentified girl about eighteen years old was less seriously hurt.

The auto attempted to cross the tracks ahead of the interurban.

HOOSIERS STRONG ON STOCK

State Ranks Second in Entries of Animals at Chicago Show.

Chicago, Nov. 27.—Indiana raisers of pure bred live stock have entered 481 head of prize-winning animals in the International Live Stock exhibition, which begins at the Stock Yards on Dec. 2 and lasts until Dec. 9. Entries have been made from thirty-one states, even California sending twenty-nine head. The entries closed on Nov. 15, and at that time 4,277 animals had been entered. This is the largest entry list the international ever has had.

Outside of Illinois, which, of course, has the largest number of entries in the show, Indiana ranks second, with 481 head. Iowa takes the lead, with 515 head. Ohio has 411 entries.

TWO DEMOCRATS WINNERS

Alleghany County, Pennsylvania, Breaks 24-Year Record.

Pittsburgh, Nov. 27.—For the first time in twenty-four years a Democrat from Allegheny county will sit in the halls of Congress. Guy E. Campbell on canvass of the complete vote wins the congressional election in the thirty-second Pennsylvania district. The vote finished gives Campbell forty-six more votes for the entire district than the present congressman, A. I. Barchfeld. The totals are: Campbell, 17,134; Barchfeld, 17,088.

In the Thirteth Pennsylvania district M. Clyde Kelly, Progressive Democrat, defeats the present congressman, W. H. Coleman, by 253 votes.

HANCHETT DECLINES PRESIDENCY OF P. M.

Grand Rapids Man Refuses to Leave That City.

GRAND RAPIDS, Nov. 27.

Benjamin S. Hanchett returned from New York with the announcement that he had decided to remain with the Grand Rapids Railway company, of which he is president, instead of accepting possible election as president of the Pere Marquette company, under the proposed re-organization plan.

"It is true I was asked by representatives of large interests in the Pere Marquette property whether I would accept the presidency," said Mr. Hanchett. "Although the lure of the opportunity to do constructive work in a larger field was tempting, it probably would necessitate my removal from Grand Rapids, retiring from my present associations and severing my official connection with the Grand Rapids Railway company, where operating employes have locally co-operated with me so many years, and I have decided to remain with them."

IRVINE GETS PRISON TERM

Kazoo Former Court Clerk Sentenced as Embezzler.

KALAMAZOO, Nov. 27.

A sentence of eighteen months to five years in Jackson penitentiary, with a recommendation that he be released at the expiration of two and one half years, was imposed on Harry F. Irvine by Circuit Judge Nelson Sharpe.

The former municipal court clerk was convicted two weeks ago of embezzling $500, belonging to Bert Belcher. Irvine was acquitted several months ago on the charge of embezzling $1,500 from the city. Irvine was captured after fleeing from the city to Saskatchewan, and later, after jumping $3,000 bail bond, was brought back from the state of Washington.

Climbing a Cocoanut Tree.

Cocoanuts when ripe fall to the ground and when necessary are plucked by men who climb up. It sometimes makes one's blood run cold to see them run up the trees like monkeys. Two ways are practiced for mounting the trunk. In the case of a small tree or at an odd moment the man walks up the trunk, keeping his feet flat against it and throwing his weight back from it as much as possible, retaining his position at the same time by the tension of his arms. The other and safer plan is to pass a loop of cord around the feet, which are thus kept close together, and grasp the trunk of the tree, the arms meanwhile assisting the climber, who moves upward in a series of jumps.

The Pilgrim Fathers had struggled on the bleak shores of New England a full hundred years before celebrating their first Thanksgiving day. The event grew out of a providential deliverance, for when starvation stared them in the face and war with the Indians seemed sure, a good ship arrived on those bleak shores bringing food and relief.

The little company remaining appointed a day of fasting and prayer that God would give the hunters success and avert destruction. But before the day of fasting arrived, the hunters returned with game and food, also that day, a good ship from the homeland sailed slowly into port bringing provisions and relief. Then it was that fasting and prayer changed to a song of praise and a day of thanksgiving was proclaimed.

Washington proclaimed such a day when the constitution was adopted. Madison repeated the event in 1815. Lincoln proclaimed Thanksgiving day in 1863 and since 1864 it has been an annual event.

As we look back over the past year we can all find many things to be thankful for. War, that has so mercilessly been waged in Europe, has been spared us and our country has been at peace. Our industries have been busy and men have had work. In a large measure our land has been prosperous and happy. Though trouble and care have been the portion of many, still we can all join in a song of thanksgiving to Almighty God for the blessings that have been ours the past year.

THANKSGIVING.

We thank thee, Lord, for one more year
With all its months have brought;
Both boon and bane, both peace and pain,
Thy sovereign hand hath wrought.

We thank thee for each pleasant path—
Achievement's sweet success;
As well, our God, for dark ways trod—
Disaster's bitter stress.

Abundant gain hath far surpassed
Such loss as life contained;
When such seemed not our favored lot
Thy promised grace remained.

And so for all we thank thee, Lord,
While faith doth banish doubt;
Since this we know, both weal and woe
Work thy blest purpose out.

Mother's Doll Story

Molly Visits Gobble Gobble

Once upon a time a nice wax doll by the name of Molly went to the country with her mamma.

They were visiting a lovely big farm. So one morning Molly got up very early and went out in the barnyard to see a great big turkey by the name of Gobble Gobble.

Now, Gobble Gobble was getting the best of care, for he was the bird that had been picked out for the Thanksgiving dinner. Of course to help eat this good dinner was why Molly and her mamma had gone to the farm.

"Hello, Gobble, Gobble," said Molly, going straight up to the big turkey.

"Good morning, Wax Doll," Gobble Gobble answered, spreading his broad wings and making his neck red.

Then he did the strangest thing. He scratched his wings along in the dirt and made a quick circle right around Molly, for she wore a beautiful red dress, you see, and turkeys do not like anything red. They seem to want nothing around as red as their own necks.

When he kept coming nearer and nearer Molly got quite frightened, but when Gobble Gobble came right at her she turned and ran like anything. Gobble Gobble chased her till at last she had to run right up on to a big wood pile. Here she sat, throwing sticks of wood at Gobble Gobble till her mamma came and chased him away and took Molly safely into the house.

Garments For Children.

When making garments for growing children which you intend to let down stitch the hem with eighty or ninety thread on the machine. This is easily ripped out and does not leave a heavy line of holes. Another way is to make a wide hem and take up a large tuck on the underside. This can be taken out when the garment needs to be lengthened.

The Fairy Ship.

There's a strange ship in the bay,
So they say;
She has come from Fairyland,
Where the mermaids, hand in hand,
Sing upon a coral strand
All the day.

All her masts are made of gold,
So I'm told,
And she flies pure silken sails,
And her flags are peacocks' tails,
And she has the weirdest bales
In the hold.

There are fairies not a few
In her crew,
And tomorrow she'll be far
Out across the southern bar,
Where the flying fishes are
In the blue.
—St. Nicholas.

Eskimo Beliefs

Eskimos believe that earth and air are filled with spirits. The one drags men into the earth by the feet from which they never emerge, the other strikes men dead, leaving no mark. They often stop and listen and say that Tuna of the wind is passing by, imagining that the air is full of voices.

Treatment of Common Ailments of the Ear

Earache in children is best treated by using hot water. This not only gives the most prompt relief from pain, but is also one of the best remedies employed to stop inflammation and prevent a running ear. Fill the ear with water as hot as it can be borne, using a common medicine dropper. Next remove a dropperful of water and replace it with a dropperful of hot water, pressing the bulb between the thumb and finger three or four times to mix thoroughly. Keep this up for twenty minutes and repeat every two to four hours as needed to control the pain. In case the pain continues after two or three treatments a physician should be consulted. Boils in the ear are treated in the same manner.

Eczema of the external portion of the ear is usually relieved by the application of zinc oxide ointment, keeping the surface covered continuously. This can be procured under this name from any druggist. Children with sensitive ears should protect them by wearing a little plug of cotton in the ear when out of doors in cold or windy weather, especially if driving in an open vehicle.

Frozen or frosted ears should first be thawed out by very cold water or snow and then covered by olive oil or vaseline. In case an insect gets into the ear drop a few drops of sweet oil (olive oil) in the canal and then wash out gently with warm water, using a medicine dropper. The insect will usually float out. A foreign body should be treated in the same way, but if it does not come out easily a physician should be seen at once. Under no circumstances should the removal be attempted by means of forceps or other instruments, as the foreign body is very apt to be pushed down so far in the canal that it will be very difficult to remove.

Household Hints

To prevent pie crust puffing up in the middle when baked, prick in several places with a fork before putting in the oven.

A basin of cold water placed in an oven will soon lower the temperature.

To clean enameled bathtubs rub with salt moistened with lemon juice. Then wash with hot water and soapsuds.

Sprinkle carpets before sweeping with salt. It keeps the dust down effectively, and the carpets will look fresher. Salt also prevents moths attacking carpets.

Oil stains can be removed from linen and cotton goods by rubbing the material on both sides with talcum powder. The powder should be left on for a few hours and then brushed off.

To clean wicker chairs wash with salt and water, then rub as dry as possible and place in the open air to finish drying.

Holes in kid gloves can be mended by first buttonholing around the hole and then filling in with buttonhole stitch.

Force of Habit.

Speaking of force of habit, some years ago there was an iron railing around the capitol grounds at Washington. The appropriation bill provided for a watchman to close and lock the gates every night at a certain hour and open them at a certain hour every morning. In the course of time the railing or fence was removed, but the gates swung between their Egyptian pillars for a long time, and all that time the watchman came and went regularly, closing and opening the gates according to law and drawing his salary.

Paper Making In Japan.

Papermaking was one of the earliest industries of Japan. When Europeans were writing on the skins of animals and leaves of plants, ancestors of modern Japanese were recording their thoughts on paper made from wood or vegetable fiber. Papermaking in Japan was probably introduced from Korea about 610 A. D. in the reign of the Empress Suiko, this being the first mention of paper in Japanese history.

Good Things For Thanksgiving Dinner

Roast Turkey.

To truss the fowl draw the thighs and wings close against the body and fasten securely with skewers or tie with string. Rub the entire surface with salt, brush with soft butter and dredge with flour. Place in a hot oven and when well browned reduce the heat. Baste with the fat in pan and two cupfuls of boiling water, continue basting every twenty minutes until meat is done, which will require about three hours for an eight or ten pound turkey. If roasted in a covered roaster it is not necessary to baste very often, as the steam keeps the roast moist, but it should have the fat and the broth dipped over it now and then. Turn the turkey occasionally so that it may brown evenly.

Turkey Stuffing.

Four cupfuls of stale breadcrumbs, a quarter cupful of melted butter, salt and pepper. Add sage or fine herbs if liked. Moisten very slightly with warm water or stock. This amount is for an eight pound turkey. Do not crowd either crop or body or the stuffing will be heavy. The giblets, stewed and chopped fine, may be added to the gravy or they may be previously prepared and added to the stuffing.

Mashed Turnips.

Pare and quarter turnips and boil steadily in unsalted water until tender, drain, mash and season with butter, pepper and a little salt.

Thanksgiving Apple Cake.

Scald a cupful of milk and one-third cupful of butter, one-third cupful of sugar and one-third teaspoonful of salt. When lukewarm add a yeast cake, two eggs and three and a half cupfuls of bread flour. Cover, let rise, beat well and let rise again. Turn into buttered dripping pan, let rise, brush over with melted butter, cover with sections of apples, brush over with butter, sprinkle with cinnamon, sugar and currants. Bake in a moderate oven and cover with whipped cream.

Cranberry Frappe.

Four cupfuls of cranberries boiled in three cupfuls of water strained through flannel. Take three cupfuls of sugar and three cupfuls of cranberry juice and the juice of one-half lemon and mix all together and freeze. Delicious to serve with roast fowl.

Thanksgiving Nut Bread.

Five cupfuls of flour, five teaspoonfuls of baking powder, a cupful of nuts chopped fine, a cupful of sugar, a beaten egg, two cupfuls of milk, one-half teaspoonful salt. This makes two loaves.

Chicken Pie.

Dress, clean and cut up two fowls or chickens, says the Country Gentleman. Put in a stewpan with half an onion, a sprig of parsley and a bit of bay leaf; cover with boiling water and cook slowly until tender. When the chicken is half cooked add half a tablespoonful of salt and one-eighth of a teaspoonful of pepper. Remove chicken, strain stock, skim off fat, then cook until reduced to four cupfuls, thicken with one-third of a cupful of flour diluted with enough cold water to pour easily. Place a small cup in the center of a baking dish, arrange round it pieces of chicken, removing some of the larger bones; pour gravy and cool. Cover with piecrust in which several incisions have been made for the escape of steam. Wet the edge of the crust and put round a rim, having the rim come close to the edge. Bake in a moderate oven until the crust is well raised and brownel. If puff paste is used it is best to bake the top separately.

FISKE O'HARA IN HIS NEW PLAY "HIS HEART'S DESIRE"

He said last year that you could go to shows in Toledo, Detroit, Chicago and New York and you wouldn't see anything better it its line than Fiske O'Hara in his famous Irish comedy, "Kilkenny." There are no better, all who heard and saw him last year are of the same opinion. This year we say the same thing about his new play, "His Heart's Desire" which comes to the Bradley Opera house next Friday, December 1st. A better play never came to the Bradley Opera house. To hear Mr O'Hara once is to hear him again and again if the opportunity allows. His magnitism will captivate you his singing enchant you. When you hear him sing, "Mollie Mine," "That's How the Fairies Came to Ireland"; "Be Sure and Kiss the Blarney Stone" and his other new songs you will have to admit you never heard anything better. Mr O'Hara is considered the best Irish tenor in the world. This season he is carrying his own orchestra which contributes in a large measure to the enjoyment of all music lovers.

This orchestra also renders several selections including violin and cello solos before the performance and between acts in additiou to accompaning Mr O'Hara in all of his songs.

Mr. O'Hara is caring a mammoth scenic production this season, requiring a special baggage car for transportation. Everything is caring complete including all scenery, furniture, electrical effects and a portable dressing room for the star.

The management of the Bradley wishes to state that nothing better than Fiske O'Hara in, "His Hearts Desire" will be seen at the Bradley this winter. Don't miss the best attraction of the year.

HENRY C. CONKLING

Henry Coleman Conkling died at the home of his niece in Rochester, New York Friday evening, November 24, 1916, at the age of 92 years, 9 months and 28 days. He was on the way from his home in Tecumseh to spend the winter with his daughter Mrs. Lyster H. Dewey in Washington, D. C., and, in accordance with his usual custom, was visiting relatives along the way.

He contracted a cold and when he reached the home of his niece Mrs. Charella Tappan Burr, he was too ill to proceed farther. Medical attendance and a nurse were immediately summoned and both Mr. and Mrs. Dewey came from Washington in response to telegrams. The cold developed into bronchial pneumonia and two weeks after the first attack of illness the end came and a long, useful and beloved life came to its close.

The remains were brought to Tecumseh Sunday and laid in state at the Presbyterian church from 12:30 until the hour of the funeral when Rev. W. A. Rex paid a beautiful tribute to the departed who had been a life long member of that church.

He was borne to the grave by six members of the session who had been his friends for years: S. W. Boyce, Hugh Ager, John T. Boyce, H. S. Waring, R. M. Moiles and Charles Kemp.

The following sketch was written by Mr. Conkling in 1913:

Henry C. Conkling was born in Middletown, Orange county, N. Y., January 26, 1824. He was the second son of the family of eight children who grew up to mature life—five sons and three daughters.

At the age of nine years, in the spring of 1833, the family removed from Middletown to the then wilds of Michigan and settled in the township of Raisin, Lenawee county, four miles from Tecumseh. The family then consisted of the parents, Samuel G. Conkling and Julia Ann Conkling, four boys and two girls.

Henry lived at home until he was nineteen years old, attending school in the log school house summer and winter until old enough to work in clearing up the farm, when only the winter could be spared to attend school. He had no other schooling except one term at the Branch University, then located at Tecumseh.

At sixteen years of age he joined the Presbyterian church in Tecumseh of which his parents were members.

At the age of nineteen he left home and was employed as clerk in the stores of the village for three years. He left Tecumseh in 1846, for New York where he was employed as clerk in a wholesale grocery store for seven years. (A this time, 1849, he sang in the large chorus with Jenny Lind in Castle Garden, New York.—L. H. D.)

In 1853, he married Sarah Frances Carpenter of Goshen, N. Y., and returned to Tecumseh, engaging in the grocery and produce business for a number of years.

In 1868 he was elected state senator, serving one term. In 1871 he was elected clerk of Lenawee county. During his term of office as clerk, four years, he resided at Adrian. For several years he held the office of superintendent of the poor of the county. After the expiration of his official term at Adrian he again took up his residence in Tecumseh and was appointed agent of the Nickel Plate fast freight line, one of the N. Y. Central lines with office in Toledo. He held this position twelve years.

In 1868 he and his wife adopted Henrietta Knight as their child, who at the age of 24 years was married to Lyster H Dewey in 1889. He was appointed botanist in the U. S. Department of Agriculture and they have lived in Washington, D. C., most of the time since their marriage.

Since the death of his wife in 1898, Mr. Conkling has spent the winters in Washington with his daughter.

He is the last of the family, his oldest brother Hudson having died some two years ago.

Though nearly ninety years old, he is in perfect health and retains his mental and physical vigor in a wonderful manner. In politics he has always been an ardent Repuqlican.

Tecumseh, May 12th, 1913.

Preparedness.

"What was the date of Columbus' discovery of America?" an examiner asked.

"Fourteen ninety-two," the bright boy replied instantly.

"Right," said the examiner. "And why was that date important for you to remember?"

"Because I knew you would be sure to ask it," the bright boy said.—New York Times.

Buick

A Great Thanksgiving

FOR that good home-coming journey at festive holiday time, as well as for the practical needs of daily service, you should own a Buick car. Holiday sentiment and every-day sense alike demand Buick reliability, Buick comfort, Buick economy and style.

Public faith has been earned by the performance of the Buick Six—performance which for powerful, vibrationless going is the present standard of perfection.

However automobile progress may develop and improve toward "better" building, this fact remains—

The Valve-in-Head principle applied by Buick engineers is the fundamental idea which shall control the future destiny of the motor car.

And—When better automobiles are built Buick will build them.

Bismarck Is The Best Advertised Coffee

on the market because it backs up the advertsing with a genuinely superior quality—a quality so much better that folks talk about it.

Nothing but the purest and primest berries go into it; you can see that for yourself because Bismark is not steel cut to hide good, bad and indifferent coffee berries all ground into a pound mess.

Bismarck Coffee

is packed in parchment lined packages protecting it against weakening, dust, air, dampness. A rich aroma fit to tease your palate. Creamy flowing from the cup—a taste of coffee cheer you'll smack your lips and smile over.

30 cents the pound package; you'll say it is worth double.

For sale exclusively, C. M. GILBERT.

Cleaning Silver.

To clean your silver put it in an aluminum kettle full of hot water to which has been added a tablespoonful or two each of salt and soda. This will clean the silver in a twinkling, with no rubbing or mess. Be sure the receptacle is aluminum or the charm is gone.

Lowden Takes Reins Jan. 8.

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 27.—Governor-elect Lowden will be inaugurated Jan. 8, it is announced, five days after the convening of the Fiftieth general assembly, on Jan. 3. The question of having an inaugural ball has not been decided.

THE COAL SITUATION

During the past week have received advices from several sourses that coal is expected to go higher before it goes lower. it is believed this condition will prevail until long towaros spring.

At present we have most any kind of coal you may want which we can deliver in reasonable quantities, several kinds at a price lower than can be bought on present prices.

We have several kinds in transit and are doing our best to keep a well assorted stock on hand at the lowest possible prices.

L. E. TEMPLE & CO.

We particularly recommend RED BAND as a desirable coal for any purpose.

$100 REWARD $100

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease,, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative power that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Sold by Druggists, Price 75c.

TIRED OF LIFE
Constant Backache and Rheumatism

Foley Kidney Pills fixed up Texas brakeman so he's good as ever.

Almost down and out with kidney trouble. Rheumatism so bad he could scarcely get up when he sat down. Back ached all the time.

No wonder Mr. F. A. Wooley, brakeman on the road from Dallas to Jackson, Texas, "was tired of living."

"I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised," he said, "I took some and after a short time I was thoroughly cured and am having no more trouble.

Your kidney ills will disappear—and with them the backache and rheumatism, by the use of Foley's Kidney Pills. Once your kidneys become strong and active, aches and pains will disappear like magic.

There's nothing to equal the genuine. Will help any case of kidney or bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicines. Contain no harmful drugs. Try them.

TWICE-TOLD TESTIMONY

Tecumseh People Are Doing All They Can for Fellow Sufferers

Tecumseh testimony has been published to prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills to others in Tecumseh who suffer from bad backs and kidneys ills. Lest any sufferer doubt this evidence of merit, we produce confirmed proof—statements from Tecumseh people who again endorse Doan's Kidney Pills—confirm their former testimony. Here's a Tecumseh case.

Geo. Chaplin, W. Logan St., Tecumseh, gave the following statement on Dec. 5, 1908. He said: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they proved to me that they are the good medicine that I have often heard others recommend. I had kidney trouble and got Doan's Kidney Pills at Wright & Son's Drug Store. They greatly benefited me."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Chaplin has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

TEUTON FORCES FORM JUNCTION

Those of Falkenhayn Get In Touch with Mackensen's.

BUCHAREST NEAR INVESTMENT

Nutcracker Is Working from Three Sides—Roumanians in North Put Up Stiff Opposition—Foes Unable to Rush Them—Russ-Roumanians Attack in Dobrudja.

Berlin, Nov. 27.—"We are in touch with the forces that crossed the Danube."

In this brief, concise form, the Berlin war office announced that the knockout blow to Roumania has been dealt. The junction between General von Falkenhayn, sweeping down upon Bucharest from the north and west, and Field Marshal von Mackensen, forming the southern arm of the giant Teuton "nutcracker" has come to pass.

Losing no time after his crossing of the river, Mackensen, in a swift dash pushed north to the gates of Alexandria, forty-seven miles southwest of Bucharest, and thence sent cavalry detachments northwestward to meet the "scouts" delegated by von Falkenhayn. There was no ceremonial greetings, no enthusiastic hand-clasping and cheers of "Willkommen!" A force of Roumanians was there to spoil the merrymaking. Half way between Alexandria and Roisiri, a point some nineteen miles northwestward, these troops, after weeks of continued retreat, isolated from the bulk of King Ferdinand's army, threw itself into the relentless wheels of a history-making dual steam roller.

End of One Roumanian Force.

From Bucharest, early in the afternoon, came official word of the "successful repulse of an enemy column advancing on Rosiori." The later announcement from Berlin that the junction has been effected implies the tragic end of this heroic Roumanian force.

The contact thus established between the two Teuton commanders places a bar of iron and steel square through Roumania from the Transylvanian Alps down to the Danube.

The "nutcracker," after standing for a brief period almost vertically west of Bucharest, a line of 153 miles, is now contracting for its final squeeze.

Both "arms" are swinging swiftly toward the Roumanian capital. The latest word from Berlin, contained in the night's official report, says:

"In Wallachia our advance progresses as planned."

The earlier statement told of important headway made by the Teuton left and center. Sweeping down from the Transylvanian foothills, along the Alt river, Falkenhayn's northern army captured the important railway city of Ramnicu-Valcea, about forty-seven miles north of Slatina, the Teuton pivotal point in the drive on Bucharest.

Roumanians Keep Up Stiff Resistance.

Further to the northeast, on the heights north of Curtes-de-Arges, where Falkenhayn is trying to outflank the Roumanian Campulung army, the Teutons met bitter resistance. One of the most cruel see-saw battles of the war is raging here. The Teuton commander, anxious to save men and munitions, again and again sent minor forces to attack the defenders, only to withdraw them again as soon as the resistance was found still too tenacious. Then he left it to the "nutcracker's" wide encircling movements to accomplish his end without much cost of blood. Slowly but steadily the Roumanians are giving way on this front, yielding to the irresistible will of strategy and numbers.

In the region due west of Bucharest, where any further resistance by the Roumanians is impossible in the face of the staggering odds in numbers of men and guns, "the race is occupied by fleeing cart columns," in the words of the Berlin statement. "Their advance," it is added, "is marked by burning towns."

Danube Is Rising.

In telling of the crossing of the Danube, the German statement says the river has risen high because of thaw.

Large reinforcements have been received by the Russo-Roumanian army in the Dobrudja. Berlin reports a repulse of an attack by infantry, aided by Russian naval forces in the Black sea, upon Mackensen's right wing.

FIRE PERILS ITALIAN SHIP

Firemen in Hard Battle to Prevent Ammunition Igniting Hold.

New York, Nov. 27.—Fire started in the hold of the Italian liner Regina D'Italia, early in the morning. The blaze started in No. 2 hatchery where a cargo of wax was being loaded.

For more than five hours fire boats and land apparatus fought to control the blaze before it could spread to holds filled with ammunition. Finally, it was brought under control, and the work of loading the vessel was continued.

INEZ M. BOISSEVAIN IS CALLED BY DEATH

Noted Suffragist Succumbs After Brave Fight.

Los Angeles, Nov. 27.—Mrs. Inez Milholland Boissevain, widely known woman suffragist and welfare worker, died in a hospital here shortly before midnight after an illness of ten weeks. She was thirty years old.

Mrs. Boissevain was stricken suddenly while addressing the recent political campaign and fainted on the platform of the meeting. She was removed to the hospital and her husband and parents rushed from New York to join her here. Miss Vida Milholland, her sister, was with her when she was stricken and has been in constant attendance since that time.

Mrs. Boissevain's illness was diagnosed as aplastic anemia and blood transfusion was resorted to in attempts to improve her condition. Miss Vida Milholland twice gave blood for this purpose and on four other occasions friends submitted to the ordeal in hope that benefit would result.

MEXICANS SIGN U.S. AGREEMENT

Army to Be Withdawn, But May Recross Border.

CARRANZA MUST MAKE GOOD

Protocol Provides That Territory Occupied by Pershing Is to Be Turned Over to First Chief—U. S. Can Chase Bandits on Other Side, However.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — An agreement was reached between the American and Mexican delegates to the joint conference here. It provides:

First—For the withdrawal from Mexico of the Pershing punitive expedition within forty days of the approval by both governments of the agreement. The provision is made that the time may be extended if conditions in northern Mexico are such as to constitute a menace to United States soil. The details of the withdrawal are left to General Pershing.

Second—The United States troops thereafter shall patrol their side of the border and Mexican troops theirs in order to guard against raids. Co-operation between both forces in case of necessity is provided.

The following statement was given out by the commission:

Commission Issues Statement.

"The commission has come to an agreement as to withdrawal of American troops in Mexico and border control which is to go by Mr. Pani to Mexico. If it is acceptable the conferences will be resumed within two weeks. The troops are to be withdrawn by General Pershing within forty days of the approval of the agreement but in such manner as will permit the Mexican troops to occupy the evacuated territory, which the Mexicans have agreed to do. Should the northern section of the Chihuahua be in a state of turmoil such as to threaten our border, the American troops may alone or in conjunction with the Mexican troops disperse the marauders, and the time for withdrawal shall be extended by the time necessary for such work.

"The Mexican commander is to have control of the plan by which occupation of northern Chihuahua is effected, and General Pershing is to have control of the plan of withdrawal and the right to use the railroad to Juarez if he so desires.

"The committee found it impracticable to arrange a plan of joint border control through a common military force, and abandoned the idea of a border zone which has been so much discussed. It is, however, left to the commanders of both nations on the border to enter into such arrangements for co-operation against marauders whenever it is practicable.

"The agreement distinctly states that each side is to care for its own side of the border but that this shall not preclude co-operation between the two forces to preserve peace upon the border.

Reserves Right to Pursue Bandits.

"The American commissioners told their Mexican colleagues that as a matter of national necessity the policy of this government must be to reserve the right to pursue marauders coming from Mexico into the United States as long as conditions in northern Mexico are in their present abnormal state. Such pursuit is not, however, to be regarded by Mexico as in any way hostile to the Carranza government, for the marauders are our common enemies.

"The correspondence between the two state departments under which the commission was created requires the latter to deal not only with withdrawal of troops but also with all other questions affecting the two countries, chief of which may be said to be the protection of the lives and property of all foreigners in Mexico. The American commissioners have not only pressed for the consideration of this matter but for a number of others such as the establishment of an international claims commission and the restoration of health conditions in Mexico while typhus is making headway and death by starvation is common. These questions as well as many others have already been considered by the commission informally and are to be given formal consideration when the commission reassembles, which it will do as soon as the agreement as to withdrawal and border control, which was officially made of preferential concern, has been approved by both governments.

Agreement Only First Step.

"The present agreement may therefore be regarded as the first step only in the work of the commission. If this, however, is not found to be agreeable to the two governments the commission will, by force of the understanding had between the two state departments, come to an end."

Up to Carranza.

The agreement was reached after thirteen weeks of deliberations. The question of a loan was not brought up.

The agreement is contingent upon the approval of General Venustiano Carranza and this is likely to hang upon his attitude toward the clause providing for the pursuit into Mexico of Mexican bandits raiding American border towns. President Wilson has already sanctioned its terms.

A copy of the protocol will be taken

First action in the United States district court for western Michigan to test the validity of the Adamson eight-hour law was taken by the Chicago-Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad, with Michigan headquarters in Marquette, when a chancery subpeona was served on District Attorney Myron H. DOBRUDJA REPORTS CONFLICT

Russian Forces Reach Hard Pressed Roumanian Ally—Report Says Roumanian Losses Are Small—Army Retiring—Entente Gains in Macedonia—Regain Serbian Territory.

BERLIN — The war office announces that the army groups of Field Marshal von Mackensen have crossed the Danube river at several places. It also was stated that the German forces in Wallachia had reached the Alt river.

Orsova and Turnu Severin, both on the Danube, have been captured by Austro-German troops, the war office announced early in the day.

The resistance of the Roumanians in the extreme western section of Roumania has broken, the statement says.

Local attacks have been made by entente forces on the Germano-Bulgarian lines in the Monastir region on the Macedonian front, but without success, the war office announced.

Danube Threatens Flood.

LONDON, ENG. — A Rome dispatch to the Wireless Press says all the bridges across the Danube have been destroyed. An overflow of the Danube is threatened, and the population of Dobrudja is running short of food, which is causing great suffering.

The following is the official report from the Macedonian front:

"On the Struma front we drove back enemy patrols. On the Doiran front British airplanes successfully bombed and damaged the enemy lines."

Roumanian forces have assumed the offensive in the province of Dobrudja, says the official statement issued by the Roumanian war department, and have advanced along the entire front, capturing several towns about fifteen miles north of the Tohernavoda-Constanta railroad line.

Roumanian Loss Small?

AMSTERDAM — A telegram from the Roumanian front to the Cologne Volks Zeitung, dated Wednesday, Nov. 22, says the Roumanian battalions at Orsova, cut off from retreat to Craiova, constituted comparatively a small force.

Russians Begin Advance.

PETROGRAD — The Russians have begun an advance in Dobrudja. The war office announces that Russian troops have reached Lake Tashaul and crossed the Kartal river.

Entente Advances in Serbia.

LONDON, ENG. — Further progress by the French, Serbian and Italian forces to the north and west of Monastir is reported by the respective war offices Sofia, on the other hand, announced only the capture of some allied trenches near Boudamitza, while Berlin claimed the repulse of local attacks.

The Serbian war office reported the capture of Rapesch village and the defeat of German troops in the Cerna bend. The Italians, advancing west of Monastir, have reached Nijipole.

A GENERAL SURVEY OF THE WAR.

Monday, Nov. 20.—The advance of the Germans on Craiova menaces the Roumanians fighting to the north on Hungarian soil and contesting the German-Austrians in an attempt to cross the Transylvanian Alps into the Wallachia plain.

The allies are declared to be in pursuit of the Bulgars and Germans who were forced from Monastir. Monastir is said to have been practically destroyed before being evacuated.

Rome concedes a victory for the Austrians on the Carso front.

Tuesday, Nov. 21.—Craiova, vital nerve of the strategic railway net of western Roumania, fell to the army of General von Falkenhayn.

The Serbians have captured the villages of Makovo, Orahovo, Vranand Subodol, all west and northwest of Monastir. In addition to many prisoners, the Serbians have taken a great quantity of war materials.

Attempts of Serbian troops to advance in the Moglenica region of the Macedonian front were defeated, it is announced officially by Berlin. In the Monastir district the entente troops are still advancing.

Thursday, Nov. 23.—Berlin reports that Slatina, Roumania, thirty miles east of Craiova is menaced by the Teuton forces under Falkenhayn. Bucharest reports that the Roumanians have captured a mountain and two villages to the right of General Mackensen in Dobrudja.

Berlin claims the enveloping movement of the entente forces north of Monastir has been checked. Paris claims further advance as far as Hotesovo in the Lake Presba region.

Wednesday, Nov. 22.—In the Wallachian region of Roumania the Teutons are keeping up their pressure of the fleeing Roumanians. Petrograd reports a retreat toward Craiova, apparently not having received information of the capture of that town by the central powers.

Berlin claims attacks by the entente powers northeast of Monastir have failed. Paris announces that the German-Bulgarians are offering strong resistance along their new line formed north of that town.

Leskovets, on the west bank of Lake Presba on the extreme western flank of the Macedonian theater, has been captured by entente troops. The belligerent forces have been clashing bitterly in this section.

Friday, Nov. 24.—General Falkenhayn has captured Turnu Severin, inside the Roumanian border, and Orsova, just across the border in Hungary, the two commanding the Iron Gate.

Berlin reports that General Mackensen has crossed the Danube at several points in southern Roumania. Strong Russian reinforcements are reported in Dobrudja. Bucharest and Petrograd both report the Teutons yielding ground in this sector.

The entente troops continue to gain north of Monastir, according to Paris and Rome dispatches. Berlin and Sofia, however, report the allies driven back at some points in this advance.

BOY WIZARD IS HELD FOR PLATINUM THEFT

Salary $10,000 Per Year; Goods Stolen Worth $2,000.

MILWAUKEE, WIS.—Henry C. Arbutle, nineteen-year-old youth, wanted here on the charge of larceny by bailee of $2,000 worth of platinum, has been captured in New York City, according to information received here from August Oesterreich, president of the International Dye Works, which employed Arbutle as a chemist at $10,000 a year.

Arbutle, according to William Oesterreich, president of the International Dye company, organized to back Arbutle, was taken into custody while attempting to dispose of platinum he is alleged to have stolen from his concern. Private detectives made the arrest, Mr. Oesterreich said.

It was Henry Wilceus of Chicago, according to August Oesterreich, father of the International's president and nationally known as an expert on dyes, who discovered Arbutle and brought him to Milwaukee. A Catholic priest in Chicago, whose name the police are trying to ascertain, is said to have been the guardian of Arbutle, who is a Chicago orphan.

Arbutle invented a dye that is said to surpass any made in Germany, and it is said the secret of the dye is locked in his own bosom.

LEGAL ROMANCES.

Court Cases Where the Unexpected Came as a Climax.

FACTS THAT RIVAL FICTION.

Some Trials In Which the Heavy Hand of the Law Was Curiously Turned Aside From Inflicting Punishment Upon an Innocent Person.

As a rule, law proceedings are dry affairs, but there have been some wherein the facts rivaled the most romantic fiction.

About the middle of the eighteenth century a vessel arrived one day at an English port from India. The captain reported that, while sailing through the Indian ocean, one of his passengers, a man of wealth and rank, had been murdered and then accused one of his passengers, a young brother of the murdered man, of the crime.

Though protesting his innocence, the accused was brought to trial. When put upon the stand the captain swore that about midnight on the evening of the murder, which was Christmas eve, he had seen the accused leave his own cabin, creep stealthily along the deck to the cabin of his brother and there enter. Shortly after, the captain testified, he heard the sounds of a struggle and then saw the accused emerge and return to his cabin. On going to the cabin of the elder brother he found him dead from strangulation. Under cross examination the captain said that he, himself, was concealed from the view of the accused man by the deep shadow cast by the sail in the light of a full moon, while the accused had been compelled to creep in the light for quite a distance, which rendered him perfectly recognizable. The second mate, who testified that he was with the captain, swore to the same facts.

There was no other evidence except the denial of the accused, who, it was shown, would profit largely by his brother's death. Just as the case was about to be given to the jury a man in the courtroom asked permission to put a single question to the captain.

"Now," said the stranger when the captain had returned to the stand, "if you recognized the prisoner in the light of a full moon on last Christmas eve, how do you, who know something of astronomy, account for the fact that on last Christmas eve there occurred a total eclipse of the sun?"

Trapped thus in his own circumstantial lies, the captain broke down and confessed that he and the mate had been hired to commit the murder by a third relative, who, upon the death of the younger brother, would have fallen heir to both their estates.

In a celebrated court martial case which came up for trial in 1871 a young lieutenant was accused of having forged another man's name to a promissory note and obtained money on it. The accusing witness produced the note in question, which was written upon a sheet of blue ruled foolscap paper and bore a date of the year 1867.

Everything had gone against the defendant and the case was about to go to the jury, when the sweetheart of the lieutenant, who was sitting beside him at the trial, happened to pick up the note and hold it in such a way that a strong light from the window shone through the paper. There, to her joy, she read the watermark, "Swampscott Mills, 1869." In other words, the note purported to have been written on the paper two years before the paper had been manufactured.

The year 1869 figures in another strange lawsuit. In the year 1880 certain persons in New Mexico claimed a huge tract of hundreds of thousands of acres as the heirs of one Bartolomo Baca, to whom, they alleged, the Spanish government had in 1817, made a grant. They exhibited the deed of grant and sued to obtain possession. On the trial the deed of grant stood every test of genuineness, and a decree was entered awarding the immense property to the claimants.

Some months afterward as John Waldron, the attorney for the Santa Fe railroad, who had been the principal losers, was reading a paper his eye rested on this little paragraph, "Aniline ink was invented in 1869 in Germany." As he read the thought flashed through his mind, "What kind of ink was the Baca land grant written in?" By permission of the court he had a chemist make a quiet test of the ink of the grant, and when he read the chemist's report he cabled to a certain German chemist in Europe. Six months after, when the case was, by permission of the court, reopened on account of newly discovered evidence, a white bearded stranger took the stand and in ten minutes sent the case of the Baca heirs out of court and the heirs themselves into the penitentiary by swearing that he was the inventor of aniline ink, that the invention was made in 1869 and that the ink in which the Bartolomo Baca grant, dated 1817, was written, was aniline.—Case and Comment.

Miske Looks Like a Comer.

Billy Miske of St. Paul, who recently outpointed Battling Levinsky of Philadelphia in a ten round bout in New York, is a rangy young chap, strong, game and a good, clever, aggressive boxer. His showing against the veteran Levinsky was the more remarkable for the fact that he was outweighed more than ten younds. He scaled 170½ pounds, Levinsky 181. In height Miske was the taller, and he also had a corresponding advantage in reach. His fight showed that he is worthy of a rating with all the light heavyweights. He is a factor in the division that must be reckoned with.

Among the troops that left Halifax recently was the One Hundred and Eightieth Canadian Sportsmen's battalion, and in its ranks were such fine fellows as A. E. Wood, the fifteen mile record holder; Tom Longboat, the famous Indian runner; Lou Marsh, another famous distancer; Tom Flanagan, who first won fame as Longboat's manager, and many other well known sportsmen. This battalion was recruited entirely from young men who have followed track athletics, hockey and football, and it is considered the finest body of troops that the Dominion has sent to the war zone.

Care of Footwear

With a little thought and care of shoes the family shoe bill may be reduced at least one-third. The present day liquid polish used on shoes is apt to crack the leather and ruin it. Most liquid dressings have a certain amount of acid, and this destroys the oils in the leather. If one must use liquid dressings, once in two weeks wash off every bit of dressing from the shoes and apply a liberal coating of castor oil and set the shoes in an airy place for two days. The elasticity of the leather will be renewed and the shoes become soft and pliable. Wipe shoes carefully before applying the next coat of liquid dressing.

Why Not Cure Your Bad Habits?

In a large eastern city is a professional hypnotist who has a wide reputation for curing the habit of intemperance. His method is very simple.

"There is no real hypnotism about it—unless it is a matter of self hypnotism," this professor once said. "I simply observe the mind process of the man that drinks and advise him how to reverse it. The subconscious soliloquy in the mind of the man that drinks runs something like this: 'When did I have my last ball? Whew! Long as that! I don't see how I stood it so long. Wouldn't have thought it possible.' And so on the victim repeats to himself on the principle that he needs this periodical stimulant just as it is necessary to heap coal on to fire to keep it from burning out. In a word, that man self hypnotizes himself into the belief that he needs a drink.

"My advice to cure this craving is not to fight the appetite, but to fight down the cause that leads to the appetite. Let a man repeat to himself over and over again: 'I really don't need this drink. If I take it, it's simply a matter of pouring so much down my throat superfluously, for I could get along without.' Before long he will be surprised how instead of hypnotizing himself into drink he will hypnotize himself out of it."

Simple, isn't it? But if this self hypnotism, or whatever you choose to call it, is a cure for intemperance why is it not equally a recipe for curing other bad habits?

TEMPTATIONS.

Too many of us are gardeners to our temptations. We cultivate them assiduously. We do not realize that the strength or the weakness of a temptation depends largely on ourselves. Every time we yield the temptation to which we have yielded is strengthened for its next attack, and it may take half a dozen victories on our part to counteract the strength imparted to a temptation by a single failure of ours.

General von Kneussl, German Commander

According to dispatches from the front, the fighting between the German troops under General von Falkenhayn and the Roumanian forces in the Transylvania Alps has been greatly hampered by snow and cold weather The snow filled defiles of the mountains have rendered military operations alike difficult for both armies. Among the officers under General von Falkenhayn is Lieutenant General von Kneussl, who heads the Bavarian divisions. Von Kneussl distinguished himself in the siege and capture of Przemysl in June, 1915, when that Austrian city was recaptured from the Russians, who had won it only twenty days before.

LIEUTENANT GENERAL VON KNEUSSL.

Roup In Poultry

Overcrowding in the henhouse is one of the direct causes of colds and roup, according to Ross M. Sherwood, specialist in poultry husbandry in the Kansas State Agricultural college.

Egg production is lowered as a result of disease and uncomfortable conditions induced by overcrowding. Every fowl in the henhouse should have nine inches of lineal space on the roosts and three or four square feet of floor space. If such housing is not provided the hens will not have room for scratching. Hens should be fed in loose straw so that they will be forced to exercise in order to get feed. Colds are caused by lack of ventilation. Roup often develops as the result of a cold.

CAMERA MEN ALOFT.

How Battle Field Views Are Taken From an Aeroplane.

The camera man in the aeroplane, in order to get his focus, must usually work within range of the firing lines. Few precautions are possible. The bottom of the aeroplane may be covered with metal sheets, when it is said to be armored, but the pilot must depend upon his fleetness and elevation to dodge the enemies' fire. There is besides the chance of encountering another aerial craft, probably armed for an attack with a machine gun. Calmly facing such dangers the camera man must coolly adjust his camera, calculate the value of light and shadow, the speed of his craft and altitude and make his exposures at just the right instant. The photographer who loads his plate holders and, camera in hand, takes his place on a scouting aeroplane faces perhaps a greater hazard than any man of his profession, which is saying a great deal.

The telephoto camera, which has been especially designed and constructed for aeroplane work, is as powerful as a small telescope or the field-glasses available for an army officer.

Every one who has ever looked at the ground glass of a camera beneath the focusing cloth knows how the world suddenly appears in miniature. As one looks through the telephoto camera the landscape suddenly leaps nearer like the stage of the theater through one's opera glasses.

With such a camera excellent photographs may be taken at a height of 3,500 meters, or rather more than two miles. From such altitudes the lens sweeps a broad expanse of country. In the photographs made from a point a thousand feet or more up the detail recorded is often marvelous. A fort or a trench is thus shown as clearly as though snapped by an ordinary camera at a distance of but a few feet. Many of the pictures are taken at high altitudes with the camera inverted and the lens pointed through a hole in the floor of the car.

Since these fliers can work in a radius of 100 miles their operating base need not be near the battle line and the dark room problem is greatly simplified. When he has returned to earth with his exposures the developing and printing may be done in some nearby city or town. It is often necessary, however, to develop in the field, when special portable tent dark rooms are employed, or the films are developed in special trays without the use of ruby light. Developing becomes a thrilling operation when a chance bullet or bursting shell may at any instant enter one's dark room and fog the plates, if it does nothing worse.

With these aero photographs before him the modern commander may be said to look directly down upon the battlefield. An attack of a defensive movement may be planned like a game of chess, where every square of the board is beneath the eyes.—"The Camera Man," by Francis A. Collins.

Screw In Child's Lung.

Ann Arbor, Mich.—A metal screw half an inch long and a quarter of an inch in diameter, which accidentally became lodged in the lungs of four-year-old Margery Pearce, daughter of South Haven people, was removed recently by an operation, without the aid of a knife. Instruments of a special nature were used by Dr. Canfield of this city in drawing the screw, which threatened the child's life, to the throat, from which it was removed by forceps.

Legless Men Sell Legs.

Nashville, Tenn.—Three men, neither of whom has a leg, all losing their limbs in railway accidents, have bought out an artificial limb company in this city and will operate it in the future, These men are Walter Herra, Charles Sirgon and W. A. Johnson. According to members of the firm, no one will be employed in the establishment, from office boy to bookkeeper, who has more than one leg.

IMPROVER IS BIG AID IN REDUCING THE COST OF LIVING

Ho-Mayde Makes Deliciously Good Bread From Even Cheaper Grades of Flour.

"With the price of baker's bread increased, and no indications that former prices will prevail for months and perhaps years, thousands of women are making bread in their own kitchens in an effort to reduce the cost of living," said C. I. Chapin, general manager of the Ho-Mayde Products Co., of Detroit.

"And many of these women have found Ho-Mayde Bread Improver of great assistance in making bread because the wholesome product, when dissolved in the yeast, assures absolutely dependable results.

"The Bread Improver shortens the time of bread making and prevents failures. It makes larger, softer and whiter loaves and imparts a nut-like flavor to the bread.

"It is not necessary to set bread over night when Ho-Mayde is used. Bread set in the morning is out of the oven by noon, and by its use an extra loaf is made from the same materials.

"Hundreds of housewives have informed me that they have greatly reduced the cost of living by using Ho-Mayde, as they are assured light, nutritious loaves of excellent bread even when the cheaper grades of flour are used."

The Ho-Mayde Products Co., which is sending sample packages of the Bread Improver to all women, upon request, has received testimonial letters from hundreds of housewives, as well as editors of several women's magazines, highly indorsing Ho-Mayde. It is said that Ho-Mayde will play a prominent part in reviving bread making, which, for the average woman, is almost a lost art.

Definitions of Man.

Man has been defined by Aristotle as "a reasoning animal," by Plato as "a political animal," by Dante as "a ridiculous animal," by Varchi and by John Fiske as "an improvable animal." Boerhave calls men "mud worked up by the hand of God."

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

When Baby Begins Walking.

Do not make the mistake of trying to force your little baby to walk. If a baby is well it usually makes an attempt to stand on its feet at nine or ten months of age, and at eleven or twelve months it usually stands with slight assistance.

The first attempts at walking are commonly seen in the twelfth or thirteenth month. The average age, as a rule, at which children walk is the fourteenth or fifteenth month. If the baby passes that age without trying to walk then consult a physician. However, a very marked difference is seen in different families with respect to the time of walking. General malnutrition, a severe or prolonged illness may postpone walking for several months.

BAKING BREAD a PLEASURE with

HO-MAYDE BREAD IMPROVER

There is a joy in every loaf of "Ho-Mayde Bread."

Careful housewives who want to save when bakers' bread is high, add a teaspoonful of HO-MAYDE BREAD IMPROVER to the water in which the yeast is dissolved. The result is most gratifying—larger loaves of whiter and sweeter bread. A wholesome product, it accelerates yeast action so that the time of bread making is reduced to about four hours. HO-MAYDE prevents failures—no sour or chilled bread—more loaves from the same materials. If your grocer cannot supply you, send 15c for a large package. Write for free sample.

THE COAL SITUATION

During the past week have received advices from several sourses that coal is expected to go higher before it goes lower, it is believed this condition will prevail until long towards spring.

At present we have most any kind of coal you may want which we can deliver in reasonable quantities, several kinds at a price lower than can be bought on present prices.

We have several kinds in transit and are doing our best to keep a well assorted stock on hand at the lowest possible prices.

SCHOOL EXERCISES

East Branch Schools.

Wednesday afternoon the pupils of the several grades in the East Branch gave a very interesting program under the direction of Miss Mildred Boyce and Miss Mary Scarlett The exercises were held in Miss Boyce's room, a stage being curtained for the occasion The first was a song by the two schools. "Swing the Shiny Sickle" which was very pleasingly rendered. The corn song by Whittier than followed being a recitation in concert by five of the fifth graders.

A playet followed 1621-1916 in Puritan and present day costume, this was given by the third and fourth grades A sextet by the fifth grade was followed by physical training exercises by twelve of the fifth grades

Little Isabel McIntyre and Harley Nye gave "Going to Grandpa's" and Teresa Deery, Lila Rockwood and Harold Babcock followed with "O, Busy Squirrel"

"The Town Musicians" were represented by the third and fourth grades in a very fine manner The same grades then sang "The Little Cooks" in costume and illustrated their work throughout

A playlet in two acts, "I'd Be Thankful If—" was nicely given. The closing exercises were given by Geraldine Gillespie, recitation; Margaret Turner, an original story; Lucian Williamson, recitation; Eleanor Caldwell, original story; which were all very interesting.

AGNES MCNAIR

Miss Agnes McNair passed away at her home on West Chicago street Thursday Nov. 30 1916, at one o'clock p. m. after an illness of a few days.

THANKSGIVING PARTY

35 Couple Present.

Music by Toledo Orchestra.

It was a merry crowd that gathered at Witherell's Hall Wednesday evening for the Thanksgiving party. The hall presented a very pleasing appearance. All the old decorations were removed and floor lamps, easy chairs, pretty window drapings converted the hall into a spacious drawing room The ladies in their dainty gowns and sweet flowers, the young men in their best made many moving pictures that excelled any ever thrown upon the screen There were thirty-five couples present

Mr and Mrs. B. J. Pulver lead the grand march The feature dances were very pretty, each dancer enjoying the many changes as they also enjoyed every other dance of the evening.

Luncheon was served in the hall, small tables being provided for the convenience of the company. It was past midnight before the crowd dispersed for their homes, each one voicing their great enjoyment of the occasion

Among those present from out of town were the Misses Egan of Adrian, Mildred Heesen of Toledo, Ethel Slayton and Doris Anderson of Ann Arbor.

The Ladies Orchestra from Toledo had an added charm, a piccolo player assisting and Will Coller as usual taking his part.

The party was a decided success as is proven by the many good words heard on the street this morning.

A PLEASANT FAMILY DINNER

Mr and Mrs. John Heesen and Mr. and Mrs. R A. Heesen entertained at dinner Thursday at the home of the former. There were about forty guests present representing the Heesen and Nyland families

A three course dinner was served, three large tables being used to accommodate the guests. The tables were prettily decorated. A large pumpkin filled with fruit made a very attractive center piece.

The guests from out of town were Mr and Mrs. Chas Yates, Mrs Nellie Adamson, of Detroit; Alfred Heesen and family, Mr and Mrs Arthur Hall and son Mervale, Mr. and Mrs Will Baldwin and daughter and Miss Mildred Heesen of Toledo; and John Tannis of Saginaw George Heesen and Leban Baldwin will spend the balance of the week with Mr. and Mrs Blinn Tallman.

A SINGULAR COINCIDENCE

A letter recently received by Sidney Wilson from Dr B F. Snyder relates a singular coincidence and encloses clippings, one taken from a newspaper under the title of "The Public" which announces the death of Andrew Wilson of Tecumseh, Mich, and speaks of him as a single tax worker. The other is a clipping from "Land Values" of November which announces the death of Andrew Wilson of Belfast. Ireland, both the same name and of the same faith Andrew Wilson of Tecumseh died October 24th and Andrew Wilson of Belfast died October 6d

TIRED OF LIFE

Constant Backache and Rheumatism

Foley Kidney Pills fixed up Texas brakeman so he's good as ever.

Almost down and out with kidney trouble. Rheumatism so bad he could scarcely get up when he sat down. Back ached all the time.

No wonder Mr. F. A. Wooley, brakeman on the road from Dallas to Jackson, Texas, "was tired of living."

"I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised," he said. "I took some and after a short time I was thoroughly cured and am having no more trouble.

Your kidney ills will disappear—and with them the backache and rheumatism, by the use of Foley's Kidney Pills. Once your kidneys become strong and active, aches and pains will disappear like magic.

There's nothing to equal the genuine. Will help any case of kidney or bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicines. Contain no harmful drugs. Try them.

TWICE-TOLD TESTIMONY

Tecumseh People Are Doing All They Can for Fellow Sufferers

Tecumseh testimony has been published to prove the merit of Doan's Kidney Pills to others in Tecumseh who suffer from bad backs and kidneys ills. Lest any sufferer doubt this evidence of merit, we produce confirmed proof—statements from Tecumseh people who again endorse Doan's Kidney Pills—confirm their former testimony. Here's a Tecumseh case:

Geo. Chaplin, W. Logan St., Tecumseh, gave the following statement on Dec. 5, 1908. He said: "I have taken Doan's Kidney Pills and they proved to me that they are the good medicine that I have often heard others recommend. I had kidney trouble and got Doan's Kidney Pills at Wright & Son's Drug Store. They greatly benefited me."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Chaplin has twice publicly recommended. Foster - Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

A Green Heron and Something Else No Artist Could Paint.

I saw a simple picture of nature's painting once, which has returned to my memory again and again, and if it could be put on a canvas or fastened in a poem it would forever remain a masterpiece of art. And yet it was nothing but a green heron standing in the swift shallow current of a brook with the diamond bright wavelets breaking around its slender legs and a tuft of water grass trembling beside it. I was lying, idly enough, at full length on the brook's bank, so that beyond the bird, as I gazed, opened a fairy-like landscape, over which a gentle breeze was blowing with an effect wholly indescribable, shaking tall flags and tossing the dragon flies about in the sunshine. The whole effect was cooling and tranquilizing, with a subtle hint in it of a land somewhere just out of reach where one might dream the lotos dream forever.

Now, a good artist might easily have painted the little scene so far as painting usually goes, but it would have required such genius as is yet to be born to imprison in the sketch the hint of what seemed to lie just beyond the dreamy horizon. None but the most masterful genius would have been able to keep up to the sweet, quiet key of the coloring and yet be satisfied with the tender, wavering outlines and the soft, transparent shadows. The liquid tones of sound and color in the brook came so harmoniously to my senses, along with the motion of swaying flags and bubble beaded waves, that the graceful bird, seen through half closed eyes, appeared to be a half fanciful embodiment of the spirit of calm delight, knee deep in some tide of enchantment or romance.—Maurice Thompson.

CARE WITH ELECTRICITY.

Extreme Caution Should Be Used In Handling All Fixtures.

"Electricians think nothing of touching with their fingers a 110 volt or 220 volt A. C. or D. C. switch to ascertain whether it is alive or not," says the Electrical Experimenter. "On the other hand it is claimed in a number of authentic cases on record that 110 volts, such as is used for ordinary lighting circuits, has sufficed to produce fatal results to a human being. Therefore it behooves every one to take the utmost care in handling electrical apparatus of any nature, no matter whether it is a small toaster or an innocent looking electric light switch of the push button variety.

"A good point to keep in mind would be to exercise extreme caution in manipulating all lamp sockets or switches during or directly after a severe storm, which may have blown down high voltage wires so as to cause them to drop across low tension wires supplying house circuits.

"Those having electric lights in their homes should always exercise the greatest care in manipulating any of the devices connected to such service. In the bathroom especially they should never touch the socket or wall switch while standing in the bathtub or with wet feet on a floor where there is any water, as these accidents happen at the most unexpected moment. They are practically immune from danger if they would just take the trouble to see that they always stand on a dry floor."

Always the Unknown.

Permit me to introduce myself. You have been on intimate terms with me for some time.

And yet you do not know me. You have talked with me on long walks and in the still watches of the night. You have flattered me and cajoled me and pleaded with me and condoned me. And yet you do not know me.

The worst of this is that you will never know me. You will always go on believing that you do. This is your fate.

I am the unknowable. I am the one you live with and of whom you are destined, so long as you live, to be in absolute ignorance.

I am the one you think you are!—Life.

COURTESY.

How sweet and gracious, even in common speech,
Is that fine sense which men call
courtesy!
Wholesome as air and genial as the light,
Welcome in every clime as breath
of flowers,
It transmutes aliens into trusting friends
And gives its owner passport round the globe.

—James T. Fields.

Nobody's Business.

Under the impression that it is "nobody's business," young people are apt to take chances with their reputations which the older persons know are fatal.

The thoughtlessness of youth is responsible for many escapades which are entered into innocently, but end most disastrously.

Young man or young woman, is not what you do the business of your parents, your relatives and your friends?

Remember each in turn is affected by your actions.

Whatever you do reflects on those with whom you have daily contact.

If not for your peace of mind, you should keep yourself under control for the sake of those who love you.

One rash act may tear down a reputation you have been your young life in building.

Cultivate Persistence

"If St. Paul had lived a couple of thousand years later he would have been a captain of industry." This is the remark attributed to John D. Rockefeller after hearing a sermon in Cleveland in which St. Paul was held up as a model of power and forcefulness. Mr. Rockefeller said that Paul's virtue was that he was persistent and that persistent men got to the top; that natural leaders are rare and reap rich rewards in business and industrial life for every line of commercial effort offers them big opportunities. These are simple, plain, truthful words from the mouth of the most successful captain of industry the world has known. Persistence, patience and assiduity have as great rewards today for the young man who possesses these virtues as they had fifty years ago, when Mr. Rockefeller was working sixteen hours a day in a country store for a salary of $3 a week.

FOR AN AIR MILITIA

Country Needs Thousands of Aviators, Says Peary.

SHOULD BE BEGUN AT ONCE.

Declares That Air Service Should Be Under Direction of Federal Department of Aeronautics, Separate From and Independent of Both Army and Navy Departments.

New York.—Sixteen thirty-five knot battle cruisers with sixteen inch guns, an air fleet manned by thousands of aviators and universal military training are what the United States needs to be properly prepared, Rear Admiral Robert E. Peary told members of the class in applied Christianity of the Mount Morris Baptist church in Fifth avenue, near One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street.

"The construction of the fleet," he said, "should be begun at once and completed within three years. With these we need the accessories of destroyers, submarines and hydroaeroplanes.

"The air service should be under the direction of a federal department of aeronautics separate from and independent of both the army and navy departments and presided over by a member of the president's cabinet. With our resources and mechanical genius under the spur of concentrated and undivided attention such a department may in the near future be more vital and important to our national safety and integrity than our navy and our army combined.

"One of the first steps should be an immediate provision for educating and training a certain number of the officers of the naval militia of each state as aviators and with them as a nucleus recruiting a full aviation section of the naval militia in every state. An appropriation of $1,500,000—about $30,000 to each state—to be expended under the direction of the secretary of the navy will permit beginning this work at once."

REAR ADMIRAL PEARY.

Tiberius at his death left $118,125,000, which Caligula spent in less than ten months.

The navigation school of the Royal Technical college at Glasgow, Scotland, is said to be the most perfectly equipped institution of the kind in the world.

Worth Knowing

China Cement.—Make a thick solution of gum arabic by dissolving two tablespoonfuls of it in hot water. Into this stir plaster of paris until the mixture is the consistency of gruel. Apply to the edge of the china with a fine brush. Allow the china to stand three days before using.

Sewing Hint.—When stitching pockets on aprons, skirts, etc., you will find that they will not rip off as easily if the stitching is begun about half an inch from the top, stitch upward, then turn downward. When you come to the other side stitch downward the same distance as you stitched upward on the first side.

Feather Advice.—Never sun feather beds or feather pillows. Air them on a windy day in a cool place. The sun draws the oil, and the feathers will have a rancid smell if they remain in the sun.

Mildew Remedy.—An excellent remedy for mildew is to saturate an article with kerosene. Roll it up and let it stand for twenty-four hours and then wash in very hot soapsuds.

Fish Odor.—To remove fish odor from silver knives and forks or from cooking utensils let stand in cold water before washing.

"Gets-It" Never Fails for Corns!

There's Nothing on Earth Like It For Corns and Calluses.

"Whenever you get corns and calluses, don't experiment — just use "GETS-IT" and nothing else. Easiest and simplest thing I know to use —just a few drops on in a few seconds—"GETS-IT" does the rest." The old way is to bundle up your toes in harnesses and bandages, use salves that make toes raw, cotton rings that make your corns pop-eyed, knives and "diggers" that tear your heart out and leave the corn in. No wonder they make you limp and wince. Forget all these—use "GETS-IT," the simplest corn remedy in the world, easiest to use, never fails or sticks, painless. Your corn loosens, then you lift it off. You can wear smaller shoes.

Wear Shoes That Fit — Use "Gets-It" Tonight

"GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price, by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Tecumseh and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by B. J. Pulver.

Simple Tests Telling Quality of Textiles

There are a great many tests that may be used to determine the genuineness and value of materials, but only a few that are practicable for the home.

If the buyer is not absolutely sure that the material in question is as represented it is best to ask for a small sample and apply some of the home tests before making the purchase.

For instance, to ascertain if a material is all linen and not mixed with cotton, apply a drop of water. The moisture spreads rapidly on linen, but will remain unabsorbed on cotton for some time. However, this is not always a safe test, as cotton and linen are often heavily sized with dressing which prevents the water from being absorbed. Another test for cotton and linen is a drop of glycerine. Linen will become transparent, but cotton will not be affected. Crushing in the hands will show the difference between cotton and linen, as linen wrinkles more than cotton. Sizing may be discovered by rubbing the materials between the hands to see if the dressing will come out. Washing also will remove the dressing and reveal the true nature of the material.

Cotton and wool mixtures when moistened wrinkle more than pure wool materials.

In examining materials it is well to know that cotton fibers are short with fuzzy ends, while linen fibers are long and have even ends. Wool fibers are short, kinky and stiff. Silk fibers are long, straight and lustrous.

The nature of the material may also be ascertained by burning a small sample. Cotton burns quickly with flame. Linen burns in the same way, but does not catch so readily, as it has less oil in the fiber and less air in the woven cloth. Wool burns slowly, giving off an odor like burnt feathers and leaving a gummy residue. Silk burns more slowly than wool and with less odor and leaves a crisp ash.

UNITED STATES PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE

Released November 29, 1916.

Dog fancies have long noted that when a house-dog begins to get fat and wheezy it is pretty apt to be attacked by a stubborn skin disease. In such a case they cut down the diet and increase the open air exercise, thus relieving the over burdened body of poisonous substances.

The sin of gluttony is common and therefore much condoned, but like every other violation of Nature's laws has a penalty. Fat inefficiency, sluggish mentality the reddened nose, the pimpled face, certain of the chronic skin eruptions, and much fatigue and nervousness are due to the abuse of the digestive apparatus. Rich, indigestible foods in large quantities, highly seasoned to stimulate the jaded palate, are forced into a body already rebellious from repletion. Exercise is largely limited to walking to and from the table and bodily deterioration proceeds rapidly. Many an overfed dyspeptic, suddenly dragged by the stern hand of circumstances from a life of physical ease and plenty and forced to work out of doors suddenly discovers that his semi-invalidism has gone, that a chronic skin derangement of many years standing has disappeared and that a new vigor and zest of life has been given him

Not everyone can spend his whole time in the open air but a certain amount of exercise and plain wholesome food in an amount not exceeding the body's needs can be had by almost everyone Simple moderate diet and exercise make for health. These are not faddish food theories: they are just plain common sense.

WETS SEEK TO DELAY MICHIGAN PROHIBITION

Liquor Element Would Stave off Law Enforcement.

LANSING, Dec. 4.

It is the opinion of Dairy and Food Commissioner James W. Helme that the victory of the drys in the recent election in Michigan is only the initial step, and he declares the fight to enforce prohibition has only begun.

It is said that the liquor men are planning to use the referendum provision of the constitution to prevent any dry legislation passed at the next session from becoming effective until it has been submitted to a vote of the people.

The prohibition amendment will go into force May 1, 1918, if the next legislature provides the necessary machinery. If the liquor men circulate petitions and obtain 50,000 signatures and file them with the secretary of state within ninety days after the close of the session, the dry legislation cannot be made effective until the November election in 1918 and the liquor men would have practically eight months longer in which to do business.

FISK O'HARA'S SECOND VISIT TO TECUMSEH

That Fiske O'Hara made for himself a host of friends in Tecumseh in his play "Kilkenney" last winter was evidenced by the large crowd who greeted him in "Heart's Desire" Friday night and from first to last he kept his place in the hearts of his audience.

The play was full of comedy and the famous Irish wit mixed with the seriousness of life made a fine setting for the splendid acting of Mr. O'Hara, supported as he was by an excellent caste. The scene of the wishing well in the second act was truly beautiful and the quaint gowns and costumes of the long ago were seen with pleasure. The only point we would have changed in the whole plot was the fact that the villian of the play was a woman.

The story goes that Mollie McGarry was by the will of the old Lord O'Neil to marry Sir Larry O'Neil (Fiske O'Hara) whom she had never seen Woman-like she positively refused and Lady Alice O'Neil wanted Sir Larry and the property he represented for her own daughter Norah. Sir Larry saw Mollie and fell in love at first sight and the play shows the comic situations he was in trying to conceal his identity It ends happily, of course.

Through the play Mr O'Hara sang many Irish songs most delightfully and between acts were given musical programs by Mr O'Hara's orchestra. This consisted of piano, violin and 'cello and each musician was an artist.

The whole company was a jolly bunch and will be welcomed gladly to Tecumseh on each succeeding return.

BUSY TIMES FOR SHORT SESSION

Congress Opens with Important Matters Pending.

MAY BE LAST FOR CLARK

Railroad Trouble Over Eight-Hour Law Looms as One of Most Serious Problems—House and Senate Open With Quorums—May Be Clark's Last Term.

Washington, Dec. 4.—Despite the Washington, Dec. 5.—Despite the declaration of house and senate leaders that the short session will barely have time to do the routine work of providing funds for the next fiscal year, the congress is confronted with demands for action along many general legislative lines.

Legislation must be passed, it is felt, to meet the recurring crisis in the railroad labor situation. It has become apparent that the eight-hour law passed in the closing hours of the last session merely postponed the struggle between the railroads and their operating employes.

Investigations by various commissions and committees are already under way seeking a solution of the railroad problem, but with the constitutionality of the eight-hour law under attack in the courts, and the brotherhoods threatening a general strike unless the eight-hour day becomes effective January 1, congress will be forced to act at once, without awaiting the results of investigations.

President Wilson is determined to prevent the disastrous consequences of a general railroad tie-up, and he will go to almost any lengths to avert an open break. Just what legislation will be proposed to meet this strike situation is not clear, but pressure is already tremendous in Washington for a general law enforcing an investigation of labor disputes before a strike can legally be called.

Organized labor generally opposes this plan, and will exert all its powerful influence in congress to defeat any such proposals. The whole labor situation throughout the country is charged with explosive possibilities, which ill-considered or unwise legislation might touch off.

The rising cost of food is also a premonition of trouble and the administration is casting about for some method to relieve an approaching crisis.

May Be Clark's Final Presiding.

Speaker Champ Clark opened what may be his final session as presiding officer of the house when at 12 o'clock noon he called the chamber to order for the last term of the Sixty-fourth congress. The grave doubt over the control of the house in the next congress may be resolved in a way that will pull the Missouri statesman down from the seats of the mighty and exalt a Republican to the speakership.

As soon as the speaker called the house to order, the Chaplain Henry D. Couden offered the opening prayer of the session, the tedious roll call by states was undertaken.

With a quorum established, the routine preliminaries were rapidly disposed of. A committee was named to notify the senate that the house was formally in session and a resolution passed notifying the senate that the house had formally opened the session, and another authorized the appointment of house members on a joint committee to notify the President that "a quorum of the two houses is assembled and that congress is ready to receive any communication that he may be pleased to make."

Arrangements were then made by the leaders for a joint session of the two houses to listen to the annual address of the President.

Senate Work Brief.

The senate settled down to the work of the short session quietly, and disposed of the routine of the opening session with rapidity. The vice president dropped his gavel promptly at noon, and the opening prayer of the session was made by the chaplain of the senate, the Rev. Forrest J. Prettyman. A formal roll call disclosed the presence of a quorum of the senate, and a resolution was adopted to notify the house that the senate had reassembled and was ready for business.

When the house through its clerk informed the senate that the lower body was prepared for the session's work, the senate named a committee to join with a similar house committee and notify President Wilson that congress was assembled and prepared to receive any communication he might care to make. The leaders at once began arrangements for a joint session of congress to listen to the President's annual address.

Sell Pt. Huron Turkeys at 20 Cents

PORT HURON, Dec. 4.

Port Huron poultry dealers and meat market men had a stock of turkeys on their hands which they were unable to dispose of. The prices dropped from 35 cents to as low as 20 cents a pound. The dealers say they had to pay 27 and 30 cents for the supply.

2,457 Deer Sent South.

LANSING, Dec. 4.

According to State Game Warden William R. Oates, 3,457 deer were shipped across the straits from the upper peninsula this year, of which 1,409 were bucks and 1,048 were does. The total number shipped across the straits during the 1915 season was 1,971.

CARRANZA WINS CHIHUAHUA CITY

Constitutionalist Forces Unite and Drive Villa Out..

CARRANZA TO SIGN PROTOCOL

Defeat of Bandit Chief and Pursuit of His Forces into Mountains Thought to Mark Final Downfall—Initial Success, However, Thought to Have Swayed First Chief.

Washington, Dec. 4.—The Mexican embassy announced the receipt of a telegram from General Murguia in which he states that he recaptured Chihuahua City at 7 o'clock Saturday night. Villa, the message states, was driven out.

General Murguia descended upon Villa from the south, the first collision of the two forces occurring some miles from Chihuahua City. Villa retreated precipitately, according to General Murguia, with the Carranza troops in close pursuit.

Villa Driven from City.

Villa retired into Chihuahua City but was driven out by the de facto army, which was both fresh and plentifully supplied with ammunition and artillery, according to information received here. It is assumed, although the dispatches do not state, that General Trevino, who with 6,000 soldiers, was defeated by Villa in a five day battle and was expelled from Chihuahua City, formed a junction with General Murguis and with General Ozuna's cavalry forces, the combined armies numbering some 10,000 or 12,000 men.

Villa is understood to be falling back in disorder toward the desolate and almost uninhabited hills with his forces of 2,500 men. He is well supplied with provisions, but great doubt was expressed in both war department and Mexican embassy circles that he has sufficient ammunition to wage another pitched battle of the magnitude of that which resulted in his brief occupation of Chihuahua City.

Carranza to Sign Protocol.

Information from an authoritative source reached Washington that General Carranza has indicated his consent to the ratification of the American-Mexican protocol, signed recently at Atlantic City.

General Carranza was reported as being not entirely satisfied with conditions regarding withdrawal of the American punitive expedition within forty days but was said to realize that the protocol contained the utmost concessions the United States would make.

The operations of Francisco Villa in the state of Chihuahua are said to have decided General Carranza that unless he concluded a working agreement with this country, his difficulties would soon become insurmountable.

Commission's Work Only Begun.

Immediately after the ratification of the protocol, the members of the joint commission will reassemble, whether in Washington or Atlantic City has not been determined. The preparation of the protocol, it is declared, is only the commencement of their work. Other questions to be taken up for the settlement of the entire Mexican problem, will include the following:

The financial rehabilitation of Mexico and loans: The state department will look with favor upon loans to the Carranza government, it is understood, when the protocol is ratified.

Mining and oil taxes, including export duties: These, according to the American view, ought to be modified so as to make the resumption of mining operations possible and the arbitrary taxes, excessive to the degree of confiscation, ought to be abolished.

The proposed requirement that foreign investors in Mexico sign away their treaty rights: This provision under contemplation by the Mexican authorities would compel foreigners owning property in Mexico to renounce the rights of their citizenship so far as their property in Mexico is concerned.

Adequate protection for large properties: Mines, oil fields, ranches, etc., against state oppression as well as against banditry.

The sisal hemp monopoly: The United States would have it abolished, on account of the injurious effects of it upon certain American industries.

Claims: The commission is expected to find this subject the most difficult of all with which it has to deal. It has been estimated, semi-officially that the claims from the United States alone will total more than half a billion dollars and that claims from other countries will exceed $250,000,000.

Rail Conductor Is Killed.

Richmond, Ind., Dec. 4.—Joseph J. Elliott, forty-eight years old, for twenty years a freight conductor on the Pennsylvania railroad, was killed at Campbellstown, O., when he fell from the top of a freight car and struck his head on the bumper of the next car.

FORMER UTICA MAN IS DEAD

Charles E. Colton, Indian Scout and Gold Miner, Expires.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 4.

Charles Edward Colton, once of Utica, Mich., who came to California in 1846, is dead at his home near here in Burbank, at the age of eighty-one. Colton, who was born in Utica, joined the United States army when he was eleven years old and came west over the Santa Fe trail.

For several years he was a stage driver, Indian scout and gold miner. He drove the first stage from San Barnardino to Los Angeles in 1849 and was at Sutton's Mill at the time of the discovery of gold in California.

SAYS CLARK DIDN'T DELIVER

Club Owner, Who Claims He "Came Across," Left in Lurch.

BAY CITY, Dec. 4.

Edward Clark, ranch owner, of Gladwin county, was in police court to answer a charge of extortion, preferred by William Miller, former proprietor of the Bay Side club.

After a recent shooting affray, the Bay Side club was closed up. Miller says that Clark promised to see that he could reopen the club without trouble and paid him the amount mentioned for the "privilege." Clark pleaded not guilty and his hearing was adjourned until December 14.

Suspicious.

"When Bill Simmons goes to church they always pass the contribution plate to him before any one else."

"Why is that? Is he such a generous giver?"

"Not he. By passing it to him first they don't stand a chance of losing anything but the empty plate"—New York World.

Scene from Gaskill & MacVitty's new play "The End of a Perfec Day" which comes to the Bradley Opera House next Friday evening, Dec. 8

Gaskill & MacVitty the well known Chicago producing firm are sending on tour this season an entirely new play from the pen of Howard McKent Barnes, author of "The Little Shepherd of Bargain Row" entitled, "The End of a Perfect Day" which will be presented at the Bradley Opera house this Friday December 8. Gaskill & McVitty, the producers have given us many good attraction during the past few seasons among them, "Rosalind of Red Gate" "The Shepherd of the Hills:" "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" and many other first class attractions and we are assured by the local management that the present offering, "The End of a Perfet Day" will be equally as good as their former productions.

One of the leading characters in "The End of a Perfect Day" is the charming and captivating Marjorie Davis as "Paddy" a little Irish lass of seventeen, who believes in fairies She is a modern Cinderella and after struggles that would turn anyone back except a girl who believes in fairies, she finds her prince Critics, where ever the play has been seen. say, that if you liked "Peg" in "Peg 'O My Heart" you will love 'Paddy,' in "The End of a Perfect Day." By a strange coincidence the scenes of, "The End of a Perfect Day" are all laid in England the same as "Peg O'My Heart" and Miss Davis up until this season has been playing under the Oliver Morosco management who produced "Peg O'My Heart." Miss Davis is one of the youngest leading women on the stage today and is supported by an excellent cast. A complete scenic production is carried for the play.

While "The End of a Perfect Day" is in no way a musical still Mr. Mark is trying to arrange for the Adrian orchestra to furnish the music for the evening, playing before the play and between acts. At the time of going to press Mr. Marks is in Adrian to make arrangements if possible to secure the musicians but we cannot say anything definate regarding the orchestra at the present other than that they will be secured if possible.

The seat sale for "The End of a Perfect Day" opens at Hay's Thursday morning with the best at a $1.00 other good ones at 75c and 50c. The gallery admission 25c. As this is the last big road show booked at the Bradley before the Hollidays you better make arrangements to see it.

DR. "JACK" BEARDSLEY

Gets a Little Publicity In Everybody's November Issue.

In the November number of Everybody's appears an article entitled "A Close-Up of Douglas Fairbanks" The article itself tells of the work of Fairbanks of the "speakies" and Fairbanks of the "movies." The article is well written and relates to the work of this great star but what interests us most is the mention of "Jack' Beardsley.

"Jack" Beardsley is none other than our Dr. Beardsley who recently located in Tecumseh

Back in June, 1902, 'Jack' Beardsley in company with a chap by the name of Owen drifted to New York where they fell in with Douglas "Reggie" Fairbanks. After watching the great liners depart for foreign lands, the desire to travel seized them and they decided to make a trip abroad.

In making an inventory of the cash assests of the bunch, it was found that there would have to be a windfall from some place before a trip of this nature could be financed. Not discouraged by the lack of the where-with-all, they scurried around and secured a job on an out-going cattle steamer as hay stewards. This job got them to the "Fatherland,' but had its drawbacks.

"We found the cows very nice," comments Fairbanks "No one can get me to say a word against them But those stokers! And those other stable-maids! Pow! We had to fight 'em from one end of the voyage to the other and it got so that I hit myself in my sleep. The three of us got eight shillings apiece when we landed in Liverpool and tickets back, and there were several little things about Europe that bothered us and we thought we'd see what the trouble was."

They "hoboed" it through England, France and Belgium. working at any old job until they gathered enough money to move along They walked from Liverpool to London and found walking more to their liking than paying railroad fares. After three joyous months they felt the call of the cattle and came home on another cattle boat.

Dr. Beardslev, in speaking of it to us, stated that the trip was a bright spot in his memory. The total cost to him was about $60 00 and on reaching home he found that he had left an express order for $20.00 and tickets valued at $20 00.

MRS. FULTON McLAIN

THE COAL SITUATION

During the past week have received advices from several sourses that coal is expected to go higher before it goes lower, it is believed this condition will prevail until long towards spring.

At present we have most any kind of coal you may want which we can deliver in reasonable quantities, several kinds at a price lower than can be bought on present prices.

We have several kinds in transit and are doing our best to keep a well assorted stock on hand at the lowest possible prices.

L. E. TEMPLE & CO.

We particularly recommend RED BAND as a desirable coal for any purpose.

NOTICE.

I. To Savings Depositors,

December interest is due. All persons holding savings books of the Lilley State Bank and who have had money upon deposit one month will be entitled to interest.

II. To All Others.

This December we are paying more interest and to a larger number of people than ever before. More than three hundred people have opened savings accounts at this old, strong bank since last December.

We wish you to be among the hundreds who will open accounts during the coming months. Make your deposit now. If made by December 5 it will draw interest from the first of the month and thus yield you interest at the next interest payment.

You can not mistake the place. It's the Bank With The Chime Clock.

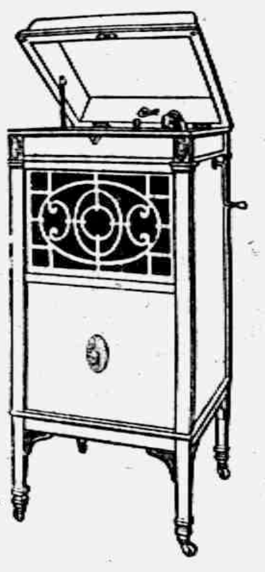
Why do we say that the New Edison is not a "Talking Machine"?



Here is the answer

THERE are nearly 100 different makes of talking machines and so-called Phonographs on the market. Each differs from the others in certain mechanical details, but all have a common characteristic in varying degree, viz:— a strident and unnatural tone. So much for all talking machines.

Now with reference to

THE NEW EDISON

BY actual comparison with more than a score of great singers and instrumentalists it has been demonstrated that the New Edison re-creates all forms of music with such literal fidelity that the original cannot be distinguished from the Re-Creation when both are heard in direct comparison. The truthfulness of this statement is not open to question. These comparisons were made in public before more than 30,000 people and are chronicled in nearly 300 of America's principal newspapers.

No talking machine could sustain such a test and no talking machine manufacturer would dare to submit his machine to such a test in public. Therefore, you will understand why we say the New Edison is not a talking machine.

Come To Our Store

We want you to hear this wonderful new instrument. We want you to read what the leading newspapers have to say about this New Edison invention. But most of all we want you to hear the instrument itself

Neighbor Told Her Cure for Lumbago

Rheumatism and lumbago are awful things and cause great pain and misery, but Foley Kidney Pills can rout them.

Mrs. G. H. Eveland, Duncan Mills, Ill., writes the following letter: "I was stricken down with lumbago and was unable to turn myself in bed. A neighbor brought me a half bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, and said she had been similarly afflicted and that they had helped her. So I tried them and was completely relieved by the use of two or three bottles. I have had splendid success with them and have never known them to fail. I most heartily recommend Foley Kidney Pills."

Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, inactive, sluggish kidneys, rid the body of poisons, give appetite, energy and refreshing sleep after pain. Don't neglect kidney trouble. Remove the cause with Foley Kidney Pills.

DOING THEIR DUTY

Scores of Tecumseh Readers are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys

To filter the blood is the kidneys duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak.

Backache and other kidney ills may follow;

Help the kidneys do their work.

Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy.

Tecumseh people endorse their worth.

Mrs. P. A. Kelsey, W. Kilbuck St., Tecumseh, says: "I had inflammation of the bladder and suffered continually from irregular passages of the kidney secretions. The secretions were unnatural, too. My kidneys almost stopped acting at times and I had frequent cramps in my limbs. I doctored and used all sorts of medicines, with little benefit. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Wright & Son's Drug Store, however, relieved the trouble and regulated the action of my kidneys. They are the best medicine I ever used."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Kelsey had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

COMING BACK

UNITED DOCTORS SPECIALIST WILL AGAIN BE AT

TECUMSEH MICHIGAN

ONE DAY ONLY

Hours: 10 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Remarkable Success of Talented Physician in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases

Offer Services Free of Charge

The United Doctors Specialist, licensed by the State of Michigan for the treatment of all diseases, including deformities, nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the actual cost of treatment. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality, that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect.

The United Doctors are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases and so great and wonderful have been their results that in many cases it is hard to find the dividing line between skill and miracle.

Disease of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, rheumatism, sciatica, tapeworm, leg ulscers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long-standing, deep seated, chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physician, should not fail to call. Deafness often has been cured in sixty days.

According to their system no more operation for appendicitis, gall stones tumors, goiter, piles, etc., as all cases accepted will be treated without operation or hypodermic injection, as they were among the first in America to earn the name of "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with the knife with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is incurable they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relatives who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit at this time may help you.

Worn-out and run-down men or women, no matter what your ailment may be, call. It costs you nothing.

Remember, this free offer is for this visit only.

MRS. STILES IS ACQUITTED

Jury Finds Alleged "Queen of Auto Thieves" Not Guilty.

Chicago, Dec. 4.—Mrs. Elvina E. Stiles, indicted seven times as "queen of the automobile thieves' trust," and William E. Whitehead, called one of the leaders of the gang, were acquitted by a jury here. Mrs. Stiles is the wife of Major William R. Stiles, a prominent Chicago postoffice official.

The principal witnesses for the prosecution were the men, who claimed to have been members of the gang, and who turned state's evidence. Mrs. Stiles insisted that they testified against her for spite.

LLOYD GEORGE QUITS; BRITISH CRISIS GROWS

Series of Conferences Held Among Faction Leaders.

London, Dec. 4.—The political crisis has become acute. It is stated in well-informed quarters that David Lloyd-George, the war secretary, has tendered his resignation, which has not yet been accepted.

Premier Asquith returned and throughout the day there have been consultations and meetings of party leaders at the premier's residence.

Mr. Lloyd-George had a long consultation with the premier. Others visitors were A. Bonar Law, secretary of the colonies, and the Marquis of Crewe, lord president of the council.

Perhaps the most significant incident was that Sir Edward Carson and Mr. Law appeared together and addressed a meeting of the unionists committee, while the Earl of Derby, under-secretary for war, had a long interview with Mr. Lloyd-George.

CLAIMS WIFE'S LOVE STOLEN

Illinoisan Alleges Purloiner Came as Brother Woodman.

Waukegan, Ill., Dec. 4.—Timothy F. Walsh, Highwood, has asked $5,000 of William Danner, Hubbards Woods, charging alienation of his wife's affections. Danner has a family. He protests his innocence, declaring that he had gone to the Walsh home merely as a brother Woodman to take Mrs. Walsh funds which the lodge had collected for Walsh, who recently was sent to a home for disabled Woodmen when he became seriously ill.

It was during his absence he claims Danner stole his wife's love. Recently Walsh was tried in circuit court charged with stabbing his wife as she lay in bed. He was dismissed.

ANOTHER WOMAN TELLS

How Vinol Made Her Strong.

Beallsville, Ohio.—"I wish all nervous, weak, run-down women could have Vinol. I was so run-down, weak and nervous I could not sleep. Everything I ate hurt me, and the medicine I had taken did me no good. I decided to try Vinol, and before long I could eat anything I wanted and could sleep all night. Now I am well and strong, and in better health than I have been for years.—Mrs. ANNA MILLISON, Beallsville, Ohio.

We guarantee Vinol for all run-down, weak and debilitated conditions.

NOT YET DONE WITH GREECE

Allies Demand That Amends Must Be Made for Assaults.

Paris, Dec. 4.—The firing at Athens diminished during the night and now has ceased, says a Havas dispatch from that city. The entente troops have been sent back from Athens to Piraeus.

The Greek government has offered six mountain batteries to Vice Admiral Du Fournet, but the entente ministers have received instructions that it is no longer merely a question of the cession of war materials, but a far more serious question, and that reparation must be made corresponding with the gravity of the assault on the allied troops. An embargo has been placed on all Greek shipping in French and other ports of the entente allies in consequence of the recent events in Athens.

CONSTANTINOPLE AND STRAITS TO RUSSIANS

Allies Concede Big Thing to Bear If Victorious.

PETROGRAD — The semi-official news agency says that in the duma Premier Trepoff read a proclamation announcing officially that an agreement concluded by Russia, France and Great Britain in 1915 and later approved by Italy, "establishes in definite manner the right of Russia to the Dardanelles straits and Constantinople."

Premier Trepoff's announcement after declaring Turkey sealed her own doom by entering the war when the entente allies guaranteed her territorial integrity to remain neutral says: "We then concluded an agreement with out allies, which establishes in the most definite manner the right of Russia to the straits and Constantinople. Russians should know for what they are shedding blood, and in accord with our allies, announcement of this agreement is made from this tribune."

BUSY TIMES FOR SHORT SESSION

Congress Opens with Important Matters Pending.

MAY BE LAST FOR CLARK

Railroad Trouble Over Eight-Hour Law Looms as One of Most Serious Problems—House and Senate Open With Quorums—May Be Clark's Last Term.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Despite the declaration of house and senate leaders that the short session will barely have time to do the routine work of providing funds for the next fiscal year, the congress is confronted with demands for action along many general legislative lines.

Legislation must be passed, it is felt, to meet the recurring crisis in the railroad labor situation. It has become apparent that the eight-hour law passed in the closing hours of the last session merely postponed the struggle between the railroads and their operating employes.

Investigations by various commissions and committees are already under way seeking a solution of the railroad problem, but with the constitutionality of the eight-hour law under attack in the courts, and the brotherhoods threatening a general strike unless the eight-hour day becomes effective January 1, congress will be forced to act at once, without awaiting the results of investigations.

President Wilson is determined to prevent the disastrous consequences of a general railroad tie-up, and he will go to almost any lengths to avert an open break. Just what legislation will be proposed to meet this strike situation is not clear, but pressure is already tremendous in Washington for a general law enforcing an investigation of labor disputes before a strike can legally be called.

Organized labor generally opposes this plan, and will exert all its powerful influence in congress to defeat any such proposals. The whole labor situation throughout the country is charged with explosive possibilities, which ill-considered or unwise legislation might touch off.

The rising cost of food is also a premonition of trouble and the administration is casting about for some method to relieve an approaching crisis.

May Be Clark's Final Presiding.

Speaker Champ Clark opened what may be his final session as presiding officer of the house when at 12 o'clock noon he called the chamber to order for the last term of the Sixty-fourth congress. The grave doubt over the control of the house in the next congress may be resolved in a way that will pull the Missouri statesman down from the seats of the mighty and exalt a Republican to the speakership.

As soon as the speaker called the house to order, the Chaplain Henry D. Couden offered the opening prayer of the session, the tedious roll call by states was undertaken.

With a quorum established, the routine preliminaries were rapidly disposed of. A committee was named to notify the senate that the house was formally in session and a resolution passed notifying the senate that the house had formally opened the session, and another authorized the appointment of house members on a joint committee to notify the President that "a quorum of the two houses is assembled and that congress is ready to receive any communication that he may be pleased to make."

Arrangements were then made by the leaders for a joint session of the two houses to listen to the annual address of the President.

Senate Work Brief.

The senate settled down to the work of the short session quietly, and disposed of the routine of the opening session with rapidity. The vice president dropped his gavel promptly at noon, and the opening prayer of the session was made by the chaplain of the senate, the Rev. Forrest J. Prettyman. A formal roll call disclosed the presence of a quorum of the senate, and a resolution was adopted to notify the house that the senate had reassembled and was ready for business.

When the house through its clerk informed the senate that the lower body was prepared for the session's work, the senate named a committee to join with a similar house committee and notify President Wilson that congress was assembled and prepared to receive any communication he might care to make. The leaders at once began arrangements for a joint session of congress to listen to the President's annual address.

RUSSIANS WIN AT BUCHAREST

Mackensen Is Defeated Eleven Miles from Capital.

GREAT BATTLE ON LONG LINE

At One Point Bucharest Admits Its Forces Outflanked—Forced Back on West Toward Titu—Mackensen Is Driven South—Russ Drive in Carpathians Continues.

PETROGRAD — Russian troops have arrived on the front south of Bucharest and engaged in the great battle to save the Roumanian capital, the war office announces. The German and Bulgarian troops south of Bucharest have been compelled to retire. The Russians and Roumanians have taken prisoners and booty, including twenty-six guns.

The Roumanian report places this victory eleven miles from Bucharest.

Drive Invaders South.

BUCHAREST — The main body of German and Bulgarian forces southwest of Bucharest has been defeated and driven back toward the south, the war office states. The Roumanians also were victorious in a battle with the Turks. On the right wing of their western front the Roumanians were compelled to retire.

Russ Halt Teuton Drive.

BERLIN — Briefly summarized these are the outstanding developments in the Roumanian campaign as gleaned from the latest official statement of the various war offices:

Russian reinforcements rushed to the aid of the Roumanians defending Bucharest from the south have succeeded in halting—temporarily at least—Field Marshal von Mackensen's drive against the capital set in motion after crossing the Danube.

Mackensen has been forced to mark time pending further progress of General von Falkenhayn's armies sweeping down upon the fortress from the northwest. This progress continues in the face of desperate Roumanian resistance. Falkenhayn's forces have reached Gaesci, thirty miles from Bucharest's outer fortifications.

Battle on 50-Mile Front.

In a titanic eleventh hour effort to avert a junction of the main forces of Mackensen and Falkenhayn, the Roumanians, aided by Muscovite troops, are offering battle on a front of some fifty miles, alon gthe Arges river. South of Bucharest the Russo-Roumanian forces, according to Petrograd and Bucharest, inflicted a defeat on Mackensen's army, driving them off toward the south. On the other hand, a Teuton flanking movement disasterous to a Roumanian column south of the capital, is admitted by the Roumanian war office.

Meanwhile the Russo-Roumanian offensive in the Carpathians and part of the Transylvanian Alps continued during the last thirty-six hours without a moment's letup. Petrograd claims the capture of two villages and 800 prisoners. Berlin asserts all Muscovite onslaughts were without avail.

Reports of a partial capture of Kirlibaba, one of the "gates" to the Hungarian plain, are disposed of by the Russian statement that the fighting centers on the region "east and northeast" of that point. Moreover, the Teutons are on the offensive in this area, though Petrograd asserts they were repulsed.

THE ANSWER WAS A CHECK

The answer was a check for $238.60 received by Mrs. Copp. Mrs. Coop was notified by P. W. Smith, quartermaster for the federal army that she will receive $45 a month in addition to the $30 to be paid to her husband each month. She has three children and is soon to be a mother.

MRS. STILES IS ACQUITTED

Jury Finds Alleged "Queen of Auto Thieves" Not Guilty.

CHICAGO, ILL.—Mrs. Elvina E. Stiles, indicted seven times as "queen of the automobile thieves' trust," and William E. Whitehead, called one of the leaders of the gang, were acquitted by a jury here. Mrs. Stiles is the wife of Major William R. Stiles, a prominent Chicago postoffice official.

The principal witness for the prosecution were the men, who claimed to have been members of the gang, and who turned state's evidence. Mrs. Stiles insisted that they testified against her for spite.

Tuesday's Adrian Telegram announced the shortage of Village Clerk Floyd G. Heesen's of accounts at about $275.00 as given by Auditor Clyde Barber in his report to the council.

We attended the meeting of the village council Monday evening and heard the auditor's report given, still we feel it is hardly fair to place the amount of the shortage at $275.00 or at any other specified amount as the statement rendered was only a partial one. As a matter of fact, the amount given as the book shortage up to date was placed at about $275.00.

Mr. Barber stated that he had checked out the charges and, as far as possible, the water accounts had been verified and the books showed a shortage of about the above amount. He also stated that it would take him from ten days to two weeks to check out the credits and hoped to be able to submit his final report at the expiration of this time. Until this time it is impossible to tell what the difference will be between the books and the cash on hand with the treasurer. The final "recap" may make quite a difference in the figures as given.

We refrained from publishing an account of the report as given Monday night because it was impossible to give the actual condition of the clerk's books and decided to wait until such time as we could secure the data from the auditor's final report and until the council had taken action on the matter. When the final report of the auditor is given we will try and secure the true condition as reported and give it to the people of this village who have every right to know.

While it is not thought that the final report will show much change in the figures as given, as it is practically a matter of checking over vouchers, still, if changes were made to switch the balance around to an overplus, we should consider that we had done Mr. Heesen a great injustice.

The clerk's resignation was received by the council but was laid on the table pending the completion of the audit.

LLOYD GEORGE QUITS; BRITISH CRISIS GROWS

Series of Conferences Held Among Faction Leaders.

LONDON, ENG.—The political crisis has become acute. It is stated in well-informed quarters that David Lloyd-George, the war secretary, has tendered his resignation, which has not yet been accepted.

Premier Asquith returned and throughout the day there have been consultations and meetings of party leaders at the premier's residence.

Mr. Lloyd-George had a long consultation with the premier. Others visitors were A. Bonar Law, secretary of the colonies, and the Marquis of Crewe, lord president of the council.

Perhaps the most significant incident was that Sir Edward Carson and Mr. Law appeared together and addressed a meeting of the unionists committee, while the Earl of Derby, under-secretary for war, had a long interview with Mr. Lloyd-George.

CARRANZA WINS CHIHUAHUA

Constitutionalist Forces Unite and Drive Villa Out.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The Mexican embassy announced the receipt of a telegram from General Murguia in which he states that he recaptured Chihuahua City at 7 o'clock Saturday night. Villa, the message states, was driven out.

General Murguia descended upon Villa from the south, the first collision of the two forces occurring some miles from Chihuahua City. Villa retreated precipitately, according to General Murguia, with the Carranza troops in close pursuit.

ANN ARBOR CONCERT SERIES

Given at Hill Auditorium Tuesday, December 12, 1916

The next number on the Ann Arbor Concert Series given in Hill Auditorium will take place on the evening of Tuesday December 12, when Ossip Gabrilowitsch, the well-known Russian pianist, will make his second appearance in Ann Arbor, he having been heard there several years ago.

Mr Gabrilowitsch has made several tours of America, each one eclipsing the previous tours, in number of recitals given and in the importance attached to the event. This season he is attracting more attention than ever and has won a place in the fore-front of those in the profession.

He has chosen the following interesting program for Ann Arbor.

As usual special interurban cars will leave the Auditorium East and West, immediately after the concert. Special cars will also be run to Ann Arbor from Jackson and Ypsilanti, reaching the Auditorium a few minutes before the beginning of the program.

COMMITTEES APPOINTED FOR CHRISTMAS PARTY

Arrangements are being made for the Annual Christmas Dancing party. It is planned to make this party a fit successor to the Thanksgiving party, and to make it the best ever held in Tecumseh. As customary, the dance will be held Christmas night, at Witherell Hall with dancing from six to twelve. The Ladies orchestra of Toledo which is always exceedingly popular in Tecumseh will furnish the music. The following committees have been appointed:

Executive—D. J. Hodges, C L. Cuthbert, Glen Tansley, H A. Tribolet.

Guarantors—Chas. Burridge, W. F. Fisher and W. L. Jones.

Invitation—Thos. Elliott, Jr. G. E. Nemire and Kenneth Lowry.

Decoration—Glen Tansley, Ralph Cuthbert, E J. Rogers, Karl Schneider L S. Schneider, Percy Bowen, Leon Fagan and S. Babcock

Refreshment—G. Arthur Rathbun, B. J. Pulver and H S. Temple.

Floor & Program—C. L. Cuthbert, H. H. Hanna, Jr., and D. J. Hodges.

RESEARCH CIRCLE

The Research Circle held an open meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. John Heesen with about fifty present. A fine program was given. Cornet solo by Wilfred Waldron with Mrs. Waldron at the piano. A paper by Mrs J. O. Eaton on "The Discovery of Mexico" by DeSoto, was very good. Mrs. J McIntyre had a very interesting paper on "School Play Grounds" and was followed by a vocal solo by Harold Lowery accompanied on the piano by Miss Edna Taylor. A select reading on, "The Starr Institute for Boys" was given by Mrs. Rose Heidenreich. At the close of the program refreshments were served by Mrs. Lynn Butricks committee The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. S. Waring.

Save for a Definite Purpose

You Will Need Money for Christmas

Here is an Easy Way to Get It

A SURE WAY to Have It

Join Our Christmas Club which IS NOW OPEN

For Class 2, pay 2 cents the first week, 4 cents the second week, 6 cents the third week, and so on, and we will pay you at the end of fifty weeks $25.50.

Or in Class 5, pay 5 cents the first week, 10 cents the second week, 15 cents the third week, and so on, and we will pay you at the end of fifty weeks $63.75.

You May Reverse the Order of Payments If You Wish to Do So

For instance, in Class 2, going up, the payments start with 2 cents and end with $1.00. If you desire to do so, you may start with $1.00 the first week and pay 2 cents less every week until the last week's payment will be 2 cents. You may do the same in Class 5.

Or you can join Class 50 and pay 50c each week straight through, or you can join Class 100 and pay $1.00 each week straight through.

Can you think of an easier way to provide money for Christmas presents? Join yourself—get everyone in your family to join. Show this to your friends and get them to join.

EVERYBODY IS WELCOME TO JOIN

You can join now. Call and let us tell you about our plan.

Mr. Bentley has been called to the rectorate of Tecumseh and Clinton and it is hoped that every member and adherent of St Peter's parish who has the interest of the church at all at heart will make it a point to be present. The public also is cordially invited.

Mr. Bentley will arrive in Tecumseh some time on Tuesday and will be accompanied by Mrs. Bentley.

BURGLARY

W. T. Eccles' House Entered Tuesday Night

As Mrs. W. T Eccles returned to her home Tuesday evening from a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs C. L Cuthbert, she passed through to the kitchen without turning on the lights as the light on the street corner lighted the rooms quite nicely. She heard a slight noise but thot it was the dog in the cellar and paid no attention until she heard the creaking of the front door when she realized that some one had been in the house. She found the bureau drawers somewhat stirred up, but not much missing but a small sum of money. As near as can be figured out the thief entered through the screen door on the back porch and through the bath room window making his exit by the front door which has a spring lock.

FIRE ALARM

Serving others on like occasions to the best of his ability, Floyd Bryan got up a little diversion on his own account and the fire department was called out in a hurry Thursday morning to put out a fire at his home, a slight blaze being started in the kitchen roof from a defective flue. The usual number of spectators gathered and the fire was soon extinguished with very slight damage.

A PECULIAR ACCIDENT

Monday as Mrs. Sant. Cutting was walking in her back yard, she stepped on a sharp piece of bone, which cut through the sole of her shoe, her stocking and into her foot penetrating about half an inch. At first she paid little attention to it, but the foot began swelling and the pain was intense. At last reports however she was much easier, and the swelling had gone down quite a little.

THE RIGHT MERRY CLUB

Neighbor Told Her Cure for Lumbago

Rheumatism and lumbago are awful things and cause great pain and misery, but Foley Kidney Pills can rout them.

Mrs. G. H. Eveland, Duncan Mills, Ill., writes the following letter: "I was stricken down with lumbago and was unable to turn myself in bed. A neighbor brought me a half bottle of Foley Kidney Pills, and said she had been similarly afflicted and that they had helped her. So I tried them and was completely relieved by the use of two or three bottles. I have had splendid success with them and have never known them to fail. I most heartily recommend Foley Kidney Pills."

Foley Kidney Pills tone up weak, inactive, sluggish kidneys, rid the body of poisons, give appetite, energy and refreshing sleep after pain. Don't neglect kidney trouble. Remove the cause with Foley Kidney Pills.

DOING THEIR DUTY

Scores of Tecumseh Readers are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys

To filter the blood is the kidneys duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak.

Backache and other kidney ills may follow;

Help the kidneys do their work.

Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy.

Tecumseh people endorse their worth.

Mrs. P. A. Kelsey, W. Kilbuck St., Tecumseh, says: "I had inflammation of the bladder and suffered continually from irregular passages of the kidney secretions. The secretions were unnatural, too. My kidneys almost stopped acting at times and I had frequent cramps in my limbs. I doctored and used all sorts of medicines with little benefit. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Wright & Son's Drug Store, however, relieved the trouble and regulated the action of my kidneys. They are the best medicine I ever used."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Kelsey had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

It Is Rumored That He Has Resigned War Post.

A GENERAL SURVEY OF THE WAR.

Tuesday, Nov. 28.—The Roumanian capital has been moved from Bucharest to Jassy in advance of the approaching Teutonic armies. The Teuton forces are closing in on Bucharest from four directions, the north, west, south and southwest. Fall of the town seems imminent. The Teutons have occupied Giurgiu, forty miles from Bucharest. The Roumanians are retreating toward a new front already decided on for defense.

The Serbian war office claims that in fighting along the entire Macedonian front the Serbs at several points made gains of several hundred meters.

Wednesday, Nov. 29.—Petechti, in Roumania, sixty-five miles northwest of Bucharest, was captured by General von Falkenhayn's troops. Austrian and Roumanian troops broke through Rothenthurm Pass at the narrowest point.

A correspondent of the Lokal Anzeiger telegraphs that the German troops advanced east of the Alt Valley and flanked the Roumanians on the northern part of the river.

Serbian troops captured the height northwest of Grunishte on the Macedonian front, east of the Cerna river, the French war office announces. A height east of Hill 1050 also was captured.

Thursday, Nov. 30.—The Roumanian town of Tzomana, sixteen milth south of Bucharest, and 12½ miles from the outer ring of fortresses, has been captured by Teutonic forces, the war office announces.

Austro-German forces captured the Roumanian city of Campulung, opening the road through the Torzburg pass, from which it is less than twenty miles. More than 1,200 Roumanians were captured.

Friday, Dec. 1.—The Balkans hold the center of interest in military operations in Europe. On a front of 250 miles the Russians have lodged a huge offensive. Petrograd reports say that it has swept several important Carpathians heights, while Berlin characterizes it a useless wasts of life and ammunition. General Falkenhayn reached a point within range of the outer fortress of Bucharest, the Berlin report says. The teutons captured 2,500 prisoners and large supplies and much ammunition.

King Constantine's time for yielding Greek arms to the entente has expired, and Admiral Fournet, commanding the entente forces, has seized Pireaus, the harbor near Athens.

Saturday, Dec. 2.—With the Russians pressing their gigantic offensive in the Carpathians and threatening General von Falkenhayn's communications; with von Mackensen apparently checked south of the Danube and with the western end of the great Cernavoda bridge over the Danube again in Russo-Roumanian possession, the military situation in Roumania appears to have turned in favor of the allies.

Submission of the Greek government to the disarmament ultimatum of the allies has restored a measure of calm to Athens.

CENSUS FIGURES GIVEN OUT

Illinois Population Is Estimated at Over 6,000,000.

WASHINGTON — Population estimates of each of the United States for Jan. 1, 1917, as determined by the bureau of census, which based its calculations upon the increase as shown by the federal censuses of 1900 and 1910, have just been announced.

A BIT OF HISTORY OF THE SELFRIDGE FAMILY

A recent article in the Adrian Telegram in regard to H. Gordon Selfridge and the castle in Hampshire, England, recently purchased by him, recalls to Tecumseh people many things about the Selfridge and Baxter families.

The article referred to states that the London merchant was the son of a "Tecumseh school teacher." Tecumseh remembers many remarkable school teachers but we cannot claim Mrs Selfridge as one of them.

Mrs. Lotie Baxter Selfridge was the daughter of one of our earliest pioneers Levi Baxter, who came in the first years of this village settlement, with other New York State pioneers, and located in Brownville. At about the age of twelve Lotie Baxter, after the death of her mother, came to the home of her brother, the late Hon. B. L. Baxter, to live and was married from there to Robert Selfridge, a clerk in one of our village stores.

Later, after her separation from her husband, she lived in Jackson where she taught for several years in the city schools while her son Harry Selfridge, to help out family resources, sold papers on the street, shined shoes at the Hibbard House and later secured a position as errand boy at the Field store.

The late Hugh Richard of Jackson, formerly of Tecumseh, having some business with Marshall Field of Chicago, was inquired of by that merchant in regard to "a Jackson boy," Harry Selfridge, who was on the waiting list for a job in the Chicago store," and, at that time employed by Marshall Field's relative in Jackson.

Mr. Richard replied, "I know him and I knew his father."

And the great merchant said, "I not only want to know about his father, but about his grandfather also, as I am a believer in heredity."

So we may know that his lineage stood the test of investigation as he afterward became a partner in the firm and later started the London department store, modeled after the Chicago one and which was the wonder of London shoppers.

Madame Selfridge now residing in London, returned to Tecumseh and had a residence here with her brother B. L. Baxter during the last years of his life, and was a member for several years of the Monday Club on whose honorary list her name now remains

ONE CENT POSTAGE FIXED IN MAIL BILL

Applies, However, Only to Local Letters; Zones for Magazines.

Washington, Dec. 10. One cent postage for local first class mail and a zone system of rates for second class matter, which is expected greatly to increase the charges for magazines and other periodicals having a nation-wide circulation, are provided for in the annual postoffice appropraition bill, virtually completed Saturday in committee. The measure, carrying appropriations totaling about $327,000,000, probably will be reported to the house this week.

Under the one cent postage provision the rate on letters and other mail matter of the first class, when deposited in the delivery district would be cut in half.

The zone proposal for handling newspapers and magizines, which now pay a flat rate of one cent a pound, devides the country into eight zones, with rates ranging from one cent for 300 miles to six cents for 1,800 miles or more. Most daily newspapers, the committees believes will not be affected.

The postmaster-general shall have authority to require publishers to separate their mail into zones when offered for mailing.

The bill increases rates for mail order catalogues from 1 to 8 cents a pound making them third class mauner, instead of parcels post.

FLETCHER CATRON BENEDICK

Son of New Mexican Senator Can't Wait Until January 1.

Chicago, Dec. 11.—The wedding date was set for New Year's day, but that seemed a long way off for Fletcher Catron, son of Senator Catron of New Mexico, and his fiancee, Miss Carolyn Updike, of Chicago. So they stole a march on their friends and were married last Saturday night, it is announced.

Mr. Catron is a graduate of the University of Chicago Law school. He is a baseball star and took a trip to Japan last year with the University team. It was while aboard a steamer to the orient that he cabled his brother to see that Miss Updike received "the engagement ring." The young couple will spend their honeymoon on Senator Catron's ranch near Santa Fe, New Mexico.

"SEE ILLINOIS IN MOVIES"

That Is Slogan to Boom State Centennial Through the Films.

SPRINGFIELD, ILL., Dec. 11.

"See Illinois in the movies." This was the slogan adopted by the state centennial commission when it met in the state historical library at Springfield.

More than 1,000 Illinois historical views are being made into slides for the movie screens, it was stated. Movie houses over the state have expressed their approval of the idea and have promised to use the scenes as fillers between films. Printed below the scenes will be the words: "1818-1918 Illinois Centennial Celebration."

Common Law Marriage Fails.

BLOOMINGTON, ILL., Dec. 11.

Holding a common law marriage contracted in Hammond, Ind., to be invalid in this state, Judge Welty dismissed the suit against the Chicago and Alton railroad, brought by Mrs. George Moreau, whose husband, a switchman, was killed while in the employe of the railroad.

GREECE IN WAR IS PREDICTION

King Constantine Turns Against Entente Allies.

ROUMANIANS HALT TEUTONS

Petrograd Reports Invaders Driven Back on Line Pushed Forward by Falkenhayn—Russians Also Gain New Positions—Bulgars Cross Danube at New Point.

Amsterdam, Dec. 11.—War between Greece and the entente allies seems a question of twenty-four hours. On the eve of the great climax to the endless crises, a climax that will at last see the Hellenic nation plunged into the world-war—though not on the side to which it has so often been reported as leaning—King Constantine has turned to Carret Droppers, United States minister at Athens. The monarch had just bidden farewell—perhaps for the last time in peace—to the British and Russian ministers, after an extended audience when he sent for Mr. Droppers.

There is every indication to support an unofficial dispatch that the representatives of the allies had handed Constantine an ultimatum.

Petrograd, Dec. 11.—The Roumanians who have been retreating in eastern Wallachia before the Teutonic advance have made a stand east of Ploechti, the war office announces. They assumed the offensive on the road from Ploechti to Buzeu and drove the Austro-German forces back to the westward.

On the Moldavian frontier the Russian advance is continuing in the river valleys, despite strong resistance. The official statement reads:

"In the Putna valley and north of Dorna Watra fighting continues. Our detachments during their advance encountered strong enemy resistance. We are continuing to advance in the Trotus, Salty and Cheboniaha (Csobainjoc?) valleys.

"On the Roumanian front the Roumanians assumed the offensive along the Buzeu-Ploechti road and drove back the enemy to a position behind the Grikovul river."

New Danube Crossing.

Berlin, Dec. 11.—A new crossing of the Danube, between Tchernavoda and Silistria, by the Bulgarians is announced in the army headquarters statement regarding operations on the Roumanian front, which also records a continued advance by the Teutonic armies in eastern Wallachia.

On the Moldavian frontier of Roumania Russian troops captured a height south of the Trotus valley, but were repulsed in attacks between Kirlibaba and Dorna Watra.

BRITISH TO MAKE THEIR OWN SHELLS

Reduction of American Export Trade $1,000,000,000.

Washington, Dec. 11.—The British decision to manufacture all its own shells when existing contracts in America expire, will cause a serious reduction in the export trade of the United States. This was stated by officials of the department of commerce familiar with the comparative figures for the export trade during the past decade.

The export of munitions to the British government now constitutes about a quarter of the country's export trade and amounts to $1,000,000,000 a year.

Edward E. Pratt, chief of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the department of commerce, said that it was a mistake to suppose that all of the contracts with American manufacturers expired at about the same time, and declared that the reduction in the volume and value of the export trade would be gradual, and consequently could not be so severely felt as if suddenly cut off entirely.

Elector Avoids Difficulty.

New Albany, Ind., Dec. 11.—James W. Dunbar, presidential elector at large, who was elected a member of the school board by the city council, stated that he will not qualify until after the meeting of the electoral college. Question has been raised as to his eligibility to serve in the electoral college after having accepted the office of school trustee and Mr. Dunbar stated that he would avoid possible complication by not qualifying on school board.

Takes $1,000 for Cuts.

Sullivan, Ind., Dec. 11.—About sixty days ago F. I. Williams assaulted William Riggs, one of the largest land holders in Sullivan. Williams used a knife, cutting Riggs' arm to the bone. As a result of this Williams paid Riggs $1,000 as a settlement.

Merchant Submersible Makes Voyage in 19 Days.

IT IS SECOND ROUND TRIP

Collision With Escorting Tug Is Recalled—U-Liner With $2,000,000 Cargo Abroad Only Two Days Longer on Way Than Usual Time Required for Trip.

Berlin, Dec. 11.—The submarine merchantman Deutschland, after a quick trip arrived at noon Sunday off the mouth of the Weser.

The above wireless dispatch from Berlin via Sayville means the successful conclusion of the second transatlantic round-trip of the Deutschland, under the command of her plucky captain, Paul Koenig. The Deutschland left New London on November 21 at 2.30 o'clock in the afternoon. Her return voyage to Bremen was thus made in nineteen days, two days longer than it took her to make her trip from that port to New London. Her first voyage to this side of the Atlantic, which ended at Baltimore, was made in twenty-three days.

The Deutschland's return from New London was delayed five days by a disastrous culmination of her original start. The submarine freighter slid out of her pier in the dead of the night and in the early morning hours, in the treacherous waters known as the race, she collided with her escorting tug, the T. A. Scott. Five lives were lost.

Will Be Overhauled.

It is expected the Deutschland will go into drydock in Bramerhaven, and permanent repairs made to her bows. She will also be completely overhauled in preparation for her next westward voyage. This will probably commence in the second week of January.

The Deutschland's cargo on this voyage is estimated to be worth at least $2,000,000. It consists of crude rubber, tin, copper and other metals.

Sink 16 Ammunition Ships.

Berlin, Dec. 11.—German submarines in the Arctic have sunk sixteen ammunition steamers bound to Russia during the past week, according to reports received from Stockholm.

FORD SUIT IS EXTENDED

Three Judges to Hear Further Arguments on Use of Auto Profits.

Detroit, Dec. 11.—The three circuit judges who heard the Dodge Bros. injunction case extended for sixty days the temporary injunction restraining Henry Ford from using the profits of the Ford Motor company to develop its business.

The judges during this time will listen to further arguments and will then decide whether to grant a permanent injunction.

GREATEST JAPANESE SOLDIER, OYAMA, DIES

German and British Compared His with Their Geniuses.

Tokyo, Dec. 11.—Marshal Marquis Iwao Oyama is dead. The Marquis Iwao Oyama was one of Japan's greatest soldiers. German military critics have compared him to the great Moltke and some even to Napoleon. British war writers have likened him to Kitchener.

In his long career his victories over the Russians in Manchuria in the Russo-Japanese war stand out as the most brilliant achievements. He was the master mind of Japan's strategy in the land campaign. His chain of victories were crowned by success in the battle of Liao Yang. In the war with China he led the second Japanese army, which took Port Arthur and Wei-Hai-Wei.

To the American public Marshal Oyama long has been a familiar figure because his wife was one of the first Japanese girls to be educated in America. The marchioness, at the age of ten was chosen as the cleverest among a thousand little girls and sent by the Japanese government to the United States in 1871. She lived several years in New Haven, Conn., and later went to Vassar, graduating with highest honors.

At the regular meeting of the Village council held Monday evening December 4th the resignation of F. G. Heesen as Village clerk was received but not accepted by the council. Later, we understand, Mr. Heesen withdrew his resignation.

At last Friday's special meeting of the council Mr. Heesen was present and listened to the reading of the report of the auditor employed by the council, Barber. This report is printed in today's issue of The Herald and is embodied as a part of the council proceedings and covers in substance Mr. Barber's findings in the audit made by him of the Clerk's books, for the period beginning Feby. 20th, 1914 and ending Oct. 2nd, 1916.

The total deficit, as reported, is $219.94 and is made up as follows: Receipts per books not accounted for Oct. 2nd 1916—$28.20. Thirty-five receipts for payment of water rental charges the amounts of which were not recorded on books—$191.74.

At the conclusion of the reading of the report, Mr. Heesen presented a signed receipt from the Village treasurer covering the shortage as reported by the auditor. He also presented his resignation as Village clerk which was accepted by the council.

The auditor in his report states, "It is quite probable there was no intent on the part of the clerk to falsify the records for the purpose of misappropriating funds of the village but the careless manner in which records were kept might have been the means of creating a shortage unknown to the clerk himself."

We certainly trust that this is the case. That the former clerk was grossly negligent in keeping his records is plainly brought out in the auditor's report. He was placed in office by the people of this village and was expected by them to keep an accurate, honest set of books which he promised to do and as far as the accuracy is concerned, he has failed.

That the muddle in his accounts extends over a long period is brought out in the report for it covers a period of time running from February 20, 1914, to October 2, 1916.

Mr. Heesen did himself a great injustice, for his own protection lay in an accurate record of the accounts of his office. We fail to see his object in allowing the affairs of his office to drift in such a negligent way.

The council of this village were placed in a very embarrassing position for they stood bewteen the clerk and the people and were finally, after repeated attempts to get acurate statements from him, forced to demand that his books be turned over to an auditor. This was done in October and a final report on the audit could not be obtainable until December 8th.

While the audit shows a deficit of $219.94 and this amount was promptly taken care of by Mr. Heesen and so far as any known difference is concerned the village is rembursed, still there still remains the cost of extra sessions of the council and the cost of the audit to be paid out of the people's funds.

The report of the auditor seems to us a fair one. The fact that the matter is made a public record is regretable in the minds of many of us, still no one can be blamed for it but the former clerk himself, for had his accounts been correct no audit would have been necessary.

The Telephone's "Trouble Man."

Every telephone company has a "trouble department," where all complaints of bad service and defective equipment go. The men who make the repairs and adjustments are known as "trouble men," and they have to be not only expert workmen, but chaps of intelligence and common sense, for they meet many problems that are not set down in the books. Thoughtless people can do many things to put a telephone out of commission, and some of them are simple. A wet umbrella leaned up against the wiring in such a way that it grounds the current and, of course, makes the phone useless. In this particular case the umbrella remained where it ought not to have been while the owner of the phone fretted and fumed because he could not get central and then went to a neighbor's and called up the telephone company. When the "trouble man" arrived he saw at once what the matter was and picked up the umbrella. "Now call central," he suggested, and the irate patron got an immediate response.—Leslie's.

Picturesque Cretan Garb.

An interesting description of the Cretan's picturesque dress is given by a writer in Blackwood's:

"The Cretan's national dress merits a word of description. He wears on his head either a twisted kerchief or a sort of pirate's cap with a tassel hanging over one ear. His upper limbs are clad in a loose black shirt and his lower in a pair of black cotton breeches of a bagginess which is well nigh inconceivable even to one who is used to the shalwar of the Levant. These breeches finish tight immediately below the knee and leave an inch or more of sunburnt leg showing above the top of a high yellow boot of untanned leather. The men stride along with the highlander's easy gait, and as they go the slack of their preposterous breeches swings out behind them with all the jaunty air of a kilt."

Both man and woman kind belie their nature when they are not kind.—Bailey.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Council Chambers, adjourned meeting held December 8.

Members present, President Nyland, Hendershot, Nemire, Temple, Anderson, Lawrence, McIntyre.

H. S. Temple was appointed Clerk Pro tem.

Clyde Barber presented the following condensed report showing the result of his audit of the Village books of account up to and including Oct. 2, 1916.

Tecumseh, Mich., Dec. 8, 1916.

To the Common Council of the Village of Tecumseh

I beg to submit the subjoined report pertaining to the findings of my audit of Village Clerk's books of account covering the period from Feb., 20, 1914 to Oct. 2nd, 1916 as per your instruction:

Funds received by the Village clerk as per book records as follows;

Sewer Fund	$ 85.00
Cemetery Fund	451.95
Water Fund	7851.55
General Fund	540 51
Highway Fund	41.62
Total Receipts	$8970.63

Funds transferred to the Lilley State Bank and credited to the Village Treasurer as follows;

Sewer Fund	$ 72.00
Cemetery Fund	302.61
Water Fund	6745.17
General Fund	425,60
Highway Fund	25.62
No Distribution	622.26
Not Reported to Treasurer	749 17
Total amount Transferred	$8942.43

SUMMARY

Amount received per book record	$8970.63
Amount transferred per book record	$8970.63
Receipts per books not accounted for Oct. 2nd., 1916	$28.20
Thirty-five receipts for payment of Water Rental charges the amounts of which were not recorded on Village books of account	191.74
Receipts not accounted for (subject to any findings that may result from complete investigation of accoun's receivable.)	$219.94

This report does not exhibit details involved in the results obtained but is a summary only of the more important features of the audit. A detailed report of the audit will be furnished you in the near future.

On account of the omission of details of my audit in this report, which are important in arriving at a comprehensive understanding of the status of affairs, some comment by your audit concerning the same seem pertinent and I therefore submit the following;

You will note that the amount of funds received by the Clerk from Feb. 20, 1914, to Oct. 2nd, 1916, exceed the amount transferred to the Village Treasurer in the amount of $219.94, this amount being covered by a receipt from the Village treasurer under date of Dec. 8, 1916.

The excess of cash received by the Village Clerk over cash transferred to the Village Treasurer to Oct. 2nd as revealed by the Cash Book and report of Village Treasurer is $28.20

Numerous collections shown in the cash book were not posted to the credit of the individual accounts receivable and many itemss were incorrectly posted to the customers' accounts. These errors were corrected by your auditor.

A further examination of individual ledger accounts indicated that many of the semi-annual charges for Water Rental were missing and your auditor inserted these charges based upon the minimum water rate that obtained at the time such charges should have been made.

To verify the correctness of ledger accounts after missing charges had inserted, one hundred sixty-one statements were sent to water users against whom unpaid charges appeared on their ledger accounts, requesting them to pay the charges or exhibit receipts for same to Geo. A. Rathbun, Village Attorney, who was authorized by the Water Board to take temporary charges of the accounts.

The total amount of unpaid Water Rentals as per statement rendered was $1043.03.

Of this amount Mr. Rathbun collected $276.88.

A few of the charges made by your auditor were found incorrect owing to his misunderstanding of conditions that prevailed for the period charged.

Thirty-five water users to whom statements were sent presented receipts for water rentals charged, the amounts of which did not appear on any Village books of account.

The total of the amount of such receipts presented is $191.74 which added to the $28.20 above mentioned equals to total cash not accounted for Oct. 2nd, 1916, of $219.94.

It is quite probable there was no intent on the part of the clerk to falsify the records for the purpose of misappropriating funds of the village but the careless manner in which records were kept may have been the means of creating a shortage unknown to the clerk himself.

Neglect of duties, gross carelessness, and incorrect procedure characterize the accounting during the period reviewed and some of the simplest but important requirements of bookkeeping procedure were disregarded.

Plain written instructions concerning the operation of the accounting system installed by your auditor during his tenure of office were ignored.

Deposits of Village funds were made in the Lilley State Bank to the credit of the Village treasurer which were not reported to the treasurer.

Deposits of Village funds were also made and reported to the treasurer but no information furnished as to which department the treasurer should credit the same.

No credits were posted from cash book to ledger since June 1916 and no charges appeared on the Journal or Ledger for Water Rentals for the six months period ending July 1st 1916.

This report is not final owing to investigation of accounts receivable not completed.

Respectfully submitted
C. A. Barber, Auditor.

F. G. Heesen was present and presented a receipt from Village Treasurer showing the payment to the village Treasurer of all moneys due the village from him, as shown by the audit of the Village books for the term ending October 2nd

Moved and supported that the water of all unpaid water users be turned off within five days of notice, which they will receive, if unpaid. Motion carried.

The resignation of F. G. Heesen as Village Clerk was read. Moved and supported that the resignation be accepted.

Moved and supported that an order be drawn on the village Treasurer for the salary due F. G. Heesen as Village Clerk in full to December 1, 1916. Motion carried.

Resolved that Clyde Barber act as Village Clerk for the remainder of the Village year at the regular Clerk's salary to fill vacancy caused by the resignation of F. G. Heesen, provided that Mr. Barber file a bond in the amount of $1000, said bond to be filed with the approved by the Finance Committee.

Aye:—Hendershot, Nemire, Anderson, Lawrence, McIntyre, Temple.

Nays:—None.

Carried.

On Motion Council then adjourned.

H. S. Temple,
Clerk pro tem.

Men Doing Some of the Necessary Repairs Wthout Asking Help of the Contractors

Under the leadership of the capable Rev. Rex, the men of the Presbyterian church are doing a lot of real work. For several weeks back evenings have been set apart for a bee and they have responded in fine shape, the ladies appearing on the scene later in the evening with baskets filled with good things to eat which were graciously dealt out to the hungry men.

The first stunt performed by these men was the removal of the partitions in the pews. Last week cement pillars were placed in the basement and other cement work done and this week another bee will be held for further improvements.

Rev Rex superintended the work of erecting a church at Kansas City while he was pastor there and knows how to boss the gang.

This work is being done by the men, not because they are particularly anxious to take their coats off and work, but because it has been impossible to get workmen to do the work without too much delay. Evidently the men believe in the old adage. "If you want a thing well done, do it yourself."

BIG DEALERS CONVENTION

Toledo, December 4, 20.

What is considered the biggest Dealers Convention in America has been in session in Toledo since the 4th of Dec and will close Dec. 20th. This is the Overland convention and is being attended by nearly every dealer of the Overland & Willy's—Knight companies.

John N. Willy's, president of the Willy's Overland Co., is royal host and has staged various entertainments for this gathering. The convention will celebrate their fourth winning of the place of honor at the New York and Chicago auto shows. Thirty special Pullman trains have been running on special schedules for the convenience of the many parties who are taking in this great meeting.

Extensive programs have been given along "Educational and Entertainment lines." A big banquet is not the least of the series of good things being given the visitors.

TAHAN, THE INDIAN

The second number on the Presbyterian Entertainment Course was given Monday night at the church. One of the most interesting parts of the entertainment was the announcement made by Rev. W. A. Rex that the Men's Class who were putting on this series find themselves out of debt on the course with all bills paid.

Rev. Rex then introduced Tahan the Indian. Tahan, besides having the honor of being an Indian Chieftain, is by profession a Presbyterian clergyman.

His lecture was mostly the story of his life and was told in a very pleasing manner. For a self educated man, his command of the English language is remarkable. He told many things connected with the Indians, of their beliefs, habits and customs which were new to most of his hearers. United States history speaks of Custer's fight on the Wichita as a U. S. victory, but the terrible so called "victory" that Custer and his troopers won over the Indians, and well remembered by him, is called "victory" in our history, but to the Indian it was one of the most terrible massacres ever perpetrated against them.

Tahan was dressed in the robe of a great chieftain and carried the bowie knife of his foster father.

Pointer For the Preacher.

Among the stories related by the late Rev. Dr. A. F. Pierson was one of a marble cutter, with chisel and hammer, working a block of stone into a statue. A preacher who was looking on said, "I wish I could on hearts of stone, deal such transforming blows!"

"Perhaps you might," was the workman's quiet answer, "if, like me, you worked on your knees."—Philadelphia Record.

Speedy Giraffes.

The kangaroo, supposedly a fleet beast, covers but ten to fourteen feet a second, while the giraffe dashes along over fifty feet, in the same time, and an ox attached to a wagon goes two feet a second. Some species of hare run sixty feet a second, others not more than half so fast.

"THE LITTLE GIRL NEXT DOOR"

The great morality photodrama "The Little Girl Next Door" based on the great 'vice expose' of the Illinois Vice Commission will be presented at the Bradley Opera House next Friday evening December 15. Everywhere this big sensation has been presented, crowds have packed the theatres at every performance. In Chicago, at the LaSalle theatre where the picture was shown for 12 straight weeks, over 500,000 persons saw it in the 12 weeks. Great crowds lined the walks for blocks every evening waiting to gain admission. The same thing was true in Detroit, Grand Rapids, Jackson and in fact everywhere "The Little Girl Next Door" has been presented.

Some time ago the Illinois Senate established what was known as 'vice commission' to investigate the dens of iniquity in the cities of Illinois, especially Chicago. Readers of this paper will undoubtly remember of reading the startling reports published from time to time by this commission. Vice, as it actually existed in these dens and exposed by this commission is depicted in this great photoplay "The Little Girl Next Door." Mr. Crose of the Indianapolis Amusement Co. says: The Little Girl Next Door" carried the city by storm. It did such an enormous business at the Regent Theatre, we also ran it at the Colonial and applied for return bookings. We drew representative citizens, including ministers, sociological workers, etc."

"The Little Girl Next Door" will be at the Bradley the one night only, next Friday, December 15. Continuous shows starting at 7:00 p. m. Doors open at 6:30. All seats 25 cents.

MISS AGNES McNAIR

Miss Agnes McNair was born in Raisin township, Lenawee county, April 10, 1844. When she was six years old her father Wm McNair moved his family into town, occupying the house, then not fully completed, which for 61 years has been the family home. Here since the death of their parents, the sisters, the Misses Agnes and Sarah, have resided until God called Miss Agnes on Thanksgiving Day.

Besides the lonely sister are left to mourn the three sons of the brother David who was a well known business man in Tecumseh: Herbert L. of New York City; Will S., a major general of the U. S. army now seeing service on the Mexican border; and Fred of Leadville, Colo.

The Misses McNair have been faithful members of the Presbyterian church, always at the services and working hard in the organizations of the church, and here the deceased is missed by a large circle of close friends.

The last sad rites were held from the home on West Chicago street Monday, Dec. 4th, Rev. Rex officiating. In spite of the rain the house was filled with friends who came to sympathize with the lonely sister in her sorrow. Present fsom away were the nephew Fred McNair of Leadville, Col., and several cousins: Mrs Geo Wilson of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs Chas. Gallup and Mrs. Harriett Jewett of Ann Arbor and Henry Wilson of Blissfield.

GEN. ELMER W. BOWEN

Again Death has claimed a comrade from the circle of those who have held a reunion for so many years, Gen. Elmer W. Bowen of Detroit passing away in Adrian last Saturday at the age of 70 years. He enlisted in the 9th Cavalry in 1861 at the age of 16 years and remained until the end of the war. Later he was made brigadier general of the Michigan State Troops.

He has been in failing health for several years, spending last winter in Florida and stopping in Adrian on his return where death claimed him.

Capt. A. D. Lawrence is now the only remaining member of the company of the 9th Cavalry and with S. P. Hosmer, their mutual friend, attended the funeral in Adrian Monday afternoon, paying their last tokens of regard for their beloved comrade.

"THE END OF A PERFECT DAY"

Gaskell & MacVetty presented to a Tecumseh audience last Friday evening their new play, "The End of a Perfect Day."

It was a stormy night and the attendance was small but those who weathered the storm were amply repayed for the play was all that it was advertised "a sweet clean wholesome play."

The principle character was "Paddy-wack," a little Irish orphan whose grandfather had recently died leaving her in the hands of good old Vicar Mayfield the guardian.

The part was cleaverly taken by Miss Marjorie Davis.

Shorty Long an American Jocky, as protrayed by Mr. Percy Kilbridge was particularly good. Shorty got into all kinds of difficulty but managed to square himself with his irate mother-in-law in his last act.

The balance of the cast was in good hands. A three piece orchestra from Adrian furnished the music.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER

Mrs. B. A. Lawrence very happily entertained a party of some 25 ladies Friday evening honoring Miss Geraldine Orr whose wedding to Garland Osborn is to be solemnized the latter part of the month.

The evening was pleasantly passed in visiting and the hostess served a dainty lunch. Afterward Miss Geraldine was showered with a variety of beautiful and useful gifts ranging all the way from hand painted china to kitchen ware. Later the crowd left wishing a long and happy life with the man of her heart and praising Mrs. Lawrence as a hostess. From away were present Mrs. Sam Linton of Detroit; Mrs. Chas. Osborn, Mrs. Wm. Jay and Mrs. Fritz Gygi of North Adrian.

MARRIED

Miss Florence Schemerhorn and Mr. Vere Hawkins were married at the residence of the brides parents in Grand Rapids, Thanksgiving day noon, Rev. Hill of the Wallin Congregational church performing the ceremony. They will make their home in that city.

The above was clipped from the Mancelona Herald published by O. B. Hawkins, a former newspaper man in Tecumseh. Vere will be remembered by his schoolmates who will unite in congratulations and best wishes.

MEETING OF SCHOOL BOARD

At a meeting of the School Board held Monday afternoon the completed plans for our new high school were accepted. The architect was in attendance. Sealed bids for the erection of the building will be received up to Jan 3, 1917. The board expressed themselves as highly pleased with the plans as accepted and when erected Tecumseh will have one of the finest high schools in this section of the country.

MISS LUTIE AVERY

Word has just been received of the sudden death on Wednesday Dec 6 1916 of Miss Lutie Avery of Oberlin, O. death resulting from heart failure after a long season of nervous prostration.

Only last summer Miss Avery was in Tecumseh, the guest of Miss Edith Ingersoll, meeting many schoolmates and friends of 20 years ago when she with her parents and sisters were residents of Tecumseh.

It is with a feeling of sadness that we record her passing away for she was beloved by all who knew her.

A Venetian Fashion.

Fashions were no less eccentric four centuries ago than they are today. "Before the streets of Venice were paved (in the thirteenth century)," says Mr. William Boulting in "Woman In Italy," "ladies went through the mud and filth on pattens. The custom was retained, and in spite of sumptuary laws the patten became heightened until women of rank stood on false feet half a yard high in the sixteenth century. They were unable to walk without the support of one or two gentlemen or servants."

A curiosity in banquets is mentioned by the same writer. It was a wedding feast at Milan and consisted of fifteen courses, "each being introduced by living specimens of the animals that composed it."

Start of the Omnibus.

The invention of omnibuses is due to the philosopher Pascal, who, in February, 1667, obtained a "privilege" or a patent for public carriages to travel through certain streets of Paris. They held eight passengers, who paid six sous each, and were very successful, although an act of parliament of Paris forbade them being used by lackeys, soldiers and other humble folk. Pascal died in 1667, and his useful invention did not long survive him. The omnibus reappeared in London about the beginning of the last century and was adopted in several French provincial towns before Paris accepted it again.

Sisters' Deaths Accidental.

DECATUR, ILL., Dec. 11.

"Accidental death," was the verdict of the coroner's jury in an inquest held over the bodies of Mrs. H. E. Winslow and Mrs. Belle Coonrod, sisters, who were killed when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Wabash express train at Taylorville.

Our Tea Trade

Gets bigger and bigger.

Why does it grow?

Because the Teas that we handle are quite a bit better for the money than most stores handle.

Why are they better?

Because we devote more than ordinary care to choosing them.

Because we insist upon each lot we buy being the very best obtainable.

Because we are able to sell at 50c a Tea that equals the 60c grades of many other stores.

Because all the way up and down our Tea line we offer superior qualities.

If these reasons look good to you PROFIT BY THEM.

DOING THEIR DUTY

Scores of Tecumseh Readers are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are weak.

Backache and other kidney ills may follow;

Help the kidneys do their work.

Use Doan's Kidney Pills—the tested kidney remedy.

Tecumseh people endorse their worth.

Mrs. P. A. Kelsey, W. Kilbuck St., Tecumseh, says: "I had inflammation of the bladder and suffered continually from ... passages of the kidney secretions. The secretions were unnatural, too. My kidneys almost stopped acting at times and I had frequent cramps in my limbs. I doctored and used all sorts of medicines with little benefit. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Wright & Son's Drug Store, however, relieved the trouble and regulate the action of my kidneys. They are the best medicine I ever used."

KALAMAZOO STARTS INTO COAL BUSINESS

Orders for Over 100 Tons Are on Hand at Inception.

KALAMAZOO, Dec. 11.

With orders from needy families for more than 100 tons of coal on hand, Mayor James B. Balch put Kalamazoo's coal docks in shape and started the city in the coal business.

Two hundred tons of coal were on the city's siding awaiting unloading and workmen engaged all day Sunday in this work. James McMahon, a former coal dealer, is in charge of the city's dock.

The emergency purchasing commission announced that Pocohontas will be retailed to Kalamazoo's needy at $6.25 a ton; Virginia splint will be sold at 5.43, and Ohio lump at $5.45. Every ton represents the best soft coal obtainable and represents a big saving to the consumer. Dealers are selling Pocohontas at $9.50 a ton, Virginia splint at from $7.50 to $9.00, and Ohio lump at from $7.25 to $9.00.

GETS-IT
GETS-IT

When You See These Pretty Girls in Your Druggist's Window It's a Good Time To End Your Corns.

That's what they all say the very first time they use "GETS-IT." It's because "GETS-IT" is so simple and easy to use—put it on in a few seconds—because there is no work or corn-fooling to do, no pain that shoots up to your heart. It gets your corns off your mind. All the time it's working—and then, that little old corn peels right off, leaves the clean, corn-free skin underneath—and your corn is gone! No wonder millions prefer "GETS-IT". Try it tonight.

"GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

The London Daily Chronicle gives prominence to the following: "Sir Edward Carson, who no doubt got the consent of his Ulster colleagues for the plan, proposes that a home rule parliament should be established for the whole of Ireland and that Protestants should be represented on the basis of proportional representatives. Ulster would be included for the period of three years, after which there would be opportunity for a revision."

THINK VILLA ABOUT TO ATTACK PERSHING

U. S. Authorities Apprehensive Over His Manifesto.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 11.—Army men in El Paso and elsewhere on the border [illegible] the manifesto issued by "Pancho" Villa before he left Chihuahua City as a declaration of war against the United States and are making preparations accordingly.

Officers and men from General Pershing's punitive expedition here on leave are hastening back to join their regiments. The guard at the international bridge has been doubled and considerable excitement prevails in El Paso and Juarez, its Mexican sister across the Rio Grande.

There are many army authorities who have ventured a shrewd guess that the "manifesto," breathing hate against the "barbarians of the north" and announcing Villa's intention of expelling Pershing's force from Mexican soil, is but a Carranza ruse to discredit Villa and draw upon the bandit the resentment of the American administration.

LORD CURZON TO WED WIDOW

Once Husband of Mary Leiter, Daughter of Chicago Millionaire.

London, Dec. 11.—Earl Curzon of Kedleston, former viceroy of India who, is was announced, has been named a member of the new British war council, made known his engagement to Mrs. Grace Elvina Duggan, widow of Alfred Duggan of Buenos Aires. J. F. DIETZ DENIED PARDON BY PHILIPP

Offers to Allow Him to Go Home Under Guard.

Madison, Wis., Dec. 11.—The pardon application of John F. Dietz, famed as the "hero of Cameron Dam," who was convicted of murdering Deputy Oscar Harp, when his Thornapple dam fortress in northern Wisconsin was beseiged by a coterie of deputy sheriffs on October 7, 1910, was denied by Governor E. L. Philipp. The names of 10,000 citizens of Wisconsin, the petition of nine of the jurors and some of the state's witnesses, was filed in the plea for executive clemency. Dietz entered Waupun May 17, 1911.

Originally Dietz was sentenced to Waupun for life, but Governor Francis E. McGovern cut the sentence to twenty years on December 30, 1914. Because of the alarming conditions of heart failure and dropsy a petition for full pardon was filed last July.

"If the board of control will recommend that he be taken to his home, or elsewhere for treatment, I shall not object to his removal from the prison, provided that he remain in the custody of the prison warden," says the governor in the official statement.

MEETING SCHOOL PROBLEMS

Five Important Matters Effecting Rural Localities Taken Up.

Indianapolis, Dec. 11.—Five country school problems, somewhat distinct, yet organically related, are puzzling Hoosier educators. These problems are improvement of social advantages for the rural community, more money for rural education, better organization, adequate administration and supervision and improvement in the qualifications of teachers. Consequently the next legislature is to be asked to do something along this line.

Just how it will be done has not yet been worked out, but W. W. Black, professor of elementary and rural education in the school of education, Indiana university, is already hard at work trying to draft a bill aimed to do something to better the organization and qualifications of those at the head of the rural schools. His appointment to the work when representative Hoosier educators met in the state house to confer upon the problems was the direct result of an investigation made by members of the State County Superintendents' association.

LANSING SAYS KAISER BROKE DIVER PLEDGE

Full Information Is Now Awaited on Second Case.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Announcement was made at the state department that complete information now at hand covering the case of the British horseship Marina, torpedoed with a loss of six Americans, makes it appear to be a "clear cut" violation of Germany's pledges to the United States.

Full information on the case of the Arabia will be awaited before the next move is made, which is expected to take the form of a new note intended to clear up what appear to be differences of interpretation on what Germany's pledges in the Sussex case actually covered, especially with references to armed ships.

PETAIN WILL LEAD ALLIES

Defender of Verdun to Succeed General Joffre.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Private reports from Paris received here telling of the secret proceedings in the French chamber of deputies last week confirm reports that General Petain, the defender of Verdun, is to succeed General Joffre in supreme command of all the allies' forces on the western battle front. This is the result of radical changes in organization which are to follow concentration of management of the war in a small council, as has been done in England.

General Petain, little known outside the French army in 1914, was a colonel at the outbreak of the war and almost at the age of retirement. In active service he was advanced rapidly and gained worldwide fame by his defense of Verdun.

DES MOINES HAS ORPET CASE

Youth Arrested at Sparta, Ill., Accused in Girl's Death.

DES MOINES, IA. — In announcing the arrest at Sparta, Ill., of Kimmage Widener, twenty-seven, of Des Moines, Chief of Police Charles Jackson gave out details of a case which he said might closely parallel the Orpet murder trial at Waukegan, Ill., last spring. Widener, the chief said, will be brought back to Des Moines and charged with murder.

On the morning of Nov. 27, Elizabeth Walls, twenty-one, was found in her room by her mother in a serious condition as the result of taking poison. She died the next day. The coroner held that the case was one of suicide and held no inquest.

EPIDEMIC OF BANDITRY ON

High Tide of Oklahoma Raids Hit When Bank Loses $16,000.

WINITA, OKLA. — Posses are scouring the country for four bandits who locked Cashier Martin of the Farmers' State Bank of Winita in the vault and escaped with a large sum of money, said to total fully $16,000.

The robbers are believed to be the same men who have committed similar bank robberies in the southwest during the past ten days.

Chief Healey Resigns.

CHICAGO, ILL. — Chief of Police Healey has resigned. Following a conference lasting twenty minutes in Mayor Thompson's office the resignation was presented to Mayor Thompson to take effect Jan. 1.

Eight Lives Lost in Blast.

PETERBORO, ONT. — An explosion and fire destroyed the Quaker Oats buildings here with an estimated loss of eight lives and injuries to ten other persons, all employes, and with property damage amounting to about $1,000,000

Figures announced by Secretary Towne of the Chamber of Commerce showed the wage increase in Kalamazoo the last year had been more than $4,500,000, and that this city's plants were paying their workmen $17,500,000 annually.

Satisfied that the high cost of living in Grand Rapids is caused by questionable methods, Circuit Judge John S. McDonald has determined to call a grand jury to investigate charges of unlawful combinations and agreements among dealers in foodstuffs.

When county canvassers who were conducting a recount for John L. Poland, Democratic candidate for drain commissioner, opened the ballot box of the Ninth precinct of Battle Creek they found 123 split ballots which the election board had failed to count.

Flint officials at St. Joseph identified Frank Rainey, committed to the state criminal insane hospital from Berrien county in November for the robbery of the Eau Claire bank, as the man who on October 8 murdered and robbed Neal J. Berston, real estate dealer of Flint.

In the release of two men from Marquette, Joshua F. Cooper and William Groff, the governor brought to an end the famous Painesdale murder cases of the copper strike of 1913. Both men were Waddell-Mahon guards, brought in for special strike duty by the copper operators.

While playing store with her mother's medical cabinet, Hazel Allen, eleven year old daughter of Mrs. E. M. Allen, matron of one of the boarding clubs at M. A. C., at Lansing, drank bichloride of mercury and is now in the college hospital. Physicians hope to save her life.

For the first time in history of the University of Michigan a foreign student has been appointed consul for his country. Ernesto Guzman of Santiago, Chile, a senior engineering student, has just received notification that his government has appointed him consul for Ann Arbor district.

Mrs. Laura Spere, of Lathrop, Shiawassee county, went to the University hospital for medical treatment. Diagnosis showed that she had smallpox. She admitted that she and her family of several small children together with the husband and father had been suffering from what their family physician called chickenpox and that after this diagnosis scores of persons had been exposed to the malady.

U. S. IS DEFIED BY BANDIT VILLA

Get Out of Mexico or Fight, He Orders.

ADMITS RAID AT COLUMBUS

Remarkable Interview Given to New York World Representative—Outlaw Declares Pershing Has No Right Across Border—Denounces President Wilson for Recognizing Carranza.

NEW YORK, N. Y. — "I am going to drive the Americans out of Mexico or make them fight."

This is the declaration of Francisco Villa as reported in an interview printed by the New York Evening World. Thorke Flood Mortensen, the interviewer, says he went to Villa's headquarters at Quinta Luz, the second day of the occupation of the City of Chihuahua.

"Do you know the Mayor of El Paso?" Villa asked. "Do you know what he did? Chased my wife out of the country like a common peon woman of the street and took her diamonds and rings away from her. Tell that fellow that if he were a man he would come down and fight with me and not fight with a woman who is a stranger in his country. I know him; he is an avocado for the clentificos and Hipolitome Hermano (Villa's brother)—did not the North Americans try to murder him?

"Pershing Violates Mexican Rights.'

"Do you know Pershing? Pershing is violating the sacred rights of Mexico and has got to get out. I will show them, poco tiempo, that they cannot violate Mexican rights.

"Do you know Wilson? I was his friend. I liked him, but at Ague Prieta he turned traitor to me and the cause I represented and helped Carranza—the bad man of Mexico. Is there any wonder that I chase the Americans out of Mexico?"

Asked what he intended to do, he replied:

"Drive them out, or make them fight, and after they are gone I will make a gap between the two countries so wide and deep that no Americans will ever be able to steal Mexican land, gold or oil."

Admits Columbus Attack.

"General," Villa was asked: "How could you make the daring attack on Colonel Slocum's forces at Columbus and get away across the big plains?"

"Easy," Villa answered. "I was awake; they were sleeping and it took them too long to wake up."

"You must have had many men."

"Yes, I had about 300."

The interviewer said he was careful not to ask Villa about his injured foot, on the advice of General Salazar with whom he first talked and also by the same general's advices not to contradict Villa in any way. Villa's foot is still stiff, he said, though the wound he received in the battle of Guerrero has healed.

LLOYD-GEORGE IS ILL; "MUST WIN THE WAR"

Premier Issues Call to Nation from Sickroom.

LONDON, ENG. — Premier Lloyd-George is ill. He was unable to go to Buckingham palace with members of his cabinet to receive the seals of office from King George.

Official announcement is made that the premier is suffering from a severe chill and that on the advice of his physicians he was remaining indoor.

Premier Lloyd George has sent the following to all members of the house of commons, it was announced officially:

"The king has intrusted me with the task of forming a government. I have carried out the command. I had hoped to make a statement to the house on Tuesday. I now find it to be impossible. On Tuesday Bonar Law, as leader in the house, will move adjournment till Thursday.

"The one predominant task before the government is the prosecution of the war to a triumphant conclusion. I feel confident the government can rely on your support as long as they devote their energies effectively to that end."

FOUR KILLED AT CROSSING

Train Hits Auto Near Vergus, Minn., with Tragic Result.

FERGUS FALLS, MINN. — Four persons were killed and a fifth person seriously injured when train No. 102, the northbound Winnipeg flyer on the Soo road, crashed into the auto in which they were riding near Vergus, this county.

The dead are: Alfred Koplin, twenty-seven years old; Mrs. Alfred Koplin, his wife, twenty-six years old; Mrs. Filopina Koplin, forty-five years old, his mother; Miss Dettinger, twelve years old, sister of Mrs. Alfred Koplin. Francis Koplin, thirteen years old, daughter of Mrs. Filipina Koplin, suffered serious injuries.

Veart van Wyck, ninety-three years old, was found dead in bed by relatives at Grand Rapids.

Georgis W. Harris, seventy-six years old, civil war veteran, of Mason, died at his home of heart disease

Walter K. Plumb, for three years secretary of the Grand Rapids Association of Commerce, has resigned, effective January 1.

Mrs. Elizabeth Sutherland, ninety-four years old, the oldest resident of Genesee county, died at Flint after an illness of nearly a year.

Hughes' plurality in Michigan was in round numbers, 50,000, while Albert E. Sleeper led the state ticket with a plurality of almost 100,000.

In the Eaton Rapids municipal election L. J. Smith was elected commissioner, William D. Wagner assessor, and Wallace B. Bunker constable.

GREECE TO DEFY ALLIES, BERLIN

Constantine Grows More Warlike, Entente Determined.

FALKENHAYN SEEMS CHECKED

Petrograd Reports Drive from Northwest Is Halted—Berlin Report Not Clear on Situation—Mackensen Captures Cernawoda Bridge—Bulgars Capture Town North of Danube Fortress.

AMSTERDAM — Threats and counter threats, official and unofficial, are flying thick and fast between Greece and the entente powers, if fragmentary dispatches from Athens are to be believed. The outstanding "news" of the day is a dispatch from Berlin, of semi-official flavor that the Greek government has announced:

First—That Greece hereafter will strictly observe armed neutrality.

Second—That it will make no farther concession to the entente.

Third—That it will consider any new provocation as a casus belli.

If the last of these three statements is true it means that King Constantine will greet the next allied demands, should he choose to consider them as "provocatory," with a declaration of war.

Entente Demands Demobilization.

These demands, unofficial dispatches from Athens state, are to be presented to the Greek government in a formal note. They will be followed up by further, more specified demands. Included in what the entente will ask of Greece, it is said, will be demobilization of the Greek army and surrender to the allies of the control of the railways, posts and telegraphs. The release of Venizelists imprisoned by the Royalist government also will be demanded, it is reported.

Meanwhile, mysterious wireless messages are being exchanged between Athens and radio stations in Sofia, Constantinople and Berlin. Aerial telegrams from King Constantine to the German capital are said to have been picked up by the Greek battleship Hydra which is under Entente control.

Revolt Breaks Out.

Revolt has broken out in the Cyclades, a Greek island group in the Aegean, according to Athens dispatches.

Another unofficial dispatch asserts that all the Greek communities in Egypt have renounced their allegiance to King Constantine.

Mackensen Wins Carnawoda Bridge.

BERLIN — The entire Cernawoda bridge fell to Field Marshal von Mackensen's Danube armies Monday when Bulgarian forces captured its western head. This new development in the Roumanian campaign, reported officially by the Sofia war office, adds ominously to the menace that is facing the scattered and fleeing defenders of Bucharest from three sides. Moreover it is another important step toward a solid Teuton front from the northern edge of Transylvania to Constanza on the Black sea.

The Bulgarian force which crossed the river near Silistria has captured the town of Calarasi, seven miles north of the Danube fortress. This force is moving due north toward the Bucharest-Cernawoda railway, acting as a flank protection for the Cernawoda army. Both crossings apart from their larger objects to bring about the erection of a line of attack against Moldavia are also aimed at rounding up the remnants of King Ferdinand's armies still in Roumania's eastern parts.

Decisive Battle Being Fought.

Meanwhile a decisive battle is being fought on a twenty-two mile front along the Ploesci-Mezilu (Mizil) sector of the railway leading northward into Moldavia. In this battle the Roumanians with Russian help appear to be holding their own, preventing Falkenhayn's right wing from pushing on to his next objective, the great rail head Buzeu. The last definite report of the fighting in this area comes from the Petrograd war office. It asserts that after being pushed back Saturday evening the Roumanians rallied on the following morning and "restored their position," which means that at that time they were still holding the Teutons some twenty-two miles southwest of Buzeu.

SWISS PROTEST IS REBUFFED

Germany Declares Country Has No Right to Interfere in Belgium.

PARIS — Germany's reply to the Swiss note regarding the deportations in Belgium has been received, according to information from Bern.

It is most politely worded, the dispatches say, but, nevertheless, makes it clearly understood that Switzerland has no ground for interfering with events in Belgium unless her own interests are affected.

Houston to Remain in Cabinet.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Secretary Houston, at the request of President Wilson, has decided definitely to remain in the cabinet after March 4, it has become known. Washington university, at St. Louis, has extended his leave of absence from the office of chancellor.

Ambrose Cox of Cedar Creek saved the four year old son of E. Baker, of Doster, from being devoured by a pig when he beat off the animal, which was biting the boy's head.

William D. Brown, aged seventy-seven years, a pioneer vessel master of the lakes and business man of Port Huron, is dead. Captain Brown sailed the lakes from 1848 until 1886.

Another big increase in the number of counties offering the service of agricultural agents will be made next year, according to Dr. Eben Mumford state superintendent of county agricultural agents.

Apparently blinded by the rain, Mrs. Jennie Burdick, forty-two years old, stepped in front of a Jackson Grass Lake interurban car at a crossing two miles east of Jackson and was instantly killed.

With just seven more shopping days before Christmas, the merchants here in Tecumseh are preparing for a busy week. People will need to bear in mind that the earlier they can do their shopping the easier it will be.

Most of the stores have added to their force of clerks in order to take care of the rush but it is always impossible at the last minute to give the best service when everybody is rushed.

We believe people will buy useful gifts this year as most everything has advanced in price and if you are looking for useful things you will find our stores loaded with them.

Many stores have put on their holiday dress and are looking very attractive and our merchants are reporting a fine holiday trade. Watch the ads as they are full of Christmas suggestions and will help you make up your mind what to buy.

LIBRARY CONTEST

The list of contestants in the library contest is growing and the standing published in this issue shows the total number to be 28. The Order of Eastern Star leads with a total vote of 17145, the Grange second with 11765 and the Tecumseh library and Ridgeway school a close third, the library having 9705 votes to the Ridgeway schools 8655.

Some lodge church, library or school is going to get the beautiful library of books on display in McCann & Bowen's window. Which will it be? Get busy and vote for your favorite. A display ad in this issue explains the plan and will also give you a list of merchants who are issuing votes.

The Herald is printing a coupon in this issue which if cut out and deposited in the ballot box at Wright's store will be good for 25 votes and will also give 500 votes on each new subscription to the Herald. Here's your chance to boost the vote for your favorite. Who'll be the first?

An unidentified youth, about twenty-two years old, leaped into Lake Michigan near Grand Rapids from the steamer Puritan, bound from Benton Harbor to Holland. The body was not recovered.

Charged with infanticide by causing by criminal neglect the death of her illegitimate child born Thanksgiving day, Mrs. Lydia Zupan, thirty-two years old, of Claybank, is under arrest at Manistee.

It is the opinion of Dairy and Food Commissioner James W. Helme that the victory of the drys in the recent election in Michigan is only the initial step, and he declares the fight to enforce prohibition has only begun.

Congressman George A. Loud has nominated Clarence E. Burger of Bay City, now at El Paso, a member of Company B, Thirty-third regiment Michigan national guard, as a cadet at the West Point Military academy.

Municipal Judge A. B. Titus gave a decision of no cause for action in Kalamazoo's case against the Michigan Light company. The city started suit to force the gas company to furnish gas at 70 cents a thousand feet.

The jury in the Conroy case reported at Ionia finding that Ed J. Conroy, during an alleged quarrel, was shot and killed by his wife, Mary Conroy. The evidence showed that the shot was fired after the quarrel was over and while Conroy was fixing the fire.

The Queen Bee as a Voyager.

Queen bees are sometimes sent on journeys through the post, even being dispatched abroad. It is a long and hard trial to be packed in a crowded mail sack in the recesses of a steamer's hold. To overcome this disadvantage the Italian exporter provides a special car in which her majesty the queen may ride. She and her associates and the little bit of sugar that goes with them are very light, yet the exporter makes a large, cumbersome cage in which she is to ride. The reasons for this are that the box must be strong and the sides must be extended so as to prevent the surrounding mail from becoming too closely packed against it.—London Spectator.

No Respecter of Persons

Mistress (to maid-servant by way of mild rebuke)—I don't think your young man has very good manners. I noticed that he did not rise from his seat when I came into the kitchen.

Maid (deprecating)—I'm very sorry, ma'am, but he doesn't do it even when I come into the room.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Christmas Suggestions.

Along about this time of the year the Christmas gift suggestions begin piling up on the average man from all the corners of the earth. It's a trying season, this period that precedes the joy of Yuletide. And the most bothersome part about it is the fact that a big lot of these suggestions really need your consideration; otherwise, when the moment for buying arrives, you—well, you'll be just like the average man—no idea what to get!

What do you say to a new scheme this year—a little plan for the elimination of nearly all the "Christmas considerations" but one.

COW TESTING ASSOCIATION FORMED

Meeting Held in Tecumseh Saturday

A low testing association was formed here last Saturday afternoon with a membership of twenty six enrolled.

The meeting was held at the Co-operative Association hall. The object of this Association is to keep a record of each individual cow in the herd, so that it will be possible to know just what each cow is doing, how much milk it produces the market value of the product, the cost of feeding and production. Blanks are furnished each member whereby a daily record of how many pounds of milk, the average test pounds of butter fat, price of milk, price of butter fat, value of product, days pasture and etc. are kept.

This association is to be under the direction of the Lenawee Co agent and the National and State Bureau of Animal Industry.

A milk tester will be hired to make the tests. He will devote a day out of a month to each member.

The officers and directors elected are as follows.

Pres.,—Alton Whelan, Tipton
Vice Pres.—Lavern Ousterhout Britton
Sec. and Treas.—Chas. Bidwell Tecumseh
Directors—Devillo Van Valkenburg Tipton, Geo Routsen Tecumseh, Arthur Green Raisin, Roy Britton of Britton

This Association will be watched with much interest by stock holders in this vicinity.

CHRISTMAS PARTY OF THE GUILD

The Westminister Guild were most royally entertained by Mrs. Lynn Butrick at her home Tuesday evening when the ladies enjoyed a Christmas party. The rooms were gay with festoons of bells and strips of red and green hung from the corners to the center of the livng room and in one corner a Christmas tree.

After a short business session conducted by the president Mrs. R. M. Moiles, Mrs. Rex lead the devotionals and Mrs. Fred Dickinson took charge of the program. The topic for the evening was "Latin America as a Mission Field" and papers were read by Mrs. Rex, Mrs. C. L. Cuthbert and Mrs. Floyd Bell.

Then came the making of necklaces of popcorn and cranberries at which Mrs. J. W. Beardsley was considered the best artist. Truly some of them were some ornaments!

Mrs. Butrick then served her guests with a dainty lunch, caring out the Christmas colors where possible. Then came the unloading of the tree and don't imagine for a minute that it is only the little people who enjoy such pleasures.

Mrs. Howard Bredow assisted by little Miss Nemire was the distributor and as each gift of toy or fancy work was unwrapped, the lucky lady was happily congratulated. The members of the Guild certainly can add this to their list of most delightful sessions and the 31 present united in thanking Mrs. Butrick for giving them such a happy evening.

SAMUEL MOBBS

Samuel Mobbs was born in England May 28, 1864, and passed away Dec. 12, 1916, at University Hospital where he underwent an operation for obstructive jaundice. In 1891 he was united in marriage to Miss Minnie Haviland who died in 1910 leaving four childrew Hazel, Mary Ellis, Clarence and Jesse. In 1912 Mr Mobbs married Mrs Emma Brown of Adrian who with the four children survive him.

The remains were brought to Tecumseh Wednesday morning. The funeral will be held Saturday morning, prayer at the home at 9.30, service at 10 a. m in the Friends church, Rev. Green officiating with burial in Raisin cemetery in the family lot.

He was a member of the Odd Fellows, K of P and Woodman lodges. For many years Mr Mobbs was a resident of Tecumseh where he has a host of friends who mourn his early death. Besides his immediate family he leaves two brothers Fred of Detroit and James C. of Carson City, Michigan.

GEORGE M. BLESING

After an illness of less than two weeks, George M. Blesing passed away Friday morning, December 15, 1916, death resulting from pleura-pneumonia.

Mr. Blesing was born in Tecumseh January 13th. 1859, being 57 years and 11 months old at the time of his death. In 1889 he was united in marriage to Mary McKendry. To this union four children were born, one passing away in infancy. Three sons, Ralph M. of Ionia, Donald M. and Harold of Tecumseh are left with their mother to mourn their loss.

He has always resided in Tecumseh where he has a wide circle of friends. He was a member of the K of P Lodge whose members will attend the funeral in a body. The funeral will be held from the home Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. W. A. Rex officiating. Burial at Brookside.

ENTERTAINED AT DINNER

Mr and Mrs Chas Benedict entertained at a chicken dinner Thursday Dec. 7, covers being laid for 12. Among the guests were Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Rex, and daughter Frances, Mesdames Franc Rector, Fred Rector, Guy Nemire and daughter, Libbie Mitchell, the Misses Edyth Rector and Emma Rogers. A very pleasant afternoon was spent in social visiting.

THE PASSING OF ANOTHER LANDMARK

Another old landmark has passed away and what was once the old Presbyterian church is no more. It has passed through many changes, from church to armory to grist mill and, finally, the macaroni factory.

Memory lingers with the old church as dearest of them all. How many are there in town who can remember the old bell that called to worship each Sunday morning, the choir who rendered such sweet music: J. S. Strong, who lead in the singing for so many years, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Conkling, Hudson Conkling, Vance Goheen, Brockway Anderson with his bass viol and Delos LeBaron with his cornet, aud a host of others who are only a memory now, going one by one as the years rolled on. Time is ruthless and decay and death follow in his lead and soon all the old things will be gone.

THE HOME TOWN PAPER

When the evenin' shade is fallin' at the endin' o' the day,
An' a fellar rests from labor, smokin'
at his pipe o' clay,
There's nothin' does him so much
good, be fortune up or down,
As the little country paper from his Old Home Town.

It ain't a thing of beauty and its print ain't always clean,
But it straightens out his temper
when a feller's f-eling mean,
It takes the wrinkles off his face an'
brushes off the frown,
That little country paper from his
Old Home Town.

It tells of all the parties an' the balls
on Pumpkin Row,
'Bout who spent Sunday with who's girl, an' how the crops 'll grow,
An' how it keeps a feller posted
'bout who's up and who's down,
That little country paper from his
Old Home Town.

Now, I like to read the dailies an'
the story papers, too;
An' at times the yeller novels an'
some other trash—don't you?
But when I want some readin' that'll brush away a frown,
I want the little country paper from my Old Home Town.

Let Us Explain Why

Bismarck Coffee

is so much better than any other 30-cent coffee on the market at the same price or anywhere near it.

Instead of being steel cut, it comes in the whole berry for your grocer's grinding, none of the pristine strength leaks out; all the appetite-whetting aroma is in it; its delightful tastefulness is completely preserved, and you get the nicest cup of coffee ever drank.

Packed in parchment sealed bags, air-proof, dust-proof, damp-weather proof; a coffee unaffected by shipment or standing on a grocer's shelf.

Bismarck Coffee

will put a new zest into the morning meal. You'll taste the difference at once. You'll vote it the coffee to buy right along. The kind of a coffee that induces a woman to tell her next door neighbor about it. Smackingly good—rich flavor—the one coffee you've looked for so long.

Why We Handle
Economy Coal

Because it is the Best All-round Coal that we can find anywhere.

Because this coal pleases, and keeps on pleasing more people than any other.

It pleases these people because it burns free and clean, and because it does not clog the grate with cinders.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING

A very pretty wedding was that held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hanford, at high noon Thursday, Dec. 14, 1916, when their daughter Edyth Fern was united in marriage to Edward Leigh Beach of Dexter, Rev. W. B. Hartzog speaking the words that made these two one. The ring service was used.

The house was decorated with ferns and holly. The bride wore a gown of white trimmed with Georgetta crepe and carried white roses.

The couple mingled with the guests until the noon hour when they quietly took their places before the officiating clergyman. There were about about forty guests present.

After congratulations and best wishes had been showered on the newly-weds, a three-course dinner was served, the bridal party being seated at the bride's table and the others at small tables. The dinner was served by the Queen Esther Circle with which the bride had been associated. They were the Misses Cecil Clark, Helen McIntyre, Georgianna Conklin, Janetta Hall, Marjorie Rosacrans and Marjorie Field.

There were a number of auto loads of relatives of Mr. Beach from Dexter and vicinity who left directly after the wedding for their homes. The relatives and friends in town tarried for awhile to see the young couple offf with plenty of rice as a parting token.

While her friends will miss Fern from their circle, yet their best wishes for a happy future go with her to her new home in Dexter.

NARROW ESCAPE

Will Owen had a very unpleasant experience Thursday afternoon which he does not care to have repeated. About four o'clock he went into the cellar to turn off the water and in some way while holding the bulb in his hand accidently hit it against the pipe and has a large burn as a reminder.

Mrs Owen thought she heard a peculiar noise in the cellar and called to him. As he did not answer she went down and stumbled over his unconscious body. Failing to arouse him, she called Dr Hendershott and together they got him upstairs. Reports from him this morning are favorable, but he says he has had enough of that kind of treatment

Bert Comfort and family had an un welcomed visitor Tuesday evening when a man was discovered on the roof of the porch, where he had climbed on a near by ladder When asked by Bert who went up stairs when they heard a noise on the roof, what he was after he made a rapid descent and left on a run. Neighbors were soon on hand and Dept. Smith notified. They tracked the intruder for quite a distance but did not catch him. His identity, however, is believed to be known.

AT ST. PETER'S CHURCH

Rev. A. E. Bentley of Douglaston, L. I., preached at St. Peter's church Wednesday evening to the united congregations of St. Peter's church of Tecumseh and St. John's church of Clinton. He was accompanied by his wife, arriving in Clinton Tuesday afternoon. A supper at the Clintonian was given for him by the Clinton parish and before coming to Tecumseh, he had the opportunity of meeting many of the Clinton people.

Before the evening service Wednesday the ladies of St. Peter's served a supper to the Clinton visitors at the Parish House.

Rev. Bentley gave a very fine sermon. The music was furnished by the united choirs of the two churches

At the close of the service an informal reception was held and the people had an opportunity of m the Rev. and Mrs. Bentley.

While in Tecumseh Rev. and Mrs. Bentley were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Patterson and Mr. and Mrs T. C. Harris.

Many a "Grouch" Could Be Glad

Too often a pleasant disposition is blamed when it is his digestion that is at fault. Some time when the world looks blue and dingy, when you feel an irresistible impulse to snap and snarl, when you feel dull and gloomy, stuffed up and uncomfortable with a mean headache, bilious stomach, furred tongue—then take a Foley Cathartic Tablet.

If your bowels are sluggish, if your intestines are clogged with a decomposing poisonous mess, if you are not eliminating properly, this little tablet will afford prompt, sure and safe relief without griping, pain, nausea or costive effects.

Foley Cathartic Tablets are a genuinely wholesome physic—an ideal laxative. They keep the system fit and fine, purged of poisons, and ready to resist disease. Stout people say they have no equal for bringing a light and free feeling.

Sold by druggists everywhere. Distributed by Foley & Co., Chicago, makers of the celebrated Foley's Honey and Tar, for coughs and colds.

Tecumseh people endorse their worth.

Mrs. P. A. Kelsey, W. Kilbuck St., Tecumseh, says: "I had inflammation of the bladder and suffered continually from irregular passages of the kidney secretions. The secretions were unnatural, too. My kidneys almost stopped acting at times and I had frequent cramps in my limbs. I doctored and used all sorts of medicines with little benefit. Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from Wright & Son's Drug Store, however, relieved the trouble and regulate the action of my kidneys. They are the best medicine I ever used."

Remarkable Success of Talented Physician in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases

Offer Services Free of Charge

The United Doctors Specialist, licensed by the State of Michigan for the treatment of all diseases, including deformities, nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the actual cost of treatment. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality, that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect.

The United Doctors are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases and so great and wonderful have been their results that in many cases it is hard to find the dividing line between skill and miracle.

Disease of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, rheumatism, sciatica, tapeworm, leg ulscers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long-standing, deep seated, chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physician, should not fail to call. Deafness often has been cured in sixty days.

According to their system no more operation for appendicitis, gall stones tumors, goiter, piles, etc., as all cases accepted will be treated without operation or hypodermic injection, as they were among the first in America to earn the name of "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with the knife with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is incurable they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relatives who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit at this time may help you.

Worn-out and run-down men or women, no matter what your ailment may be, call. It costs you nothing.

Remember, this free offer is for this visit only.

A GENERAL SURVEY OF THE WAR.

Wednesday, Dec. 6.—Bucharest, the capital of Roumania, and also the important railroad town of Ploechti, thirty-six miles to the northwest, have been captured by the German forces, thus bringing to climax another of the spectacular Teutonic drives that have been the outstanding feature of the great war.

Matters in Greece are again giving the entente capitals anxiety. King Constantine has taken all sources of news, and it is feared entente forces at Athens are threatened.

David Lloyd-George has overthrown the Asquith cabinet, and will become prime minister himself. The new government will be coalition like the old one.

Thursday, Dec. 7.—The Roumanian army is in full retreat along the entire front. Berlin reports it is racing with the Teutonic pursuers who are trying to effect its capture. The Teutons claim 9,206 prisoners taken Wednesday, and over 100,000 since the drive on Bucharest began. Petrograd reports the entire Roumanian army is intact.

Paris announces that a blockade of Greek ports is to be declared by the entente at once.

Friday, Dec. 8.—German troops along the whole Monastir front are being strongly re-enforced, according to advices from Saloniki.

Germany and Austria have offered to "reopen land communications" to Greece, if Greece will declare war on the allies, according to a wireless dispatch received here from Switzerland.

The allied blokade of Greece has begun.

Russia is hammering on Falkenhayn's left wing on the Bukowina and Moldavian fronts in an effort to relieve the Roumanian situation. A battle is raging for the height about three miles and a third south of Javornik, and fighting is going on in the Trotus and Oitoz valleys.

Saturday, Dec. 9.—More than 70,000 prisoners have been taken by the Teutonic invaders of Roumania since December 1, when the final drive leading up to the capture of Bucharest was begun. Berlin announces these figures and reports also the capture in the same period of 184 cannon, 120 machine guns and "incalculable" booty.

A council of war has been held at German great headquarters, the semi-official Overseas News Aency reported. Those participating were Emperor William, Emperor Charles, Field Marshal von Hindenburg and Field Marshal Conrad von Hoetzendorff, of the Austro-Hungarian army.

The state department received official notification of the blockade of Greece by the allies.

Sunday, Dec. 10.—King Constantine has been visited by entente ministers and given what is believed to be an ultimatum. The king held a conference with U. S. Minister Droppers.

The Roumanians who have been retreating in eastern Wallachia before the Teutonic advance made a stand east of Ploechti, the Russian war office announces. They assumed the offensive on the road from Ploechti to Buzeu and drove the Austro-German forces back to the westward. On the Moldavian frontier the Russian advance is continuing in the river valleys, despite strong resistance.

A new crossing of the Danube, between Tchernavoda and Silistria, by the Bulgarians is announced by the German army headquarters, which also records a continued advance by the Teutonic armies in eastern Wallachia.

The Northern Michigan Agricultural congress has elected A. L. Hopkins president. Resolutions were passed approving efforts to form uniform co-operative marketing associations and urging legislation protecting sheep and and requiring $100 from owners of dogs.

Growth of trust control of foodstuffs, killing of crops by drought, scarcity of farm labor, a poor system of distribution of products and the unnecessary demands of consumers on retailers, these are the chief causes of the high cost of living, according to the most exhaustive analysis of the food situation that has yet been issued by State Dairy and Food Commissioner James W. Helme.

Three affidavits from men employed in factories to the effect that their employers had furnished them with coal at cost during the last five years and that this year the practice was stopped, when they were informed coal mine operators objected and threatened to refuse to furnish coal to the concerns, were obtained at Bay City when sixty men met with the committee appointed by the council to investigate coal conditions.

VILLA IGNORED AT WASHINGTON

Overtures to U. S. Will Not Be Heeded.

HE IS SOUGHT AS A CRIMINAL

Conference With Gen. Hugh L. Scott Is Called Rediculous—Eight of His Followers Have Been Hanged by U. S. Authorities, and Villa's Standing is the Same.

Washington, Dec. 18.—Villa's overtures to the administration will be completely ignored. This statement was made at the war department, unofficially, but as representing the views of the department.

The conference reported to have been asked by General Villa with General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the United States army, would be ridiculous, it was said. With the portion of the army under General Pershing still in Mexico, with the instructions to "get Villa" still unchanged, it was pointed out that it would be nothing short of ludicrous for the ranking officer of the U. S. military establishment to confer with the Mexican leader who is regarded by the administration as nothing more than a bandit.

Hanging Bandit's Followers.

It was pointed out that eight of Villa's followers taken by the military authorities have been handed over to the civil authorities of some of the border states, convicted of murder, and recently hanged. About forty others are now in the hands of the authorities facing murder charges. To give the leader of these men and the perpetrator of the Columbus raid the recognition of permitting a conference with General Scott on "border protection" would be laughable, it was said.

Many reports of Villa victories in northern Mexico are discredited here. The reported conferences between General Bell and emissaries representing Villa are discredited largely in the war department. No dispatches regarding such conferences have been received from General Bell's headquarters.

Trevino Confers With Bell.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 18.—General Jacinto Trevino conferred here with General Bell, in command of the United States troops along the upper Rio Grande. Both generals refused to reveal the nature of their conference, although in some quarters it was hinted that the defeated commander of Chihuahua City had asked for United States protection.

"If General Pershing's army is withwithdrawn from Mexico, Carranza will be able to deal quickly and effectively with Villa," said General Trevino to a newspaper correspondent. "The Carranza troops will be able to wipe out Villa once the United States eliminates the chief argument with which he wins recruits—the presence of United States soldiers on the sacred soil of Mexico."

$100,000 FOR A DARK MAN

That Amount Awaits Lewis C. Dodge from Brother's Estate.

Denver, Dec. 18.—There's a dark man somewhere in Colorado who can have a bundle of money if he'll just speak up. He's short and stout, and fourteen years ago, when last heard from, he had black hair, and if he makes his identity known he can collect $100,000.

That is the amount which awaits Lewis C. Dodge as a result of the death of his brother, Charles H. Dodge, well-to-do merchant of Providence, R. I. The search for Lewis Dodge is being made by John E. Canfield, of Greeley, Col., nephew of Dodge's partner.

ROD ABOLISHED IN SCHOOL

Indiana Institution Votes to Do Away With Corporal Punishment.

Indianapolis, Ind., Dec. 18.—Corporal punishment, after being in vogue for fifty years, is to be abolished from the Indiana Boys' school. The leather strap which has done service since the establishment of the school back in the late '60s is to be thrown away.

Instead of being flogged, unruly boys hereafter, will be segregated in a "disciplinary cottage," known as Tippecanoe barricks, and the loss of all privileges for thirty or more days will be their punishment.

ENGINEER'S BURNS FATAL

Madison, Ind., Man Dies of Injuries Received Year Ago.

Madison, Ind., Dec. 18.—John Thomas Pierce, fifty years old, is dead at his home here as the result of burns suffered a year ago at the plant of the Madison Glue and Fertilizer Works, where he was engineer.

Pierce stepped into a pile of red-hot coals and was unable ot extricate himself for several minutes, his limbs below his knees being almost cooked to the bone.

Shot by Bandit, Dies.

Ottumwa, Ia., Dec. 18.—Martin Munley, who was shot by a footpad, died in a local hospital. Three men are in custody suspected of the crime.

Ketcham Heads Granges.

LANSING, Dec. 19.

The Michigan State Grange re-elected John C. Ketcham of Hastings to the office of master, indorsed the Torrens land tax bill and adopted resolutions providing for a study of the income tax as worked out in other states.

Farmer and Business Man Die.

ALBION, Dec. 18.

Allen D. Sanders, forty-three, of the firm of Gibbs & Sanders, coal and wood dealers at Albion, died at his home. John Woodliffe, seventy-three, well known farmer of Parma township, died at his home east of Albion.

Existence of the trade winds was discovered by Columbus at the end of the fifteenth century.

BRITISH START NEW OFFENSIVE

Open Drive on West Front, Berlin Reports.

ASSAULT REPULSED, IS CLAIM

Attack Presages New Onslaught by General Haig—Berlin Admits Loss of Besonvaux and Wood to the West in French Drive—Nivelle Predicts Victory.

Berlin, Dec. 18.—A sudden revival of the British "big push" on the western front was indicated by the German war office statement.

"Protected by strong fire," said the statement, "English detachments tried to enter our trenches near Hannecamps, north of the Ancre. They were sanguinarily repulsed."

New British Drive.

Hannecamps lies about nine miles from Thiepval, and some two and a half miles south of Arras. This fighting indicates a new offensive along the northern extension of the Ancre front.

The official German reference to "a strong fire" shows that the attack was well prepared.

Berlin officially admitted the loss of Besonvaux village and a wood to the west of that point in Saturday's continuation of General Nivell's new offensive and at Verdun, east of the Meuse. The report avers that attempts to pierce the German lines further northward broke down under the Teuton fire on the ridge north of Besonvaux.

Nivelle Says Victory Is Certain.

Paris, Dec. 18.—General Nivelle, recently appointed commander in chief of the armies in the north and northeast, was present with General Petain, commander of the French forces in the Soissons-Verdun sector, in the successful operations on Dec. 15, north of Verdun, both having collaborated in the preparation. Upon leaving Verdun for his new headquarters, General Nivelle in taking leave of his staff, spoke as follows:

"The test is conclusive; our method has proven sound. Once more the second army has asserted in the highest degree its morale and material ascendency over the enemy. Victory is certain; I give you assurance. Germany will learn it to her cost."

CARRIE'S HATCHET FLIES

Memphis Police Chief Uses It in Many Liquor Raids.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 18.—Ten years ago Carrie Nation, the militant Kansas prohibitionist, now departed from earth's activities, delivered an address on a square in Memphis and at its conclusion presented Police Captain John M. Couch with a hatchet as a souvenir of her visit.

Recently Captain Couch headed a blind tiger raid and finding it necessary to batter down a door sent to headquarters for a hatchet. Carrie Nation's old hatchet was removed from the locker and with it the captain battered his way into the dive, where a vast quantity of liquor was stored. Since that raid the hatchet has been in almost constant use, breaking flasks and knocking heads out of casks and barrels of contraband liquor. Memphis is dry legally and is being made dry in reality by the aid of Carrie's hatchet.

SHOOT UP TOWN FROM AUTO

Men Dash Through Indianapolis Street Shooting Out Lights.

Indianapolis, Dec. 18.—An exhibition of wild west shooting was given persons living in the neighborhood of Forty-sixth and Illinois streets when an automobilist, armed with a revolver, shot out two street lights and then sent a number of bullets into the air as the car, filled with men, swooped out Illinois street.

Motor Policemen Burk and Reidy searched as far north as Broad Ripple, but were unable to find any trace of the machine.

PULP WOOD SUPPLY IS AMPLE

Price Advances One-Ninth While Paper Price Trebles.

Antigo, Wis., Dec. 18.—Congressman E. A. Morse, lumberman, said there was ample supply of pulp wood for paper in Wisconsin for years to come, principally spruce and balsam, but price is so low it is often cheaper to clear the land by fire than to sell it.

The price has been advanced in recent months from $4.50 to $5 a cord he said, one-ninth, while paper has in cases, trebled in price.

MR. KOO TO TALK AT U. OF C.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—For the second time a Chinese will deliver the convocation address at the quarterly convocation of the University of Chicago. At the university exercises V. K. Wellington Koo, Chinese minister to the United States, will speak.

Wu Ting Fang, minister plenipotentiary to the United States from China, was the first Chinese to be so honored.

AUDITOR YIELDS TO COURT

Huntington, Ind., Official Agrees to Pay $12,000 to Escape Jail.

Huntington, Ind., Dec. 18.—Judge W. H. Eichhorn of Bluffton, sitting as the second special judge in less than a week in the Ovid Eviston case, delivered a ruling finding that Judge Charles A. Cole of Peru, special judge, had a right to send County Auditor Eviston to jail for contempt when the auditor failed to draw a warrant for $12,000 for Henry Beaver, according to the court's order in mandate proceedings.

Immediately following the decision Eviston agreed to draw the warrant, but a suit was entered by the county commissioners against him to prevent such action.

AGED ILLINOIS PAIR MURDERED

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Becker Found Slain at Mason City.

ROBBERY IS BELIEVED MOTIVE

Windows and Walls of Home Riddled With Bullets—Robbers Thought to Have Tried to Fire House—Becker One of Wealthiest Men in Central Illinois—Kept Large Sums in House.

Peoria, Ill., Dec. 18.—A thousand residents of Mason City, divided into posses of from 25 to 100 persons each, are searching every nook and corner of that section of the country for the murderer of John P. Becker, Sr., and his wife, eighty-three, who were found shot to death in their home northeast of Mason City.

The Beckers are the owners of over 3,000 acres of land and are considered among the wealthiest families in central and southern Illinois.

Discovered by Woman's Sister.

The double killing was discovered early Sunday morning by Mrs. William Baker, a daughter of the slain Mrs. Becker, who went to the Becker home a short distance from her home, on an errand.

Repeated knocks at the front and rear doors brought no response. Mrs. Baker peered through a window and seeing the house in a torn up condition, started on the run to her home a short distance away. Here she informed her husband who with John P. and George Baker, Sr., went to the home of the elder Becker to make an investigation.

Windows Riddled with Bullets.

Knocks and calling at the door brought no response. A trip around the house revealed dozens of bullet holes through the windows on the east and north side of the house into the bed room of the aged couple.

The three investigators forced their way into the home through the bed room window. Here they found the first traces of crime, a long and heavy streak of blood leading into the living room.

A score of bullets had pierced the windows of the bed room and the ceilings and walls of the interior, pictures on the walls were shot full of holes and the furniture in the room upset and in a broken condition.

The door leading from the bed room to the living room was partly closed. The three men made their way into this room where they found both Mr. and Mrs. Becker lying in pools of blood. Both were dead, life being extinct for several hours.

Tried to Burn Bodies.

The clothing of Mrs. Becker had been partially burned. From the evidence at hand it would seem that Mrs. Becker had either crawled from the bed room into the living room and had upset the lamp left burning which had set fire to the home and the clothing of Mrs. Becker or that the slayers had purposely upset the lamp and set fire to the oil to cover up the double killing.

Had Money at Home.

It is known that on last Thursday or Friday that the aged Becker received $3,000 in cash from one of his renters. It was also known that this money was not deposited in any bank but was taken to the Becker home.

Residents for years have considered the Beckers as miserly. While they were free with their money in a charitable way, it is common belief that the thousands of dollars realized from their thousands of acres of Illinois land, was hoarded at the Becker home instead of being placed in banking institutions.

MR. BAKER, KINDLY LOOK

Kansas Judge Makes Army a Haven for Ray Pfanschmidt.

Wichita, Kan., Dec. 18.—Ray Pfanschmidt, who spent nearly three years in the Adams county, Ill., jail awaiting trials for murder of his father, mother, sister and Miss Emma Kaempen at the Pfanschmidt farm home near Quincy in 1912, chose a four-year enlistment in the United States army in preference to standing trial for stealing two autos here last summer.

J. A. Porter and R. B. Hastie, Wichita business men and owners of the cars, offered to get the case dismissed if he would enlist, believing Pfanschmidt would be more benefited by army discipline than a term in prison. He enlisted and was sent to Fort Motgan, Colorado.

SHORT INAUGURAL IS PLAN

Gov.-Elect Lowden Will Devote Message to Consolidating State Boards.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—Governor-elect Frank O. Lowden is planning an innovation in the way of inaugural messages. Instead of a long ducument embodying in detail all his recommendations to the legislature. Colonel Lowden intends to prepare a comparatively short message and confine himself largely to general principles.

The greater part of the message will be devoted to the governor-elect's program for the consolidation of overlapping state bureaus and commissions. He has served notice that other legislation must wait its turn.

Clinton Man Held for Murder.

St. Johns, Dec. 18.

On evidence which has been secured by the prosecuting attorney within the last three weeks, the arrest of Jonathan O. Strong, of Eagle, has been made upon the charge of murdering his nephew. The complaint was made by Orlando L. Eddy, the father of William Eddy, who was shot on Halloween by Strong.

Dexter Veteran Drops Dead.

DEXTER, Dec. 18.

DeLacourt Northup, eighty-two years old, a veteran of the civil war, dropped dead in the store of Arthur Fitzsimmons & Co., as he was about to pay for a newspaper. He was a member of the G. A. R. and of the F. & A. M., and moved here from Danville, Mich., about twenty years ago.

TEUTONIC INVADERS CROSS TWO RIVERS

Pour Over Buzeu and Calmatuiul in Wallachia.

Berlin, Dec. 18.—Teutonic armies invading Roumania have crossed the Buzeu and Lower Calmatului rivers, in eastern Wallachia, according to the supplementary statement issued by the German headquarters' staff.

Teuton and allied troops under command of Field Marshal von Mackensen crossed the Buzeu sector in central Roumania over a broad front, says the earlier official statement. The invaders took 1,150 prisoners and captured nineteen locomotives and 400 railroad cars.

In Dobrudja pursuit of the retreating Russian and Roumanian troops has brought the forces of the central powers to the forest district in the northern part of the province, where, it is said, they expect to meet with resistance.

DRINK WOOD ALCOHOL, 3 DIE

Illinois Prison Inmates Extract Deadly Poison from Shellac.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—In an effort to get liquor, nine prisoners in the Joliet penitentiary drank wood alcohol, extracted from shellac. Three are dead, three more probably will die, and the remaining three are in a serious condition.

The nine worked in the shoe shop of the prison where shellac is used. It is supposed to be kept locked up when not in use, but the men succeeded in getting some.

RUNS BLOCKADE OF ALLIES

Berlin Tells of Steamer Leaving Anchorage and Returning Home.

Berlin, Dec. 18.—The Frankfurter Zeitung publishes a dispatch from Christiania that the German steamer Prince Friedrich, which was anchored at Odde, near Bergen, since the beginning of the war, has arrived at Salavenges after having broken the British blockade before Bergen.

A line of the British destroyers and torpedo boats was crossed by the German steamer.

CONQUEROR OF MACE [illegible]

"Old John" Miller Was Once Heavyweight Champion of the World.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—"Old John" Miller, once the heavyweight champion pugilist of England, was buried by a handful of the old throng of admirers which numbered thousands in the days of bare-fist fighting.

Miller became champion of the heavyweight battlers nearly a half century ago, when he conquered the historic "Jem" Mace, an Englishman, in France.

BIG BUSINESS ASKS TARIFF BODY NAMED

President Warned to Hurry for U. S. Protection.

Washington, Dec. 18.—President Wilson is being urged by manufacturers and merchants to delay no longer the appointment of the tariff commission.

The Chamber of Commerce of the State of New York has empowered a committee, headed by Williard D. Straight, to appear before the commission and urge protection for American industries. The National Foreign Trade council has issued a report which has been called to the attention of the president. Mr. Straight is chairman of the committee on foreign commerce and the revenue laws of the Chamber of Commerce.

The report says: "Our production of manufactured articles, already increasing before the war, has been greatly stimulated during the last two years. There seems to be danger that these exports, now abnormally large, may be reduced below the antebellum figures because of the preferential arrangements between the members of the entente groups and between these groups and other countries."

PRISON FOR "LID" TILTERS

Mayor Thompson Proposes It for Violators of Sunday Saloon Law.

Chicago, Dec. 18.—Imprisonment in the penitentiary from one to five years for violators of the Sunday closing law was provided for in an amendment to the criminal code of Illinois prepared by Mayor Thompson.

Another bill, which will be drafted on orders of Mayor Thompson, is designed to prevent the owning and operating of saloons by breweries, a practice general in Chicago.

Mayor Thompson drafted the amendment in order to strengthen his position on the enforcement of the law and to prevent the prosecution of violators from being a farce, he said.

Good old fashioned Xmas weather is predicted for next Monday with plenty of snow to make the day seem like the real Christmas.

The holiday shopping in Tecumseh has been brisk for the last couple of weeks and merchants are well satisfied with trade telling us in most cases that it is better than a year ago. They are ready for a busy week and people can make life a little more pleasant for them by not waiting until the last day.

A great many of our subscribers can make the Publisher have a little have a little happier Christmas by coming in and paying up their back subscription. Look at your label and if in arrears come and make us a call.

The subscription price of the Herald is $1.00 per year at the present time, but it will be impossible to maintain this price long on account of the rapid advance in supplies used to make up our paper. Newspaper print is costing us three times what it did a year ago last July and for over a year we have been unable to place a contract with any print house. In this time print has advanced from 2¼c per pound to 7c and we are told the high water mark has not yet been reached.

It will stand subscribers in hand to come in early and pay up your subscriptions in advance before we make the raise.

MICHIGAN NEWS BRIEFS

Reed Shirey, of Lansing, and Herbert Walther, of Roscommon, both received a charge of buckshot in the knees while hunting.

At Romeo neighbors broke into the home of Mrs. Betsy Westbrook, aged ninety, and found her dead on the floor of an upstairs room.

J. W. McShea dropped dead of heart failure at the home of one of his neighbors. Mr. McShea had been a resident of Boyne City since 1871.

An Ideal System of Law.

The law, so far as it depends on learning, is indeed, as it has been called, the government of the living by the dead. To a very considerable extent, no doubt, it is inevitable that the living should be so governed. The past gives us a vocabulary and fixes the limits of our imagination; we cannot get away from it. There is, too, a peculiar logical pleasure in making manifest the continuity between what we are doing and what has been done before. But the present has a right to govern itself so far as it can, and it ought always to be remembered that historic continuity with the past is not a duty; it is only a necessity.

I hope that the time is coming when this thought will bear fruit. An ideal system of law should draw its postulates and its legislative justification from science.—Oliver Wendell Holmes.

Whistler Before Whistler.

Mortimer Menpes told the following story of Whistler, who was to deliver an address one day to the Society of British Artists: "The master at length entered, faultlessly dressed, walking with a swinging, jaunty step, evidently quite delighted with himself and the world in general. He passed down the gallery, ignoring the assembled members, and walked up to his own picture. And there he stayed for quite fifteen minutes, regarding it with a satisfied expression, stepping now backward, now forward, canting his head and dusting the surface of the glass with a silk pocket handkerchief. We watched him open mouthed. Suddenly he turned round, beamed upon us and uttered but two words—'Bravo, Jimmy!'—then took my arm and hurried me out of the gallery, talking volubly the while."

The Horns of Venus.

References are made in some cuneiform literature to the "horns of Venus," from which it is concluded by some that in the clear air of Mesopotamia the crescent form of the planet was detected in early times without optical aid. Since Venus, when at a sufficient angular distance from the sun not to be lost in the glare of the latter, is hardly more than half a minute of arc in diameter at the utmost, such an observation seems quite out of the question, and Professor Campbell thinks the allusion to the horns was merely a lucky guess on the part of the ancient astronomers.

Plenty of Time For Action.

The police magistrates so often admonish women complainants to come back and report any further wrongdoing on the part of husbands who have been released that these judges fall into the habit of repeating the admonition on every occasion in which a man and wife are concerned.

The other day a woman told one of the magistrates that her husband had threatened to kill her.

"Very well, madam," said the magistrate mechanically, "very well; if he does, you come back and tell me, and I will punish him." — Case and Comment.

SUDDEN DEATH

OF PROMINENT TECUMSEH BUSINESS MAN

HORACE RAYNOR BREWER

Passed Away at His home Early Monday Morning

When the news of the death of Horace Raynor Brewer was received early Monday morning, it cast a gloom over the whole community. It was known that he had been ordered by physicians to take a complete rest, but it was not generally known that his condition was as serious as it proved to be.

Horace Raynor Brewer was one of Tecumseh's most prominent young business men, and a member of one of the older families of Tecumseh.

He was born Feb. 8, 1881 and was the only son of Mr and Mrs Chas. J. Brewer and named for his grandfather Horace Brewer. His early life was spent in Tecumseh schools. He did not graduate here, but went to Worchester, Mass., attending the university there for two years. Later he attended the Detroit University where he graduated in 1901.

After his graduation he came back to Tecumseh and entered the employ of the Lilley State Bank serving a number of years as assistant cashier. At the time H. Brewer & Co. moved into their new plant, Raynor accepted a position with them and since then, has been actively engaged in the management of the business, and at the time of his death, held the positions of Vice President and cost accountant, also being a member of the board of directors. It seemed fitting that Raynor should connect himself with this business which was founded years ago by his grandfather and conducted later by his father and uncle.

He was married April 8th, 1908, to Miss Luella Williamson whose death occurred Sept. 30, 1911. To them was born a daughter Esther.

Nov. 23d, 1915, he was united in marriage to Mrs. Margaret Garlinghouse who survives him. Besides the wife and little Esther he leaves in the immediate family his mother Mrs. A. D. Lawrence and sister Mrs. Wm. McGlashen of Buffalo, N. Y., and a large circle of relatives and friends.

He was a member of the Masonic fraternity and belonged to the Adrian Commandery, Knights Templar.

Raynor had been in failing health for a number of years, but kept his condition practically to himself. About two weeks ago he went to Ann Arbor and consulted a specialist who directed him to take a complete rest for several months. Saturday his condition became much more serious, and he passed away at about 2:30 Monday morning.

The funeral services will be held at the home Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, Rev. W. A. Rex officiating. The sympathy of the community goes out to the afflicted family.

Kalamazoo officials, business men and private citizens, at a meeting called by Mayor Balch, took steps to relieve the poor of the city from any suffering from the present high prices of coal and also provided for a thorough probe of the fuel shortage at Kalamazoo.

At the high school auditorium a bronze tablet was presented to the women of the Oakland County Hospital association, in commemoration of their work in building the hospital, which they gave outright to the city a year and a half ago, when it was appraised at $80,000.

According to statements of members of the state board of health, the board, in its tuberculosis survey throughout Michigan, has examined more persons for tuberculosis in one continuous campaign than any other organization has ever done before in the history of the world.

A sentence of eighteen months to five years in Jackson penitentiary, with a recommendation that he be released at the expiration of two and one half years, was imposed on Harry F. Irvine by Circuit Judge Nelson Sharpe at Kalamazoo of which place Irving was formerly municipal clerk.

Finley McLaren, chief engineer of the Pere Marquette line, and an engineer on the lakes for the last thirty-five years, is at his home at Ludington recovering from two broken ribs and painful injuries sustained when he fell down a shaft from the deck of carferry No. 18, striking the side of the opening.

In the recent election in Arenac county the vote on sheriff was found on first returns to be a tie between Sheriff Glasure on the Republican ticket, and former Sheriff Hasty on the Democratic. The board of canvassers found alleged errors in Deep River township and a recount gave Hasty a gain of five votes, electing him.

Freed by an absolute pardon from Governor Ferris, Dr. Robert A. MacGregor, the Ubly physician who was sentenced to life imprisonment in Jackson prison four years ago for the alleged murder of Cyril Sparling in Huron county, walked out of the penitentiary, restored not only to citizenship, but facing the possibility of being appointed physician before January 1 in the very prison from which he had just been released.

Orang Utan.

The large anthropoids of Borneo and Sumatra are usually called orang outangs. This form it seems, is not correct. Orang signifies man and outang of utang, debt, something owing, so that orang outang would simply mean a man in debt. The correct Malay name is orang utan, or outan. This signifies the forest man in distinction to orang dusun, or village (civilized) man.

Key and Dragon.

A big key, the symbol of St. Peter, on the cupola of the church of St. Peter-Upon-Cornhill, in London, is the largest weathercock in the city. The dragon on Bow church, in Cheapside, is next in size, being only a few inches shorter.

AT REST

The funeral of George Blesing was held at the home Sunday afternoon, Rev. W. A. Rex officiating. There was a large attendance of the K. of P. lodge who acted as escort when the remains of their brother were taken to his last resting place. Many friends and neighbors were present to pay their last tribute of respect to their friend.

Those who were here from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Blesing, Glenn Stannard of Ionia, Will McKendry and daughter, Mrs. Reuben Rogers of Saline, Maud, Ella and Will Rainey; Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McWilliams of Holloway, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Blesing of Clinton.

Besides the immediate family two brothers, Elmer and John and two sisters, Mrs. Claude Mattis and Miss Emma Blesing are left to mourn his loss.

Christmas Suggestions.

Along about this time of the year the Christmas gift suggestions begin piling up on the average man from all the corners of the earth. It's a trying season, this period that precedes the joy of Yuletide. And the most bothersome part about it is the fact that a big lot of these suggestions really need your consideration; otherwise, when the moment for buying arrives, you—well, you'll be just like the average man—no idea what to get!

What do you say to a new scheme this year—a little plan for the elimination of nearly all the "Christmas considerations" but one.

POST OFFICE AT BRITTON ROBBED

Word is received here this morning of the robbery of the Britton postoffice which occurred early this morning somewhere about 1 o'clock. It is thought that the work was done by four men and that they arrived in an auto about 1 o'clock, coming from the east.

The robbery was not discovered until this morning when the force arrived to commence their day's work. They found the safe open and about $300.00 in casr, stamps, and money orders missing.

The autnorities were notified at once and the government inspector who happened to be at work here in Tecumseh was ordered to Britton. He was accompanied by Deputy John Smith.

All that we are able to learn ttis morning was that Sheriff Henig has a force of men working on the case. The robbery having been committed so early this morning and the men having a few hours start, it may be difficult for the officers to pick up a clue to their whereabouts.

THE NEW EDISON

Direct comparisons (as shown in this photograph) have proved conclusively that the living voice of the golden-throated Matzenauer is indistinguishable from Edison's Re Creation of it by his latest and greatest invention. There is only one sound reproducing instrument that can sustain this test. There is only one that has been submitted to such a test in public It is the New Edison, the great wizard's masterpiece. The New Edison has been compared in public before more than 800,000 people with many of the world's greatest artists, and always the result has been the same, viz.: the audience has been unable to detect the living voice from the New Edison's Re-Creation of it See full reports in neatly 300 American newspapers. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar Compound to me. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat, and after using one bottle the cough left her."

This sterling old remedy has been in use for years and is just as efficient for adults as for children. It gives relief for irritated and tickling throat, tight and sore chest, grippe and bronchial coughs.

TECUMSEH TESTIMONY

Home Proof, Here, There and Everywhere.

When you see Doan's Kidney Pills recommended in this paper you most always find the recommender a Tecumseh resident. Its the same everywhere—in 3,800 towns in the U. S. Forty thousand people publicly thank Doan's. What other kidney remedy can give this proof of merit, honestly and truth? Home testimony must be true or it could not be published here. Read this Tecumseh recommendation. Then insist on having Doan's. You will know what you are getting:

Mrs. W. W. Shurtz, W. Kilbuck St., Tecumseh, says: "My kidneys acted irregularly and had dull and languid and dizzy headaches. My feet and ankles became swollen, too. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved the backaches and put my kidneys in good order. The swelling left me and I felt better in every way."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Shurtz had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

Remarkable Success of Talented Physician in the Treatment of Chronic Diseases

Offer Services Free of Charge

The United Doctors Specialist, licensed by the State of Michigan for the treatment of all diseases, including deformities, nervous and chronic diseases of men, women and children offer to all who call on this trip, consultation, examination, advice free, making no charge whatever, except the actual cost of treatment. All that is asked in return for these valuable services is that every person treated will state the result obtained to their friends and thus prove to the sick and afflicted in every city and locality, that at last treatments have been discovered that are reasonably sure and certain in their effect.

The United Doctors are experts in the treatment of chronic diseases and so great and wonderful have been their results that in many cases it is hard to find the dividing line between skill and miracle.

Disease of the stomach, intestines, liver, blood, skin, nerves, heart, spleen, rheumatism, sciatica, tapeworm, leg ulscers, weak lungs and those afflicted with long-standing, deep seated, chronic diseases, that have baffled the skill of the family physician, should not fail to call. Deafness often has been cured in sixty days.

According to their system no more operation for appendicitis, gall stones tumors, goiter, piles, etc., as all cases accepted will be treated without operation or hypodermic injection, as they were among the first in America to earn the name of "Bloodless Surgeons," by doing away with the knife with blood and with all pain in the successful treatment of these dangerous diseases.

No matter what your ailment may be, no matter what others may have told you, no matter what experience you may have had with other physicians, it will be to your advantage to see them at once. Have it forever settled in your mind. If your case is incurable they will give you such advice as may relieve and stay the disease. Do not put off this duty you owe yourself or friends or relative who are suffering because of your sickness, as a visit at this time may help you.

Worn-out and run-down men or women, no matter what your ailment may be, call. It costs you nothing.

Remember, this free offer is for this visit only.

DOCTOR HELD IN DEATH CASE

Police Believe Woman Who Died at Detroit Victim of Operation

DETROIT, Dec. 18.

With the charge against him changed from murder to manslaughter, Dr. H. A. Lounsbury, held in connection with the death of Mrs. Madeline Kramer, whose mutilated body was found in a ditch on the outskirts of the city, was taken into court on a writ of habeas corpus. Bail was fixed at $5,000.

Police Judge Heston remanded the prisoner to the custody of the police for twenty-four hours. Police continued work on the theory that Mrs. Kramer died either from the effects of an anaesthetic or during the progress of an operation. The operation had not been completed at the time of her death, it was established.

STATE FILLS MANY JOBS

Bureau Finds Work for 56,092 Persons in Year.

DETROIT, Dec. 18.

According to the annual report just issued by James V. Cunningham, state commissioner of labor, 56,092 persons obtained employment through the Michigan free employment bureau during the year ending December 1. Of these 51,488 were men and 4,604 were women.

The total number of persons given employment in the state was 104,309, 92 137 men and 12,172 women.

It is said that a young man is formed at twenty-five, but it takes much longer than that to reform him.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Curious Papermaking.

In some parts of Indo China the natives employ various fibers in the attempt to supply their own paper. The Village du Papier, a suburb of Hanoi, owes its name to the fact that most of its 2,000 or 3,000 inhabitants make paper from the bark of a small "paper tree," a species of mulberry, found on the Black river in upper Tonkin. This bark is soaked in lime made from the limestone of the village, heated by crude furnaces fashioned by hand under natural limestone vats, pounded by pestle into a fine mash, then dissolved in water until a thin paste is reached. This paste is dipped by bamboo screen sieves until a slight film covers the screen. This film is spread on top of others, and each is taken separately or several together and spread with a brush on cement radiators to dry. A single sheet of paper is almost as thin as tissue, but the desired thickness may be obtained by spreading several films on the radiator and drying them together or by pasting the requisite number of sheets together after drying.

Colored Snowstorms.

Colored snowstorms were recorded as long ago as the sixth century, and a shower of red hail is said by Humboldt to have once occurred in Palermo. In Tuscany on March 14, 1813, there fell hail of an orange color. In 1808 red snow fell to a depth of over five feet in Carniola, Austria. The storm of colored snow was followed by one of the regulation color, and the effect produced by the separate layers of red and white, which were perfectly distinct, was very peculiar. A portion of the scarlet snow was melted in a vessel and the water evaporated, when a fine, rose colored earthy sediment was found at the bottom. Snow of a brick red hue fell in Italy in 1816 and in the Tyrol in 1847. In the first volume of Kane's "Arctic Exploration" it is stated that when the ship passed the "Crimson Cliffs of Sir John Ross" the patches of red snow, from which they derived their name, could be seen at a distance of fully ten miles.

Graphic Description.

Zach had been introduced to a new circular saw. The foreman of the sawmills performed the introduction, and after giving Zach a few necessary extra instructions he left him to his work. Zach was really interested in the buzzing blade, and his curiosity getting the better of his discretion, he soon found himself minus a finger Despite his excitability he was something of a stoic, so he bound up his wound without seeking assistance While he was thus engaged the foreman reappeared. To him Zach described the accident.

"But how on earth did you manage it?" the foreman exclaimed angrily, for the prospects of damages ahead were not exactly pleasant.

Zach shook his head.

"Sure, an' I don't know," he said. "I just touched the thing like this with my finger when—I'm blessed if there ain't another one gone!"—New York Times.

Remarkable Reptiles.

During the time of deposition of the clays constituting the Morrison shale in southern Colorado there existed a great variety of remarkable reptiles of huge size. Their bones, which are in places abundant, are the remains of animals that were mired in the soft clay of which Morrison formation largely consists. Some of these creatures, such as the brontosaurus, were sixty feet long. Many of them had remarkably small heads, notably the stegosaurus, which had so diminutive a brain that it must have been very stupid. This animal was undoubtedly very clumsy also, but its huge size and protective armor aided in its preservation.—Geological Survey Bulletin.

"Don't knock," said Uncle Eben. "A man is like one o' deshere motors. When he gits to knockin' it shows dais sumpin' wrong."—Washington Star.

NEW LAW COVERING AUTO ACCIDENTS

A compensation law has been in force in Michigan a few years covering industrial accidents. It was found that under the old law whenever an accident occurred the ambulance chasing lawyer would get a hold of the case, take it on shares, start suit for a large amount of money, and the individual corporation would be obliged to hire lawyers to defend. The litigation would extend over a period of two or three years, the injured party would be troubled and annoyed, and oftentimes would receive but little compensation, the industrial corporation would be unable to make settlement for the reason that the attorney having the case on shares would take half of the money which would stop the settlement. Under the compensation law it was recognized by everyone that a smaller amount of money would be much better for the injured party if they could obtain it without litigation. So, under the law in case a person was killed they would get only one-half of their weekly wages for a period of five hundred weeks not exceeding $5,000; if an arm was taken off, the injured party would receive one-half of their weekly wage for two hundred weeks; if a leg was taken off they would receive one-half of their weekly wage for a period of one hundred seventy-five weeks.

Many automobile owners have been studying the question and they feel that if a law fixing the amount of damages in automobile accidents was passed whereby a fix amount as determined by the legislature should be paid, it would be much fairer to everyone concerned. Such a law is likely to be presented to the legislature this winter for passage.

AUTO PARKING IN DETROIT.

Detroit, Mich.—Commissioner Couzens has just issued an order prohibiting the parking of automobiles in the busy section of the city, which covers quite a large portion of the downtown business section. No car can stop any longer than time enough to discharge and take on passengers. Very few cars "For Hire" are now allowed to stand at the curb but a small space is reserved near each hotel entrance. This will be quite inconvenient for some time, but the object Detroit must achieve is some system of auto disposal that will serve the convenience of the motorist and conserve the rights of the public at the same time. As Mr. Couzens says, it is not more policemen he needs, but more citizenship.

Chicago is planning to follow Detroit in the matter of abolishing downtown parking. Those who are inconvenienced can count themselves victims of the inevitable.

So far this year there has been over three thousand automobiles stolen in Michigan, despite the fact that there are many different varieties of auto locks on the market. Detroit has an ordinance demanding that every car carry a locking device, but it seems to have no appreciable effect upon the daring lawbreakers.

Over 150,000 licenses have been issued to automobile owners so far this year in Michigan by the Secretary of State. Records show over 4 000 accidents, meaning that one out of every 38 cars has met with an unfortunate happening.

AROUND THE GLOBE.

Electric automobiles are rapidly taking the place of jinrikishas in Tokio.

Last year the United States manufactured 10,965,385,000 postage stamps.

More than 13,600 workers are employed in and about the mines of Arizona.

More than three-quarters of the world's supply of nickel comes from Canada.

Washington statisticians state that the cost of hauling farm produce is reduced 25 cents per ton-mile by good roads.

In 1915 the output of quicksilver in this country amounted to 21,033 flasks of 75 pounds each and a total value of $1,826 912.

More than 5,000 women are now employed in the municipal street railway service in Vienna. Very few act as drivers because of the steep hills and the hand-brake equipment of the cars.

A Queer Ceremony.

A queer ceremony is performed every year on the 8th day of September in the Valle Maggio, Italy. The region abounds in vipers. The celebrants form into a weird procession, each person—man, woman and child—carrying a huge figure of a snake stuffed with cotton. As they pass along they weep and lament, believing that by the expiatory ceremony they will render themselves proof against snake bites during the grape gathering.

Here and on the Moon.

Things are six times heavier on the earth than they would be on the moon. A man weighing 150 pounds on the earth would weigh only twenty-five pounds on the moon. A player throws a baseball 100 yards here, but with the same exertion on the moon he would throw it 600 yards.

He Heard Pa Tell Ma.

"Your hair isn't wet," said little Tommy to Mr. Flyer, who was calling.

"No, of course not! What made you think my hair was 'wet?'" he asked, very much surprised.

"I heard pa tell ma that you couldn't keep your head above water."

MRS. WOODROW WILSON

She and President Do Their Christmas Shipping.

The president and Mrs. Wilson have accomplished their first joint Christmas shopping. Leaving the White Hosue unexpectedly, they walked in front of the grounds and stood for a time looking at the presidential flag flying from a flagpole erected on the White House. They then strolled slowly through the business section of the city, stopping here and there to look in show windows. During their stroll they were recognized by many shoppers, and Mrs. Wilson was kept busy returning greetings.

Bird Bathers.

An ornithologist, swimming in the blue sea, said: "Birds enjoy baths as much as we do. Take, for instance, wild ducks. Wild ducks adore a fresh water bath. Though they feed over salt water, they will bathe only in fresh. They'll fly thirty or forty miles inland for their weekly fresh water dip.

"Sparrows go in for a wet bath and a dry one—a wet bath of clean water and a dry one of clean dust.

"The partridge takes a loam bath. He loosens up a square foot of rich, chocolate colored loam and bathes his plumes in it for half an hour at a stretch

"All birds love a bath of ashes. Wherever, in the prairies, you see an ash heap, the sign of a forest fire, a flock of birds will rise up from it if you go too near—birds that have been polishing their feathers in the silvery ashes as a servant polishes knives."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Some One to Care.

Coming home on the train last night I saw a pleasing scene from the car window. A little girl stood at the railroad station with an umbrella. It was raining hard. When the train stopped she looked eagerly up and down and then ran to meet a young woman. The child lifted the umbrella protectingly over the woman and looked admiringly in her face.

It set me to thinking. After all, the main thing that we need in life is some one to care. As long as there is some one awaiting our homecoming, eager to welcome us and make us comfortable, we can keep up courage.

It is our duty to ourselves to gather around us a family or friends. Those who care are staffs to lean on, magnets to draw us away from temptation, balsams to heal our wounds and buoys to keep us from sinking.

We need all the friends we can make and hold.—Shirley in Farm Life.

Magnesia and Grease Spots.

Magnesia will take grease spots out of carpets and rugs. Get a block of it from the drugstore for five cents. Scrape it with a knife into fine powder and lay this on the grease spot, covering it entirely. Rub it in a little and let it stand overnight. Remove it the next day with a clean whisk broom and the spot will be gone.

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Christmas comes again. The morning glow of a New Year tints the horizon of the world. The Magic that fills our stockings with good things fills our hearts with even better things.

To us, the Christmas Spirit is very real. If there is any man among our readers who does not believe in the magical Spirit to whom all things are possible at Christmas time, we want to tell him that he has let go the sweetest and most useful faith that ever gladdened tired humanity. And if there is any woman to whom this blessed Spirit of Christmas has not whispered some message of thanksgiving or of hope, of resignation or of faith, of love or of forgiveness, surely she has our deepest pity.

The Christmas Spirit has the strength of a hundred million men, the tenderness of all the mothers in the world, and the confiding simplicity of a child. It extends its arms across the lands and grim warriors lay down their weapons and shout greetings of their common brotherhood from trench to trench. It smiles, and people look into one another's eyes and they see kindliness and gentleness and sympathy and understanding where they had thought to behold only selfishness, indifference and greed.

To each of us the Christmas Spirit brings gifts according to needs. Some of these gifts are guns and tops and dolls, books, bicycles and candies. Sometimes they take the forms of houses and automobiles, jewels and money. And sometimes the Christmas Spirit brings invisible gifts and these are the best of all.

For example, there is courage, a gift that makes men strong enough to face Death, and—what is sometimes even harder—to face Life and to meet its troubles with a smile. And there is Truthfulness, a gift that never gets out of style but grows more beautiful till the end of time And Patience, a gift that we must all receive before we can accomplish true greatness, even in little things. And Resignation, a very precious gift for those who mourn.

But most precious of all the gifts of the Christmas Spirit is the gift of Love, for love makes all other good things possible and without it nothing else is altogether good. Love of parents for their children and of children for their parents; love of husband and wife; love of youth for maiden; love of friend for friend, and the redeeming love of the human soul for serviceable work.

As we think of these obvious truths we approach the portals of the New Year with renewed faith in the potency of the Christmas Spirit and with renewed determination to make it the guiding spirit of our lives, the quickening power that shall vitalize our labors. Selected.

The plurality of Governor-elect Albert E. Sleeper (R) was 99,284 over Edwin F. Sweet (D).

Burglars entered the V. S. Mosher home at Jackson and stole silverware and jewelry valued at $700.

United States Senator Charles E. Townsend was re-elected by a plurality of 106,703 and has the honor of leading the ticket.

Mrs. W. Wiener, of San Francisco, Cal., a guest at the hotel Stetler, at Detroit, was robbed of $300 within a block of the hotel.

MAKING CHRISTMAS CHEERY

By Ruth Sprague

Sing a song of Christmas joys,
Mistletoe and holly,
Candy, oranges and toys,
Laughing girls and shouting boys,
Aunts and uncles jolly.

Sing a song of Christmas trees,
Many strang fruits bearing;
Costly gifts from overseas,
Simple home wrought gifts that please,
Fraught with love unsparing.

Sing a song of Christmas thought
For the poor and dreary;
Glad surprise to sad ones brought,
No poor little one forgot—
This makes Christmas cheery.

A GENERAL SURVEY OF THE WAR.

Wednesday, Dec. 13.—Peace overshadows in interest war. Both press and public in London as well as other entente capitals see in the German proposal a "Teutonic trick." While Britain looks to Lloyd-George to define the position of the empire Tuesday, Premier Briand has spoken for France, that his country will stand by the entente and warns the French chamber to act with care in peace moves.

The Duke of Devonshire speaking to the Canadian club says the people of Canada want the war prosecuted until the demands of the allies are met.

The submarine warfare by Germany scored another gain when near Malta the transport steamer Algerie, 4,000 tons, which was in the service of the French navy, was sunk.

In Roumania, Berlin claims the Teutonic forces are approaching Buzeu, a rail center. In the Carpathians and Moldavia the Russ offensive continues

Thursday, Dec. 14.—French advanced on both sides of the river Meuse, the Berlin war office admitted.

A German attack on Lassigny, intended as a surprise, was defeated.

In Roumania, the Teutons have swept all southern Wallachia of the enemy and are periling Buzeu. Berlin reports heavy Russ attacks in the Carpathians and Transylvania Alps continue.

Friday, Dec. 15.—French advanced on both sides of the Meuse river on a front of ten kilometers to a depth of three kilometers, capturing 7,500 prisoners and many guns.

The Teutons captured the railhead of Buzeu in Roumania, the Russians and Roumanians retiring.

King Constantine of Greece has again yielded to all entente demands.

Saturday, Dec. 16.—Further information from the Paris war office shows the French won even a greater victory at Verdun than was supposed from Friday night's reports. Latest advices show the French captured nearly 9,000 prisoners and 80 guns, most of them heavy cannon which the defenders had no time to remove to the rear of their lines. The French advanced in places three miles on a front of six and one-half miles.

The Teutonic armies in Roumania continue to gain ground. A statement by the German war office that the Buzeu river sector has been forced may mean that the Teutonic troops actually have crossed the river along the line which it had expected the Roumanians would make their next stand.

A further advance of the British army on the Tigris front in Mesopotamia to within three-quarters of a mile of that river opposite Kut-el Amara is recorded.

Miners Re-elect White.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND. — John P. White has been re-elected president of the United Mine Workers of America over John H. Walker of Illinois, according to incomplete returns.

Inquests have to be held on treasure trove in England as well as on bodies and London fires.

High School Notes

German II class have finished Germelshausen. Their test took up two class periods. They are now taking up Immensee

Was Ben Johnson an Italian? Ponkey thinks so because when reciting he informed the class he couldn't speak Italian, hence we understand such words as Alchemist and Volpone to be Italian.

Last Friday afternoon the Sophomore entertained the High School with a short play entitled, "Teacher, Kin I Go Home." The characters were:

Hezekah Quackenbush, teacher—Perry Hayden
Mose Dolittle, janitor—George Van-Gilder School Directors.
"Pat" Clancey—Robert Moore
Martha—Jane McConnell
Switzer—Burton Lewis and Edgar Meads.

Pupils—Jennie Brollier, Alice Hardenburg, Gladys Gilbert, Elizabeth Comfort, Gladwin Orr and Harold Blesing.

Evidently Mr. Goodrich doesn't care for potassium, for he says its sprectrum has a "vilish" color.

The various classes are appearing very patriotic in their new class caps The seniors with blue tops and seventeens; juniors, green; sophomores, yellow; and freshies, red,

The seniors have completed the study of Macbeth and not with some good being accomplished. For in spite of all arguments, Mr. Lowry was known for the first time in history to agree with someone.

Jane McConnell has been engaged to give a series of suffrage talks at Podunk She is one of our noted after dinner speakers.

Latest addition to Cuthberts revised "Vatances of elements, and "readilier."

Miss Armstrong surely would get wonderful themes from Mr Lowry if she would ask him to have Bacon for his subject. Can it be that he is taking Bacon as his ideal? Never the-less he believes him to be a wonderful man for he informed the class that "Bacon began life when very young "

Muriel Halladay had the misfortune to tumble upstairs last Monday.

Rentschler in chemistry class, "Well, why isn't sugar a good electric light?" (electrolyte.)

Wanted—Will some one kindly give Cuffy a new laugh for Christmas?

Cure for "Freshman" especially (pickles)—15 oz of dislike, 1 lb of resolution, 2 oz. of experience, 3 qts of cooling water of consideration, one large sprig of thyme. Directions: Set the above "Fresh" spirits over the gentle fire of Lowe, sweeten with the sugar of forgetfulness. Stir with the spoon of melancholy. Put this mixture in the bottom of your heart and cork with a cork of clear conscience; let it remain and you will quickly find ease and be restored to your senses again.

These items may be obtained at the Apothecary of Understanding, Next door to Reason, Prudence street, Village of Contentment, in the State of an Unbalanced Mind.

Brownie and Bob Moore enjoyed a ball game the second period last Wednesday morning. No wonder girl's rubbers dissappeared.

Rear Admiral John Porter Mer. who died at New London, Conn. entered the navy as a cadet from Marshall.

George A. Loud of Bay City, Mich., has been assigned to the house committee on naval affairs to fill a vacancy.

An abandoned Ford automobile, said to belong to Mrs. E. Barton of Detroit, was recovered at Monroe by the police.

Robert Smith, publisher and founder of the Robert Smith Printing company, Lansing, is dead. He had been ill for several years.

Thirty cases of chicken-pox were reported to the health department in two days and there are now over sixty cases in Kalamazoo.

The board of police commissioners has ordered all dice games in Lansing stopped. More than 200 stores, pool rooms, hotels, etc., are affected.

Mrs. Elizabeth Walter, mother of nine children, was found dead of heart failure by her son, Bernie Walter, when he went to awaken her at Three Rivers.

Tony Coviak, convicted in the circuit court of robbing a saloon in Ypsilanti several weeks ago, was sentenced to Jackson prison for from two to fifteen years.

To Frank Hall, a cripple, goes the distinction of being the first Flint man to make application and receive a "widow's" pension from the Flint board of education.

William J. Brown Roscommon, a member of the Canadian mounted rifles, was killed in action "somewhere in France" December 1, according to a telegram.

With orders from needy families for more than 100 tons of coal on hand, Mayor James B. Balch, put Kalamazoo's coal docks in shape and started the city in the coal business.

Louis Jennings, seventy years old, hanged himself in a barn at the rear of his home at Adrian. Despondency over illness and the recent death of his wife are believed responsible.

Rev. Sebastian Smith, pastor of the First Congregational church of Jackson, announces that picture shows will be given at his church and that he will give a talk on the pictures.

Launching a movement to advertise Michigan fruit, the State Horticultural society, at its annual meeting, authorized a committee to work with the Michigan director of markets.

Christmas Suggestions.

Along about this time of the year the Christmas gift suggestions begin piling up on the average man from all the corners of the earth. I'ts a trying season, this period that precedes the joy of Yuletide. And the most bothersome part about it is the fact that a big lot of these suggestions really need your consideration; otherwise, when the moment for buying arrives, you—well, you'll be just like the average man—no idea what to get!

What do you say to a new scheme this year—a little plan for the elimination of nearly all the "Christmas considerations" but one.

The spirit of Christmas time is everywhere about us. Stores are crowded with eager shoppers, mothers are working far into the night that her children or some loved one may be made happy.

Uncle Sam is hustling Christmas packages far and near. People are going afar that they may spend the day with family or friend and churches and schools are busy with Christmas programs for the children. All is hustle and preparation.

The Christmas spirit is the joy of making someone happy of giving pleasure and may this spirit permeate your being and fill you all with happiness.

To many of us the days of happiness will be mingled with a feeling of sadness, for many of the faces that once helped to gladden the days for us have passed to the great beyond. Sadness will fill many a home this Christmas Day and may we pause in our gladness to express our sympathy for those whose hearts are sore.

Christmas is a day of giving let us not confine our giving alone to our family or to some dear friend but may we look about us, to the one who knows not the joys of Christmas to the unfortunate and the needy. If you know of no such person send your money to the Kings Daughters, the Almoner Circle, to your church or lodge as these organizations are in touch with many a needy home, that you may help to bring a little of this Christmas gladness to.

Eskimo Dogs.

An exceedingly hard lot is that of the Eskimo dog. In the first place, he has to earn his living by drawing sledges. In the next place, food is so scarce that a dog is usually hungry, often hungry enough to eat his harness or indeed any bits of skin and leather he can find. To prevent this the men rub the leather cords with tar. But in order to live at all an Eskimo dog has to fight his way. Whenever there is a pack of dogs together they fight. The weak ones are driven away or killed. The strongest and fiercest one, who can thrash any or all of the others, is known as the king dog. He has the best place to lie and his choice of the food.

Circassian Walnut.

That popular wood for furniture, Circassian walnut, is sold by the pound or the ton and not by the foot. As early as 116 B. C. it was introduced into Italy from Persia. Russia is the chief source of Circassian walnut. The logs are so heavy that they will not float and are sold from the forest with their bark on. Only the heart of the wood is used, and it is the crooked irregular logs that possess the best figured wood. Even very old trees rarely have a clear length of more than ten feet.

Family Preserves.

The following recipe was sent to the editor of a newspaper who had established a household column. It was evidently given by a person of experience:

To make a good jam place one finger or possibly two lightly on the upper edge of an open desk or bureau drawer, close the drawer quickly with the other hand and keep closed for two or three seconds.

Open it, remove the finger or fingers, adding plenty of interjections. This recipe has been tried by every member of my family and has never failed.

Vanished Greatness of Halicz.

Halicz is one of those Galician towns with a past record grander than its present appearance warrants. Excavations made in the suburbs toward the end of the last century disclosed extensive remains which proved it to have been at one time a great city, whose existence was not dependent, as now, upon brine wells. The theory which accounts for the decay of a town that once formed the headquarters of the Prince of Halicz is that destruction overtook it during the first great Mongol invasion.—London Chronicle.

His Only Friend.

Wife—You can see now how much your friends care for you. During your long illness only one has called to see you.

Husband—And that was Brown, wasn't it?

Wife—Yes. He came every day, and he said he was very sorry you were too ill to see him. He is the only real friend you've got.

"Yes, I suppose so. The day before I was taken ill I promised to lend him $10."

Lesson In Astronomy.

"I wonder," said the youthful astronomer, who was slow to do what was expected of him, "if—if you would let me associate you with some star—Venus, perhaps, star of love?"

"Well, no," said the lady addressed thoughtfully. "I would rather you thought of me as Saturn."

"Indeed! Why?"

"Oh, well, you know, did you tell me that Saturn has a ring?"

He bought one the next day.—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Conferring a Title.

While he was governor of Kentucky Proctor Knott sent to the Hon. Stoddart Johnston a certificate, officially signed and bearing the impress of the great seal of the state, duly commissioning him as "Mister," which he said was a distinctive and honorable title that no Kentuckian had ever previously borne.

"What became of that tenderfoot who said he didn't know how to play poker?" asked Broncho Bob.

"Lynched," replied Piute Pete.

"Fur winnin'?"

"Not fur lyin'."

Nerves Mended With Jelly.

Dr. L. Edinger, a famous nerve specialist of Frankfort, Germany, has devised a method of making nerves that have been severed grow together again. The Scientific American quotes an address delivered by him before the Deutsche Orthopaedische Gesellschaft, in which he described his success with this method, a success that no other has been able to claim. Dr. Edinger fills animal arteries with a special gelatin, cuts away the scarred part of the nerve and inserts the upper and lower ends of the severed nerve into the artery filled with gelatin. The separated ends of the nerve grow together with astonishing rapidity through this gelatin.

Vegetables In Tudors' Time.

What did people eat before they had the potato as a staple article of diet? Apparently they had most of the vegetables that we have now. Of Londoners in the time of the Tudors, Sir Walter Besant tells us that they ate lettuce as a separate dish before the meat, used turnip leaves as a salad and roasted the turnip itself in wood ashes. Horseradish and carrots were known to them, and capers were served boiled in oil or vinegar. Cucumbers, radishes, parsnips and cabbages also figured at the Tudor meal table, for which, by the way, they boiled their oysters and spread their beef with honey. It would be fun in these days to eat—or refuse—a Tudor meal.—London Chronicle.

Cart and Horse.

A certain man, being much vexed by politicians, made bold at length to speak his mind.

"You put the cart before the horse," he insisted. "No man ought to belong to a party. The party is a mere convenience, and it ought to belong to the man, like any other convenience, to serve him as it may or give way to something else as it may not."

But the politicians hadn't been in the business all these years for nothing. They were by no means to be talked out of a good thing. "We confront a condition and not a theory," they made answer. "The horse is so used to working that way he doesn't know there's any other."—New York Post.

The Eternal Feminine.

"Did you have a pleasant afternoon, dear?" asked the man.

"No," snapped the wife; "I had a perfectly beastly afternoon."

"Why, I thought you were going down to buy a new hat?"

"I was, and I did."

"Then why didn't you have a good time? I thought"—

"Yes; you thought. Well, I'll tell you. I intended to have a lovely time buying that hat, but they had just what I wanted at the first store I went to, so I had to buy it. And there wasn't anything to do for the rest of the day, so I couldn't enjoy myself one bit."—Brooklyn Eagle.

Powerful Effect.

"The people who preach economy for others sometimes have to turn in and practice economy for themselves," said a railroad man. "I once asked a business man:

"'Well, George, did you read your wife that lecture on economy you said you were going to?'

"'Yep,' George grunted, with a gesture of disgust.

"'Have any effect?' said I.

"'It sure did,' said George. 'I've bought myself a safety razor, cut out cigars in favor of a pipe and had last season's suit cleaned so as to make it see me through this year.'"—Washington Star.

Time.

Inasmuch as nothing is ever lost, but is only re-formed, then time must of necessity be only a new combination of atoms. Time is nonexistent, yet to gain it the general sacrifices thousands of human lives in battle and countless human beings spend countless gold on worthless remedies to lengthen their days. Time is the volatile depository of all things. It makes you happy and unhappy and is indeed a saturated solution of events. We save time to waste it, and in wasting it we save it. We spend our time in order that we may have it, and in having it we spend it. Without it we are always wishing we had it, and when we have it we kill it.—Life.

Precious Sawdust.

Sawdust is being put to an increasing number of useful purposes. Used as an absorbent for nitroglycerin it produces dynamite. Used with clay and burned it produces a terra cotta brick full of small cavities that, owing to its lightness and its properties as a nonconductor, makes excellent fireproof material for walls or floors. Treating it with fused caustic alkali produces oxalic acid; treating it with sulphuric acid and fermenting the sugar so formed produces alcohol; mixed with a suitable binder and compressed it can be used for making moldings and imitation carving. If mixed with portland cement it produces a flooring material.

A Common Fallacy About Gas.

A common fallacy is that gas lighting so reduces the oxygen content and so increases the carbon dioxide of air as to become dangerous to health. The facts are that gas lighting cannot reduce the oxygen content to a point even as low as that found in many Swiss health resorts and cannot add enough pure carbon dioxide to approach the danger point. Furthermore, the New York state commission on ventilation in recent investigations has proved that the chemical composition of the air is not the important factor in securing sanitary air conditions.—Thomas Scofield in Engineering Magazine.

Russian Peasants' Land.

Land belongs not to individual peasants in Russia, but to the village as a whole. It can be redivided every twelve years at the wish of a majority of two-thirds.

This and all other local questions, such as the incidence of taxation, are settled by village meetings, consisting of the heads of houses, where age naturally has a predominance.

A decision which carries a majority of two-thirds is by law of the empire a legal "sentence" of the village.

The village elects its own village elder, who is responsible for the calling of meetings, and at certain seasons (that of haymaking) these meetings take place as often as once a week.

"Are they in easy circumstances?" "They ought to be; they have an apto to support."—Houston Post.

A horse will live twenty-five days without solid food, merely drinking water; seventeen days without either eating or drinking and only five days when partaking of solid food without water.

Contrasts In a Great City

One of the things that make New York an interesting city is the practice of some shopkeepers of putting in their windows attractive goods with price labels. An arresting instance of this sort was seen recently in a Broadway jeweler's window. Here was a finger ring of diamonds and an emerald, price $12,500; a marquise shaped diamond ring, $4,250; pear shaped diamond pendant, $2,250; diamond earrings, $5,800, and a galaxy of other resplendent gems to appeal to the frequenters of the Great White Way.

At the other extreme of the social scale for the buying public are the pushcarts of New York's east side, equally interesting in their way. On one of these carts in Canal street an astonishing variety of things mechanical was found, among others clocks and watches, music boxes, all kinds of tools, and at least a score of second-hand cameras of various makes.—Exchange.

The Hangman's Stone.

There is a large bowlder lying in a field near Foremark, England, which is known throughout Derbyshire as the "hangman's stone." The exposed portion of the bowlder rises about six feet above the surface of the surrounding field and has a narrow ditch or indentation running across the top. The mark, so tradition says, was made in this way: A sheep thief in the dead of night, while leaning against the bowlder to rest, placed his booty above on the flat surface of the stone. The man had the sheep tied with a rope, and in its efforts to escape the creature slipped on the opposite side, and the rope, catching under the thief's chin, choked him to death. The indentation in the rock was made by the friction of the rope while the dying man was engaged in an effort to extricate himself.

No Synonym For English.

A fierce Scottish nationalist who lives among his English friends in a state of chronic protest, pricked up his ears in the railway compartment on hearing the word "English."

"There ye go again," he grumbled. The speaker apologized.

"You don't know what I said, Mac, so I'll repeat it and revise it at the same time. 'The chief fault of the British is lack of self assertion.'"

"Mac" looked around, and when he saw everybody else was smiling, condescended to see the joke himself, and smiled, too. He even proceeded to make a handsome admission.

"After all, neither Walter Scott nor Thomas Carlyle would have said be wrote British."—Manchester Guardian.

The Diamond.

The diamond is pure carbon or charcoal, but the secret processes by which nature rearranges the atoms of the black, lusterless charcoal into the dashing diamond is a mystery that the chemists, stimulated by the certainty of great gains provided they were successful in finding the solution, have never been able to discover. Nor is it certainly known from what department nature takes the diamond making material. It is supposed to be furnished by vegetable charcoal which undergoes a peculiar process of decomposition and crystallization, but it has also been conjectured that the carbonic acid, shut up from remote periods in the calcareous rocks, may have solidified in this peculiar form.

Deluding the Dog.

When forced to travel all night the Siberian natives make a practice of stopping just before sunrise and allowing their dogs to sleep.

They argue that if a dog goes to sleep while it is yet dark and wakes up in an hour and finds the sun shining he will suppose that he has had a full night's rest and will travel all day without thinking of being tired.—London Telegraph.

A Possibility.

He—If you don't intend to break your engagement with me why do you let Richman make you such valuable presents? She—My father advised me to accept them. He—He did! Why? She—He said if I married you they might come in handy.

Physically Impossible.

"The danger was so near me that my hair stood up on my head."

"Then you couldn't have had such a close shave."—Baltimore American.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

The Medicine Habit.

Don't get the medicine habit. Taking a pill doesn't always meet the need. It doesn't reach the cause. The condition that usually calls for a pill or draft of medicine is often a condition which can be readily corrected by proper diet and exercise or rest. A severe headache, for instance, can often be relieved by taking a long, brisk walk in the open air or by abstinence of food or by relaxation and rest.

Sluggishness of the intestines, which is sometimes called biliousness, should be corrected by proper diet, consisting of bulky green vegetables, whole cereals, bran, plenty of water and by fresh air and exercise. Proper diet and not medicine is the cure for biliousness. Sleep producing drugs are to be avoided and never taken except on the advice and prescription of a physician.

If you are really ill and need medicine see a doctor, but don't prescribe for yourself.

Sing Sing Retrospection.

In the Star of Hope, published by convicts in Sing Sing prison, are these reflections:

There never yet was a chance for the man who mixed whisky and good intentions.

Crime is like the fellow who cheats at cards—nobody wants him in the game.

The amount of money that can be made in a life of crime would never pay the interest at 1 per cent on the sum a man can make by honest endeavor.

A Casus Belli.

A visitor to an English training camp was greatly shocked at the appearance of the men. Turn where he would, black eyes and bruised faces were astonishingly frequent among the soldiers.

"What's been the row?" he asked his friend.

"Had a row with the next regiment, that's all," replied the corporal.

"What about?"

"Oh, the beggars set a sentry to watch their towel while it was out drying, and we felt insulted."

CHARLES F. PATTERSON,
Secretary of the Board of Education.

HE SLEEPS

The funeral of the late Horace Raynor Brewer was held at the home on West Chicago street Wednesday afternoon with a large attendance of those who came to pay their last tokens of respect to their much loved friend. Rev. W. A. Rex spoke most feelingly with words of comfort to the bereaved family.

The casket was borne to the grave by Charles Burridge, Ed Rogers, R. A. Heesen, F. S. Anderson, R. T. Meade and Leon Williamson. The wealth of flowers that covered his last resting place attested to the love and esteem in which he was held by all.

Those from out of town who were here for the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. McGlashen of Buffalo, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Cummins, Toledo; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cummins, Mr. and Mrs. P. W. A. Fitzsimmons and Miss Nerissa, Alex Gray, David Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Gray, Detroit; Augustine Cummins, Chicago.

DANGERS OF HOLIDAY FIRES

Merchants and others having holiday decorations should be unusually careful about the hazards of fire. In addition to the danger to life and property, a fire in a crowded store, bazaar or church is apt to start a panic, and a preventable fire is always a poor advertisement for a business house. Another reason is that the use of inflammable materials for decorations, and of amateur electric wiring in store windows and displays, may void the insurance in case of fire.

Temporary electric wiring should be officially inspected, approved noncombustible or fire-proofed materials should be used for decorations, and the ordinary precautions against fires and panics should be redoubled, in order that the holiday season may not be marred by a tragedy.

STOP THAT THIEF

The sheriff of Ann Arbor a short time ago took into his employ a young lad who had served time in jail but who appealed to his sympathies. For awhile all went well, but suddenly "Shorty" had left for parts unknown, also a gray horse which the sheriff describes thusly:

"Stop Maloney if you see him. He is a gray horse, has a red roan appearance when you get up close to him; is 15½ hands high, weighs 960 lbs.; toes out in front, has interfered badly behind sometime; wears No. 2 shoes all around.......Get this horse if you can. Wm. S. Henderson will pay $25.00 reward for conviction of thief.

CHRISTMAS SERVICES AT THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The festival of Christmas music will be held in this church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. The choir, the quartette and the Sunday-school will present a new Christmas cantata, "Around the Manger." The story is divided into five parts, depicting the various scenes incident to the birth of Christ. The story is well written and the music is splendid.

There will be a combination Sunday-school service Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Various Christmas features will be presented.

The regular morning worship at 11 o'clock. There will be Christmas music at both these services.

The "Sans Culottes."

The epithet "sans culottes," which means "the men without breeches," or "the trouserless," and referred to the ragged condition of the Paris poor, was first used contemptuously by Maury in the national assembly to describe his opponents. As so often happens with contemptuous nicknames—"Whigs," for instance—the popular party caught up the opprobrious epithet and wore it with pride, and it came to be the general name of the extreme French democrats throughout the revolution.

GREATNESS.

Every one can enter into the atmosphere of greatness and gain its vision. It is simply a question of believing in the best things and in our power to attain them.—Hamilton W. Mabie.

Miss Harvella Widney, 1st reader.
Services held in the Universalist church.

MRS. EDWARD N. SISSON

Mrs. Florence Sisson died in Detroit Monday morning after a lingering illness. She was the daughter of Wm. and Mary Hendershott and was born in Clinton township June 25, 1869. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, a son and a daughter and one brother Harry Hendershott.

The remains were brought to Tecumseh Wednesday morning and laid beside her father and mother in Brookside. Short burial services were held at the grave.

JOHN J. LANNING

John J. Lanning passed away suddenly at his home near North Adrian Tuesday afternoon. A life long resident in Lenawee county, was born May 28, 1852 and is survived by his wife and three children Bert, Leroy and Mrs David Hammil. The funeral was held at the home Thursday afternoon, Rev. W. A. Rex officiating with burial in Brookside cemetery.

MR. BATTERY OWNER

Don't forget that the average life of a battery is eighteen months. A battery can be made to last for years with proper care. Bring your battery to us and let us overhaul it. There is no use to send it to Toledo and other points, as we are experts on batteries and will guarantee our work. Let us take care of your battery and store it this winter. It will only cost you 25c per month.

METHOD.

Do not waste precious time from lack of method. The secret of getting through work is method. Order, it has been said, is God's first law. Let it be yours. Do not let your work accumulate upon your hands. It is not work that kills, but arrears of work. Work put off is work put on heavy interest. "Sufficient unto the day is the evil thereof." It becomes intolerable if it be laid upon tomorrow.

Changing Her Spots.

She was sobbing softly, and he was very much annoyed. He didn't like faint hearted women anyway. They had been long enough married—six months—for him to assert his prerogative as the master of the household.

"Oh, keep quiet! You act like a baby," said he by way of beginning. "I don't know what you're crying about anyway."

She told him between sobs. "Why-why, you said—said I—I—I was freckled. And—when you and I were—were lovers you—you—you saw these same freckles, but you called 'em beauty spots then."

JACKSON, MISS., MAN

Tells How To Cure Chronic Cough

Jackson, Miss.—"I am a carpenter, and the Grippe left me with a chronic cough, run-down, worn out and weak. I took all kinds of cough syrups without help. I read about Vinol and decided to try it. Before I had taken a bottle I felt better, and after taking two bottles my cough is entirely cured, and I have gained new vim and energy."—JOHN L. DENNIS.

Vinol is a delicious non-secret tonic which is guaranteed for coughs, colds and bronchitis and for all weak, run-down conditions.

DOING GOOD DEEDS.

Do a good deed every day. Each ray of light from a distant star has been traveling on through the ether for hundreds of years. Yet it still remains pure and strong enough to affect the negative plate of the astronomer's camera. So with a good deed. Set it going and who knows the end of it? Not the world of this century or the next, for its influence will travel on for ages to come.

DO YOUR BEST.

The main thing is to keep on doing our very best all the time. Even although at times we may feel discouraged and hopeless, we must never give in. If you do your best your conscience is clean.

Every Time We Sell Bismarck Coffee

we make two profits—one is the small money profit on the sale; other is the greater profit in securing the perpetual good-will of a satisfied customer.

It is not a steel cut coffee, therefore you can see what perfect berries you are getting. It is ground at the time you buy it, and so you get full strength and quality. And a blend, mind you, that will appeal to your taste in a better way.

Bismarck Coffee

exudes its fragrant aroma as soon as package is broken. It promises you much. It makes you somewhat feel you are due for a smooth, rich, breakfast beverage. About the only way a person can be disappointed in Bismarck Coffee is not to buy it.

A pound package will cost you 30 cents. You'll regard it a breakfast investment.

For sale exclusively, C. M. GILBERT.

How To Save Money

RED BAND COAL is cheaper to use than either Hard Coal or Pocahontas. This has been proved time after time during the past spell of cold weather.

True it costs more than some coals; so does woolen goods cost more than cotton, the difference is the same with RED BAND over other coals.

It gives out steady lasting heat with few ashes or clinkers. Any test you may give it will convince you it gives out more heat per ton than any other coal.

A FORMER LENAWEE MAN

May Accept the Office of State Railway Commissioner

FRED W. STEVENS SLATED

Fred W. Stevens, a former Lenawee county man, has been slated for the office of state railway commissioner by Gov. Elect Albert E. Sleeper. Mr. Stevens is a nephew of Henry W. Stevens of Tecumseh and was born in the Village of Clinton, Lenawee county, 52 years ago.

Mr. Stevens has had a brilliant career. Having graduated from the law department of the U. of M. in 1887. He practiced law in Grand Rapids, was appointed Assistant U. S. District Att'y at Grand Rapids in 1890, afterwards becoming a member of Senator William Alden Smith's law firm, general counsel of the consolidated several lines of the Pere Marquette system and later accepted a position with J. Pierpont Morgan & Co., of New York, serving in a legal capacity. Before his retirement he was one of the members of the firm. Retiring from the firm of Morgan & Co., he went to Ann Arbor to make his home.

This has been the case of the office seeking the man rather than the man seeking the office.

FOR THE HOLIDAYS

Two Excellent Feature Films Booked at the Bradley

The management of the Bradley is offering two exceptionally fine feature photoplays for the holidays For Christmas day, little Mary Pickford in her newest Paramount offering "Raggs" will be the attraction It is an exceptionally fine play featuring Miss Pickford is one of her best and greatest characterizations equal to "Tess of the Storm Country" and a genuine Pickford classic. Produced with all the lavish care which characterizes all Paramount productions, the photoplay, draws a picture that will interest people in every strata of life "Little Mary" is sweetly appealing and impresses the audience with a degree of sincerity rare even in the role of the most distinguished actresses

On New Year's Day patrons of the Bradley will be given a chance to see the much talked of production of Robt W Chambers best novel "The Common Law" with Miss Clara Kimball Young playing the leading role of "Valerie West " Robert W Chambers has never written a more wonderful story that this brilliant novel of New York life. It s heroine Valerie West, artist-model, is one of the most sympathetic figures in modern literature. As portrayed by Miss Clara Kimball Young, she becomes a living personification of sweet and noble womanhood. Her joys and sorrows, her trials and ultimate triumph in the love of Kelly Neville, artist and gentleman have given the screen one of the few really great photodramas ever produced "The Common Law" will be at the Bradley New Year's Day for both afternoon and evening shows

DON'T DO WITHOUT COFFEE

You will accomplish a third less in a morning without it. It's Coffee that supplies the energy to DO THINGS. REAC ION. did you say? Never, if you use the right Coffee.

Coffee can be got anywhere, but RIGHT Coffee isn't so common.

We are pleasing a lot of people right along with their morning beverage, and some of them are pretty particular people, too.

If you are suited with the blend you are now using, stick to it. But if you think an improvement is possible let us show you what OUR idea of Coffee goodness is like.

TECUMSEH TESTIMONY

Home Proof, Here, There and Everywhere.

When you see Doan's Kidney Pills recommended in this paper you most always find the recommender a Tecumseh resident. Its the same everywhere—in 3,800 towns in the U. S. Forty thousand people publicly thank Doan's. What other kidney remedy can give this proof of merit, honestly and truth? Home testimony must be true or it could not be published here. Read this Tecumseh recommendation. Then insist on having Doan's. You will know what you are getting:

Mrs. W. W. Shurtz, W. Kilbuck St., Tecumseh, says: "My kidneys acted irregularly and had dull and languid and dizzy headaches. My feet and ankles became swollen, too. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved the backaches and put my kidneys in good order. The swelling left me and I felt better in every way."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Shurtz had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

MICHIGAN NEWS BRIEFS

Eat a little alfalfa hay ground into alfalfa flour is the advice of James W. Helme, state dairy and food commissioner, to boycotters of butter and eggs.

The University of Michigan and the Michigan Aggies have already been booked by Coach Spaulding of Western State Normal school, for the 1917 baseball schedule.

May Wood attempted suicide in the city jail at Kalamazoo by hanging herself from a cell with an improvised rope made from her petticoat. Captain Putnam cut her down.

Angered by his three year old son, Harry Tripp, a well-to-do farmer residing near Richland, threw him into freezing cold water in a stock tank, according to sheriff's officers.

One out of every nine men in the Michigan brigade on the Mexican border is marked "sick in quarters" with a reasonable percentage in favor of encountering pneumonia's ravages.

Two hundred more tons of coal arrived at Kalamazoo, replenishing the municipal docks which had been depleted of its first shipment of 100 tons during the first two days it was operated.

Burglars broke into Morrill, Lambie & Co.'s store at Hastings and stole $10 in cash and a quantity of stock. This is the third burglary within several weeks, thieves getting a total of about $70.

While Richard Peterson, a farmer near Pine Creek, seven miles from Iron Mountain, was bending over fixing a trap, he was mistaken for a deer or some other animal and shot by an unknown hunter.

According to the official canvass of the November election, which was completed by the board of state canvassers, Charles E. Hughes had a plurality in Michigan over President Wilson of 52,322.

Detroit's freight congestion is gradually being relieved, according to figures after a conference of officials of all railroads entering Detroit. The Michigan Central has 4,000 less cars than a week ago.

The increase in the cost of paper threatens hardships for the poorer students at Michigan Agricultural college and other colleges. Publishers have announced that big increases will be made in text book rates.

Frank Damico, a tailor, was arrested by Chicago authorities in connection with the murder of Harry Pontorno, a private banker, who was found shot on a lonely road in the outskirts of Benton Harbor, August 3.

While posing as subscription agents for two trade publications George Dyam and James Heard, both Detroiters, are alleged to have plied a shoplifting game in two Saline stores and are now being held in the county jail.

One quart of whisky, or one gallon of wine, or one case of beer or of malt liquor a month, will be the lagal portion of Michiganders after June 1, 1918, if the plans of the drys, as outlined at a meeting of attorneys, go through the legislature.

Origin of a Song.

The grumbling of a negro groom led to the composition of the immortal "Old Folks at Home." While waiting for a change of horses at a Kentucky hostelry the composer, Stephen Foster, author of so many beloved darky melodies, heard a melancholy negro murmur as he threw a set of harness to the ground: "I's sick an' tired o' dis life. I wish I was back wif de ole folks at home."

"Where may that be, Sam?" asked Foster.

"Oh," answered the darky, "way down on de Suwanee river."

The result was the song as we have it today.

Lost Days.

"You used to say," she complained, "that you counted that day lost when you did not hear the sound of my voice."

"Yes; I know," he replied, "and I shall never cease to long for those dear lost days."—Chicago Herald.

Atchison, Kan.—A. J. Haskins narrowly escaped with his life here the other day when the umbrella he was carrying was struck by lightning. Haskins says that he seemed to be enveloped in a ball of flame. His legs and arms are still numb from the effects of the shock.

Story of the Perfumes.

Persia saw the earliest development of the perfume industry. The priests in Egypt, who were the sole depositaries of science, knew the secret of aromatic substances and prepared them. Egyptian perfumes acquired great celebrity, especially those made in Alexandria. The Israelites during their sojourn in Egypt adopted the use of aromatic substances. All these perfumes were extracted from essences of trees and various plants. The Greeks, who loved elegance, were especially addicted to the use of perfumes, and they taught their secrets and usage to the Romans. The latter, in the days of their decadence went so far as to scent the coats of their dogs. In the middle ages the Arabs, Venetians, Genoese and Florentines became famous for the preparation of sweet smelling essences. France did not become acquainted with perfumes until after the crusades, and it was Maria de' Medici who especially brought them into favor.

Expert Pistol Shooting.

At short range an expert will keep a can moving until his gun is empty, either by shooting through it or striking the ground directly underneath it. If the nature of the ground is right this latter method makes the can jump in the air, the effect being quite spectacular. Bottles or cans thrown in the air are not particularly difficult to hit if thrown so as to make it as easy as possible for the shooter, and almost any fair shot can put two bullets through an old hat thrown in the air before it reaches the ground.

In general the secret of hitting objects thrown in the air is to aim the pistol underneath them and fire as the object is falling into the line of sight. One really good at this class of work will throw an object into the air, draw his pistol from the holster with the same hand with which he threw and hit the object before it reaches the ground. There are few who have the speed to do this, however.—Outing.

The Presidential Succession.

The presidential succession is fixed by chapter 4 of the acts of the Forty-ninth congress, first session. In case of removal, death, resignation or inability of both the president and the vice president the secretary of state shall act as president until the disability of the president or vice president is removed or a president is elected. If there be no secretary of state, then the secretary of the treasury will act and the remainder of the order of succession is as follows: The secretary of war, attorney general, postmaster general, secretary of the navy and secretary of the interior. The acting president must, upon taking office, convene congress, if not at that time in session, in extraordinary session, giving twenty days' notice. This act applies only to such cabinet officers as shall have been confirmed by the senate and are eligible under the constitution to the presidency.

Grand Sport.

"Awfully sorry, old chap," said the host, greeting his guest, who had arrived for a week end with the guns, "but I shan't be able to come out today. However, a sportsman like you'll be able to get on by yourself. 'Ere's a gun and 'ere's a bag o' ferrets. Keep well in the wood, and you ought to have plenty of sport."

So away went the cockney sportsman, gloriously arrayed in glaring leggings, deer stalker and Norfolk jacket.

At about umpty-um p. m. the mighty hunter returned.

"Well, 'ow'd you get on, ole chap?" asked his host.

"Oh, grand! Capital sport! Got any more?"

"Any more what?"

"Why, any more of those squirrel things you gave me in that bag. I've shot that lot."—London Mail.

Cat Mint Courage.

The peculiar virtue of cat mint, one of the ten varieties of mint, is probably unknown to town bred folk. "The root, when chewed," says Mrs. F. A. Bardswell in the Herb Garden, "is said to make the most gentle person fierce and quarrelsome, and a legend is extant of a certain hangman who could never screw up his courage to the point of hanging till he had partaken of it."

A Sauce For His Meals.

China's Altar of Heaven.

There is no altar on earth which vies in marble majesty with the Altar of Heaven—Tien Tan—in the south of the Chinese city of Peking, which Emperor Yung Le of the Ming dynasty reared in A. D. 1420, with its triple balustrades, stairs and platforms of pure white marble carved miraculously, its great circle covering a wide area in the midst of a vast inclosure. Standing alone, deserted under the blue Chinese sky, it is a dream of majesty and beauty. As the great setting of a scene of ritual pomp that calls for thousands and thousands of robed celebrants with music, incense, sacrifice, it is transcendently imposing and impressing. There the emperor knelt once a year and worshiped "the only being in the universe he could look up to"—Shang Ti—the emperor of the world above, whose court was in the sky and the spear tips of whose soldiers were the stars.

Clever Hindu Jugglers.

It is admitted that the Hindu jugglers and acrobats are the most skillful in the world. One of the latest reports is about a performer who went through many wonderful feats perched on the top of a single bamboo stick about fifteen feet in height. The top of the stick was tied to a girdle around the waist, and a leg rest was provided by a cushion a few feet down the pole. Perched on this slender stick, he hopped and danced round in the liveliest way, accompanied by the tapping of a drum. He did other things even more wonderful. For example, he balanced a light stick on his nose and a heavy one on his chin and then threw the heavy one into the air with his head and caught it on the end of the light one. While balancing the two sticks thus end on end he made one revolve in one direction and the other in another direction.

Hollanders and Herrings.

Holland can claim the honor of having first established herring fisheries and taught its people the very great nutritious value of this fish. A Dutchman, Wilhelm Benkelszoon, discovered the secret of preserving herrings in the fourteenth century, and the salted herring made its appearance on the market in precisely the same manner as it now does, for the preserving process has undergone no marked change. Your Dutch fisherman is an expert at his job and can manage as many as 1,200 fish in an hour, working at top speed. He ties a short knife to the third and fourth fingers of his right hand by a string, which is attached to the handle of the knife. He thrusts it through the gill cavities and, with a sharp cut, brings away the gills, heart, gullet and pectoral fins of the unfortunate herring.

"Pray Before Being Married."

Here is a Russian proverb that might be made good use of. It certainly would dispel a multitude of sorrows, especially the last one, which would prevent many hasty marriages and relieve the courts of many divorce cases. It takes matrimony out of the pale of whims and makes a divine consideration of it. The proverb runs this way:

"If you go to war, pray; if you go on a sea journey, pray twice, but pray three times if you are going to be married."

Good advice, all of it. There is too much that is hysterical in the matrimonial venture, and a little praying will tend to relieve the mind.—Ohio State Journal.

Homemade Bath Sponge.

Here is a small economy for cleanliness and comfort in the bath, says the Popular Science Monthly. As is well known, large sponges soon break up and become useless, and, again, they are subject to being clogged up by impurities which are now recognized to be due to microbe growth within the sponge. This is difficult to remedy in the case of a large sponge. A new idea is to assemble small pieces of sponge in a bag so as to give about the same shape as an original large sponge. The bag can be made of Turkish toweling or any suitable material. Thus all small pieces of sponge can be utilized and can be kept clean easily.

AIMING HIGHER.

Sad will be the day for any man when he becomes contented with the thoughts he is thinking and the deeds he is doing—when there is not forever beating at the doors of his soul some great desire to do something larger which he knows that he was meant and made to do.—Phillips Brooks.

SWISS APPROVE WILSON'S NOTE

Little Republic Sends Appeal to Warring Powers.

OFFERS TO HELP END WAR

President's Peace Move Endorsed and Willingness to Aid U. S. in Undertaking Expressed—Describes Its Own Position as Sufferer and Witness of Sufferings of Others.

Washington, Dec. 25.—Switzerland, in a note to all of the warring powers, has announced its support of President Wilson's appeal for a discussion of peace terms, saying it "would consider itself happy if it could act in any way, no matter how modest, for the approachement of the peoples now engaged in the struggle, and for a lasting peace."

The note was sent to the belligerents Friday by the Swiss federal council, and Dr. Paul Ritter, minister of Switzerland here, presented a copy to the state department Saturday. Secretary Lansing made it public Sunday night.

Text of Swiss Note.

The translation text follows:

"The President of the United States of America, with whom the Swiss federal council, guided by its warm desire that the hostilities may soon come to an end, has for a considerable time been in touch, had the kindness to apprise the federal council of the peace note sent to the governments of the central and entente powers.

"In this note President Wilson discusses the great desirability of international agreements for the purpose of avoiding more effectively and permanently the occurrence of catastrophes such as the one under which the peoples are suffering today. In this connection he lays particular stress on the necessity for bringing about the end of the present war.

"Without making peace proposals himself or offering mediation he confines himself to sounding as to whether mankind may hope to have approached the haven of peace.

Offer to Act for Peace.

"The most meritorious personal initiative of President Wilson will find a mighty echo in Switzerland. True to the obligations arising from observing the strictest neutrality, united by the same friendship with the states of both warring groups of powers, situated like an island amidst the seething waves of the terrible world war, with its ideal and material interests more sensibly jeopardized and violated, our country is filled with a deep longing for peace, and ready to assist by its small means to stop the endless sufferings caused by the war and brought before its eyes by daily contact with the interned, the severely wounded and those expelled and to establish the foundations for a beneficial co-operation of the peoples.

"The Swiss federal council is therefore glad to seize the opportunity to support the efforts of the President of the United States. It would consider itself happy if it could act in any way, no matter how modest, for the reapproachment of the people now engaged in the struggle and for reaching a lasting peace."

GIRL HUGS LLOYD GEORGE

But She Is His Niece and Works as Chauffeur.

London, Dec. 25.—A motor car, with a khaki-clad girl, a member of one of the women's corps, at the wheel was standing outside the war office, while its occupant was making a call there. A group of cabinet ministers emerged from the building. The fair chauffeur sprang from the car and, to the astonishment of his companions, affectionately embraced the new premier, David Lloyd George.

It was his niece, who is using her skill at driving as her share toward the war effort.

14 HURT IN OMAHA WRECK

Burlington Passenger Train Collides With Freight.

Omaha, Neb., Dec. 25.—Fourteen persons were injured when Burlington passenger train No. 15, north bound, collided with a freight train south of the city. The seriously hurt were:

E. P. Stewart, aged forty, Plattsmouth, Neb., skull fractured; Faye Cobb, aged fourteen, high-school student, Plattsmouth, probable fracture of the skull.

Insurance Policies as Gifts.

Kenosha, Wis., Dec. 25.—The First National bank of Kenosha gave an unique Christmas present to the twenty-four men and women employed by that institution when all of them were presented with insurance policies on their life, the premiums paid by the company and the future payment of them assumed by the bank.

Alabama Papers Raise Price.

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 25.—The Birmingham News and the Ledger, afternoon papers, announced that effective Jan. 1 their yearly subscription rates will be advanced $1 because of the increased cost of news print paper. The Birmingham Age-Herald also has increased its subscription price.

Flopping to Earth.

A Glenwood avenue man who raises chickens was entertaining a friend.

"You have a nice little place here."

"So I think myself."

"A nice garden."

"Yep."

"And some fine chickens."

"Especially the chickens."

"You like them best?"

"Yes, indeed. I tell you it is fine to take a basket every morning and go out after eggs."

The Glenwood avenue man's little girl, who had been listening, took the wind out of her father's sails with the observation:

"Yes, sir, and sometimes we get some too."—Oakland (Cal.) Tribune.

TEUTONS FIGHT IN BESSARABIA

German Report Shows Mackensen Has Gained Frontier.

RUSS GAIN IN CARPATHIANS

Berlin's Statement Says Teutonic Army Has Begun Bombardment of Iswail on North Bank of Danube Beyond Tulcea—British Attack in West Repulsed.

Berlin, Dec. 25.—Field Marshal von Mackensen's army has gained the frontier of Bessarabia. The Bessarabian town of Iswail on the northern bank of Danube, opposite Tulcea, is under the fire of German guns.

Although the official dispatches go no further than the announcement that the northern bank of the Danube is being bombarded, Berlin believes a crossing has been effected and that already German troops are on Bessarabian soil—the first step toward von Mackensen's next objective—Odessa.

German Official Report.

German official statement on the fighting in Roumania and the Dobrudja follows:

"In the snow-covered Carpathian forest the artillery fire was temporarily increased in the Ludova and Kirlibaba sectors. North of the Uz valley the Russians again launched an attack. After one unsuccessful advance they gained a footing on the ridge of Magyaros.

"Army group of Field Marshal von Mackensen—By the operations of our Dobrudja army the enemy has been pushed into the northwestern corner of the country.

"The northern bank of the Danube on both sides of Tulcea is under the fire of our cannons."

British Attack Halted.

Berlin, Dec. 25.—An attack by British detachments on the German lines in the Ypres salient in the early morning was repulsed, army headquarters announced.

KRIS KRINGLE IS NOW A JAP

Flowery Kingdom Supplants Germany as Maker of Toys.

New York, Dec. 25.—That the war has changed the nationality of Santa Claus from German to Japanese, is made evident by the predominance of Japanese toys in the shops here. "Made in Japan" has taken the place of "Made in Germany."

When the Japanese steamship Wakasa Maru nosed her way into New York harbor after a 16,000-mile journey around the Cape of Good Hope, in order to dodge the submarines of the Teutonic nations, it was loaded with toys. There were Geisha girls, marvellous carved elephants, dolls, mechanical roosters, which eat corn out of a bucket, and no end of new and original playthings. The Japanese have been studying the toy market and have taken advantage of the international combat to bring toymaking up to the usual Oriental perfection, and they will make a strong bid for the toy market even after the war.

$1,000 FOR RIDE WITH NEGRO

Woman Gets Verdict for "Offense" Committed in Pennsylvania.

Jackson, Miss., Dec. 25.—Mrs. Betty Norton, of this city, has just been awarded a verdict of $1,000 because she had to sleep in the same coach with a negro.

Mrs. Norton boarded a train at Philadelphia en route to Memphis. A negro had engaged a berth in the same sleeper. Mrs. Norton protested, but the negro was permitted to remain in the coach. The supreme court held that the special coach law is binding on the Southern railway in all states where the line runs, except Illinois and Indiana.

WOULD TONE DOWN FUNERALS

Evangelical Ministers Ask That Some of Splendor Be Cut Out.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 25.—Elimination of professional or paid singers and a general toning down in the splendor of funerals of the dead is urged by the Evangelical Ministers' association of Atlanta. The association adopted resolutions asking that funerals be held on some day other than Sunday where possible, and that lengthy funeral sermons be cut down to a few words. Part of the resolutions read: "We urge upon all people the need form of utter simplicity in all things pertaining to the burial of the dead."

Bandit Jumps Through Car Window.

Sioux City, Ia., Dec. 25.—A bandit held up the passengers in the smoking car of Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul train No. 3 from Chicago as it was entering the yards here. The bandit escaped with $10 in cash after shots had been exchanged with passengers and he had leaped through a window while the passenger train was in motion.

Float Grounded Ship.

Norfolk, Va., Dec. 25.—The Norwegian steamer Kronstadt that grounded off Cape Henry was floated uninjured and came in the capes.

20 Injured in Car Crash.

Kansas City, Dec. 25.—More than twenty persons were injured here when three street cars on Troost avenue crashed together as the result of the brakes of one of the coaches failing to hold while going down hill.

Earthquake Registered at Georgetown.

Washington, Dec. 25.—A slight earthquake shock lasting from 4:35 until after 5 o'clock was registered on the seismograph at Georgetown university. It apparently was about 4,600 miles distant.

NOTE CONFUSES GERMAN PRESS

Comments Based on Excerpts and Lansing's Explanation.

GRAVE MISTAKE, PARIS SAYS

French Newspapers and Commentators Declare President Wilson Has Missed the Entire Moral Side of Question—They Can't Understand How He Can Put All on Equal Footing.

Berlin, Dec. 25.—The first interpretation by the German press of President Wilson's note was somewhat confused, according to the Overseas News agency, by the fact that Saturday's comments were based on short excerpts from the document. These, as the Hamburger Fremdenblatt points out, were carefully selected and diligently cabled by the Reuter agency. Moreover, Reuter at the same time cabled Secretary Lansing's remarks, of which, however, nobody in Germany knows whether they were made as quoted or transmitted in a distorted form.

Misses Moral Side, Paris.

Paris, Dec. 25.—French newspapers, discussing President Wilson's peace note deplore the fact that it comes so close upon the heels of the German peace proposals but declare that no one doubts the President's sincerity or faithful purpose. However, the general tone of the comments is one of deep regret that the President has missed the moral side of the war.

President Wilson's apparent inability to distinguish between the moral attitude, aims and ideas of the combatants has deeply hurt the French. They declare his document puts the executioner and victim on the same plane.

The Petit Parisian says:

"Everyone who knows President Wilson knew that he would seize the first opportunity to try to mediate.

"What decided him at this time has been a combination of his humanitarian sentiments and the fact that America is suffering through the war. Without doubt it was to German threats that Secretary Lansing was replying when he said America was on the verge of war, but before being drawn in Wilson wanted to sound the belligerents to see if peace were possible."

MELTING UP CHINESE COIN

Japs Are Utilizing Copper Pieces for Commercial Purposes.

San Francisco, Dec. 25.—Chinese "cash," the round coins with a square hole in the middle, may soon be a thing of the past in China. The Japanese are buying them up for the copper they contain.

News of the impending disappearance of this cheap coin was sent by Consul General George E. Anderson, of Hong Kong, who sees in the scarcity of "cash" much difficulty among the Chinese in doing business.

CRIME DROPS FIRST YEAR OF PROHIBITION

Denver Statistics Show Remarkable Falling Off.

Denver, Col., Dec. 25.—Prohibition has operated to reduce crime in Denver between thirty and fifty per cent in the year that is now closing, according to figures made public by chief of Police Hamilton Armstrong.

The decrease is particularly noticeable as regards drunkeness, disturbance and vagrancy, three causes which contribute heavily to the number of arrests before the dry law was enacted.

The number of arrests for the entire year are expected to fall just short of an even 10,000, as compared with 13,769 in 1915.

Following are the figures showing decrease for eleven months for the three principal offenses:

Drunkenness, 1,811; disturbance, 336; vagrancy, 2,294.

What the police refer to as the "major crimes," including murder, burglary, highway robbery and forgery, also have shown a decided decrease.

Englishwomen Carpenters.

London, Dec. 25.—After training as carpenters, English women are to go to the front to erect defenses. Messrs. Tarrant British government contractors, state that they have received permission to send to France as many women carpenters as they can get, and they hoped to train two or three hundred.

$20,000 Church Burned.

Pana, Ill., Dec. 25.—The First Presbyterian church of Pana erected forty years ago at a cost of $20,000 with furnishings was destroyed by fire. The insurance was $6,000. Cross circuit electric wires are believed to have set fire to the Christmas decorations.

SHERIFFS AID MOONSHINERS

U. S. Revenue Officer Says They Often Protect Illicit Stills.

Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 25.—E. C. Yellowley, internal revenue agent in charge of the Atlanta district, charges that county sheriffs do not co-operate with revenue agents in running down moonshiners. All too often the moonshiner is protected by the county officials.

In those counties where Federal revenue agents have the co-operation of the sheriff and his deputies moonshining is almost unknown. In other counties, where the local officials wink at the illicit manufacture of whisky, moonshine stills are running almost night and day. Mr. Yellowley declares some sheriffs laugh at requests of the revenue officers for assistance.

VILLA IS OPERATING OWN MONEY FACTORY

Bandit Chief Fails to Occupy Chihuahua City.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 25.—Fighting has died down around Chihuahua City. Advices received here are that Salazer defeated General Murguia's defenders south of the capital, but did not occupy the town because of the smallness of his force and the fact that Villa's reinforcements had not arrived.

Although details from Torreon are unavailable, it is doubtless true that Villa is in full control.

Villa has established a small mint at San Andreas and now is coining pesos with which to pay his men. Speculators all along the border are eagerly waiting to buy up Villa coins for $2.10 gold.

FINDS NEW CHEAP MEAL DISH

Six Can Have Italian Preparation for 9½ Cents.

New York, Dec. 25.—A dish said to be scientifically as nourishing as meat has just been prepared for the pupils of the School of Modern Cookery under the direction of Miss Emma Hanko. It cost nine and one-half cents and was described as "ample for six persons." It was the mixture of cornmeal and cheese known to Italians as polenta. The recipe was:

One cup of cornmeal, three cups of water, one cup of grated cheese, one teaspoon of salt and one-half a teaspoon of pepper. To the boiled meal is added the cheese and the product is fried in fact.

TO PENSION OLD EMPLOYES

January 1st, Fairbanks, Morse & Co. Will Inaugurate System.

Beloit, Wis., Dec. 25.—Effective January 1 Fairbanks, Morse & Co., of Chicago, will inaugurate a pension system for employes of twenty years service. They will receive from $300 to $600 annually. The company shops at Beloit, Indianapolis and Three Rivers, Mich., will be included in the arrangements.

The company also announces that it will issue preferred stock to employes.

Paper Cost Causes Suspension.

St. Charles, Mo., Dec. 25.—The high cost of print paper was given as reason for the suspension after Jan 1 of the Demokrat, local German daily, one of the oldest in the state. Colonel J. H. Bode has been publishing the Demokrat since 1867.

Raises Freight Embargo.

Galveston, Dec. 25.—The Morgan Steamship line on Dec. 27 will raise its embargo on northbound freight.

AUSTRIA WILL SEIZE JEWELRY AT BORDER

Tourists Warned Not to Come Close with Valuables.

Vienna, Dec. 25.—A law prohibiting the importation into Austria-Hungary of all articles of luxury has become effective.

The list includes southern fruits, champagne, chocolate, high priced textiles, such as silks and half-silk garments, furs, toys, jewelry, musical instruments and perfumery. The intent of the law is to prevent the outgo of money to foreign countries and cause improved exchange rates.

Travelers to Austria-Hungary are warned not to wear jewelry, which will be confiscated at the border.

SLEW FATHER; IS ACQUITTED

Fremont Carey Is Freed by Vincennes, Ind., Jury.

Vincennes, Ind., Dec. 25.—Fremont Carey, on trial for five days on a charge of killing his father, James Carey, was acquitted by the jury after twelve hours' deliberation. Carey pleaded self-defense.

Shackleton Sails for Antarctic.

Dunedin, New Zealand, Dec. 25.—Sir Ernest Shackleton, the explorer, sailed from Port Chalmers for the Antarctic on board his auxiliary ship, the Aurora, in an effort to rescue the members of his antarctic expedition marooned near the Ross barrier.

He Was Not Laconic.

John Morley in his life of Gladstone tells the story of the statesman's examination for admission to Oxford university when he was a youth. The examiner, having utterly failed to floor the candidate on some point of theology, said, "We will now leave that part of the subject." "No, sir," replied the candidate, "if you please, we will not leave it yet," and proceeded to pour forth a fresh stream. The dean in Mr. Gladstone's day was Gaisford, famous among other things for his trenchant brevity. "This laconic gift," observes Mr. Morley slyly, "the dean evidently had not time to transmit to all of his flock."

Even the man who is a dreamer attracts attention—when he snores.

Holiday Suggestions.

Along about this time of the year the Holiday gift suggestions begin piling up on the average man from all the corners of the earth. I'ts a trying season, this period that precedes the joy of Yuletide. And the most bothersome part about it is the fact that a big lot of these suggestions really need your consideration; otherwise, when the moment for buying arrives, you—well, you'll be just like the average man—no idea what to get!

What do you say to a new scheme this year—a little plan for the elimination of nearly all the "Christmas considerations" but one.

Entered in the postoffice at Tecumseh, Mich., second class mail matter.

Telephone Number 36.

City delivery service is now assured us, to begin promptly on January 2nd. A great many of our people will welcome this service and a great many express themselves against it, claiming that it is not at all necessary. It may not be necessary and Tecumseh may have been able to get along without it for years without any serious inconvenience to many, but there are many who will be greatly benefited by the service. It will bring the postoffice to them and do away with the necessity of making trips in all kinds of weather to the office for the mail. Why not have it if it is due us?

There is one feature of the service as planned, however, that is decidedly wrong. As mapped out by the government inspector, the citizens of Brownville are cut off without it. We did not expect that outlying sections where there were no sidewalks would be included, but it is all wrong to cut Mill street off when a sidewalk extends from the railroad track to the Brownville bridge. The people living along this street are, in our mind, just as much entitled to the service as those living along Chicago street. This section is all inside of the corporation limits.

"Uncle Sam tries to let them down very carefully, however, for they say that persons living on Mill and Brown streets may receive mail service by Rural Carrier No. 2 and possibly later afternoon service may be extended to them by city carrier. The Brown street folks have got to decorate the corner of Mill and Brown streets with rural boxes if they get any service at all. The people living in this section of town should make the department miserable until they are given the same service the rest of the town receives. Is it fair?

Be Yourself.

Insist on yourself; never imitate. Your own gift you can present every moment with the cumulative force of a whole life's cultivation, but of the adopted talent of another you have only an extemporaneous half possession. That which each can do best none but his Maker can teach him. Where is the master who could have taught Shakespeare? Where is the master who could have instructed Franklin or Washington or Bacon or Newton? Every great man is unique. Do that which is assigned to you and you cannot hope too much or dare too much.—Emerson.

DOING GOOD DEEDS.

Do a good deed every day. Each ray of light from a distant star has been traveling on through the ether for hundreds of years. Yet it still remains pure and strong enough to affect the negative plate of the astronomer's camera. So with a good deed. Set it going and who knows the end of it? Not the world of this century or the next, for its influence will travel on for ages to come.

HAPPINESS.

"I am sometimes accused of being too optimistic, but I have never denied the troubles and sorrows of life. I never said that men are happy, but only that they might be; that if they are not so the fault is generally their own; that most of us throw away more happiness than we enjoy."

Huxley on Men.

Professor Huxley once wrote to Mrs. W. K. Clifford about men, "They are very queer animals—a mixture of horse nervousness, ass stubbornness and camel malice, with an angel bobbing about unexpectedly like the apple in the posset, and when they can do exactly as they please they are very hard to drive."

Realistic.

The Author—Well, how did you like my play?

The Critic—Oh, it was very nice.

The Author—Didn't you think the church scene realistic?

The Critic—Intensely so. Why, a great many of us actually went to sleep while it was on.—London Tit-Bits.

Loss of $10,000 in Dye Fire.

QUINCY, ILL., Dec. 11.

Fire destroyed the acid room of the Monroe Dye Works at Quincy, causing a loss of more than $10,000. The plant had been in operation two weeks.

Proof of It.

Mrs. Dresser—But, George, you surely don't consider yourself a financier? Mr. Dresser—Certainly I do. How do you suppose I've kept from paying your milliner's bill for so long if I'm not a financier?

Courtless.

"I was reading the other day where a scientist found over 10,000,000 germs on a single dollar bill."

"Gee whiz! I wonder how many he could find on a hundred dollar bill?"—New York World.

Not Extinct.

"Fine ladies 100 years ago used to suffer from the vapors, a mythical malady."

"I'm still treating 'em under various scientific names," said the fashionable physician.—Pittsburgh Post.

Traced Back.

"When Jupiter's head ached he called Vulcan to cure it by cutting it open with an ax."

"He must have had the first splitting headache on record."—Baltimore American.

Sardinia Gives Name, but No Fish.

We get the word "sardine" from Sardinia, but we get few sardines, says the National Geographic Magazine, for practically all of this "catch" is consumed locally. The tunny fisheries of the island, on the other hand, are important and profitable. The Genoese control the latter industry, for the Sardinians are not a maritime folk.

Important Question.

"George, dear," began a bride while on the way to the station for the honeymoon, "I want you to answer me just one question, and then I shall feel sure of you. "What is it, darling?" "If you knew that I loved you as much as you love me would you love me as much as I love you?"—Exchange.

In the Bible.

Biblical mention is made of nineteen different precious stones, six metals, 104 trees and plants, thirty-five animals, thirty-nine birds, six fishes, eleven reptiles, twenty insects and other smaller creatures.—London Telegraph.

REV. A. E. BENTLEY

Accepts a Call to St. Peters Church Tecumseh and St. Johns Church Clinton

Will Probably Reside in Tecumseh.

Rev. Albert E. Bentley, rector of Zion church, Douglaston, N. Y., in a letter recently received by Chas. F. Patterson, stated that he would accept the call to St. Peter's church, Tecumseh, and St. John's church, Clinton, providing the vestries of the two churches would concede a few minor points and that he had called his vestry together and had placed before them his resignation. We understand that the vestries of the two churches have complied with his requests and have sent word to that effect to the Rev. Bentley.

Rev. Bentley was here a short time ago and preached to the united congregations of St. John's and St. Peter's churches and after the service a reception was given him and his wife in the parish house. He left a very favorable impression upon the members of the two parishes and they were also very much pleased with Mrs. Bentley.

Rev. Bentley is about 45 years of age just in the prime of life. He has one daughter. Mrs. Bentley's father and mother are also members of the family.

There is much rivalry between the two churches as to which town will be the residence of the new rector, but we have received information from reliable sources that Rev. and Mrs. Bentley will reside in Tecumseh.

BIDS WANTED

For the Erection of School Building at Tecumseh Michigan

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that sealed bids for the construction of a schoolhouse in School District Number 7, Township of Tecumseh, County of Lenawee and State of Michigan, will be received at the office of Charles F. Patterson, secretary of the Board of Education of said District, at the Village of Tecumseh, until two o'clock p. m. on the 3rd day of January, A. D., 1917.

Said building to be built in accordance with plans and specifications now on file at the office of M. M. Stophlet, Nasby Building, Toledo, Ohio.

All Proposals shall be accompanied by certified check for the sum of Five Per Cent. of the amouut of the bid, to be made payable to said Board of Education, as guarantee to enter into contract, furnish satisfactory bond for the faithful performance of said contract, and the giving of the bond for the protection of sub-contractors, laborers and material men, as required in the Statutes of Michigan.

The Board reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bills.

CHARLES F. PATTERSON,
Secretary of the Board of Education.

The Ballot.

Secret voting was exercised by the ancient Greeks and Romans. Ballot boxes were used in electing aldermen in London in 1526. First instance of the employment of the ballot in American elections was in the choice of a pastor by the Salem (Mass.) church on July 20, 1629. In 1634 it began to be used in the elections of governors of Massachusetts.

The Rose In History.

Every continent on the globe, with the exception of Australia, produces wild roses. There can be little doubt that the rose is one of the earth's oldest flowers. In Egypt it is depicted on a number of very early monuments, believed to date from 3500 to 3000 B. C. Rose water, or the essence of roses, is mentioned by Homer in the "Iliad," and the allusion made to the flower in the Proverbs of Solomon indicates that it was well known to the early Israelites.

Only an Empty Phrase.

Intelligent Firstborn—Have you ever noticed, daddy, how often mamma uses the expression "And so on, and so on?" Father—Yes, my dear, but I am sorry to say that it does not apply to my buttons.—Stray Stories.

Only the Boys?

A father of four boys has discovered that different sounds travel with different velocity. A call to dinner, he says, will carry over a ten acre field in a minute and a half, while a summons to return to work takes from five to eight minutes.

Three He Knew Of.

Bacon—How many languages does your wife speak? Egbert—Three—near English, baby talk and bridge whist.—Yonkers Statesman.

Yesterday is dead—forget it. Tomorrow does not exist—don't worry. Today is here—use it.—Don Broecklin.

CITY DELIVERY SERVICE

City delivery service will be established promptly on January 2nd. It will include all of the city except houses in the outlying sections where there are no sidewalks and except that service will not be extended to Mill Street and Brown Street at present. Persons living on the two latter streets can receive mail service by Rural Carrier No. 2, leaving the postoffice at 8 a. m. and, if possible, later they will be given afternoon service by city carrier. Residents of Brown Street can erect boxes for rural carrier service at the corner of Mill and Brown Streets.

Residents in the outskirts where there are no sidewalks and where the service will not be extended may receive service upon erecting boxes at the nearest point on carrier's route.

Offices and families on the second floor of business blocks should erect mail receptacles in the hallway at the street landing. No deliveries will be made to any residences that are not supplied with either mail receptacles or slots in the front doors.

Mail receptacles should be erected as near the front steps as possible, preferably on the inside of a front porch post.

Business houses that do not erect mail receptacles should arrange for a convenient place just inside the front door for the deposit of mail.

At the commencement there will be two general deliveries all over the city and two additional deliveries in the business section in the center of the town.

The carriers will leave the office as near as possible on the following schedule: First general delivery, 8:30 a. m.; business delivery only, 11:55 a. m.; second general delivery, 1:35 p. m.; business delivery only, 4:35 p. m.

Owing to a shortage in collection boxes it will be impossible to place any in service for several months. Carriers will accept mail handed to them and will also collect it from the outside of mail boxes where they have delivery to make.

CHRISTMAS

Christmas morning dawned bright and beautiful, and all nature responded to its charm.

One of the sweetest happenings of the early dawn was the band of singers that sang Christmas Carols from door to door. "Hark the Herald Angels sing, Glory to our New born King" and other hymns rang out upon the morning breeze, bringing with it, comfort and good cheer to all who heard sleigh loads and auto loads of men, women, and children went North, South, East or West for a family gathering of the dear ones and loving wishes for a Merry Christmas were heard from everyone.

Though many hearts were filled with sorrow, yet, this the birthday of our Savior lightened up the gloom with its radience, and its promise of future joy and peace with Him in the Home Above. Hail Christmas, may ever one rejoice and sing.

For unto us is born this day
A son in Davids line
A Savior who is Christ the Lord"

The Best Philanthropy.

Be sure that you give the poor the aid they most need, though it be your example which leaves them far behind. If you give money, spend yourself with it and do not merely abandon it to them. We make curious mistakes sometimes. Often the poor man is not so cold and hungry as he is dirty and ragged and gross. * * * There are a thousand hacking at the branches of evil to one who is striking at the root, and it may be that he who bestows the largest amount of time and money on the needy is doing the most by his mode of life to produce that misery which he strives in vain to relieve.—Thoreau.

Still a Secret.

Mrs. Judkins was endeavoring to console her young married daughter, who was weeping over her husband's shortcomings. "What could I do, my dear? I married you to Septimus because he vowed he had the secret of making you happy."

"True, m-m-mamma. It was a se-se-se-secret, and he k-k-k-k-kept it!"

Talking and Listening.

Probably it would be better for every one of us if we listened more and talked less. Some need the advice more than others, but there are few that could not profit by it. With most people listening is a good deal a matter of bargain. We let others tell us their troubles and interests and experiences so that we may have a decent excuse for telling them ours.—Exchange.

Family Secrets.

Mrs. Youngwed—There is one queer thing I can't understand about Charley when he knows how anxious I am to meet all his relations. Mrs. Oldwife—What is that, my dear? Mrs. Youngwed—He always puts me off when I want to meet the nice uncle he is continually getting money from.—Baltimore American.

A Monastery Fortress.

The most strongly fortified monastery in the world is at Solovetsk, in Archangel, Russia. This monastery is inclosed on every side by a wall of granite bowlders and is nearly a mile in circumference. The monastery itself is very strongly fortified, being supported by round and square towers about thirty feet high, with walls twenty feet thick.

She Was Too.

The book canvasser advanced toward the door. Mrs. Flinn stood in the doorway with a huge stick in her hand and an ugly frown on her face.

"Good morning," said the stranger politely. "I'm looking for Mr. Flinn."

"So'm I!" announced Mrs. Flinn, getting a grip on her weapon.—London Answers.

Dramatic Note.

Editor—How's this? You say Dasher's new play is a success, and all of the other papers roast it.

Critic—Well, I couldn't think up a cynical epigram, so I had to praise the thing.—Puck.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

A most delightful Christmas Party was held Christmas evening at Witherell's hall about thirty-five couple being present. The hall was nicely decorated in the Christmas colors making it a bower of beauty. The many colored gowns worn by the ladies added to the charming scene. The ladies orchestra from Toledo were at their best and the merry dancers showed their appreciation by dancing until a late hour. A dainty luncheon was served at 9:30 small tables being scattered through the hall.

MR. BATTERY OWNER

Don't forget that the average life of a battery is eighteen months. A battery can be made to last for years with proper care. Bring your battery to us and let us overhaul it. There is no use to send it to Toledo and other points, as we are experts on batteries and will guarantee our work. Let us take care of your battery and store it this winter. It will only cost you 25c per month.

DEATH OF A TRAVELLING MAN IN GRAND RAPIDS.

William Walker.

Word was received today of the sudden death of Wm. Walker of Grand Rapids, a travelling salesman for Mills & Gibb of N. Y., and a business caller in Tecumseh for many years.

He was on one of his trips in Cheboygan where he slipped on the sidewalk and fell, striking the back of his head, causing concussion of the brain from which he never rallied. Mr. Walker has made many friends in Tecumseh during his many business calls and they will hear with regret of his sudden passing away.

35 YEAR AGO

Chas. T. Cummins has concluded to remain in Tecumseh and run the Cummins Carriage Factory on Railroad street. We are glad to have Charles remain with us.

TOO MUCH HOT AIR AT THE HERALD OFFICE

To cause a little excitement and to see how promptly the fire department could be in responding to a fire alarm, the Herald office put in a call this morning and had hardly put down the receiver when the department boys were shaking hands with us in just 65 seconds by actual time. An overheated stove pipe leading from the furnace to the chimney was the cause of the excitement. No damage was done, however, only a little scare.

CHRISTMAS

At the Culbertson School House.

The pupils of the Culbertson school district held their Christmas exercises at the school house last Thursday evening Dec. 31. The house was packed full and a fine program was given.

The parcel post sale created quite a little amusement and netted the school quite a neat sum of money. The entertainment was very interesting, everyone going away with a pleasing remembrance of the evening.

How To Save Money

RED BAND COAL is cheaper to use than either Hard Coal or Poçahontas. This has been proved time after time during the past spell of cold weather.

True it costs more than some coals; so does woolen goods cost more than cotton, the difference is the same with RED BAND over other coals.

It gives out steady lasting heat with few ashes or clinkers. Any test you may give it will convince you it gives out more heat per ton than any other coal.

TIRED OF LIFE
Constant Backache and Rheumatism

Foley Kidney Pills fixed up Texas brakeman so he's good as ever.

Almost down and out with kidney trouble. Rheumatism so bad he could scarcely get up when he sat down. Back ached all the time.

No wonder Mr. F. A. Wooley, brakeman on the road from Dallas to Jackson, Texas, "was tired of living."

"I saw Foley Kidney Pills advertised," he said, "I took some and after a short time I was thoroughly cured and am having no more trouble."

Your kidney ills will disappear—and with them the backache and rheumatism, by the use of Foley's Kidney Pills. Once your kidneys become strong and active, aches and pains will disappear like magic.

There's nothing to equal the genuine. Will help any case of kidney or bladder trouble not beyond the reach of medicines. Contain no harmful drugs. Try them.

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE

Tecumseh People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are many. Disordered kidneys often excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back may ache, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighted down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger. Delay often proves fatal. You can use no better endorsed kidney remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Tecumseh proof of their merit.

Dell Hubbard, E. Chicago St., Tecumseh, says: "Kidney complaint had troubled me for a long time. My back ached and I was sore and lame. I could do no stooping or lifting work and my kidneys acted irregularly. A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills and I bought some at Wright & Son's Drug store. They soon strengthened my back and rid me of all sighns of kidney complaine."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Hubbard had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

THE RIVAL PREMIERS

Bethmann-Hollweg and Lloyd-George.

Photos by American Press Association.

The German chancellor was the first to suggest peace as spokesman for the Teutonic allies, while Lloyd-George, voicing the sentiment of the entente powers, has authoritatively rejected the suggestion as made.

NOT YET DONE WITH GREECE

Allies Demand That Amends Must Be Made for Assaults.

PARIS — The firing at Athens diminished during the night and now has ceased, says a Havas dispatch from that city. The entente troops have been sent back from Athens to Piraeus.

The Greek government has offered six mountain batteries to Vice Admiral Du Fournet, but the entente ministers have received instructions that it is no longer merely a question of the cession of war materials, but a far more serious question, and that reparation must be made corresponding with the gravity of the assault on the allied troops. An embargo has been placed on all Greek shipping in French and other ports of the entente allies in consequence of the recent events in Athens.

Circulating Libraries.

Long before the Revolution a young printer in Philadelphia when he had taken off his working apron at night used to sit poring over his dozen of old volumes by firelight. He soon knew them by heart and hungered for more. But books were costly, and he had but little money. He had eight or ten cronies, young men who, like himself, were eager for knowledge. Ranging his books on a shelf, he invited his friends to do the same, that each of them might have the benefit of them all. Ben Franklin thus laid the foundation of the first circulating library in this country.

Too Much Excitement.

"You say your cook has quit?"

"Yes."

"What was the trouble?"

"She wanted Saturdays off."

"You might have conceded that much."

"I was willing, but it often required two or three days for her to recuperate."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Dead Reckoning.

Dead reckoning is a term in navigation to express the estimation that is made of a ship's position without having recourse to observation of the celestial bodies. It is made by observing the way she makes by the log and the course on which she has been steered, making allowance for drift, leeway, etc.

The Charm Worked.

"The ancients treated diseases with charms and trinkets."

"Why not?"

"Can there be any medical virtue in such?"

"I've known a new bracelet to get my wife quickly over what appeared to be a very sick spell."—Kansas City Journal.

Soap Eaters.

Crust throwers, those strangely clever beggars who carry dry bread, throw it into the streets at the psychological moment and hurl themselves on it with wild cries—object, sympathy and alms—have rivals in the soap eaters, who are said to ruin their health by the diet for the purpose of gaining sympathy and undeserved charitable assistance. Two soap eaters recently arrested in New York were asked what ailed them, and each shoved forth a feebly held card, one reading "A victim of tuberculosis," and the other, "Help, deaf, dumb and starving." Their pockets were well lined with small silver coins.

THE EXCEPTIONS.

Some men, though careful about their health, die young, while others, though negligent of their health, live long. Yet do these instances alter the truth that taking care of oneself is the way to live long?—Kyuso.

An Abrupt Ending.

Winston Spencer Churchill, formerly British first lord of the admiralty, made a little talk at a dinner of literary men some years ago, when he was known to fame as only a young author. He began by saying, "I, like Moses, am the author of five books, but I will not pursue the parallel further."

The Tongue and Typhus.

According to P. Remlinger, quoted in the Journal of the American Medical association, an infallible method of telling whether a patient has typhoid (or paratyphoid) or the much more serious typhus is to ask him to put out his tongue. The typhoid or paratyphoid patient does it without effort, but if he has typhus he cannot get it beyond his teeth.

A Greater Attraction.

Herr Harden told of a meeting at Gastein between William I. and Francis Joseph. The Austrian sovereign commented impatiently on the too pressing attentions of the crowd. "It won't last long," returned his ally soothingly. "Bismarck will be here directly, and then no one will look at us."—London Spectator.

Most Fatal Disease.

As regards the matter of mortality the race is close between the following diseases: Consumption, heart disease, pneumonia and the various diseases of the digestive organs, with the advantage slightly in favor of consumption or tuberculosis of the lungs. Bright's disease is latterly looming as a strong competitor with tuberculosis. — New York American.

Mothers of delicate children should try Vinol."—Mrs. Gordon Jessup.

HENRY T. RAINEY

Congressman Who Warns of United States Bankruptcy.

Warning the house of a $1,650,000,000 budget for 1918 and predicting a dry nation that would further cut the revenues so that the United States would face bankruptcy, Representative Rainey of Illinois urged his fellow members to cut out the "pork" from the appropriation bills.

Named For Satan.

The places throughout the world assigned by awe or fanciful humor to the devil are numerous enough. The first gazetteer index to hand shows devil's arrow, beef tub, bend, bit, bridge, causeway, creek, ditch, dike, fork, gap, garden, glen, gulch, inkstand, island, lake, mountain, peak, point, punch bowl, quoits, river, slide, tongue, tower, track, water and wall. "And, like the other landlords, he's an absentee," says the Killarney driver as he points out the Devil's Punch Bowl.—London Spectator.

Law Against Cricket.

Until a century and a half ago England's great national pastime figured in the statute books as a crime. The game was declared illegal in the time of Edward IV., owing to its having become so popular as to interfere with archery, the then sport of kings. The law against it was vigorously enforced, and every person convicted of playing the game was fined £10 or sent to prison. It was not until the formation of the famous Hambledon club in 1750 that the statute was repealed.—Pall Mall Gazette.

The Roaming Bee.

According to a well known apiarist if a bee finds a suitable patch of flowers by following a zigzag course of exploration it will seek it again by the same devious route and not in a straight line from the nest. Thus he found that certain bees coming to visit a hollyhock in his garden always came over the wall some twenty-five yards to one side of the flower instead of directly opposite. They were following the devious route by which they had first found the flower.

Metchnikoff's Dramatic Death.

Professor Metchnikoff, says the World's Work, came to his laboratory on July 13, 1916. He did not attempt to hide his uneasiness at the weakness of his heart. He surprised his students, however, by saying as he put on his things to go home: "Tomorrow is the 14th, isn't it? So we won't work. I am afraid that this will be my last day here. I cannot last two days. I shall die tomorrow."

He died, in fact, on the 15th, and his pathetic farewell made a deep impression even on the pathology students.

Father Knew Him.

Beatrice Harvey, the heiress, had at last consented to marry a young nobleman who was financially embarrassed.

"Of course," said the young man in a lofty manner, "I can never be very intimate with your father, my dear Beatrice, he being in trade. You could scarcely expect that, but he will not be surprised to find me with some insular prejudices, will he?"

"Oh, no," replied the girl sarcastically, "nothing foolish or ill bred that you can do will surprise him in the least."—New York Times.

Hard to Kill.

Penguins have an extraordinary amount of vitality and are harder to kill than any ordinary cat. A writer once had occasion to kill a large bird aboard his ship, the Southern Cross, and, making use of the weapon next his hand, he drove a large spike squarely through the creature's head and finished the operation by nailing it fast to the deck. That seemed to make the job very complete, and he went below decks for dinner. Coming up an hour later, his astonishment was prodigious on beholding the penguin, head erect, flippers out, waddling about, apparently without a thought of the spike, which still remained transfixed in his cranium.

Bachelors and Longevity.

The question of the relative value of marriage and single blessedness in regard to long life has often engaged the attention of scientific men. [illegible] years ago [illegible] is that the twenty-five [illegible] years [illegible] mortality [illegible] is 4 in married men and 10.4 in bachelors." Statistics of that kind, I fear, are of little value when we remember that it is the man who is better off and physically strong who gets married. The cynical view of the real position is of course that the married man does not live longer—it only seems longer to him.—Westminster Gazette.

Cat Medicine.

The ancient physicians had a firm belief in the healing powers of different portions of the cat, probably from some confusion existing in their minds with regard to its nine lives. One of them gives as a valuable recipe to cure fevers two pints of water mixed with three drops of blood taken from the ear of an ass and certain parts of a cat's digestive organs.

Cruelty of a Mother.

Mrs. Jones was much perturbed by a missive she received from her sister in Boston.

"Jacob," said she to her husband as she read, "I call this downright cruel."

"What's the matter?" asked Jacob.

"Why, in this letter Mary tells me she gets help in raisin' her children from a mothers' club. I do believe in a slipper sometimes, an' a good birchin' doesn't do a child any harm, but I never used any club on my offspring!"—Exchange.

ATTAINING SUCCESS.

He who has confidence in himself will win. The first step on the ladder that leads to success is the firm determination to succeed. The next step is the possession of the moral and physical courage which will enable one to mount up, rung after rung, until the top is reached.

An Office Cushion.

If those of you who have a husband or brother or sister working in an office will go to the trouble of making a flat cushion for the chair of the worker you will find that it saves the trousers or skirt from getting shiny and also helps to retain the garment in form.—Good Housekeeping.

Very Like a Church.

It is always a delight to keep in track with the topographic notions of people in the streets. I have heard some queer things, but I put this first: They were two women, and one seemed to be showing the other the sights. As we passed Westminster abbey the novice said, "That looks like a church."

"Yes," said the other; "I think it is a church."

Yet she knew all about Big Ben, the parliament house clock.—Westminster Gazette.

London Lacks Big Buildings.

It would have been well indeed if the designers of London had had some thought of what we might want in time of war. Then we should have had such towering piles of offices as glorify or disfigure—it is a matter of taste which word you choose—lower New York. But nature would have had to be kinder in the matter of foundations. New York has rock on which to build. London has chosen for its official center an area of the alluvial deposits of the Thames, and these give no secure foothold for thirty stories. One remembers that even when the present war office was built concrete foundations of enormous strength had first to be constructed.—Westminster Gazette.

An Old Drought Cure.

An old time specific for drought was simple enough. It was only necessary to burn fern. An interesting reference to this belief occurs in a manuscript letter preserved in the Pococke collection in the British museum. It is dated Aug. 1, 1636. It runs: "To My Very Loving Friend, the High Sheriff of the County of Stafford—Sr.: His majesty, having taken notice of an opinion entertained in Staffordshire that the burning of fern doth draw down rain and being desirous that the country and himself may enjoy fair weather as long as he remains in those parts, hath commanded me to write unto you to cause all burning of fern to be forborne."—London Spectator.

Oldest Fort In New World.

It is a fascinating experience to visit Santo Domingo and wander amid the ruins of the ancient city—from the fortifications of Homenaje, the oldest in the new world, to the first stone church built on this side of the Atlantic, and to the tomb of the great discoverer. Nowhere else in this hemisphere are there scenes fraught with more historical significance to Americans than here where Columbus had his hour of triumph and his hour of sorrow, and where, when he had embarked upon the great voyage from which he would never return to endure the fickle favor of petty princes, his ashes finally found repose.—National Geographic Magazine.

The Spear In the Tusk.

It seems unbelievable that a savage's iron spear point seven and a half inches long by one and a half inches wide has been found all grown over and perfectly hidden in a big bull elephant's tusk. The savage had roosted up in a big tree over a spring where the elephant came for water. Then he dropped this spear, weighted to fifty pounds, so as to strike the nape of the neck and pierce the brain. Here the spear went a little to one side of the brain and into the big open funnel end of the root of the tusk, broke off and then "growed" up in the ivory like a nail in a tree. The spear was found when the tusk was carved.—Exchange.

Older Still.

"It makes a chap feel rather old to meet the grown son of a former college mate."

"That's so, but if he tries to make love to the grown daughter of a former college chum she'll make him feel older still."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

The Right Kind.

"Modern steamers are floating hotels."

"Do they employ the bell buoys?"—Baltimore American.

"And none for the small ladies?"—Boston Transcript.

COMMISSIONERS' NOTICE

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee ss.

In the matter of the Estate of ANGELINE A. MILLS, deceased.

The undersigned having been appointed by the Probate Court of said County, Commissioners to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands of all persons against the estate of said deceased, do hereby give notice that we will meet for that purpose at the home of Cassius Mills in the Township of Macon, Lenawee County, Michigan, on the 23rd day of December 1916, and on the 17th day of March 1917, at one o'clock in the afternoon of each of said days, and that four months from the 17th day of November, 1916, are allowed by said Probate Court for the creditors of said estate to present their claims to us for examination and allowance.

Dated November 17th 1916.

Cassius Mills
Wm. E. Swick.
Commissioners.

STATE OF MICHIGAN, County of Lenawee ss.

Probate Court for the County of Lenawee.

At a session of the Probate Court for the County of Lenawee holden at the Probate Office in the City of Adrian on the 2nd day of December, in the year one thousand nine hundred and sixteen.

Present, HON. HARRY L. LARWILL Judge of Probate.

In the matter of the estate of FRANCES E. ATEN, Deceased.

On reading and filing the petition, duly verified of Florence Babcock, (formerly Florence Aten) praying that an instrument in writing purporting to be the last will and testament of said deceased may be duly proved and admitted to probate, and administration of said estate may be granted to petitioner, the executrix named in said instrument, or some other suitable person.

It is Ordered, That Tuesday, the 2nd day of January, next, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, be assigned for the hearing of said petition.

And it is further ordered, That a copy of this order be published in the TECUMSEH HERALD, a newspaper printed and circulating in said County of Lenawee, for three successive weeks, previous to said day of hearing.

HARRY L. LARWILL,
(A true copy) Judge of Probate
E. I. LARWILL, Probate Register.

SELFISHNESS.

Selfishness is poverty. It is the most utter destitution of the human being. It can bring nothing to his relief; it adds soreness to his sorrows; it sharpens his pains; it aggravates all the losses he is liable to endure and when goaded to extremes often turns destroyer and strikes its last blows on himself.

Like a Circus.

Mr. S. had a peculiarly irritating sneeze. It began with a complex and terrifying series of facial convulsions, but instead of concluding with the roar of a shot lion it ended with a most lame paroxysm that always disappointed the expectant observer.

"Your sneeze," said a friend after watching him through one of his sternutations, "is a regular circus."

"A circus?" said Mr. S.

"Yes, sir," was the rejoinder. "The performance never comes up to the advance notices."—Cleveland Leader.

The Cutty Stool.

The cutty stool was the seat of repentance formerly employed in the Scottish church for the exposure of offenders against the moral law. The transgressor, having been deprived of church ordinances and duly taken to task privately, was then compelled to make a public acknowledgment of the misdeed prior to being restored to favor. Each culprit did penance by occupying the cutty stool in the presence of the whole congregation and was openly lectured by the minister on the enormity of the offense.

Persian Manna.

Manna or gaz is a white glutinous substance popularly identified with the manna of the Scriptures, which is found upon the branches and leaves of trees in Persia, particularly of the tamarisk, where it is said to be deposited by a small, pale green insect. The natives scrape it off the leaves and make it sometimes into a paste, but more often into a sweetmeat called gezangebin, which, although cloying to the palate, is agreeable to the taste, resembling a superior and less sticky form of nougat.

FAULTFINDING.

Often the most unhappy people are those who have lost the art of admiration and become experts in the art of faultfinding. Beauty is everywhere, but they see it not because of the flaws somewhere below it. Faultfinders should turn their magnifying glasses upon themselves and there discover why they are not loved.

The Millennium Will Come:

When rulers have learned to sacrifice personal ambition for the lives and happiness of their subjects.

When the rich cease to extort from the community the necessaries of life.

When patriotism inspires the maker of laws and the subject of laws.

When the strong help the weak.

When every one's motto is, "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

When history ceases to repeat itself.
—Life.

Leading Up to It.

Some Scotch yokels were enjoying the fun of the fair. Seeing an old fiddler in the street, a few of them went over to him, and one, handing him twopence, asked him to play the "Battle of Stirling Brig." The old fiddler took the money and went rasping away the same as before. The yokels getting tired of this, the spokesman again went over to the fiddler and said to him, "Hi, man, that's no' the 'Battle of Stirling Brig.'" "I ken," replied the old fiddler. "That's the skirmish before the battle."

Lashed For His Discovery.

According to an old document discovered some time ago in Australia, gold was first discovered by a convict near Paramatta in 1789. The unfortunate fellow was at once charged with having stolen a watch and "boiled it down," and, being convicted by the rude court of those early days, was given 150 lashes for his pains. In later years the record of this incident was closely examined by an undoubtedly competent authority, who was quite convinced of the genuineness of the convict's story.

The United States pays rear admirals $8,000 a year; Japan pays hers $1,648 a year.

WAR DRIVES FOREIGN THIEVES TO AMERICA

Detectives Expect Big Haul In Jewelry at Some Society Event This Winter.

Washington.—If you happen to own a jewel collection and your taste runs toward wearing it in public, you had better hire a bodyguard this winter. The United States is overrun with European crooks, some of them the smoothest thieves on the continent.

Private detective and police agencies in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Washington, Chicago and other big centers are looking forward to one of the most active years in the last decade. It's all on account of the European war, which has made theft hardly worth while on a big scale across the water.

In Washington there's a detective agency which specializes in the guarding of guests and jewelry at big social functions. The business of this agency is not confined to events at the capital, for private detectives of faultless manner and speech are sent out on jobs as far west as Chicago by this same agency.

One man who has devoted years of experience and his organization of sleuths to the protection of social leaders and their guests recently returned from a trip that extended north to Boston and west to the Mississippi.

"It's going to be a big year for agencies like ours," he said. "Within the past twelve months Europe has been sending over some of the cleverest jewel thieves this country has ever seen, and they have only come here when it was clear that robbery as a profession was up against hard times abroad until the war was over."

INHERITANCE AFTER YEARS.

Rover Never In One Place Long Enough to Apply For It.

St. Louis.—George Weise, a former sailor and of an admitted roving disposition, recently received $390.25 from the local free legal aid bureau, representing his share of the estate of an uncle who died in Adrian, Mich., eighteen years ago.

Weise applied to the bureau several days ago and asked Matthew Conckling, assistant superintendent, to assist him in getting his inheritance. He explained that be had never applied for it because since the death of his uncle he had not been long enough in one place to take the time to apply for his share.

Conckling wrote to Adrian and in reply to his letter received one from E. A. Cole, present owner of the property of Weise's uncle, Edward Bauer, containing the money due Weise and a quit claim deed to the property for the latter's signature.

DRIVES MILES FOR MAIL.

Farmer Will Not Allow Rural Carrier to Bring It.

Smith Center, Kan.—Frank Nichols lives on route No. 5 out of this city. For years Nichols has stubbornly refused to have his mail come by carrier, although a route runs right by his door.

Each Saturday he makes the eleven mile drive from home and gets his mail out of the postoffice here.

He insists the carrier system is an unnecessary expense to the government and that it is putting false and injurious notions into the rising generations on the farms.

2,000,000 ORANGES TOO RIPE.

Shipments Valued at $50,000 Are Destroyed In Week.

New York.—Two million oranges, much too ripe for consumption, were destroyed in New York by a squad under the supervision of Lucius P. Brown, head of the bureau of foods and drugs of the department of health.

The oranges were taken from shipping and railroad terminals. They aggregated about 251 tons and were mostly from Porto Rico and Jamaica. The loss to the shippers was about $50,000.

Wed at Stack's High Top.

Florence, Colo.—Bessie Norton, aged twenty-one, and Joseph Bowling, twenty-six years old, were married on top of a 200 foot concrete smokestack in an oil plant here recently. Practically the entire city witnessed the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. W. J. Kidd.

TO LIE NEAR HER FIVE HUSBANDS IS LAST WISH

Mrs. Van Sickle Had Personally Erected Tombstones to Them.

La Crosse, Wis.—To be buried in her own private cemetery in a corner of her farm near the graves of her five husbands was the last wish of Mrs. Emma C. Van Sickle, who died recently.

Over the graves of her husbands are tombstones erected by the wife's own hands. One has this verse inscribed upon it:

Clintie, my heart clings to thee, love.
In heaven I hope to meet above.
You was ever kind and true to me.
So was I to you. Emma C.

Another reads:

"Peter, died Jan. 12, 1884, aged fifty-three years. By Emma."

The other three stones are small and the inscriptions brief. One reads "D. C. V.," another "P. D. C." an the third "P. E."

James Schermerhorn, Jr., of Detroit, a junior in the literary college, has won the university peace contest and the right to represent the University of Michigan in the state peace contest, to be held at Hillsdale this winter.

Vincent Homstrom was given a sentence of life imprisonment in Jackson prison in circuit court at Jackson on conviction of assault with intent to murder. He shot and wounded Tony Bosaconeki during a fight in Little Poland recently.

James Couzens and David Gray of Detroit, minority stockholders in the Ford Motor company, who were named with Henry Ford as defendants in the injunction suit started by John F. Dodge and Horace E. Dodge, filed a pro-confesso order, withdrawing from the suit.

ONLY WHITE HORSES ARE SEEN IN GERMAN CITIES

Dark Animals Used For Army. Four-fifths of Taxis In Berlin Electrified.

Berlin.—Almost all the horses you see working in the towns and fields in Germany are white or flea bitten gray. All the other colors are used for army work. The whites are not, their color being too conspicuous. But the demand for horses has been so great that even the whites are used when they are young, being painted dark. The horses left for civilian purposes are the old ones. Most of those you find attached to the ancient droshkies on Unter den Linden look as if they were cousins to the eohippus that Noah took with him into the ark.

The age of the drivers corresponds to the antiquity of their steeds. Most of them are graybeards, but by way of paradox their girths are as great as those of their horses are small.

Four-fifths of the taxis are electrified, which enables them to proceed at a slow, dignified pace for short stretches. The few internal combustion motors left use benzol in place of gasoline, which is sharply restricted to official need—military, industrial and those of the high personages.

In spite of the leather shortage, the German soldier still clings to his boots. The bulk of the German soldiery is recruited from the agricultural class, which has been accustomed to boots and does not willingly use other footwear.

SHARK GOT HALF HIS CATCH.

Sudden End of Fisherman's Great Expectations.

Honolulu.—What promised to be one of the biggest ulua catches of the season for Tax Collector Charles T. Wilder was spoiled when a big shark took half of the fish's body as Wilder was pulling it in with his reel.

Wilder was having a fine tussle with what seemed a mighty game fish. His line sagged, and he felt only a slow moving weight at the end of it. When he lifted from the water he found only half a fish—the head and fore portion of the body. The tail and hind part were entirely gone. Scratches on the side of the fish showed that the shark had made two grabs, the second being successful. This seems to put an end to the theory that a shark cannot bite under water or upright, for nothing else could have bitten off that tail.

LINK BOYS IN LONDON AGAIN.

Fog Said to Have Been the Worst In Fifty Years.

London.—A fog which settled over London recently is described as being the most dense in fifty years. From early morning until a late hour London was a city of perpetual night.

The inconvenience was greatest in the evening owing to the light restrictions. Omnibuses stopped running and taxicabs disappeared from the streets. Pedestrians in the street carried torches. In the Strand torches were lighted and soldiers new to the metropolis had to be led about like blind men.

FIFTY-FIFTY SPLIT FOR CONSCIENCE FUND

Washington.—The treasury department received a contribution for the "conscience fund," consisting of what had been three $100 gold notes and four $50 gold notes. The sender wrote that for "duties withheld" he desired to make restitution of the sum of $500. He said he had cut the five notes in two and when he should see in the newspapers that his communication had been received at the treasury department he would send the missing halves to the collector of the port of New York.

PLAN TO STRENGTHEN ARMY FLYING SERVICE

Course of Instruction For Field Officers at San Diego.

New York.—Plans have been practically completed for the establishment of additional army aviation stations and schools. Stations and schools have already been instituted at Mineola, N. Y.; Chicago, San Diego, Cal.; Newport News, San Antonio, Miami, Fla., and Columbus, N. M. It is expected that stations will soon be established at Philadelphia and Memphis.

A corps of instructors will be maintained at each station, and classes for national guard officers and reserve aviators will be held. It is planned to cover the entire country with stations and schools, and it is believed that they will serve to develop an efficient corps of active and reserve aviators.

One of the latest features inaugurated by the aviation section of the signal corps is a course of instruction for field officers. It will be conducted at San Diego. Several officers have already been detailed to take the course offered there.

The signal corps has now purchased or let the contracts for 350 machines, ninety of which are water machines. About $7,000,000 will be required to purchase all the material which has been contracted for by the corps.

Hastening to church, Mrs. Elizabeth Keena stepped in front of a Michigan Central passenger train at Jackson, and was instantly killed.

Thomas Peach, aged ninety-one, of Pontiac, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William P. Nesbitt, at Big Rapids, of pneumonia.

Burglars raided four Ypsilanti stores. From the till in the mission lunch rooms they took $40, and at Micho's candy store they got $6.

William Bell, sixty years old, of Birmingham, a carpenter, dropped dead in Royal Oak just after leaving the building on which he was to work.

With preparations completed for an operation at Nicholas hospital at Battle Creek, Mrs. Burr L. Weeks, forty years old, shot herself through the head.

A CONVICT'S WORD

Lewis Returns to Sing Sing Ahead of Time.

WENT TO WIFE'S FUNERAL.

Physician Declares That Prisoner Would Have Come Back Even if No Guard Had Been Sent Along With Him—Convicts Decide to Give New Warden a Chance.

Ossining, N. Y.—As a graphic illustration of the determination of the prisoners in Sing Sing to give a square deal to William H. Moyer, the new warden Abe Lewis, a convict who had been granted permission by Governor Whitman to attend, with a guard, the funeral of his wife in Brooklyn, returned to the prison twelve hours ahead of time.

When Lewis learned that Mr. Moyer was to begin his work as warden he decided to come back immediately to demonstrate to the new warden that the prisoners could be safely trusted with privileges. Lewis is regarded as one of the most reliable prisoners. He has spent seven years in Sing Sing.

With only twenty months more to serve the convict learned that his wife, who had stuck by him through everything, had died suddenly. Their three young children were left without any one to care for them. The news nearly prostrated the prisoner. He implored Calvin Derrick, the acting warden, to let him go to Brooklyn to see the face of his wife once more and to arrange for the care of his children.

Permission from Governor Whitman was obtained by telegraph, and Lewis and a guard started for New York. In Brooklyn Lewis learned that Mr. Moyer surely was to assume the wardenship. After making hasty arrangements Lewis hurried back to the prison. The convict turned up there unexpectedly, although the governor had granted him permission to stay overnight.

"He would have come back just the same even if no guard had been sent along with him," commented Dr. Barry, the prison physician.

The convicts are frankly relieved now that the "permanent" warden has taken charge of the prison. Life for them within the last year has just been one warden after another. With every succession to office came changes in discipline, modification of privileges and doubt and mistrust on the part of the prisoners.

"I'm glad he's come at last," said one of the leaders of the prisoners. "We've been on tenterhooks every time a new man came in, and we've been on the anxious seat every time a man went out. Now we can settle down to a regular life.

"We're going to give the new warden a chance to show how he stands. He's promised to meet us halfway, and we'll do our share. Nobody is going to start anything inside until he has a chance to make good his word."

FORTUNE IN ELOPEMENT.

Father Will Inherit Through Publicity That Was Brought About.

San Francisco, Cal.—Through publicity attending the wrecked romance of their eighteen-year-old daughter, Signe, the Gerstad family of Bellingham, Wash., it was said here, is about to come into a fortune.

The girl recently became a temporary ward of the police through the arrest of D. M. Delmas, with whom she had eloped on his promise to marry her. After being arrested on a bad check charge Delmas was identified as an escaped convict from a penitentiary in Texas, where he had wrecked a bank. The girl was sent home.

Attorney Sydney P. Robertson of this city told recently of having received a letter from a firm of Chicago attorneys asking for the address of Hilgar Gerstad, the girl's father, sought for years as heir to an estate in Sweden. The Chicago attorneys, the letter said, had read of the girl's escapade in a Chicago paper.

BOY PROVES BEST FARMER.

Montclair Lad Makes Plot of 20 by 100 Feet Pay $56.

Montclair, N. J.—Robert Hickle, a sixteen-year-old Montclair boy, raised vegetables worth $56 on a plot of ground 20 by 100 feet assigned him last spring by the Montclair community gardens committee. His was the most productive and attractive of the fifty-six gardens cultivated during the past season, Supervisor George Huttenlock reported to President Dallas Flannagan.

Two tracts of land were at the disposal of the community gardens committee, and by cultivating the vacant lots the gardeners made productive 115,850 square feet of land that otherwise would have yielded nothing.

The gardens furnished vegetables to 287 persons during the growing season besides quantities of celery, carrots and cabbage for winter consumption.

Hen Gobbles Pearl.

Portland, Ore.—Mrs. Lettie Trapp of this city has a valued pet hen named Clarice. The other day as Mrs. Trapp was feeding her fowls Clarice leaped affectionately up to her shoulder, spied a valuable pearl in Mrs. Trapp's earring, gobbled it and leaped down again, gulping. Mrs. Trapp screamed, first with pain as the pearl was wrenched away and then with horror at her loss. She caught Clarice and imprisoned her, but could not make up her mind to have the pet dispatched so that the jewel could be recovered.

Fish Knocks Man Down.

Salina, Kan.—E. A. Hillman of Wa Keeney has a sore face, caused by a tussle with a large catfish which he attempted to catch with his hands while swimming. The fish was seen under a log at the edge of the creek apparently asleep. Hillman slipped his hands along the side of the fish and had almost closed his fingers through the gills when his fishship came to life and jumped for liberty. It struck Hillman such a blow in the face that he was thrown off his balance and his face badly lacerated, and then the fish escaped.

PLANS LONG FLIGHT

Miss Law Will Try to Soar Across Continent.

START FROM SAN FRANCISCO.

Will Ask Aero Club of America to Time Her—Estimates Trip Will Take Thirty Hours' Flying Time—She Will Be Sole Occupant of Machine, Which Can Carry Two Passengers.

New York.—From San Francisco to New York by aeroplane—that is the latest ambition of Miss Ruth Law. She announced she had accepted the offer of the president of an aeroplane company to build for her a new type of machine especially for long distance flying.

"I will make the flight under my own auspices, just as I did the trip from Chicago," Miss Law said. "The Aero Club of America probably will time me, but I will be in complete charge of all the arrangements. I estimate the trip will take thirty hours' flying time.

MISS LAW LANDING AFTER FLIGHT.

"This new machine will carry ten hours' fuel supply, will be capable of a sustained speed of more than 100 miles an hour and will be practical for the business man who must make a hurried trip to Chicago or elsewhere and doesn't find it convenient to wait for a train."

Miss Law, who established an American cross country record of 590 miles by the recent trip from Chicago to New York, left for Buffalo to supervise the construction of the machine. The first tryout will be given within a month, and the transcontinental journey will follow soon afterward.

The avatrix believes that reliability and safety are more important factors in popularizing air travel than speed. Consequently she will attempt to see that these elements are contained in the new flier. It will carry two passengers, but Miss Law will be the sole occupant on the coast to coast trip.

The plucky bird woman's last spectacular appearance was when she flew over the statue of Liberty on Dec. 2, when the lighting system built by popular subscriptions was dedicated. She rode in an illuminated aeroplane which left a comet-like tail of fire behind it.

VOTED ILLEGALLY 52 YEARS.

Man Who Thought He Was a Citizen Naturalized at Last.

Denver.—James Lockart, a rancher near Ordway, Colo., was granted naturalization papers in the United States district court here after exercising all the rights of citizenship for fifty-two years. Lockhart, a native of Ireland, assumed that he was a citizen because of naturalization papers believed to have been issued to his father before his son had reached his majority. He has voted at every presidential election since the civil war, of which he is a veteran; held a commission in the United States army, served as a delegate to the Republican national convention, served as sheriff of Gibson county, Ind., and has taken an active part in politics for many years.

The question of his citizenship arose when he filed on government land in southern Colorado and it was learned that he was not native born and that no record was available to show that his father had become naturalized.

Finds Dime In Fish's Gill.

Wichita, Kan.—W. E. Smith was recently fishing in the Little Arkansas just below the Central street dam and landed a big channel catfish weighing one and a half pounds. The catch was a beauty, and Mr. Smith hurried to extract the hook from its mouth. As he ran his finger through the fish's left gill he found something metallic and upon extracting it found it to be a bright shiny ten cent piece.

RISK FINE FOR CHARITY.

Young Women Sell Cigarettes Without Federal License.

San Francisco.—Sweet charity caused 250 young women to break the federal laws. If the penalty should be enforced they will be fined $500 each, a total of $125,000.

Uncle Sam has a law that mentions a license of $2.40 required of those who would sell cigars or tobacco in any form. The 250 women sold cigarettes to the public for the benefit of blind soldiers, and, according to J. J. Scott, internal revenue collector, they are liable because they neglected to get licenses.

Now, there were 450,000 cigarettes sold. If the law should be enforced each cigarette disposed of would cost its fair vender between 27 and 28 cents.

Entered in the postoffice at Tecumseh, Mich., second class mail matter.

Telephone Number 36.

With Tuesday's issue of the Herald a change will be made in the delivery of our papers. This change is made necessary because of the free delivery service which starts Tuesday morning. All subscribers living in the village who are reached by the free delivery service will get their papers delivered to their homes by carrier boys who will make their first delivery with our next Tuesday's issue.

The change does not effect subscribers living in Brownville, north of cemetery bridge on Union street or on the Adrian road as they are not to be served by the mail carriers. Their papers for the present will be sent as usual to the postoffice.

The work of routing our carrier boys may make some little confusion at first and we request that subscribers who fail to get their papers promptly would kindly notify the Herald office at once. Your co-operation in this work will help us very much.

Any subscriber who still plans to retain their box at the postoffice may have the Herald delivered in the box by notifying this office. Unless such notice is filed with us, it will be sent to the home by carrier boy.

We also wish to call the attention of subscribers to their yellow labels and ask any who are back on their subscriptions to step in and take care of the same. Print paper is too high high to warrant us taking care of those who are back on their subscriptions and their name will be dropped soon from the list unless a settlement is made.

LOST KEYS, FROZE TO DEATH.

Barge Captain Found Dead, Caught In Cabin Window.

New York.—Captain Frank McGee of the barge Frank Becker of Kingston, N. Y., was found dead from exposure on his barge, which was made fast at pier 22 of the New York Dock company at the foot of Pacific street, Brooklyn. He had evidently gone ashore and forgotten to take his keys. The body was found halfway through the window of his cabin at the stern of the barge.

When Thomas Henry, the night watchman, was going his rounds he saw the legs and feet of a man hanging from the cabin window of the Frank Becker and found the body was cold. Dr. Shutter of the Long Island College hospital said that Captain McGee had died from exposure and had been trying to get into his cabin when the window slammed down and caught his spine, so that he was unable to get in or out. He had been with friends until 2 o'clock in the morning and had gone down to the pier an hour later, it was said. He was forty-five years old.

BLOW UP POLICE STATION.

Boston Harbor Squad Escapes Injury. Neighbors Shaken Up.

Boston.—The station of the harbor police in the north end district was partly wrecked by an explosion of dynamite that had been placed against the outside wall apparently with intent to destroy the building.

Four policemen were inside, three of them asleep in the dormitory, just above the place where the explosion tore a hole in the wall, but all escaped harm. Residents of the populous tenements along Commercial and Salutation streets, near by, were scared as their houses were shaken, plaster was cracked and broken glass fell about them.

The police said that the explosion was intended probably as an act of retaliation because some unlicensed meetings led by industrial agitators had been broken up recently by officers. Several suspected persons were questioned, but no arrests were made. The residents of the district are largely foreigners.

MILLIONS IN CASH MOVED.

Fifth Avenue Hardly Notices the Transfer of Wealth.

New York.—Many millions in cash securities were transferred across Fifth avenue when the Fifth avenue office of the Guaranty Trust company of New York was moved from the southwest to the southeast corner of that thoroughfare and Forty-third street. The deposits alone of this office total nearly $40,000,000. How much was in the 2,500 safe deposit boxes is beyond conjecture. The work of removal was guarded by special officers belonging to the bank and by squads of city policemen and detectives.

The task began at the close of business with the cutting away of the steel bars on the Forty-third street side of the trust company's old quarters and continued several hours. Traffic on Fifth avenue was not interrupted, and the transfer of all this wealth was practically unnoticed by the passersby.

Charles H. Whitman, of Eaton Rapids, who will retire January 1, 1917, after fourteen years of service as inheritance tax examiner, says that he resigned his office in connection with the auditor general's department to be able to give his time to his thirty-five acre orchard in the suburbs of Eaton Rapids, and to his blooded stock raising.

The city of Manistique alone has secured more than $1,000,000 worth of factories this year, while there have been nearly $500,000 worth of residential property improvements. The city has voted to spend $50,000 for park purposes. Marquette and Menominee, as well as other cities, have secured manufacturing plants, with the result that they are booming.

GIRL CONDUCTORS

Twelve Hundred Are Now Employed In London.

THEIR WORK IS HEALTHFUL.

Benefit In Physique and Complexion by Open Air Life—All Under Care of Lady Doctor—Their Average Earnings Run to About $10 a Week, Every Class Represented.

London.—Twelve hundred girls are employed as London bus conductors, and more are wanted. All sorts of inducements are offered to them, including the assurance that the work is healthy and even patriotic.

The manager of the London General Omnibus company says:

"We have had to contradict several reports that the girls on our busses are unable to stand the strain of the work and that in consequence they are leaving our employ.

"Every week we put on about eighty new conductresses and would increase the number if we could. We can deal with hundreds more at once.

GIRL BUS CONDUCTOR.

"Each pupil receives not only free tuition for a period of two or three weeks, but is paid 50 cents a day for her time. After they have qualified the average earnings run to about $10 a week.

"There is no abnormal sickness among the girls. They like the work and benefit in physique and complexion by the open air life. They are all under the care of a lady doctor.

"Since March we have interviewed 16,000 applicants and are very careful in our selection. Among our ranks almost every class is represented. Quite 10 per cent of the girls have never worked before and take up the work from purely patriotic motives. There is not the slightest reason to suppose that they will be unable to stand the work during the winter, and 'stair work' is not so trying as the public imagines."

WANTS NOISELESS ENGINES.

Hissing Locomotives Disturb Rest In Oakland, Pa.

Pittsburgh.—Oakland, the acropolis of Pittsburgh, with its great halls of art and learning, is marred by a nuisance worse by far than the venders whose presence desecrated the Coliseum in Rome or the Rialto bridge in Venice, according to members of the Oakland board of trade. This nuisance is declared to be the night long and day long hissing and fuming of locomotives. This, John Dimling, a member of the board, pointed out, is not only detrimental to Oakland as a center of art, but it robs mortals, both artists and business men, of their sleep.

Mr. Dimling in an impassioned speech told of locomotives, huge monsters, which seemed to take a demoniacal delight in standing for hours spouting infernal fumes and hissing fiendishly through their pop valves. Repeated protests to the railroad company, he said, were of no avail. A committee was directed to ask the courts to grant an injunction against the railroad company similar to the one granted some years ago by the supreme court to a Junction Hollow resident now dead.

GIRL, FOLLOWING FASHION, CHARGED WITH INSANITY

Kansas City.—"If all young women followed the dictates of fashion to the letter there would be few out of the asylum," was the way a sanity commission put it when it ordered the liberation of Margaret Wagner, seventeen years old, who was held on complaint of her mother. The latter thought the girl insane because, despite cold weather, she wore decollete gowns and short skirts. The daughter's defense was, "All the other girls dress that way."

Crowding the Bed.

In early Victorian times the workmen were accustomed to rough it. Isabella Fyvie Mayo in her "Recollections" mentions that one flourishing firm of bakers—patronized by royalty—"kept eleven men and had only one bed for them all. During the twenty-four hours they occupied it turn and turn about. One of these unfortunates was generally in Charing Cross hospital, and the 'master' got a reputation for generosity by his yearly subscription to its funds."

The Ypsilanti Reed Furniture company of Ionia has declared a five per cent bonus for all its employes who qualify. Unnecessary absence and tardiness both figure in qualifying. The bonus will add approximately $19,500 a year to the present pay roll.

CLARA KIMBALL YOUNG IN "THE COMMON LAW"

Without a doubt crowded houses will be the order at the Bradley Opera house New Year's day when Michigan's favorite screen star, Clara Kimball Young will make her appearance here in "The Common Law."

"The Common Law" is taken from Robert W. Chambers best novel of the same name and Miss Young is playing the charming role of Valerie West as no one but Miss Young is capable of playing it. It is claimed by critics everywhere to be the most sensational photo-drama yet produced. At Detroit it packed the big Broadway-Strand for weeks and has been playing to the same big business everywhere.

The Detroit Free Press of last Monday said: Clara Kimball Young in person is to be seen at the Broadway-Strand this week. When Miss Young made her appearance before the Sunday crowds she was given a tumultuous greeting and literally showered with flowers, mostly roses, leaving no doubt as to her personal popularity with movie fans.

Miss Young, who had just arrived from New York, brought plenty of Christmas cheer with her. She made a neat little speech, telling her audiences that she 'just loved to have people like her on the screen.'"

Of course it would be impossible to have Miss Young herself, in as small a city as Tecumseh but you can see her in this same big production of, "The Common Law" which will be presented both afternoon and evening it will give those not wishing to be out at night an excellent chance to attend the matinee

Matinee continuous commencing at 3:00 p. m. Doors open at 2:30. Evening show continuous commencing at 7:00, doors open at 6:30. Come early and see it from the beginning, you will enjoy it more.

Solomon's Temple.

The temple of Jerusalem was built by King Solomon B. C. 1000 and was destroyed by King Nebuchadnezzar of Babylon B. C. 586. It was rebuilt by Zerubbabel B. C. 534 and partially destroyed by the Roman general Pompey in B. C. 63. It was rebuilt by King Herod B. C. 21 and was finally demolished by the Romans under Titus A. D. 70.

With the burial of Peter Vlahos, at Ann Arbor killed during a fight among Hoover Steel Ball factory employes, it became known that Vlahos lost his life while trying to dissuade some of the most radical of the strikers among his countrymen to get rid of their revolvers and their knives and do all in their power, as he was doing, to bring about peace by returning to work.

As a means of relieving the railroad congestion now threatening all industries of Detroit, the Ford Motor company suspended operations completely and will remain closed until Jan. 3. The announcement was made by Frank L. Kingensmith, general manager. Forty-two thousand employes probably will be affected by the order None will receive pay during the period of suspension.

East Lansing has gone through one of the biggest building booms in the history of the city during the last year. The official count shows that forty-five residences costing from $2,000 to $16,000 have been constructed besides two business blocks, a new four-story Masonic temple costing $23,000, a new fire-proof grade and high school costing $40,000, a new gymnasium on the Michigan Agricultural campus costing $220,000 and engineering buildings costing about $240,000

MULES LOVE MUSIC.

Rancher Has the Phonograph Play While He Breaks In Colts.

Marysville, Cal.—George A. Gage of Sutter county says he is the first "musical farmer." Gage raises mules and horses. He has a big music box on his farm, and he plays band pieces, preferably soothing melodies and waltzes, when he is breaking his mule colts.

"Mules love music," says Gage. "I discovered that ten years ago when I drove Benjamin Harrison—the orneriest old mule you ever saw—to Yuba City when a brass band was playing.

"The mule had one of his balky, contrary spells that day," Gage said, "and I could hardly do a thing with Benjamin until we got to Yuba City. You'd never believe it if I told you the change just a few band selections made in that animal. From that day until Benjamin's death he was the gentlest, lovingest old mule you ever would want to see."

HOLIDAY WEDDING

Two of Our Prominent Young People

MISS GERALDINE ORR AND GARLAND OSBORN

Married Wednesday Evening in the Presence of Seventy-five Guests

The ceremony uniting the lives of Miss Geraldine Agnes Orr and Garland Vernon Osborn was performed Wednesday evening at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Orr, corner of Kilbuck and Democratic streets.

The house was handsomely decorated, the dining room in green and the living room in red, the Christmas colors being appropriately used, while the parlor was most beautiful with white adornments. White wedding bells and strands of white made the room a fitting setting for the pretty little bride with her attendants.

Little Elizabeth Snow came in carrying the ring in a rose, followed by the bride in a gown of white silk with a boquet of bride's roses, the groom and their attendants, Miss Doris Anderson and Carl Schneider. The bride's maid was attractive in yellow messaline with an arm boquet of hyacinths.

Rev W. A. Rex performed the ceremony using the beautiful ring service.

After congratulations which came amidst a shower of rice and confetti a bountiful two-course supper was served to the seventy-five guests by the Misses Hessie and Eunice Orr, Sarah and Mabel Linton, Zelah and Zorah Dickinson and Albertine Mobbs. The guests were served at small tables spread through the rooms, while the immediate family were seated at the bride's table in the dining room where a handsome candelabra lent its bright glow, a fitting symbol of the bright life ahead which the future promises the happy young people.

The guests did certainly enjoy themselves, trying to keep track of the couple, but at last the newly-weds gathered a few belongings together and managed to get to Adrian where they remained over night with Mr. Osborn's sister Mrs. Will Taylor and yesterday morning started for Andover, Ohio, to visit Mrs. Osborn's uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Will Orr.

That the couple are high in the estimation of a host of friends was very evident by the great number of beautiful presents, among which were cut glass, silver, furniture and, not the least, checks for over $100.00.

Present from away were the bride's brother Herbert Orr, Mrs. Sam Linton and Raymond Mills of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Osborn and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Jay, Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Gygi of North Adrian; Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Osborn of Palmyra; Mrs. Will Taylor and children, Adrian; Mrs. Frank Barritt, Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Millard Russell, Clinton; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mattis, Franklin; Miss Mildred Linton, Morenci; Miss Mabel Linton, Britton; and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wilson, Holloway.

This young couple are highly respected here where the bride has always lived and the groom coming from North Adrian, is also well known. Both were students in the high school, the bride graduating in the class of '14. She has since taught in North Adrian where she is loved by both pupils and parents, and in the Presbyterian church she is an active member, taking up with energy her work as teacher in the junior department of the Sunday-school. The groom is a farmer, but upon their return the newly-weds will make their home for a time in Tecumseh.

Swiss Organs.

Music has always played an important part in the life of the Swiss people. The invention and development of the bellows, its combination with the electric motor, the application of electric releasing apparatus, from which there was but one step to the keyboard worked by electricity—all these brought organ building in Switzerland to a high degree of perfection, thus carrying its repute into foreign countries. Swiss organ builders became world renowned. Since 1864 the oldest two Swiss firms engaged in making these instruments have finished almost 1,000 organs with single, hydraulic and bellows working.

Secretary of the Board of Education

"THE DEVIL TAKE THE HINDERMOST"

By Dr. M. S. Rice.

Dr. M. S. Rice pastor of the Woodward Ave M. E. church, Detroit, was the attraction Thursday evening at the Presbyterian church. Dr. Rice took for his subject, "The Devil takes the Hindermost" and while his audience wondered what he would make out of such a subject, it did not take very long to convince them that there was food for a great deal of thought in his subject.

Early in his lecture he won his audience and held their closest attention during the evening and when he came to the climaxes and drove home his points he was met with applause from his hearers, Dr. Rice is a deep thinker an able speaker and demonstrated that he is a keen student of human life and the problems which effect it.

It was the third number of the course put on by the Men's Class of the Presbyterian church and let us pause right here and say to those who have not taken advantage of the bargain that this class have offered, that if no other numbers were given, people would have received a full dollar's worth for what they have already heard. The next number will be given on the evening of January 11th and the attraction will be a humorous lecture by Hugh Dian ond, called "The Second Harry Lauder."

RED BAND COAL is cheaper to use than either Hard Coal or Pocahontas. This has been proved time after time during the past spell of cold weather.

True it costs more than some coals; so does woolen goods cost more than cotton, the difference is the same with RED BAND over other coals.

It gives out steady lasting heat with few ashes or clinkers. Any test you may give it will convince you it gives out more heat per ton than any other coal.

The little people of the primary, junior and intermediate departments of the Presbyterian Sunday-school were given a jolly Christmas party Saturday afternoon. They gathered at the church for games and then several "big brothers" came along with their sleighs and gave the youngsters sleigh rides. In they came with glowing cheeks and found a nice lunch ready and how those sandwiches and cookies did disappear! Those who worked so hard to make the good time for the kiddies were more than repaid by the great pleasure the little people found in it.

ELECTRIC LIGHT AND TELEPHONE COMPANIES EFFECTED BY STORM.

Last Tuesday's storm did quite a little damage to the electric lines and telephone lines The sleet and ice put the street lights out of business and since Tuesday night our village streets have been in darkness. Luckily it did not effect the circuit which furnished light and power to our homes and business places as the street lights are on a different circuit The Electric Light company have had a crew of men working since Tuesday trying to correct the trouble and until it is all traced out our people who chance to be abroad on our streets at night will have to travel in darkness.

The Telephone Company have also been having their troubles. The local service was upset as well as the toll lines running out of town in every direction. Their lines have also crossed with the electric lines and have caused a great deal of trouble and annoyance.

PLEASANT EVENT

A very pleasant event occurred Wednesday evening at the sheriff's home in Adrian when a supper was tendered to Sheriff Henig the retiring sheriff of Lenawee county, with but one exception every deputy was present for the occasion. A bountiful supper was served and a social time was enjoyed.

Sheriff Henig was called out of the room by previous arrangement, and on his return was called upon for a few remarks. While speaking a beautiful leather rocker was noiselessly wheeled into the place of the chair he had been occupying and when he sat down he was thoughtfully surprised and much delighted at this testimonial of the esteem in which he was held by his deputies. Mr. Nutten, the incoming officer, sat at Mr. Henig's left hand at the table

Sheriff Henig has served as an officer of the law about 14 years His first service was in the capacity of city marshal of Adrian in 1896. This office he held two years. In 1906 he was appointed a deputy and served under William Shepperd for four years. He became under sheriff under L. L. Knowles and at the expiration of Knowle's term in 1912 was elected sheriff of Lenawee county He was reelected in 1914 and will retire Sunday when he turns over the office to Sheriff elect Nutton.

POULTRY SHOW TO BE HELD FEBRUARY 1, 2 AND 3

For sometime several of the poultry farmers have contemplated a poultry show to be held in Tecumseh. On Wednesday evening a meeting was held at the Lilley State Bank with the executive committee of the Tecumseh Commerce Club and it was voted to endorse and co-operate with them. As a result of this meeting the Tecumseh Poultry Association was organized and officers were elected who are as follows:

President—Dr. C. A. Waldron
Vice President—C. F. Patterson
Secretary—Harold Tribolet
Treasurer—Leon P. Williamson
Board of Directors—J. F. Elliott, E. Leighton, E. W. Wright, A. A. Campbell.

Membership cards will be ready in a few days. The committee will call on the business men for their support so as to make this the "biggest little" show in the state. Now let's get back of the wheel and boost.

For the Family Medicine Chest

Green Bay, Wis., Mrs. Wm. F. Bubolz says: "I always use Foley's Honey and Tar for our children as it quickly breaks up their colds with no bad after effects, and they like to take it."

In this season of coughs, colds and croup, every family medicine chest should be supplied with a good cough medicine that can be relied upon when needed.

Such a family cough syrup is Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. This standard medicine has been on the market for years and in many sections was found in every home in the days when doctors were not so handy and when money was scarcer.

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is an excellent medicine for coughs, colds, raw or inflamed throat, hoarseness, tightness and soreness of the chest, croup and whooping cough. It is an absolutely safe remedy, containing only healing ingredients, and free from any harmful drugs.

NEEDFUL KNOWLEDGE

Tecumseh People Should Learn to Detect the Approach of Kidney Disease.

The symptoms of kidney trouble are many. Disordered kidneys often excrete a thick, cloudy, offensive urine, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding. The back may ache, headaches and dizzy spells may occur and the victim is often weighted down by a feeling of languor and fatigue. Neglect these warnings and there is danger. Delay often proves fatal.

You can use no better endorsed kidney remedy than Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's Tecumseh proof of their merit.

Dell Hubbard, E. Chicago St., Tecumseh, says: "Kidney complaint had troubled me for a long time. My back ached and I was sore and lame. I could do no stooping or lifting work and my kidneys acted irregularly. A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills and I bought some at Wright & Son's Drug store. They soon strengthened my back and rid me of all sighns of kidney complaine."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Hubbard had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

MICHIGAN NEWS BRIEFS

David O. Smith, resident in the county for eighty-one years, died in his home south of Howell.

Firebugs made two attempts to destroy the Pere Marquette railroad freight house at Berrien Springs.

Matt Pozesky, of Crystal Falls, shot three bullets into his wife's body and then killed himself by putting a bullet into his brain.

Mrs. Francis Dedrosh and her six year old daughter Mary were burned to death when their home, one and a half miles north of Wayne, was destroyed.

One of the old land marks of Birmingham was almost destroyed when an overheated stove set fire to the James Wooster store, built seventy-six years ago.

Corns Loosen, Lift Right Off

Nothing But "GETS-IT" Will Do This to Corns and Calluses.

If you've ever had corns, you've tried lots of things to get rid of them—salves that eat your toe and leave the corn remaining, cotton rings that make your corns bulge out like pop-eyes, scissors and knives that make corns bleed and sore, harnesses and bandages that fill up your shoe, press on the corn and make your foot feel like a paving block. What's the use? Why not do what millions are doing, take 3 seconds off and apply "GETS-IT." It dries, you put your stocking on right away, and wear your regular shoes. Your corn loosens from the toe, it lifts right off. It's painless. It's the common-sense way, the simplest, easiest, most effective way in the world. It's the national corn-cure. Never fails.

You Can't Hide Corn Misery. Stop Fooling Around! Use "GETS-IT" Tonight and See the Corns Vanish.

"GETS-IT" is sold and recommended by druggists everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price, by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

Sold in Tecumseh and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by B. J. Pulver.

Gluten Flour.

Gluten is the main nutritive element in all flour made from grain, though it exists in larger proportion in some varieties of wheat than in others, and in hard wheat more than in soft. Gluten flour is flour from which the starch element has been wholly or partly removed, thereby bettering it for the use of diabetic patients.

Sloan's Liniment Eases Pain.

Sloan's Liniment is first thought of mothers for bumps, bruises and sprains that are continually happening to children. It quickly penetrates and soothes without rubbing. Cleaner and more effective than mussy plasters or ointments. For rheumatic aches, neuralgia pain and that grippy soreness after colds, Sloan's Liniment gives prompt relief. Have a bottle handy for bruises, strains, sprains and all external pain. For the thousands whose work calls them outdoors, the pains and aches following exposure are releived by Sloan's Liniment. Be Sure You Get This Old Reliable Cough Medicine

Imitations always follow the trail of success. Hundreds of imitations have come and gone since FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND began, 40 years ago, to loosen the grip of coughs and colds.

Be sure you get the genuine

Foley's Honey and Tar Compound

And avoid the names that sound like it.

Here are three easy ways to tell the genuine. 1st—The name of "Foley's," 2nd—The yellow package. 3rd—The Beehive on the yellow package. You cannot get a substitute to do for you what FOLEY'S HONEY AND TAR COMPOUND will do—for coughs, colds, croup, bronchial and lagrippe coughs, throat and lung trouble. Buy it of your druggist and be safe.
